POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

WOOL SHOWS A PROFIT.
Blue Mountain Eagle.

A Grant county woolgrower says that regardless of the world conditions there is a profit in wool. Last spring he borrowed 75 cents a fleece, which showed that wool had a recognized value. With this he paid for his shearing, handling the sheep, the shipping of the wool, storage, cartage, insurance, commissions and when he sold his clip and paid off the six-bits a fleece, he had a profit of $3.55. That's better than being in the red.

"Thanks very much," said the vicar, as little Tommy handed up his offering for the harvest festival. "I must call 'round this afternoon and thank your mother for these eight beautiful apples."

"P-please, sir," stammered Tommy, "would you m-mind thanking her for t-twelve apples?"

LEXINGTON NEWS

By RUTH DINGES.

The funeral of Nathaniel Shaw was held in Lexington at the Congregational church Friday, June 26, with Rev. W. W. Head of Ione officiating. A quartet composed of Mrs. Trina Parker, Mrs. S. G. McMillan, Harvey Miller and Laurel Beach sang the following numbers: "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Will There be Any Stars in My Crown?" and "Lead Me Gently Home." Miss Dona Barnett accompanied at the piano. The pall bearers were: George Peck, William Van Winkle, Burt Peck, Adolph Mojeske, Gene Gray and Roy Campbell. Many beautiful floral offerings were in evidence. The Lexington grange had charge of the burial services.

Laurel Ruhl went on a fishing trip in the mountains over the week end.

Pomona grange which was held at the Leach Memorial hall at Lexington Saturday, June 27th, was reported to be one of the largest Pomona meetings in the record of the county. A program which was open to the public was presented in the afternoon. It consisted of readings and musical numbers given by members of the different granges, and speeches by State Master Hulet and Senator Miller. In the evening the Pomona degree was exemplified by the Lexington grange, after which dancing was enjoyed.

On Friday afternoon, June 26th, Karl Beach's hardware company had the misfortune of having their store robbed of twenty-five dollars, the money being in the till. The store was locked at the time as the family was attending the funeral of Nathaniel Shaw.

Mrs. Raymond Jeub who has been visiting at the home of her father, J. E. Gentry, returned to her home in Coquille on Friday. Miss Mae Gentry and Keith Gentry took her to Arlington from which point she completed her journey by train.

Favorable Dairy and Poultry Changes Seen

More butter and less oleomargarine is being consumed as a result of the low prices prevailing for butter, according to a report of the farm market situation just released by the Oregon State college Extension service. Manufacture of oleomargarine has decreased and surplus stocks of dairy products are relatively smaller than a month ago, although milk production is running somewhat ahead of last year.

The number of milk cows is now estimated at 3 per cent greater than a year ago and the cow population of the country is expected to continue to increase for some time. However, the tendency to keep too many heifer calves and old cows has been checked. Conditions for milk production may average better during the summer than a year ago, although the condition of pastures on June 1 was not good in most of the dairy states from Michigan through Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and California to the Canadian boundary. Conditions were generally better than last year east of the Mississippi.

Condition of hay crops on June 1 indicated a total output for the country 10 per cent below average, the report continues. This may affect dairy production next winter, as the total stocks of old hay are also light.

Feed grain prospects vary. Barley was in the lowest condition on record on June 1. Corn was making a slow start. Oats prospects were for an output about the same as last year in the whole country.

The egg and poultry industry is "working into the favorable situation indicated by the February outlook reports," according to the state college report. Surveys indicate that about 5 per cent fewer hens and pullets are now on farms than a year ago, and storage holdings of case and frozen eggs are materially smaller than a year ago although still above average. Poultry holdings, especially turkeys, are light.
