

Local Happenings

The 44th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Bergstrom was celebrated at their Eight Mile home on Wednesday evening, June 24th, and it proved to be a very happy occasion. Those present were their children and families: Mrs. Frank Anderson, Frank and Louise; Mr. and Mrs. John Bergstrom and Carolyn; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allyn and Maxine, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bergstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bergstrom and son Arthur, and Esther Bergstrom. Three children, Emma, Alfred and Florence Bergstrom, who reside in Portland, were unable to be present. Dainty refreshments were served.

Herbert Hynd and Harry Peterson were members of the Cecil orchestra in this city the first of the week, arranging for a big 4th of July dance to be given in Leach memorial hall at Lexington Saturday evening. Mr. Hynd reported first cutting of hay all up in the Cecil section before the wet weather set in, and because of lack of water for irrigation, crops down the creek will be short this year. They had no water in Willow creek for winter irrigation at all, and have been patiently waiting for sufficient flow to moisten the creek bed. Recent rains have proven beneficial but were not as heavy as they should have been.

Sheriff Clarence Bauman returned home the end of the week from attendance on the convention of Northwest Association of Sheriffs and Police held in Seattle. On this trip Mr. Bauman was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Helen Christensen and family and Mrs. Harvey Bauman and daughter who visited with relatives in Olympia. S. E. Notson was again elected vice president of the Oregon board of governors of the association. The Seattle meeting was one of the best yet held and Mr. Bauman enjoyed it—all except the constant rain.

Rev. Glen P. White will return to Heppner as pastor of the Methodist church, which charge he has served during the past two years. He and Mrs. White were in attendance at the annual conference held in Eugene the past week. Regular services at the Methodist church here will be held both morning and evening on Sunday, with Sunday school commencing at 9:45; subject for morning worship, "When Freedom's Sword Was Forged." Epworth League at 7:00 and evening worship at 8:00.

Joe Stringer, resident of the west side of the county, was at Heppner Tuesday. Harvest has been delayed in his section for a time while the farmers have been busy weeding the summerfallow following the rains. Mr. Stringer thinks the yield has been shortened quite a bit, and the grain in many fields is pretty badly afflicted with smut.

Everett Henry of Seattle arrived in Heppner Saturday night and has been a guest this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hiatt. Mr. Henry formerly resided here, but has been living in Seattle for some time where he has employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson, Gay, Jr., and Miss June returned Sunday from a two weeks' vacation trip that took them south into California as far as Los Angeles and they visited many places of interest including Sequoia National park. They took the Pacific highway to San Francisco, the coast route from Frisco to Los Angeles, returning by way of the interior to the Bay region and back to Oregon by way of the coast route. In Los Angeles they saw E. M. Shutt and son Lawrence, former Heppner people who are enjoying life in the sunny southland, while missing Mrs. Shutt who was on a tour of the northwest at the time.

Samuel Jackson Turner, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Turner of Sand Hollow, passed away in Portland on Monday and Mr. Turner and M. L. Case went to the city for the body, returning early Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held at Case Mortuary at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Father P. J. Stack, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church, officiating, and burial was in Masonic cemetery. Many neighbors and friends turned out to show their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Turner in this hour of affliction.

Dr. Gray reports that the Heppner Chess and Checker club is now functioning regularly, and numerous games are scheduled. The club has constructed a table large enough for eight contestants, and they have it in a room in the Heppner hotel adjoining the office of Dr. Gray. The doctor engaged three other players in a game on Tuesday evening, he playing the three of them at the same time and coming out victor. He is not sure that he could do this every time, however.

Miss Mildred Fisk, superintendent of Heppner chautauqua, who remained here for a few days while working on the subscription list for next year's chautauqua, departed on Saturday night for Idaho. The labors of Miss Fisk seem to have made it possible for Heppner to have chautauqua another year, but, as will be noted elsewhere in these columns, the local directors were not ready to sign up until a little more money is in sight.

Mrs. B. G. Sigsbee and daughter, Miss Elaine Sigsbee, arrived home Sunday, returning from their vacation of a couple of weeks. During their absence, Mrs. Sigsbee and daughter visited Denver, Salt Lake, San Francisco and other points of interest, and experienced a lot of very warm weather while on their journey. Nevertheless the vacation was greatly enjoyed.

C. W. Smith, county agent, was in Portland the first of the week to attend an executive meeting of the state American Legion. While there he also underwent a physical examination at the Veterans hospital, and now has the papers to show for it.

Klamath Holstein Makes Fine Production Record

Producing 2452 pounds of milk, containing 134.9 pounds of butterfat last month, Friday, a Holstein cow owned by C. W. Lewis of Klamath county, has chalked up a butterfat production record never before equaled in Oregon, as far as herd improvement association records show, according to the monthly summary report just issued by Roger Morse, dairy extension specialist at Oregon State college.

The next highest single month's production on record was made by a cow owned by Tippin & Sons of the Tillamook association for the month of May, 1924, when she produced 2083 pounds of milk and 131.23 pounds of butterfat.

Oregon ow has 18 active dairy herd improvement associations, maintained for the improvement of commercial herds, as compared to 15 last year. Two of the latest additions are the Malheur and Douglas county associations.

College Wants to Know Of Freak Blackberries

With the ripening of the wild blackberries or dewberries in Oregon, Dr. George W. Darrow, head of the federal small fruit research work, once more sends out an appeal to the people of the state, asking that the finding of any "freak" berries or berries of unusual quality be reported to him. Dr. Darrow is now stationed at the Oregon Experiment station, Corvallis.

A large number of unusual type of blackberries, reported to Dr. Darrow as the result of a similar request last year, have been collected and are now being used in special breeding work at the station.

Dr. Darrow and other horticultural specialists of Oregon State college are also turning their attention to the development of an improved loganberry—one that will be firmer, larger, sweeter, earlier, later, thornless or resistant to disease.

WHEN FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
