TT IS a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years-not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper — has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalcuable as at this time. In our own country there is universal commercila prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow-cit-izens are turned out against the ap-proaching winter without employ-ment, and without the prospect of it.

there had been no change we would have good ground for pessimism now. But everybody knows that during most of that time this country has experienced good times steadily getting better.

What happened before will happen again. From all that we can see and hear we believe that the worst of the present situation is over and that conditions are on the mend. And we are certain that the pessimists who are still frightened out of their wits have no more ba-tie for the present did wind of confection which is not only un-Amercian but very difficult to brush off the front of one's vest. PAUL IN EPHESUS Acts 19:8-20

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Begin your reading with Acts 18: 18 and continue through chapter 19. Note the two similar incidents where a total of thirteen who had known only the baptism of John enter into the larger experience in Christian truth when they know about Him, the Holy Spirit. Paul returned to Ephesus after having been to Antioch that he might report on the second missionary journey. Three years were now spent in Ephesus as the third journey is en-tered upon. After three months the school of Tyrannus became the general meeting place. Fine results came from the two years of preaching and teaching at that center. In fact, many points in the Ione Friday evening.
