

IONE

Feldman, Miss Kathryn Feldman, Mrs. Werner Rietmann, Mrs. Fred Mankin and Mrs. Henry Smouse. The guests who are not members of the club were Mrs. C. W. Swanson, Mrs. C. W. McNamer, Mrs. Fred Lucas, Mrs. Ernest Lundell, Mrs. Ed Lindken, Mrs. Clyde Denney and Mrs. Paul O'Meara. The first prize in bridge was won by Mrs. Lieualten; second by Mrs. Werner Rietmann.

Dwight Misner motored to Portland Monday. Mrs. Misner has been spending some time in the city at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Holmes Gabbert. On the return trip Mr. and Mrs. Misner plan on attending the Eastern Oregon Wheat League which convenes at The Dalles November 13-14.

Mrs. W. W. Kilcup of Butter creek was a recent guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harriet Brown.

The Ione section has been visited by benecial rains. The rainfall of Saturday afternoon and night measured .52 of an inch. By 5 o'clock Monday evening an additional .13 had fallen with more showers coming during the night.

Sam Hatch, Standard Oil man of Ione, is taking his vacation. He and Mrs. Hatch and little daughter are spending the time with old friends at Pasco, Kennewick and other Washington points.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corley have returned from Parkdale where they were called by the death of Mr. Corley's stepmother. They were accompanied home by Mr. Corley's father.

An interesting meeting of the Women's Topic club was held Saturday afternoon at the Victor Rietmann ranch home. Nineteen ladies were present. The topic was Irish Plays. The roll call was responded to by Irish jokes. A review of the plays were given as follows:

"Gathering of the News" (Gregory) by Elaine Rietmann; "Riders of the Sea" (Synge) by Ruth Rietmann; "Gods of the Mountains" (Duisany) by Anna Smouse. The dictionary drill was conducted by Fannie Griffith and this was followed by "Food for Thought." Mrs. Inez Freeland, Mrs. Anna Smouse and Mrs. Oral Feldman were chosen as a program committee for the next six months.

During the meeting there was a discussion of plans for the improvement of the city park and the club committee for park improvement will meet soon with the committee appointed some time ago by the city council.

Mrs. Alice Wiles is again at her home in Ione after an extended visit at the homes of two daughters, Mrs. Lester Britten and Mrs. Ned Carr, at Tygh Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Turner of Cecil visited recently at the Ray Turner home on Third street. From here Mr. and Mrs. Turner went to Boardman to spend a few days with Mr. Turner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Turner.

Relatives here have received the announcement of the marriage at Walla Walla, Saturday, October 31, of Miss Helma McMurray and Mr. Merlin L. Geddes. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mont McMurray, former residents of this section and she is a granddaughter of Mrs. Emily McMurray of Ione. Mr. and Mrs. Geddes are both residents of Winchester, Ida.

NOTES ON FOREST GIVEN BY RANGER

animals, the past few years the deer have increased rapidly. In parts of Wyoming the care of elk is a distinct problem. It is understood that surplus stock can be purchased from the government for the cost of crating where they are to be used for stocking a country. The price here would be the cost of crating plus freight. A few carloads of new blood added to our little stock of elk would soon create a substantial herd.

A lot of folks during this depressing "depression" have come to the forest for their winter fuel. Nearly 2000 cords of dead wood have been hauled out to ranches near and far. The city and county could get as much as needed for relief purposes if they so desired. All it costs is the hauling.

Close to the summit of the Heppner-Spray highway at a little flat near the head of the switchbacks on Kahler creek, where a little eye spring comes trickling out of the rocks, the forest service has set aside a small area for the convenience of the motoring public. A standard toilet and garbage pit and telephone is being installed and it is hoped that other improvements can be added at some future time. It has been designated as the Fairview camp ground. It was so named because a short distance from the camp it is possible to look out over a large part of the rugged John Day valley where a magnificent view of eastern Oregon scenery may be had.

I was reading recently where the Blue mountains were the oldest land, geologically, in the world and undoubtedly this part of the country was the original site of the garden of Eden. Before the Heppner-Spray highway is completed it would be a good idea to place a marker at the exact place where Adam lost his rib and Eve was created. From the taste of the apples I believe the original tree stands just back of our hen house here in Heppner.

CHURCH OF CHRIST. JOEL R. BENTON, Minister. Mrs. Wm. Poulson, Director of Music. Bible School, 9:45 A. M. Morning Worship, 11 o'clock. Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor, 4:30 P. M. Evening Worship, 7:30 o'clock. Choir rehearsal, Wednesday evening, 7:30 o'clock. Church Night, Thursday evening, 6:30 o'clock.

HOME DISCIPLINE. "For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which He hath spoken of him."—Gen. 18-19.

There is today a growing laxity in the matter of home discipline. Themistocles once said: "My little child rules its mother; when asked what he meant he said: 'The little child rules its mother; the mother rules me; I rule Athens, and Athens rules all Greece.'" America has many representatives of that Grecian family. The discipline of children can easily be too harsh and rigid; but the tendency these days is not to discipline the children at all. This undoubtedly accounts for much of our present-day lawlessness. An hysterical attempt is being made these days to account for that lawlessness by charging it to that lawlessness that we note that in Canada, where we have the far famed "Government Control" law violation has increased 216 per cent; so that flimsy alibi falls flat.

The fact of the matter is that the child who is not taught obedience in the home will not be inclined to obey the laws of the land when that child has reached maturity. We can never have a law abiding nation without the help of law abiding homes. Parents who allow their children to grow up without any sort of restraint, are simply laying out trouble for the future; not only for themselves and their children, but for the state and society.

When God wanted to start a nation, and was looking for a man through whom to start it, He chose Abraham. The text tells why. God knew that Abraham would command his children and would teach them justice and judgment. Here is something for American fathers and mothers to seriously think on. If the present home laxity continues, as regards the discipline of children, neither the law nor the Gospel can save America.

Begin now to make your home a Christian church-going home. If you have not a church home we invite you to come and worship with us. Come and begin the Lord's Day in our Bible school. In these days of hysteria and confusion, misstatement and misunderstanding, regarding matters of religion, you will be helped and guided scripturally aright in our services. For the coming Lord's day the sermon topics are: morning, "The Gospel Plan of Salvation"; evening, "The Hands of Jesus." Come, we invite you.

METHODIST CHURCH. GLEN P. WHITE, Pastor. 9:45 a. m., Sunday school. 11:00 a. m., morning worship hour; message by Miss Ruth Lortz. 6:30 p. m., Epworth League. 7:30 p. m., evangelistic service.

The special evangelistic services will continue throughout the next week. Miss Lortz is bringing helpful and edifying messages to the church as well as searching and convincing messages to the unbeliever. God's presence is manifested. Are we considering "Where We Will Spend Eternity"? Is there any subject so vital to us as that of our eternal salvation? Let us stop and consider for a few moments the meaning of "eternity." God is tenderly speaking to hearts. Is he talking to you? Then come and let the Word find lodgment in your heart and allow the Spirit to do its office work. Remember today is the day of salvation; for we cannot boast ourselves of tomorrow.

"And the Spirit and the bride say, come. And let him that heareth say, come. And whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely."—Rev. 22-17.

THE WAY OF LIFE

WHERE COMMUNISM FALLS DOWN.

For several reasons I find it difficult to get as excited as some of my friends about the threat of Communism. In the first place, we have had universal education in this country for a long time. Nearly all can read and write, and quite a large proportion can think.

In the second place, our wealth, though very inequitably distributed, is enjoyed by a far larger proportion of people than has ever been true in any nation before. Millions own homes, and land and stocks. Few are entirely satisfied; no one imagines the present social structure ideal, but very few care to risk losing what they have on the vague promise of acquiring more.

But there is a third and more fundamental reason. Communism, even if it came, would not continue. Some form of capitalist society would very rapidly take its place. Here is an interesting illustration:

Back in the latter days of the Civil War, when it was necessary to draft men for the Northern armies, the Indians of the West thought it a propitious time to revolt.

Several regiments of Union soldiers were withdrawn from the front to settle the uprising. A Pennsylvania politician made a smart suggestion.

He said to Abraham Lincoln: "Our Federal military prisons are ever written in the English language is 'The Way of All Flesh' by the late Samuel Butler. It was written in 1870 and its background is the England of the first half of the nineteenth century, but its people, their points of view, actions and characters are just as true to life as if the book were dated 1930 and the scene set in America.

Fifty years from now very few of the books which have been published in the past ten years will be remembered at all.

BRAINS Dr. George W. Crile, famous surgeon, told a medical convention recently that most of the heart and kidney diseases which are becoming more and more of a menace are the result of the over-development of the human brain. The frontal brain or cerebrum, that part of the brain which we use for thinking, is a comparatively recent product of evolution. Civilization has developed the brain more rapidly than the physical body, and the strain that is put upon the body by the activities of the brain result in high blood pressure and heart disease, according to Dr. Crile.

This is both interesting and plausible. In the course of millions of years we may develop a human race with a body totally different in appearance and function from our bodies of today. But whether the man of that remote future will have a more highly developed brain than ours, and a body adapted to nourish the brain, or whether he will have degenerated into a brainless animal, is another question.

CONSERVATIVES I think there are plenty of signs of a definite swing toward what is usually called "conservatism" in politics. People are getting to be afraid of new ideas and new political experiments. In the English elections was something more than a mere reaction against the party that happened to be in power when economic conditions became bad.

I talked a few nights ago with the head of one of the largest industries in this country. "My directors are in a panic of terror for fear that Communism will become a menace in the United States," he told me. "In the slump of 1921 our company lost $6,000,000 and these directors didn't let it worry them. We have lost only $1,000,000 in the BOOKS The Chicago public library has not had any money from the city with which to buy new books for several months. That has not stopped the young people of Chicago from taking books from the library. Instead of the up-to-date, modern novels, they are reading the great classics of literature.

This is a good thing for the young people of Chicago. They are learning, if nothing else, that the newest books are not necessarily the best books, and that a well-told tale is always interesting reading, even if it were written a hundred years ago.

In my opinion, the greatest novel

WHERE COMMUNISM FALLS DOWN.

For several reasons I find it difficult to get as excited as some of my friends about the threat of Communism. In the first place, we have had universal education in this country for a long time. Nearly all can read and write, and quite a large proportion can think.

In the second place, our wealth, though very inequitably distributed, is enjoyed by a far larger proportion of people than has ever been true in any nation before. Millions own homes, and land and stocks. Few are entirely satisfied; no one imagines the present social structure ideal, but very few care to risk losing what they have on the vague promise of acquiring more.

But there is a third and more fundamental reason. Communism, even if it came, would not continue. Some form of capitalist society would very rapidly take its place. Here is an interesting illustration:

Back in the latter days of the Civil War, when it was necessary to draft men for the Northern armies, the Indians of the West thought it a propitious time to revolt.

Several regiments of Union soldiers were withdrawn from the front to settle the uprising. A Pennsylvania politician made a smart suggestion.

He said to Abraham Lincoln: "Our Federal military prisons are filled with Southern military prisoners. These boys are strong and keen and good fighters, as we have plenty of reason to know. I'll bet that most of them would rather be outdoors fighting the Indians than sitting idly in jail. Why not recruit them into regiments and send them West?"

The proposal was adopted and was immediately successful. But this is what happened in one instance, which throws a fine clear light on the practicability of Communism. I quote from my father's "Life of Lincoln":

"A thousand men were enlisted at Alton, Illinois, and Camp Douglas in Chicago. They left Chicago on two special trains. Each man had in his pocket two hundred dollars bounty in United States greenbacks, and none of them had any other money. During the period of their imprisonment most of them had become habitual card players, if they had not previously been so. It is said that before they reached their destination a very few individuals had the lion's share of the money. Perhaps never before on earth was there so equitable an experiment in the results of starting men out in life on the basis of equal division of property. The equal division appears not to have lasted very long."

Life is a battle and a gamble. We can improve the rules, give fairer handicaps to the less favored, and make the game more humane.

But we can't alter the fundamentals of human nature. Communism tries to do that; and Communism will always fail.

BOXWOOD The most valuable vegetation that grows in America is boxwood. If you have an old boxwood hedge on your place you can sell it for almost any price you want to ask for it. That is because it takes from a hundred to two hundred years for a boxwood hedge to grow to its full beauty and usefulness. From $150 to $500 a horizontal yard is frequently paid by wealthy men with country estates for old boxwood hedges to be transplanted.

A friend of mine bought an old farm in the Virginia mountains recently for a few thousand dollars. He found that the house was not in very good repair and he was wondering whether he had not paid too much for the property, when a nurseryman came along and offered him $150,000 cash for the ancient boxwood hedge which surrounded the gardens! These boxwood trees were about ten feet high, and there were perhaps a thousand of them in the hedge.

PROPAGANDA Officers of the Army and Navy are liable to court martial and punishment if they take an active part in political agitation for larger appropriations for military purposes. Of course, every admiral and general wants to see more tax money spent on ships and guns than the country can afford. So there are organizations like the Navy League, whose purpose is to spread propa-
