BEER—UNSOUND ECONOMICALLY.

Albany Democrat-Herald. THE Salem Capital Journal is telling its readers that modification of the Volstead act to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer "will provide a government revenue of at least $500,000,000 a year, help start the wheels of industry by furnishing employment to tens of thousands of unemployed, create a market for excess farm products and injure no one but the racketeer, rum runner and bootlegger."

This is the sort of sophistry that is heard from all sides at a time when the wet propagandists are putting forth every effort. The Capital Journal forgets that prohibition came to us as an economic measure rather than moral; and that 13 years of its presence has justified the belief that drunkenness is unsound economically.

Why, it will come out of the nation's food bill, shoe bill, clothing bill, health and dentists' bill, automobile bills and gasoline and oil bills! That's where it will come from. If beer should come back, the money that supports it would deplete other channels of trade.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for December 5. ROME AND BEYOND. 11 Timothy 4:6-18. Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

The historical record of Paul's life does not go beyond the first Roman imprisonment. Probably Luke planned to write a third book and complete the account of this apostle to the Gentiles. After the release, return was made to Asia Minor and Timothy was left at Ephesus as Paul proceeded to Macedonia. Titus was sent to both Corinth and Crete. In the interim, Paul wrote two more letters: 1 Timothy and Titus.

The burning of Rome took place after Paul was released from prison. Emperor Nero was the incendiary but the Christians were charged with this dastardly deed. Wholesale arrests began and it is likely that special favor was gained by some officials who again apprehended Paul and had him taken to Rome. This time the freedom of his own hired house was not granted and confinement, according to tradition, was in the underground dungeon of the Mamertine prison which was visited by the writer a few years ago.

II Timothy is Paul's farewell and it is addressed to the young man who must take up the responsibilities of the apostolic office. With calmness and assurance in faith Paul faces whatever may take place. His self audit is best expressed in the Golden Text: "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith." 4:7. There is no question about the beyond as he faces judgment.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

DIATHERMY

Literally, it means "heating through." This diathermy form of treatment. The apparatus used in administering is expensive; not many rural physicians nowadays can afford such high-priced stuff, considering the almost impossibility of carrying it to widely-scattered bedside patients. Nevertheless, it is, and has been for some time, a growing, popular method of applying heat in the treatment of localized inflammations. That it will destroy germs by heat that are deeply situated within the body, I seriously doubt. I believe diathermy will greatly accelerate local circulation, hastening the blood through the part affected, and do some good in that way—just how much may not be accurately estimated.

The destruction of diseased tonsils is being brought about by diathermy, a more or less bloody operation; but it had better not be attempted by the amateur or beginner without complete instruction. The specialist is the only safe man to employ in the electrical extirpation of the tonsils. My own experience has not been very pleasing in the use of diathermy, much that I regret to say so. I have used it in a number of cases of chronic arthritis; if any improvement was noticeable, it was very slight. I used it in a desperate attempt to relieve pneumonia in an aged patient—and lost; yes, in two cases, without benefit, and where I needed help, oh, so badly.

I believe diathermy to be a very refined, technical, expensive way of applying the simple principle of heat in the treatment of disease. I have yet to be shown that it furnishes greater heat inside the diseased member than on the outside. But I am not an authority, mind you; I am just an intelligent, common-sense, family doctor, with thirty-eight years of experience. I do not own a diathermy apparatus, but I work in hospitals where it is available in any instance desired. I sincerely hope it may come to be the standard, accepted method of obliterating diseased tonsils.

escaped uninjured. Their car was not damaged and the road crew working nearby assisted them in getting it back on the road. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Haguewood made a trip to Yakima over the week end. On Thanksgiving day, the neighbors in the Social Ridge district met at the Social Ridge school house and spent the day together. They served a lovely dinner and had a program in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stocum entertained for dinner Thanksgiving. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Stocum from The Dalles and Mrs. Katherine Stocum of Lexington. Mrs. Gene Gentry was taken to Dr. Gray's hospital last Wednesday. She has been very ill for the past two weeks and we are glad to hear that she is some better at this time. During her absence, Mrs. Cletus Nichols has been teaching her primary grades at school. On Tuesday Mrs. La Villa White, who is the regular substitute, took charge and will teach until Mrs. Gentry is able to return.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lucas entertained during the holidays with a supper and a five-table pinocchle party. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dix, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughn, and Mr. and Mrs. Gay Anderson, all of Heppner, Miss Clara Holey, Vernon Warner and George Gillis of Lexington.

The H. E. club of the grange will meet in the afternoon on December 10th at the home of Mrs. Archie Nichols. All members are urged to attend. Grange Dance Saturday night, Dec. 5. Music by "Slim's Full House." Everybody invited to come. Supper will be served at midnight. Jay Yardley from Melrose, Idaho, is here visiting with his brother, Roy. Winford Duvall and Lester Cox
