

HARDMAN.

MRS. ELLA FARRENS.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steers served ice cream and cake to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith of Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. George Samuels Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bleakman and son Norman departed Thursday for the Rainier mountain country where Mr. Bleakman has employment as a surveyor, after making an extended visit here.

Glenn Farrens and Leslie Bleakman were attending to matters of business in Heppner Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bleakman entertained at a house party at their home here Christmas eve. About 75 people were present. The evening was spent in playing cards and dancing. Roy Ashbaugh, Owen Leathers and Ed Moreland played for the dancing.

Oss Inskip is spending a few weeks visiting with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Johnson are the proud parents of a 9-lb. boy born to them on Christmas morning. He has been named Overt Eugene.

Atleta Ashbaugh and Raymond McDonald were week-end guests of Muri Farrens at their mountain home.

Mrs. Lorena Isom spent Christmas week with her sister, Mrs. Elaine Chapel.

Another deep snow fall caused road work to close down last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bleakman departed last week for Lewis, Wn., where they will remain indefinitely.

Mrs. Bleakman also intends to consult a specialist at Portland for her injuries received when she fell recently through a trap door at the lodge hall.

Wm. Greener has gone to Portland to be with his mother who is quite ill.

Buck Adams was a business visitor in Heppner one day last week.

Mrs. Neil Knighten returned home Friday after spending the week visiting her parents in Heppner. She was accompanied by her brother, Ralph Moore, who remained for a short visit.

Mrs. Knighten is the proud possessor of a Ford sports roadster she purchased while she was gone.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Stevens home New Year's eve, when a few friends came in to surprise them and to watch the old year out and the new year in. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Adams and sons Norman and Perry, Lois Ashbaugh, Jessie McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams, LaVan, Charlotte, Katie and Forest Adams, Esther, Arlon and Loes Stevens and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens. The evening was spent playing games, making taffy and listening in on the radio, until midnight when the young people bid the old year farewell and welcomed in the new by going to the school house and ringing the old school bell, which awakes the town from its peaceful slumbers, and to the fact that old Father Time had just completed his duties of 1931 and was passing on.

Miss Fairy Stanton of Walla Walla who has been visiting relatives for the past several months, departed for her home Saturday.

Miss Marjorie Adams, who has been visiting her father, Belva Adams and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Adams, also departed Saturday for her home in Hillsboro. Mr. Adams took them as far as Heppner.

UNCLE SAM HAS KEY TO MONEY SITUATION

measured in dollars. One effect of this is to stimulate purchases by the United States from those countries. Foreign goods are cheaper in dollars than they have been at any time since the great European slump that followed the war. If the rest of the world can induce us to buy enough of their commodities and pay them in gold, they can speedily return to the gold standard. But in the present condition of business in the United States we are importing fewer commodities than for many years past.

Some economic authorities do not believe that it is possible for the whole world to continue to maintain the gold standard, and there is a strong movement toward some kind of a new international agreement which would make a limited proportion of silver equal to gold as a monetary standard. They want to serve the double purpose of putting up the price of silver, which is now around thirty cents an ounce, and has been in the past as high as $1.30, and of increasing the metallic reserves against currency.

There are great areas with enormous populations that have no use for gold. India, with its three hundred millions of people, was forced to the gold standard in 1926 by the British government, but the people of India still prefer silver to gold. The average worker in India seldom accumulates enough surplus to invest in it even the smallest gold coin. The Hindu has no use for paper money, because he has no safe place in which to keep it. He wants to store up his wealth in the form of silver ornaments, bracelets and bangles which are often merely small coins pierced with holes, so that he can carry it with him all the time.

Everybody who reads the newspapers or listens over the radio is going to hear a lot of discussion of this gold and silver problem in the next few months. In the meantime, it is well to keep in mind that one of the reasons why it is important is that all of the war debts owing to the United States from Europe, as well as all of the private debts owed by foreign business to American bankers and merchants, are payable in United States gold dollars, and the rest of the world is very eagerly trying to find some way either to make it easier for them to get gold dollars or to reduce the value of the United States dollar. There is not the slightest chance, however, of the United States going off the gold standard, as conditions stand today.

Miss Kathryn Feldman, who discussed ancient art; Mrs. Earl Blake, art in the middle ages; Mrs. Sam Hatch, renaissance, and Mrs. Ted Smith, modern. Mrs. Inez Feeland gave a reading. Mrs. Bert Mason gave current events and Mrs. Fred Mankin conducted the dictionary drill. At the close of the program refreshments of cheese sandwiches, salad and coffee were served by Mrs. Mankin.

Mrs. Millie Cochran, wife of John Lawrence Cochran, postmaster at Cecil, died Saturday night, January 2. Willows grange had charge of the funeral services which were held Monday afternoon at Cecil. Interment was in the Heppner cemetery. Mrs. Cochran had been an invalid for 23 years, suffering from paralysis. Besides her husband, she is survived by a half sister, residing at Oakland, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Peterson were among those from here who attended the funeral services at Cecil Monday for Mrs. John Lawrence Cochran.

The Walter Corley home was the scene of a jolly party last Thursday evening. As the friends watched the old year out and the new year in, the time was spent in playing bridge. High score was made by Mr. and Mrs. Hatch and low by Mr. Lindeken. Holiday decorations were used throughout the home. Refreshments were chicken a la king and coffee. Present besides the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Cotter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hatch and Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Lindeken.

Rubies of the Kitchen—Cranberries.

The Christmas holidays are over—the last bite of turkey has disappeared. Tinsel and bells have been packed away for another year, and with them have gone many annual food customs such as plum pudding, roast turkey and other goodies. But I'm wondering about those valuable little round gems of the cuisine—the cranberry—has it too been put out of the dietary until next Christmas? I hope not.

Cranberries are a distinct aid in adding color and flavor to mid-winter menus which need to be kept bright and interesting. Then, too, they are an excellent source of minerals which we must consume daily. Iodine, which prevents goiter, is found in rich quantity, and iron, which helps to keep us from becoming anemic, and also calcium, which helps to stabilize the body, are also found.

There is another reason for using lots of cranberries this year and that is the prevailing low prices due to the bumper crop. Cranberry relishes will be economical additions to the diet as well as appetite stimulants.

Because of their acid content they are an excellent accompaniment for meat.

Cranberry Conserve.

1 qt. cranberries.
1 c. raisins.
1 c. water.
Grated rind one orange.
2 oranges sliced.
2 1/2 c. sugar.
1-2 c. nut meats.

Chop cranberries coarsely, add raisins, water, grated orange rind, oranges; cook 15 min. Add sugar, cook 5 min., stir in nuts, turn into glasses and seal. Makes 6 glasses.

Cranberry, Celery and Nut Salad.

4 c. cranberries.
1 c. boiling water.
2 c. sugar.
1-1/2 c. diced celery.
1-4 t. salt.
1-2 c. nuts, chopped.
Celery tips.
Mayonnaise.

Cook cranberries and water together for 5 min. Press through sieve, add sugar, cook 2 min. Cool. Blend in seasonings, nuts, celery; turn into individual molds. Chill unsealed, garnish with celery tips. Serves 6.

Cranberry Nut Pie.

1 c. cranberries, cut in half.
1-2 c. seeded raisins.
1-3 c. walnuts.
1-2 c. thinly sliced apples.
1 c. sugar.
2 T. flour.
4 T. water.

Mix fruits together. Mix sugar and flour, add water and pour over the first mixture. Fill pastry shell with mixture. Put lattice strips over the top and bake in a hot oven over 450 degrees F. for 10 min. Then reduce heat to 325 degrees F. for 30 min.

Cranberry Relish.

1 c. ground, raw cranberries.
2 c. ground, raw apples.
1 c. sugar.
Mix. This will keep for about three days. It is delicious with meat.

Cranberry Muffins.

2 c. flour.
3 t. baking powder.
4 T. sugar.
1 c. milk.
1 egg yolk.
4 T. melted fat.

1 c. ground cranberries mixed with 2 T. sugar.
1 egg white, beaten stiff.
Mix and sift dry ingredients, add milk, fat and egg yolk when cranberries. Last fold in egg white. Bake at 375 degrees.

Achievements of Patience
"Be ye also patient," James 5-8.
"Patience is genius," said Buffon.
"With time and patience, the mulberry leaf becomes satin," says a Chinese proverb. "The world is his who has patience," says an old Italian proverb. "Hard pounding, gentlemen, but we will see who can pound the longest," said Wellington at Waterloo.

Cyrus Field toiled with ceaseless patience for thirteen years, and that in the face of the most difficult and discouraging circumstances, before the Atlantic cable was laid.
Mr. Edison's phonograph, we are told, long refused to say the word "special." It dropped the letter "s" and would only say "pecial." Mr. Edison worked for seven months to make that phonograph utter that sound. "BE YE ALSO PATIENT!" It is only by the exercise of patience that anything worth while is ever achieved.

Some years back the great steamship Umbria was stopped in mid-Atlantic by a flaw in her crank shaft. A small thing but enough to stop the great steamer.
The main shaft of a man's life is purpose, and the flaw in it is the lack of patience. To many it may seem a small thing, but it has caused many to stop short of their goal. No matter what other qualities a man may possess, if he lacks patience he will never win any very great success in anything.

The teachers have all returned from their vacations and school reopened Monday.
Mrs. Paul Menegat from Heppner taught school for Mrs. Turner while she was absent Monday attending the funeral for her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. L. Cochran.
The girls athletic association has started basketball practice. They do not expect to play games this year with outside schools but will have a series of games among themselves.
Dorris Ingles of Cambridge, Cal., is a guest at the home of his brother, Edwin Ingles.

Elsie Tucker spent the week end here with her sister, Mrs. Archie Nichols.
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Palmer entertained at their home last Saturday night. Cards and dancing were enjoyed by about sixty neighbors and friends. Refreshments were served at a late hour.
Judge Carmichael and Johnny Miller went to Portland last week end on business. They also visited at Hubbard with Mr. Miller's parents.

Miss Vel Ward left last week for Corvallis where she holds a position in the First National Bank.
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lucas attended a dinner party Sunday near Jone at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ward.
Ted McMillan, John Spence and Delpha Merritt motored to Arlington Sunday after Mrs. McMillan who has been here for the past week visiting her father. Eva Wilcox accompanied them to Arlington and left on the train for Portland to resume her studies at the Portland art school.

Skiing and ski riding have been favorite pastimes southwest of town for the past several days. The warm weather has melted the track and it is not so good at present.
Last Friday a serious accident occurred on the hill. Elwood Hunt was coming down on his sled and Dale Yeoum was going up and did not see Elwood in time to get out of the way. Dale's left leg was broken above the ankle and Elwood's hand was mashed. Dale will be confined to his bed for some time. He is at the home of his step-father, Jim Helms.
Mrs. J. F. Lucas was hostess last Saturday afternoon at her home to the "Lucky 13" bridge club of Heppner. Present were Mesdames W. P. Mahoney, W. E. Pryn, C. W. McNamer, D. M. Ward, Arthur McAttee, Chas. Cox, Lester White, Gene Ferguson, C. C. Patterson, Hanson Hughes, Gay Anderson and W. O. Dix. Mrs. Patterson won first prize and Mrs. Pryn, consolation. Mrs. Lucas served a dainty lunch to her guests.
Park G. Carmichael returned Tuesday night to his home near Dallas. He has been visiting here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carmichael.

Guests at the Thornburg home are Lloyd Matteson, Coy Thornburg, Len and Lena Hale. They drove out from Ritter Monday and found the roads almost blocked with snow.
Last week Vernon Scott, Wayne McMillan and Vernon Warner went to Pine Grove and visited a couple

Hand Washing and Contagious Diseases

From State Board of Health.

In many communicable diseases the infectious agent is found in the nasal secretions of the victim who acquired the infection by indirect contact with the disease. Infection can be avoided by giving a wide berth to those who are suffering with excess nasal discharges and are sneezing and coughing. Avoiding infection, however, is not an easy thing to do. During the cold season of the year, infections are very prevalent and a large number of patients are walking abroad in the land because they do not consider themselves sufficiently ill to stay at home. Unless they exercise great care the infection is spread to innocent bystanders by unguarded sneezing and coughing. The hands of a person with nasal infection are practically sure to be infected from his nasal secretions, and the infection will be conveyed to articles he handles and to other hands which he touches. It is therefore apparent that it is almost impossible to avoid infection by direct or indirect contact with infection unless people who have colds or other respiratory infections are willing to take measures for the protection of their fellows.

Frequent hand washing by individuals who suffer from colds, nasal and respiratory infections could have considerable effect in preventing the spread of the infection. The hands are always contaminated with bacteria. Because of the varying uses to which the hands are put, and the nature and condition of the objects handled the hands are always more or less dirty. So long as the skin is not broken, these bacteria cause no disturbance if they are not transferred to the mouth, nose, or to any opening in the skin. Nothing should be put into the mouth except clean food and clean drink. If the hands are always washed carefully before eating or handling food and if the fingers are carefully kept out of the mouth and nose and the body is not scratched with the nails, the bacteria and other dirt that accumulate on the hands may be considered harmless.

The hands should be carefully washed with soap and warm water.

The nails should be thoroughly cleaned and the hands scrubbed with a moderately stiff brush. The hands are really very tough and may stand a great deal of scrubbing. A scrubbing brush, warm water and soap are essential. The brush should not be too stiff or too soft and should be sunned frequently in the open air. The hands will not chap if the soap is well rinsed off and the skin not exposed to cold air until perfectly dry. The hands should always be washed after going to toilet. The hands should be kept as clean as possible and then kept away from the easily infected parts of the body. Hand-to-mouth infections should be remembered and the hands washed before eating or the handling of foods.

Grants Pass—The turkey population of Josephine county has increased about 100 per cent during the past year, reports County Agent H. B. Howell. There are at least six flocks of more than 1000 birds each in the county, and it is estimated that more than 40,000 turkeys were produced for market this year.
