water to do the week's washing and was engaged in assisting a neighbor do some repair work on his car. Mr. Juday, an expert mechanic, was filling a piston ring and whistling when suddenly the neighbor heard a thud and looking around was amazed to find Mr. Juday lying on the ground beside the car. Assistance was called but life was extinct. The post mortem showed that death was caused from heart trouble. Funeral services were held from the Stately United church and interment was in the local I. O. O. F. cemetery, March 2. Mr. Juday is survived by two cousins, Gentry and William Ohler of Stately, besides the brothers and sisters in Oregon who were named last week.

When Mr. and Mrs. Pfeiffer came to Ione for the day they were accompanied by Mrs. Pfeiffer's son, Gilbert Pettes, who will spend some time on the ranch of G. A. Pettes.

Laxton McMurray has been named a member of the County Seed Loan Advisory committee for Morrow county. Other members of the committee are Chas. Swindig and W. E. Moore of Heppner, Mr. Swindig being chairman.

All farmers in this district are busily engaged in farm work, and report the soil in excellent condition.

The members of the Union Sunday school are preparing an Easter program to be given at the Sunday school hour March 27. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

About sixty were present at the clam feed which was given Saturday evening by members of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges. Everyone reports a good time. Dancing was enjoyed for a short time and then all joined the merry-makers in attendance at the leap year dance at Legion hall.

A party of relatives motored up from Portland to spend the week end at the Roy Llewellyn home. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Brown, parents of Mrs. Llewellyn, who remained for a more extended visit.

What is reported to be the largest gathering of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs ever to meet at Morgan hall was present at the county get-together meeting there last Thursday evening. Thirty-five were in attendance from Ione, Heppner and Lexington were also well represented. An interesting program was given consisting of the following numbers: vocal duet by Mrs. Alfred Troedson and her daughter, Frances; solo by Mike Matthews; solo by Donald Heliker; readings by Mrs. Della Corson, Mabel Cool, Dot Crabtree and Helen Lundell; dialogue by Mrs. Alfred Troedson and Miss Frances; and a dialogue by two small Pettyjohn boys and Teddy Palmaster. The banquet was served in the lodge dining room, plates being laid for 87.

Mrs. J. W. Howk and Alan left by train Monday night for a few days' shopping in Portland. While in the city they will be guests in the home of Mrs. Hawk's brother, Fred Griffith.

J. W. Howk has been enjoying a visit with his step-son, Loren Hecker, of The Dalles.

Louis Balsiger was transacting business in Pendleton Monday. Accompanying him were Mrs. Louis Balsiger, Mrs. Paul Balsiger and Mrs. Harvey Ring. The ladies spent the time shopping.

Mrs. John Graves and infant daughter returned Saturday from Heppner to their home on the R. B. Wilcox farm.

The Boy Scouts took their first hike Saturday accompanied by Lake Beckner, assistant scoutmaster. They met at Legion hall, went down Willow creek, practiced fire building and cooked their dinner. The following boys enjoyed the trip: Junior Mason, Denward Bergevin, Harry and Eugene Normoyle, Maurice Feeley, John Ray, Walter Bristow, Bobby Morgan, Harlan McCurdy and Elwayne Llewellyn. Eight of the boys have already passed their tests and received their badges.

The county spelling contest will be held in Heppner March 26. Howard Anderson of The Dalles was greeting friends on our streets Saturday.

A. B. Montgomery of Portland was a business visitor in Ione and vicinity last week.

Friends here have received word that Mrs. R. E. Harbison of Cottage Grove, suffered a severe paralytic stroke Sunday afternoon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harbison had been writing letters; Mrs. Harbison finished her writing first and went to the radio and sat down in a rocker. Mr. Harbison finished his writing at 4:30 and went to his wife to find her helpless in her chair. Mr. and Mrs. Harbison, prominent people of Morrow county, moved to Cottage Grove a few months ago. They had planned to leave Thursday of this week on a trip back here to visit their many friends in the Ione and Morgan districts.

Harold Townsend, employed on the Elvin Ely ranch near Morgan, received a dislocated shoulder Wednesday morning while working with a fractious colt. Mr. Ely took the injured man to Heppner for medical attention.

B. Franklin Berry of Arcadia, Calif., was calling in our town on Wednesday. He is here looking after his farming interests, being the owner of the ranch operated by E. G. Sperry.

COMMUNITY RESPONSIBILITY.

The American Legion Auxiliary unit of Heppner announces March 17—today—Community Responsibility Day, and the following projects have been included in their program:

1. Sponsoring the 4-H club work by giving $15.00 to the winning girl in Heppner to attend the two weeks summer school at Corvallis.

2. Donating $25.00 towards the Washington Bicentennial marker.

3. By paying $5.00 pledge for the Chautauqua in June.

Low Round-Trip Fares Over the Easter Season

Chester A. Darbee, local U. P. agent, announces that his company, in conjunction with connecting lines, is again offering extremely low fares over Easter. The rates approximately one cent a mile and will be good between all stations in Oregon, Washington, California, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming (west of and including Green River); also to points in Montana (Big Timber, Judith Gap, Harlowton, Lewiston, Havre and west) and to some points in British Columbia.

These popular excursions are at lowest cost in history over so large a territory, applying as they do over most of western United States. The cost is less than one can drive their own automobile, and it affords opportunity for families to visit one another during the Easter season at very small cost for transportation.

Sale dates are March 24, 25, 26 and 27. The return limit is April 5th.

ON OREGON FARMS

Oregon City—Clackamas county's bulb industry has grown to include 120 acres of bulbs valued at $600,000 according to County Agent J. J. Inskeep. One organization is reported to have an annual payroll of $20,000.

Medford—Four Jackson county bee keepers having a total of more than 100 colonies, are cooperating with the farm management department at Oregon State college in a cost of production survey on honey. The survey will include all sections of the state where honey is produced.

Hillsboro—Joe Schmidkefer, dairyman of Forest Grove, says that he has already sold several cows and will probably cull his herd down to about half its original size as a result of his first year's membership in the Yamhill-Washington dairy herd improvement association.

Before he began testing, he says, he was planning to sell his best cows as scrubbers and would have kept those that have now been shown to be "boarders." With the help of the tester, Douglas Dickey, he has saved enough in feed ration alone to more than pay the cost of testing, he reports.

The Dalles—In an attempt to stimulate growth of cover crops before it is time to turn them under, superphosphate and sulfate of ammonia are being applied on the farms of Roy Johnson of Thompson's addition and Nelson Brothers of Mill creek on the advice of W. Wray Lawrence, county agent. Crops receiving these fertilizers are grain, hairy vetch, Austrian winter field peas and mustard.

Field trials of O'Rourke field peas from the Moro experiment station will be planted this year by O. W. Cuthbert, George Peck, R. B. Rice of Lexington and R. A. Thompson and Chris Brown of Heppner. The demonstrations were arranged through County Agent Chas. W. Smith to determine what these peas will do under favorable field conditions.

Rhea Creek Grange.

By MARGARET BECKETT.

The Rhea Creek Grange will hold its Saturday night meeting on Saturday, 19th. "Cutie and Grange" will be the entertainment for the evening. All Grangers are invited to come, bringing pie for refreshments.

A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Huston and Phil Griffin last Friday evening. Most of the neighbors were present but bad roads kept some from being there. We are all glad to have these neighbors back in the community. Years ago they farmed the Huston place in this community but have resided in Heppner for several years. They will farm the Barlow ranch.

CLUB BOOSTERS.

The members of the "Wee Six Cooks" club at Alpine are progressing nicely with their cooking projects. All are experienced club workers and good boosters.

Dorothy Delaney, Doris Klinger, Peggy Kilkenny and Reitha Howard were in division two sewing last year, Doris and Reitha taking second and fourth prizes in Morrow county. Doris was also chosen to be one in the demonstration team which represented this county at the state fair last fall.

The club has one boy as a member. He is Gene Senter, who has been in a poultry club for the last three years, winning many honors, among them trips to Salem and Corvallis.

At a Farm Bureau meeting held March 5 at Alpine, Mr. Smith attended and presented a two-year club pin to Doris Klinger and one-year pins to Dorothy Delaney, Peggy Kilkenny and Reitha Howard. Mr. Smith talked of the club cooking room to the Farm Bureau people and he then told them the way to the cookie jar.

CLUB NEWS.

Two 4-H clubs have been organized in the Hardman school. They are Cookery, div. I, Mrs. Ethel Knighten, leader, and Forestry, div. I, Mrs. Bertha McDaniel, leader.

Thirteen girls joined the cookery club. They met every Wednesday at Mrs. Knighten's. They elected their officers as follows: Muri Farrans, president; Delcie Bleakman, vice-president; and Arieta Ashbaugh, secretary.

The Forestry club was organized with twenty-six members. The officers elected were Nellie Bleakman, president; Lester Ashbaugh, vice-president; and Lois Ashbaugh, secretary. They named their club "Hardman Foresters."

Eddie Cantor is good alone, but you should see him paired with Charlotte Greenwood in PALMY DAYS, Star Theater Sunday and Monday.

Stepping Stones or Stumbling Blocks?

"But judge this rather; that no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall, in his brother's way." Romans 14:1.

Paul, in the Roman letter has much to say of things folks ought to do, and ought not to do. But he says nothing more far-reaching than this. That no man should become a stumbling block to his fellow man. We hear a great deal these days of heavy auto traffic on the highways of the nation of this sort of thing: "I am as careful as I can be, but I cannot figure on or know what the other fellow is going to do." And this is true, too. We cannot read the other fellow's mind, and we can only, at the best, conjecture as to what will be his next move or turn as we are speeding down the highway. But we try our dead-level best to keep out of his way, especially if his handling of his auto indicates he is an inexperienced or reckless driver. We surely try our best NOT TO BE A STUMBLING BLOCK TO HIM.

But in every other phase of life, we largely, apparently, forget this sort of thing. And as we are all aware, there are certain phases of life in which the chief and only concern is to get money, no matter at what cost to the other fellow.

In the days of the open saloon we saw a tremendous example of this of which Paul speaks. Men wore diamonds and lived high from the proceeds of the booze business while those of whom they filched their ill-gotten living went down in misery, poverty, debauchery, and dragged their poor dependent families with them. Then the gambler, another parasite, worthless, absolutely, to society in any way, living off the crabs of those who are weak enough to come back again and again to his snare. Today we do not have the open saloon, but we do, in every community, have the rat-like bootlegger, (and we had him in the days of the open saloon, too) and his despicable method of gaining a living; and we still have the parasite gambler. But it is not to these alone that the words of Paul are directed; Paul is speaking not only to this class; the booze seller and the gambler, but there are many others who need to hear and heed the words of Paul. He is speaking to anyone who in any manner at all, causes any one to stumble; who causes anyone to do those things which will bring destruction of character; lack of interest in the finest and best things of life, which are the things of the Kingdom of God. It makes no difference under what guise we do the things which will cause stumbling on the part of others; whether we do untoward things under the cloak of religion; or social custom or usage, or what-not; if we so live as to cause others to stumble and fall, he perfectly sure we shall have that to answer for. Shrug it off as we please, we can not evade the responsibility in that way—we will have to pay for being stumbling blocks if stumbling blocks we are. So, why not become stepping stones helping others up to better living in every way? Try it!

If you have a Church home we invite you to come and worship with us. Come and have a part in our Bible School and services of worship. For the coming Lord's Day the sermon topics are: For the morning service, "Authority in Christianity." For the evening service, "Bridging the Chasm."

The Easter Cantata to be given by the singers of the city the evening of Easter Sunday, is progressing; practice is set for Saturday evening at 7:30 at the church, and all those taking part are urged to be present.

Perhaps we all feel satisfaction that we have not as Pilate had to make that terrible decision, "What shall I do with Jesus?" Nevertheless, this is a question which every one of us still answers. It is more awful for us than it was for Pilate. We have to answer it with a full knowledge of what Jesus was and is. We have to answer it, aided by the light of centuries streaming upon that Divine face. So long as Christ is popular, so long as being with Him means going on with a rejoicing, happy multitude, there is no doubt as to what we will do with Christ. We will gladly follow Him. But there come awful moments in every life. It is the Passion week of every soul when the Christ stands pleading. A wild, frenzied mob of passions and sins raise their murderous clamor, and demand that we shall give Him up or keep Him from entering our heart. They urge us to take into our favor some other popular idol. Each one must answer the question: "What shall I do with Jesus?" It is before us at this Easter season. Let us prayerfully answer it now. Fitting services for Palm Sunday will be observed this next Sunday. We invite you to be present and worship with us the King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

"What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?"—Matt. 27:22.

Hay-Grading School to Be Held at Corvallis

A three-weeks hay grading school to be held at Oregon State college starting March 28 has just been announced, the purpose being to train inspectors for the state department of agriculture. Warehousemen, feed dealers or others interested in getting an idea of the work, may audit the course for a few days at their convenience, however.

The state department has entered into a cooperative agreement with the federal inspection service for establishing hay grades in Oregon, which has brought about the need of the training school. W. J. Morgan, federal hay supervisor of Los Angeles, will be in charge of instruction, assisted by D. D. Hill of O. S. C. Two weeks instruction will be given at Corvallis and the final week in Portland.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS.

The American Legion Auxiliary had its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Heppner Hotel club rooms, with 16 members present. A paper, "Taking the Romance Out of War," was read. Plans for the Easter Monday ball on March 28 were completed. This promises to be one of the outstanding dances of the year; many surprise features being planned by the features and decorating committees. Tickets will be $1.00, and 25 cents for extra ladies and spectators. The kitty was drawn by Mrs. Floyd Adams, and the hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Helen Christenson and Mrs. Lera Crawford—Secretary.

Pessimist—I told you carpenters wouldn't continue to get $11 a day. I know several persons who have offered Bill Sawyer no more than $5 a day.

Optimist—You're crazy. Why, Bill would never work for less than $11 a day. That's what his last job paid him.

Pessimist—When was that?

Optimist—Oh, a little over a year ago.
