LIONS PLANT TREES AT CITY PARK SITE

First Ground Broken on Clean-Up Day in New Civic Enterprise.

ADVERTISING TOPIC

Notson and Rankin Report Action of State Chamber; State Would Have Exhibit at World Fair.

The first ground was broken Monday for Heppner's new city park when a work detail from the Lions club planted trees along the street in front of the property and on the ground adjacent to the American Legion swimming pool in the south part of town, being administered by a holding company in the interest of making an attractive city park and playground.

The work was done Monday partly in observance of the city's clean up day; and the beginning of the park at this time also honors the bicentennial anniversary of George Washington, in whose memory a national tree-planting campaign is being waged this year under the direction of congress.

The work detail was organized under the leadership of Paul Marble and Frank Turner at the noon luncheon of the club, and all members who could devote the afternoon to the work. The trees planted already have a year's growth, and wooden cages four to five feet in height were built about each to insure their chance to make continued growth.

Mr. Marble, who drew the original landscaping plan, laid out with stakes the positions of the tree plantings, paths, shrubs and related prospective adornments, in order that the men might grasp the idea of the relationship of the first work to the completed project which the directors of the holding company have in mind, and which they expect will be an object of pleasure and pride to all the people of the community when it is finally realized.

Plants Acceptable.

The members of the holding company wish it to be understood that the park is being developed solely as a community project, and that anyone so inclined is welcome to do whatever he may wish. The only restriction is that the work shall comply with the requirements of the adopted plan in order to maintain a unified scheme. Through Mr. Marble, directors of the holding company have asked that anyone having a surplus of shrubs when working over their yards this spring consider the matter of donating some to the park. Almost any kind of shrubs can be used, and by getting them started now, Mr. Marble says it is hoped to have an abundance of verdure to use another season in further developing the landscaping plan.

The program for the luncheon was in charge of W. W. Smead and G. A. Bleakman, who sponsored the appearance of Miss Katherine Nys in recitation and the Heppner Mandolin club stringed quartet in special numbers, all of which were well received.

A report of the state chamber of commerce meeting in Portland last week end was made by S. E. Notson, state director, and Al Rankin, county director, who attended. A further plan for reviving the work of the state chamber, as adopted at the meeting, was explained. The matter of an Oregon exhibit at the world's fair in Chicago next year, as well as the continuance of the Los Angeles office of the state chamber hinges largely on the success of this program, it was said.

Plan Calls for $14,000. The plan contemplates raising a total of $14,000 which is the minimum with which the state chamber can hope to carry on the proposed work. Of this amount the Portland Chamber of Commerce guarantees fifty per cent if the upstate will raise the other fifty per cent.

Oregon has reserved 10,000 square feet of floor space in the state exhibit building at Chicago for its world fair display in which it is hoped to have every county of the state represented. But to hold this space it will be necessary to close the contract within the next few months. Before the contract can be closed it is essential to know that the project can be financed.

To explain the situation, and later assist in collecting the exhibits if the financial drive is a success, the Eugene Chamber of Commerce has agreed to donate part of the time of their secretary, E. G. Harlan, former secretary of the state chamber and one-time Heppner newspaperman. Mr. Harlan is expected to spend considerable time in the field in the interests of this work in the near future.

County's Share Small. The per capita quota for carrying out the new program has been set at two cents, making Morrow county's share approximately $100,

FRANK A. LUNDELL RITES HELD AT IONE

Pioneer Dies at Heppner Hospital; Leaves Children in County; Other News of Week.

Frank August Lundell died Thursday afternoon in a Heppner hospital. Two funeral services were conducted for the deceased, the first Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Congregational church in Ione and the second the same day at the Swedish Lutheran church at Gooseberry where interment was made. The funeral services were in charge of the Reverend Bloomquist, Lutheran minister from Seattle. The singing was by Mrs. J. W. Hawk, Mrs. Paul Balsiger and Louis Balsiger, with Mrs. Louis Balsiger at the piano. The pall bearers were six grandsons of the deceased, one son from the family of each of Mr. Lundell's children. They were Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Swanson; Leon, son of the late August W. Lundell; Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lundell; Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lindstrom; Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Algott Lundell, and Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lundell.

Mr. Lundell was born in Sweden August 17, 1848, and died April 14, 1932, being at the time of his death 83 years, 7 months and 28 days of age. He was married in 1870 to Anna Louise Johnson who died June 22, 1926. He came to the United States in 1880, first settling in California, and coming to Morrow county, Oregon, in 1887 where he took up a homestead in the Gooseberry district. Here he made his home until he decided to retire from farming, and he and his wife moved to Portland. They remained in the city but a short time however, when they located in Ione in the year 1918.

Mr. Lundell was a devoted member of the Lutheran church and took an active part in both Sunday school and church work. He was also a member of Willows grange. He was a man of sterling character and kindly disposition, loved and respected by all who knew him. Both funeral services were largely attended by the many friends. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

He is survived by the following sons and daughters: Ernest R. Algott W. and Mrs. J. E. Swanson of Ione; Mrs. O. E. Lindstrom of Morrow; and Oscar L. of Willows. Twenty-five grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren also survive as well as a sister, Mrs. Louise Peterson of Lindsborg, Kansas.

He was preceded in death by his wife and two sons, Carl Emil who died in 1918, and August R. who died in 1926.

Out of town relatives who were here for the funeral services were Leon Lundell of Weston, Mrs. Elmo McMillan of Salem and Garland and Norman Swanson who are attending school in Salem.

Ione students who have the distinction of having their names on the last school honor roll are, as follows: first honor roll, Clara Nelson; second honor roll, Muriel Patterson, Jeanne Hudson, Ralph Thompson and Francis Ely, Juniors; first honor roll, Elwayne Lieualen; second honor roll, Margaret Ely. Eighth grade, Miriam Hale, Mildred Lundell and Eugene Normoye; seventh grade, Betty Trevett; sixth grade, Betty Bergvinn; fifth grade, Bernice Ring and Joan Sipes; second grade, Paul Rietmann; first grade, Betty Lou Lindsay and Marianne Corley.

In the high school baseball game April 15 at Condon the score was 13-3 in favor of Ione. Arlington will cross bats on the local field Thursday afternoon.

The ball game Sunday afternoon was a practice game between Boardman's town team and Ione's town team. Ione won by a score of 5-3.

Camp Fire Girls, sponsored by the Women's Topic club, and with Miss Kathryn Feldman as guardian, have organized in Ione. The members are Virginia and Katherine Griffith, Miriam Hite, Mildred Lundell, Maxine McCurdy, Bertha Akers, Annabelle and Charlotte McCabe, Genevieve and Vivian Ball, Margaret Lindken and Betty Bergvinn.

Mr. Notson and Mr. Rankin expressed the hope that this amount might be raised, believing that the dividends received in advertising the county to the outside world would make the investment profitable.

GREEN FEED CUTS TURKEY EXPENSE

Fourth Saved in Production Costs by Providing Succulents, Says O. S. C. Report.

Value of an abundance of green feed and high protein content in the ration of developing and fattening turkeys was clearly indicated this past season in the second year's experiments in raising turkeys under semi-confinement at the Umatilla branch experiment station at Hermiston, Oregon.

The detailed report of the experiments in turkey raising have just been reported on by H. K. Dean, superintendent, and H. E. Cosby, extension poultryman of O. S. C., in a new circular of information, No. 68, just issued by the experiment station. It may be had free from county agents or direct from Corvallis.

Two hundred and fifty day-old poult were obtained for the experiment and divided into four pens, after the brooding season. From these 233 mature birds were sold, 205 of which, or 96.2 per cent, graded prime, seven graded choice and only one graded commercial.

It cost 27 per cent more to produce a pound of turkey in one lot that was given no green feed than in the lot where the birds were pastured on growing alfalfa, and 18 per cent more where the ration included dried greens. Less difference was shown where chopped green feed was fed.

This year's feeding was based on a higher animal protein pout starting mash and higher protein developing mash than was used previously. The results obtained so far are very promising, says the report, though additional work will be carried on to determine the proper level. This year 200 pounds of fish meal, 200 pounds of meat scraps and 100 pounds of powdered milk were included in a ton of dry mash. Complete formulas for the starting mash, developing mash and scratch feeds are given in the circular.

"There was no loss from or any indication of blackhead, intestinal worms nor parasites, and no money was expended for preventatives, panaceas, tonics or medicinal treatments," says the report.

Heppner Golfers Lose Tournery to Pilot Rock

Heppner golfers were defeated 23-18 in match tournament play at Pilot Rock Sunday, in a high wind that drove the down-pouring rain to hide the participants and served to hamper the game of all. Local participants return, however, with high praise of the hospitality accorded by the Pilot Rock club, and are looking forward to the opportunity of returning to the favored bent stowed, a week from Sunday when a team from Pilot Rock will engage in a return tournament here.

Composing the local team that went to Pilot Rock were Mark Merrill, captain, E. A. Bennett, D. A. Wilson, Ambrose Chapin, Clinton Rohrer, C. O. Ferguson, Neil Shurman, Earl Gilliam, Leonard Gilliam, Louis Gilliam, Gay M. Anderson, Gay Anderson, Jr., Francis Doherty, Harlan Devin and W. G. Kappel.

Between the acts the rhythm band composed of lower grade tots was presented in two numbers. The operetta was coached and directed by Miss Charlotte Woods, music supervisor of the schools. Mrs. W. R. Poulson was accompanist. James T. Lumley and Neil Shurman, high school instructors, were stage managers, and Miss Madge Coppock and Miss Dorothy Straughan, instructors, had charge of the advertising including the making of the large hand-colored posters.

'RINGS IN SAWDUST' PLEASES AUDIENCE

MANY IN CHORUSES

"Rings in the Sawdust," given as the annual spring operetta by the music pupils of Heppner high school, was well received by an audience that comfortably filled the gym-auditorium last night. Colorful, well acted and well sung, it was replete with humorous as well as heart-appelling situations, affording a diversity of entertainment.

The stage setting depicted the front of a circus tent, with large crayon drawings of the "fat woman," the "tallest man in the world," and other circus allurements making an attractive background for the circus day scenes carried out by members of the cast in appropriate costumes. The theme of the play was entwined around the management of the circus, some of the helpers, and certain patrons, with the love-making of Toby Dunn, the circus owner, and Sally Squeezem, daughter of Alonzo Squeezem, the town banker, as the central motif.

Cast in the roles of Toby and Sally were Ralph Forgy and Anabel Turner, with John Franzen taking the part of Squeezem the banker who found quite enticing the charms of Marybelle Jaybird, a widow, with Hazel Beymer in the role. Willie Jaybird, the widow's mischievous son, played by Francis Nickerson, was a thorn in the side of Eliza Simmer, Marybelle's old maid sister, in the person of Winifred Case. These two, with Inky Snow, colored helper, taken by Wrex Langdon; Dinky Moore, Irish helper, portrayed by Billy Cocheil, and the clown, played by Frances Rugg, provided an abundance of wholesome comedy.

In the end it was revealed that little Willie was the one who slid down the chimney into Banker Squeezem's study and removed the mortgage, which Toby was accused of stealing with Inky Snow as an accomplice, and thus was removed the stumbling block in the path of the love affair of Toby and Sally. The scream of the evening came in the climax when little Willie smeared ice cream all over his mother's face.

Gay Anderson took the part of the circus crier, a lead part in the chorus made up of high school students and grade pupils. Two special girls' choruses added much charm to the entertainment with songs and dances in costume, one a chorus of hotentots, and the other a chorus of Irish colleens. The hotentots were Lola Hiatt, Mary McDuffee, Jessie French, Myrtle Green, Lydia Ulrich and Adele Nickerson, and the colleens were Jennie Swindig, Phyllis Pollock, Anne Crump, Rachel Anglin, Lora Gilman, Juanita Morgan, Roberta Thompson.

The chorus of villagers included Mat Kenny, Marvin Morgan, Earl Bryant, Bill Schwarz, Gay Anderson, Claude Hill, Jack Slocum, Margaret Tamblay, Mary Moore, Joe Farley, Warren Blakely, Janette Blakely, Shirley Wilson, Virginia Swindig, Margaret Doolittle, Robert Marble, Dick O'Shea, Larry Moore, Donald Fell, Maud Bailey, Frances McCarty, Betty Happold, Paul McCarty, Lela Hiatt, Mary McDuffee, Jessie French, Myrtle Green, Ileen Kilkenny, Myrtle Doolittle, Lydia Ulrich, Adele Nickerson, Jennie Swindig, Phyllis Pollock, Anne Crump, Rachel Anglin, Lora Gilman and Juanita Morgan.

Between the acts the rhythm band composed of lower grade tots was presented in two numbers. The operetta was coached and directed by Miss Charlotte Woods, music supervisor of the schools. Mrs. W. R. Poulson was accompanist. James T. Lumley and Neil Shurman, high school instructors, were stage managers, and Miss Madge Coppock and Miss Dorothy Straughan, instructors, had charge of the advertising including the making of the large hand-colored posters.

Similar meetings were held by all of the 10,000 posts of the organization. Jack Barron, district commander of District 6, of Pendleton, was the speaker of the evening, and gave local members the latest information on Legion activities and program. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Two members of Heppner post were chosen as speakers to represent Alex Barry, department commander, at meetings of other posts in the district. Chas. W. Smith spoke at Hermiston and P. M. Gemmill was the speaker at the Ione meeting.

FREE CHILD CLINIC SET FOR APRIL 30

Heppner Physicians, Assisted by Red Cross Nurse, to Make Examinations From 8 to Noon.

Mothers are invited to bring their youngsters six years of age and under, to the free children's clinic to be conducted Saturday, April 30, under the auspices of the Morrow County Public Health association, Heppner unit, and the Heppner P. T. A. The clinic will be held in the American Legion room in the Hotel Heppner building, with Dr. A. B. Gray and Dr. A. D. McMurdo in charge of medical examinations, assisted by Miss Gladys Badger, public health nurse who is being sent here from Portland by the Red Cross. A dentist will also be on hand to examine the children's teeth.

While the hope of the committee in charge is that defects found will be corrected, there will of course be no obligation of any kind on the part of the mother. The clinic is being held primarily for Heppner children, but any mother living in the county who wishes to take advantage of this exceptional opportunity will be welcome to do so. The clinic hours are from 8:00 to 12:00 m. A particular effort is being made to reach all children who will enter school in the fall, even if they have been examined several times at previous clinics. Appointments may be made through Mrs. Paul Gemmill, Mrs. Paul Marble, Mrs. Eugene Ferguson or either of the doctors for the clinic examination.

Rural Teachers Have Interesting Meeting

Members of the Rural Teachers' club spent an enjoyable and worthwhile day, last Saturday, at the Davis school, where their third and last meeting of the year was held. The meeting was well attended by the rural teachers as well as many others, and everyone entered heartily into the discussions.

The group gathered at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon and the first part of the day was given over to a short business meeting. Audrey Beymer, teacher of the Davis school, with her pupils, put on a moving picture reel, "Seeing the World from the Graf Zeppelin," a health project which her school had worked out and had proved very interesting. A discussion, led by Mrs. Marie Clary, on the possibilities of declaratory work in the rural schools, followed. During this time, Bernard Doherty, who happened to be present, spoke "Monkey Business," which took first place in the recent county declaratory contest. At noon, a bountiful pot-luck luncheon was served by ladies of the community. The afternoon session began with a talk on "Presenting a Puppet Show," by Rosella Doherty, who afterwards exhibited her puppets and stage by presenting the play, "Jack and the Beanstalk." Mrs. Viola Engelman spoke on geography projects, giving suggestions for the study of various countries. Velma Huston and Audrey Beymer explained the value and interest in having community activities on "Play Day," both for children and older people. Several announcements were then made by Mrs. Lucy Rodgers.

The next meeting of the club is scheduled for some time in September and as it is to be considered an alternative for the usual county institute which has been discontinued, attendance of rural teachers will be compulsory.

There will be a banquet at 6:30. All local members are urged to attend.

INDIANS SCALPED BY LOCALS, 23-5

To Open Wheatland League Season At Ione Next Sunday; Heavy Hitting Features Victory.

The Wheatland Baseball league season opens next Sunday with Heppner playing at Ione. Those who saw the local lads defeat the Umatilla Indians 23-5 here last Sunday afternoon are confident the Ione lads will be given plenty to worry about in the opening league fray. Heppner's heavy artillery was brought into play against the Indians, whose noble efforts to resist the onslaught were futile.

Wilcox and Roy Gentry were both on the mound for the locals with Hank Robertson receiving throughout. A scattered seven hits which the Indians were able to make off these boys' offerings is evidence of their effectiveness. At the same time the home ads clouted out 19 hits off Chief Johny, one a home run by Mr. Wilcox. Homer Hayes clouted a three bagger, while he, Harold Gentry, Robertson and Gene Rohrer twice, were credited with two-baggers.

Heppner will play the first league game at home in two weeks when Condon comes here. Next Sunday Fossil plays at Arlington, Rufus Blalock plays at Arlington. Arlington's crew trounced Joe Eddle's Mission Indians last Sunday in a pre-season game, 5-2.

Here's the way Heppner and the Indians lined up at bat in Sunday's game:

HOSPITAL TRIP TOLD.

The American Legion auxiliary met Tuesday evening with 13 members present. Mrs. Sylvia Wells told of her visit to the veterans hospital during her recent stay in Portland. Mrs. Helen Christenson, child welfare chairman, read a letter of appreciation for the box of clothing sent to Portland, consisting of new print dresses and used articles. Mrs. Arthur McAtee read an interesting paper on "The Education of a War Orphan." It was voted that the local unit send $1 to a fund to be used by the American Legion auxiliary for the purpose of furnishing a school room for American children living in Paris. This room is in Pershing hall and there these children will be taught two afternoons a week the things which all children of American citizens should know. Mrs. Georgia Moore and Mrs. Virginia Turner were named a committee to assist the American Legion in preparing a program for Memorial day. Plans for the annual poppy sale were also discussed.

GOVERNOR MEIER NAMES HEALTH DAY

Emphasis Given Local Observance by Official Statement.

NEW MEANING TOLD

Dr. Stricker, Public Health Worker, Cites Added Importance of Old May Day Festivities.

The importance of the observance of Child Health Day in Heppner which is being sponsored on Saturday, April 30, by the Heppner unit of the Morrow County Public Health association and the Heppner Parent-Teachers association, is stressed by the proclamation of Governor Meier, issued this week, and the attendant remarks of Frederick D. Stricker, collaborating epidemiologist of the Oregon State Board of Health.

In observance of the day here, the sponsoring organizations have announced a free health clinic for children of pre-school age in the morning from 8 to 12, a community pot-luck lunch at the fair grounds at noon to be followed by a health pageant and exercises in the afternoon, with the school band furnishing music. A May queen will be chosen from among the girls of the senior class of the high school.

Proclamation Given.

Governor Meier says: "May first has been designated as Child Health Day by joint resolution of congress and by proclamation of the President of the United States. It is needless to remind all thoughtful citizens that the youth of our state constitutes our most precious resource and that boys and girls, sound in body, mind and spirit, are the one great hope for the future. During these times of economic pressure it becomes increasingly important that we shall make a most earnest effort to conserve and develop those activities which promote child health and welfare, mental, physical and spiritual."

"It is my sincere hope, therefore, that the people of Oregon will, on Child Health Day and during the week thereafter, turn their thoughts to the necessity of unremitting efforts for the proper care and nurture of our children, to the end that the interest created by this observance may be felt in constructive activity throughout the year."

In appreciation of the remarks of the governor and to give still further emphasis to the new meaning of May Day, Dr. Stricker has issued this statement:

Concerted Effort Need.

"Child Health Day—the new and more significant development of the old May Day festival—is at hand. The season of preparation is here for both the festivities incident to an age-old custom and the finer and more practical aspect of child health and protection which is the later development. The new significance of May Day came a few years ago when this anniversary was turned into a milestone of permanent accomplishment for the betterment of the physical well-being of both mothers and children."

"for there can be no separation of the two. The last four years have seen much accomplished in Oregon. Governor Meier has issued his proclamation setting aside Sunday, May 1, as Child Health Day. It demonstrates his full understanding of the problems involved and the necessity for a concentrated drive for their solution, not only for the day assigned, but also for the Conference of Child Health and Protection to be held in Salem May 2nd and 3rd, 1932."

"Many parents need to be encouraged to see that their children have a full health examination. Examinations of supposedly healthy children bring to the front defects that were not known or even suspected, most of which can be corrected. Among other things it brings to light the necessity for the immunization of children against diphtheria, smallpox and other diseases which are the chief enemies of childhood. The problem of child health and protection cannot be solved in one day's activity at high tension."

DUST STORM NOT LOCAL.

The dust storm which hit Heppner last Thursday evening was not purely local in nature, says Harold Cohn who was on his way home from Montana at the time. He said it covered a stretch of some 300 miles as he was that far from Heppner when he ran into it. Mr. Cohn went to Montana to make preparations to again put his sheep on summer range in the vicinity of Glacier National park. He will start them there sometime between the middle of May and first of June.

All attorneys of Heppner motor-ed to Pendleton yesterday afternoon to attend the meeting of the district bar association. Included were S. E. Notson, district attorney and president of the association, and attorneys Joseph J. Nys, P. W. Mahoney and J. O. Turner. The meeting was held in Pendleton last evening, attorneys of this city not yet affiliated with the association, becoming members.
