ENCOURAGEMENT FOR THE FARMER.

Autocaster Service.

THE most encouraging sign of the times we have seen, so far as the farmer is concerned, is the estimate of the U. S. Department of Agriculture that the Winter wheat crop will be about 42 percent less than last year and 17 percent less than the average of the five-year period of 1924-28.

This year there will be only 458 million bushels of Winter wheat to supply the market's needs. That will inevitably result in a better price, probably a profitable price, for those who have it to sell.

The importance of anything which will tend to give any considerable part of the nation's farmer a better price and a larger profit extends to everybody. Not every farmer is a wheat grower, by any means. But wheat is one of the five great agricultural staples—the others are corn, cotton, tobacco and potatoes—upon which the prosperity, not only of the farmer but of the whole nation, depend.

If the Winter wheat growers get a fair price for their crop, as present indications suggest they are likely to, that may be the one thing needed to start the public to spending money again instead of being afraid to let go of a penny.

WHY NOT OUTLAW THE GANGSTERS?

Autocaster Service. The suggestion is made by the dean of Duke University Law School that legislators might well consider a revival of the old English statutes of outlaws, as a means of checking the activities of

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for April 24.

ABRAHAM'S GENEROSITY TO LOT. Genesis 13:5-15.

In ordinary times the old saying is true: "Money makes money." Certainly at all times it is a fact that sheep make sheep. It was so in the case of Abram and Lot his nephew. They had goodly herds when they left Haran in Mesopotamia and the animals kept on multiplying until both men were cattle owners of real consequence.

Uncle Abram, like many uncles we know, was a truly big man. He loved his nephew and felt a keen responsibility for his care, and Lot often needed just that help. It was noble of the older man to say "Let there be no strife." Harsh words must be faced after they are spoken and years are often required to overcome the scar that is made in a moment of lack of self control.

It may have been because Abram was disheartened at this evident selfishness on the part of Lot, that then Jehovah gave a wonderful compensation in a renewal of the vision and promise which pledged a transcendent future.

Under those old laws, any person known to be a habitual violator of the laws, whether convicted under the rules of evidence or not, could be declared an outlaw—that is, without the protection of the law. It became the duty of every citizen, then, to kill such an outlaw on sight. His property was forfeited and his family prohibited from carrying on his name.

That was an effective means of dealing out summary justice. It has been used in the United States more than once in the past century and a half. The suggestion will make the tender-hearted shudder, but so did the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

MARY A. NOTSON, Reporter. The Harrisburg, Pa., Patriot has this to say about the proposal of the wets to end hard times by legalizing beer:

"An illustration of the panicky state of mind which has afflicted some Americans is the advocacy by some bankers of 3 per cent beer as a cure for world economic distress. Nothing but muddled thinking would permit men in conspicuous positions to harbor such an absurd idea."

"In the first place the suggestion that President Hoover could provide intoxicating beer by official proclamation is so much prattle. The Constitution gives him no such power and even if he had a mind to do it, he would be conscious of its impossibility under the Constitution."

"But if that is not enough to brand the beer idea childish, then conditions in England and Germany do it. In such countries economic distress is incomparably worse than in the United States, yet in both these foreign nations beer is plentiful and flowing, yet all its plentifulness and all its flowing have done nothing to end or ameliorate the industrial depression there."

"The people of this country have sense enough to know that such foolish proposals will not get them out of the industrial ditch. They know if they think a minute that the world is going through the aftermath of the greatest and the most disastrous war in history, a war in which millions of men and billions of dollars' worth of property were destroyed utterly."

"For such cataclysms there is a price to be paid and the world is paying, must pay it before it can swing into the sunshine of better times. At heart this country is sound and promising. It faces an issue and cannot dodge it. It is tightening its belt in good spirit and is looking ahead. To have a lot of wet propagandists cloud the sun with the ridiculous vapor that hard times can be ended by beer is only making industrial recovery more difficult. It is truth and courage, not heresy and hysteria, that the country needs today."

The proponents of the initiative measure to repeal all the prohibition enforcement laws of the State are manifestly dishonest in their proposition. If they really believed that prohibition should be done away with, they should have asked for the repeal of the two amendments to the constitution which prohibit the manufacture, sale and importation of intoxicating liquors. They have simply proposed to cripple law enforcement and make it more difficult for every officer of the State to live up to his oath "to support the Constitution of the State." Every honest wet who rates himself a good citizen should vote against this subterfuge, this dishonest trick, which will appear on the ballot in November. As long as prohibition is in the Constitution, it is incumbent upon officers to try to enforce it, but without the statutory machinery provided by the laws which this initiative measure proposes to repeal the task would be exceedingly difficult.

Bullish Price for Wheat Effect of Weather Report

Weather markets definitely ruled wheat prices this week, creating a nervous, uncertain situation, with prices working gradually toward higher levels, says Portland Grain exchange for week ending April 16.

There is no doubt that there has been considerable damage to the crop resulting from severe winter killing which rain will not repair and the condition of winter wheat in Kansas, Texas and Nebraska is slowly bringing a realization that a sensational bullish situation has developed. The financial situation has induced a pessimism that has overshadowed the prospects of higher wheat prices.

The visible supply in North America is more than last year, but the increase is accounted for mainly by larger stocks of farm board wheat held in Canadian elevators. In spite of larger farm stocks and slow foreign demand, the prospects of foreign requirements and low yields at home are decidedly favorable to better prices.

Doesn't It Make You Dizzy? By Albert T. Reid

The FAMILY DOCTOR by JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

TO SMOKERS

Men WILL smoke. As proof, see the sky-scrapers built by profits on "short smokes." It is my purpose to talk sanely on the subject of the universal habit; it is the mighty small minority these days who don't consume in one way or another.

The safest, best smoke, say what they may—is with the properly-groomed tobacco-pipe. Bear in mind, I'm not a propagandist—I'm a family doctor today, employed by myself. To serve my people.

It's like eating—smoking is; the slower you eat—or smoke—the less the danger of overdoing. It is the fast eater—the rapid smoker that goes "hay-wire" from excess. One naturally smokes the pipe with more deliberation than he would a cigarette or cigar. The fellow who smokes three when a wise man would consume one, will go to pieces just three times as quickly as the deliberate smoker; I know, for I've seen them do it.

The inhalation of imperfect-combustion gases works havoc with the smoker's nervous system; not nicotine in one case out of a hundred. The fast smoker pulls carbon monoxide, a deadly gas, into his respiratory tract—the homeopathic dose gets results in time most surely, and nerves go to pieces from its effects.

Hence the advantage of the long-stemmed pipe, smoked with proper deliberation. Even a good cigar should last almost an hour—and its wet end shouldn't be clung to as we would have it—your nicotine if any is in that wet end. Throw it away.

Smoking should be an act of leisure. Always. Under its influence the mental processes flow more smoothly, and brain-fog fades away more quickly. I must say that it is better to smoke not at all, than to abuse the treat—the privilege, by debauching it. The evil or good of smoking depends on how it's done.

IN OREGON HOMES

Herniston—As short-cuts in her kitchen work, one Herniston home maker reports that she uses large malted milk jars as containers for coarse flour, for sugar, breakfast foods, corn meal and graham flour, and keeps on hand a roll of gummed paper for labeling canned fruit, vegetables, jams and jellies as they are put up.

Grants Pass—Women enrolled in the vegetable cookery project in Josephine county report to Mrs. Sara Wertz, home demonstration agent, that as a direct result of the meetings held, 35 persons are eating more vegetables, 23 are eating vegetables they never ate before, and 26 families use all the suggested ways of preparing vegetables.

Knapka—Two pockets hung behind the pantry door to hold wrapping paper and paper sacks, and a smaller pocket for wine are time and energy savers reported to the home management specialist of the Oregon Extension service by a homemaker in Knapka.

Redmond—How the family appetite for cabbage was changed by proper cooking is the story told by one Deschutes county homemaker to Miss Ella Miller, home demonstration agent. The man in the family could not eat cabbage because it gave him indigestion. The homemaker prepared it by the 8-minute method, putting in plenty of boiling salted water and letting it cook in an uncovered kettle for eight minutes after it started to boil. The entire family can now eat cabbage with no ill effects. The vegetable cookery project in which this instruction is included is being carried on with the cooperation of Miss Lucy Case, nutrition specialist, of the Oregon Extension service.

Wife—Robert. Hypnotist—Yes, dear. Wife—I wish you would come here and tell baby he's asleep.
