

Local Happenings

A ride through a portion of the Eight Mile farming section Sunday afternoon revealed to the editor of this paper that grain is now responding to the better growing conditions. The greater number of fields coming under our observation are showing up well, though the grain seems a little thin. It was also noted that the grain is stooling well, and as the season advances it may prove to be thick enough. The backward season has made spring plowing late, but a lot of stubble is being turned under.

Cliff Merrill was able to get across the mountain from Monument on Wednesday with his truck and reports the road across Sunflower flat as fairly passable for passenger cars, but it is a good plan to have chains along. He came over without chains, and slipped from the road on the mountain, sliding up against a tree. The mishap caused some delay in getting to Heppner, not to mention the extra work of getting the truck back on the road.

The auxiliary of the Episcopal church will hold an antique and quilt exhibit in the Parish house on April 30, in the afternoon and evening. There will be a prize given for the oldest antique and quilt. An admission of 10 cents will be charged, and tea and wafers will be served to those who wish at an additional charge of 10 cents. Any-one having pieces to exhibit, kindly call Main 1092.

The selection of teachers for the coming school year was completed Monday by the board of directors of school district No. 1, when they elected Miss Audrey Beymer of Heppner to the place of instructor in the third grade. Miss Beymer is a graduate of Heppner high school and has taught several terms in the country schools of Morrow county since her graduation from normal school.

Colonel Alfred E. Clark, who is seeking the Republican nomination for United States senator is the man who was chosen by the members of the legal profession to draft the present City Charter of the City of Portland.—(Paid adv.—Clark for U. S. Senator committee, 829 Yeon Bldg., Portland, Ore.)

D. K. Mitchell and sister, Miss Hattie Mitchell of Springfield were guests at the Frank S. Parker home Monday evening, coming to the city to participate in the W. C. B. M. conference Tuesday. Miss Mitchell was in Africa for seven years as a missionary, serving in the Belgian Congo region.

Miss Catherine Peterson, social service worker with All Saints' Episcopal church, departed on Saturday for Sacramento, California, to be present at a general meeting of the church being held there this week. She will return to her work here immediately following the Sacramento meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schwarz motored to Moro Saturday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reavis, and to spend a day or so of fishing in tributaries of the Deschutes river in company with Mr. and Mrs. Reavis. They returned home Tuesday morning.

J. O. Bailey of Portland, candidate for the supreme court bench, was in the city Thursday evening and Friday morning of last week, making acquaintances in behalf of his candidacy. Mr. Bailey is a several times state senator from Multnomah county and widely known as a barrister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anglin were visitors at Moro Sunday and joined Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reavis and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schwarz on a trip to the fishing streams tributary to the Deschutes river in that vicinity. They returned home Sunday evening.

Frank Mason was in the city Tuesday afternoon from the farm home near Ione. Some reseeded wheat was necessary in his vicinity, he said, due to early deep seeding last fall. On the whole the wheat is making very good progress, however.

J. P. Shively is a visitor this week at the home of his brother, Frank Shively in this city, having arrived here on Saturday. Mr. Shively is from Phoenix, Arizona, and for the past two years has resided in California, Nevada and Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Fryrear were in Heppner on Tuesday from the Rhea creek ranch. While it rained in town early Tuesday morning, the precipitation on the foothills and at the head of Rhea creek was in the form of snow.

Jack Barron, district commander of the American Legion, and Wm. Griswold, both of Pendleton, were in Heppner Monday evening to attend a meeting of Heppner post No. 87. These gentlemen were accompanied by their wives.

Tilman Hogue reports his grain looking good and conditions have improved a lot recently in the Gooseberry section where spring plowing is now progressing. Mr. Hogue was looking after business here on Wednesday.

The families of Ray and Cecil Wise moved this week into apartments in the Gilman building over the bakery. The move was made from the Case apartments where they have resided for some time.

Lost—Lady's purse, containing check and warrant No. 1040 of School Dist. 40, for $25; also driver's license; on road between Hardman and Heppner. Mrs. Ethel Knighten, Hardman, Ore.

Noah Clark, in from Eight Mile Tuesday, thinks everything is looking pretty good out his way. Grain is coming well, but needs more warm weather to make it grow as it should.

Arnold Pieper, candidate on the republican ticket for nomination to the office of county commissioner, was a visitor in the city Tuesday from his Pieper canyon farm.

Joe Swindig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Swindig, arrived home Monday evening from Portland where he has been taking work at business college.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gemmill on Friday, April 14, at the home of Mrs. Maggie Hunt in Heppner.

Mrs. Ida Dutton is here from her home in Portland, a guest for the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wightman.

James Luper is here this week from his home in the Valley, taking stock of his farming operations in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner moved into their recently acquired residence property on Church street yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cash motored to Walla Walla Monday afternoon, returning home early Wednesday morning.

Tom O'Brien and family were up to Heppner from their Butter creek ranch Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rice of Artesian Well ranch were Saturday shoppers in Heppner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grimes were visitors in this city Tuesday from their home at Ione.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Boardman Sheep Club.
Stanly Partlow's club sheep brought him a 16 pound ewe lamb Tuesday the 12th, his sheep being the last one to lamb. We had another club meeting April 17 at Macchan's. All of the members were present. Sheep shearing was the main topic, with plans for future meetings also talked.

Nifty Stitches.
On February 24 a sewing I and II club, known as the Nifty Stitches, was organized with Margaret Smith as leader and ten members at that time, but at the next meeting on March 18, more members joined making a total of 16. The officers are Winona Ritchie, president; Alvina Casebeer, vice president; Marie Barlow, secretary; Ethyl Hughes, reporter. Other members besides the officers are: Gladys Casebeer, Patricia Cason, Dorothy Brookhouser, Irene Beamer, Helen Egan, Carol Coblantz, Ethel Bailey, Zelma Eskelson, Alice Latourell, Maude Bailey, Francis Cox and Maxine Florence.

A meeting was called on April 1, with all the members present except one. Instructions were given and subjects on sewing discussed. Another meeting was called April 19 with 11 members present and five absent. The vice-president called the meeting to order as the president was absent. Dorothy Brookhouser acted as secretary in Marie Barlow's place as Alice Latourell and Marie were ill at their homes. Plans are being made for a wienie roast as soon as the weather moderates some.

Clubs Enjoy Afternoon.
Doris Allstott called the Cookery club to order Monday afternoon, April 18. All the members were present. The club was opened by the members singing "The Club Trail" and "It Isn't Any Trouble." The roll call was read by the secretary, Joe Stephens, Anice Liewallen and Howard Griffin were both asked to tell why they like to be a club member. Three demonstrations were given. Maxine Howard and Joan Wright gave a demonstration of how to make vanilla drop cookies. Edna Stephens and Howard Griffin demonstrated how to make a custard. Don Allstott and Clayton Wright showed how to make goldenrod eggs. Monday morning, Joan Wright helped Doris Allstott hectograph 12 copies of some club yells and songs for the children. Miss Huston explained to the children about judging. For the program the program committee, Anice Liewallen, chairman, Clayton Wright, Almon Liewallen, had a poem, "Old Ironsides," by Maxine Howard, "Captain, My Captain," by Don Allstott, "Break, Break" by Clayton Wright and a reading, "What Is Success" by Doris Allstott. Then the children all sang the songs which some of them had suggested. All the children joined in on the yell led by Don Allstott. One of the yells the children are practicing is:

Gazalaga, gazalaga, gazalaga, gazalaga, get out, get out, get out of the way, revo, rivo, ziz, boom, ah! Golden West Cookery club, rah! rah! rah!

There is a prize for the one in our club who writes the best original yell. Doris Allstott is the only one who has handed one in. It reads as follows: "Mrs. Rodgers, Mrs. Rodgers, County Agent Smith, come and visit us and we will teach you this: how to make a pie, how to make a patch, and how to make a color scheme match." 4-H Club Work, rah! rah! rah!

The rest of the afternoon was spent in playing games.

Hardman Club Notes.
The Come Into the Kitchen club met Tuesday evening, April 19, at the home of Muri Farrens, the president. The lesson this week was cooking breakfast meats. Loye Johnson fried some ham which she had rolled in flour. Lois Stevens fried a piece of bacon. Lois and Charlotte Adams, Lily Johnson and Dolly Farrens were absent. The rest of the girls answered to the roll call by naming a breakfast meat and telling where we obtain it. Mrs. Ethel Knighten, the leader of the cookery club, gave a very interesting talk on the kinds of meats. Muri Farrens and Deslie Bleakman made their sandwiches while the girls and the leader criticized. They all passed their careful examination except for the cutting of the bread, which was too fresh to be used for sandwiches. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Farrer witnessed the demonstrations. The next lesson is making cookies. All of the girls are to make their cookies Monday evening and bring two cookies to the club meeting Tuesday evening at the school house. They are also supposed to bring a menu for a school lunch or breakfast to the club meeting, which they intend to criticize and decide which one would have the best school lunch and breakfast.

When Mr. Smith brought out the rabbits there was not enough to go around. Claud Hastings did not receive his until Thursday of last week. Neal Knighten, the leader of the four legged chicken club, visited the members to inspect their hutches. The Hardman Foresters haven't had any meetings this week. They intend to hoe around their trees to keep in the moisture Thursday afternoon. We have had a couple of nice rains since the planting of the trees which will greatly benefit them.—Club Reporter.

Eight Mile Poultry Club.
The Eight Mile Poultry club held their second meeting April 10, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Floyd Worden. Those present were Gordon Akers, Joe Stevens, Wilbur Worden, Myrtle Green, Jean Adkins and Kathleen Furlong. Nola Keithley, vice-president, yell leader and reporter, was unable to attend, due to illness. Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stevens and children, Edna and Lurey, Doris and Dorothy Worden, Hazel Adkins. President Jean Adkins called the meeting to order and they opened by singing "Oh, Me! Oh, My!" Myrtle Green, secretary, then gave roll call, each member responding by giving a report on their baby chicks. The club has six different breeds, Rhode Island Reds, Barred Rocks, White Rocks, Black Jersey Giants, Light Brahams and Orpingtons. Diseases of poultry were discussed and Joe Stevens gave an interesting and instructive talk on the construction of a home-made brooder which he has used with great success and expects to demonstrate at the next meeting. It was decided that the next meeting, Sunday, April 24, would be held out doors if the weather permitted and a picnic lunch will be enjoyed. They closed the meeting by singing "Our Club Will Shine Tonight," and Gordon Akers and Myrtle Green led some club yells, one of which was: "Nigger, nigger, hoe potter, half past alligator, sis, boom, bominator, chickawaga, ha, Eight Mile Poultry club, rah! rah! rah!"

Outdoor games were played and light refreshments served before the members adjourned.—Reporter, Nola Keithley.

Happy Hearts Meet.
The Happy Hearts handicraft club of Heppner met Saturday, April 16. Those present were Patsy Smith, Margaret Doolittle, Frances Egan, Shirley Wilson, Virginia Swindig, Kathryn Thompson and Betty Marie Adkins. They cut out stencils for breakfast and lunch cloths. The next meeting will be April 23.

Clubs Meet.
The Handi Seven handicraft club and the Jolly Six sewing club met at the home of Mrs. Cora Young, leader of the Jolly Six club, April 15. The special meeting called for April 9 was postponed because of illness of part of the members. The meeting was called to order by Nola Keithley, president of the Jolly Six, with the following members and leaders: Gladys Lovgren, Deslie May Harshman, Mabel Adkins, Boyd Rodding, Earl Harshman, Gordon Akers, Wilbur Worden, Frank Lovgren, Mrs. Cora Young, leader of the Jolly Six, and Mrs. Alice Anderson, leader of the Handi Seven. Kathleen Furlong and Jean Adkins were absent. They surely missed a very jolly time. The meeting was opened by singing "Oh Me, Oh My!" It was finally decided to have the achievement day program May 22 at the Akers grove. The Jolly Six had a judging contest, also tried to see who could sew the straightest seam. After the adjournment of the meeting we played in the Akers grove, trying the merry-go-round, but it proved too much for some of us as we can still feel the effects of the ride. Mrs. Young served refreshments of jello with whipped cream, angel cake and lemonade. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, Donna Lea Young and Glenn Young were visitors at our club meeting. Our next meeting will be April 22.

THEY MUST BE GOOD

When you consider that
MONARCH CANNED FOODS
have been favorites of the American public for more than 60 years you can come to but one conclusion—"THEY MUST BE GOOD"
QUALITY FOODS ALWAYS AT Huston's Grocery

"A shine, please"
and you know
it's worth the price

"Shine 'em up." How little you think of spending a few cents for the service. But compare the cost of shining your shoes with the electricity required to operate a clothes washing machine for a week's wash. The electrical cost is even less. Consider the cheapness of other electrical service.
