

Local Happenings

With the closing of the school year, the majority of the teachers in the local schools whose homes are outside the city departed shortly for their respective homes. Of the high school staff W. R. Poulson, superintendent, went to Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Menegat to Portland, Miss Jessie Palmer to Portland, Neil Shurman to Minnesota, Miss Madge Coppock to Corvallis, Miss Charlotte Woods to Sheridan and Miss Dorothy Straughan to Pendleton, while Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lumley will remain at Heppner for the summer. Of the grade school teachers, Harold Buhman went to Canby, Miss Blanche Hanson to Enterprise, Miss Miriam McDonald to Spokane, Miss Helen Olsen to North Powder and Mrs. Adelyn O'Shea to Ellensburg, Wn.

Harold Buhman, grade school principal, left yesterday for his home at Canby. Should the American Legion decide to operate its swimming pool again this summer, Mr. Buhman has been tentatively engaged to supervise it and in that event will return to Heppner about the first of July. Otherwise he will not return until fall when he will again take up his duties as principal and band instructor.

W. P. Mahoney, E. E. Rugg, Geo. N. Peck and Laxton McMurray were Morrow county representatives who attended the meeting of the State Tax Conservation League in Salem during the past week and "listened in" on the discussion of tax problems as they were presented by various state officials, as well as other speakers from the state at large.

The ladies of the Christian church will hold a cooked food sale on Saturday forenoon at the store of Humphreys Drug company, and your patronage of same will be much appreciated.

Charles Bartholomew, pioneer resident of Pine City, was transacting business in the city Tuesday.

J. C. Ball, one of the few remaining Civil war veterans of Morrow county, returned to his home in Heppner last week after spending the winter in Portland. He said he was pretty well fed up on the Willamette valley rain and welcomed an opportunity to get out and walk in the warm Eastern Oregon sunshine. He will spend the summer at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford spent Friday and Saturday at Walsburg, Wash., where they went to attend the funeral of an old friend of the family, Mrs. Mary Hubbard. They also visited with relatives and friends there before returning home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Latourel and daughter Alice and Dr. and Mrs. A. D. McMurdo departed this forenoon for Corvallis. The gentlemen are going to the college city to take part in the Oregonian telegraphic shoot Sunday, representing Heppner-Pilot Rock in the finals.

Commissioner Geo. N. Peck was a visitor in town Tuesday from his farm west of Lexington. Mr. Peck reports crop conditions out his way as being quite satisfactory, and should a good rain visit the county right soon an abundant yield will be assured.

John Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Farley of this city who runs in Salem during the past week and "listened in" on the discussion of tax problems as they were presented by various state officials, as well as other speakers from the state at large.

Mrs. Frank S. Parker left Wednesday for Joseph where she goes for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Mitchell and to make the acquaintance of her recently arrived granddaughter.

Mrs. Bonnie Cochran returned from a short visit at Portland on Wednesday evening.

Miss Leta Humphreys arrived home Saturday from Long Beach, Calif., and is now located with Humphreys Drug company as pharmacist. Miss Humphreys was accompanied to Heppner by Miss Lena Newton of Long Beach, who will visit here for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. French Burroughs were visitors in Heppner on Tuesday afternoon from the farm near Jordan Sliding. Vegetation is growing fast out that way now and the general crop outlook is excellent.

Miss Virginia Dix, who spent the fall and winter studying nursing at the Mayo Brothers hospital in Rochester, Minn., has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Dix, in Heppner.

Joel R. Benton and family moved this week from the Jeff Jones property, where they have resided for the past several months, to the property of Mrs. Lester Doolittle on South Court street.

Neil Shurman, whose tenure with the local schools as athletic instructor expired with the closing of the school year, left the end of the week for his home in Minnesota.

DR. J. P. STEWART, EYE-SIGHT SPECIALIST of Pendleton, will be at the Hotel Heppner on Wednesday, May 25th. Hours from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Threshing outfit for sale—Fordson, separator, header and boxes, Alex Green, Heppner. 10-11

IN OREGON HOMES

Clatskanie—An adequate and appetizing luncheon costing only six and one-half cents per person was prepared recently by a group of Clatskanie homemakers. The meal consisted of rice casserole, a green salad, prune bread pudding and bread and butter. These women are cooperating in the home economics extension service which is supervised by Mrs. Sarah V. Case, home demonstration agent in Columbia county.

Enterprise—How she introduced modern, energy saving ideas into her kitchen is reported by a homemaker of Enterprise, as follows: "My kitchen is not modern so it is hard for me to make changes. However, I moved my work table nearer to the stove and put a shelf over it. Now I have within easy reach a pair of scissors which are new to my kitchen equipment, newspaper squares, cooking spoons, spices and a ruler."

Another Baker county homemaker finds a garbage can with a foot lift a desirable investment.

The Gazette Times' Printing Service is complete. Try it.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Poultry Club Meets.

The Eight Mile Poultry club met for their fourth meeting May 11 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Worden, their leader. Those present were Jean Adkins, Gordon Akers, Myrtle Green, Wilbur Worden, Kathleen Furlong and Nola Keithley. Joe Stephens was absent. Hazel Adkins, Doris and Dorothy Worden were visitors. Meeting was called to order by President Jean Adkins. For old business the questions at our last meeting were answered. "Scaly Leg" was discussed and effective cures named. Under new business the secretary distributed pamphlets, "Farm Poultry" and the members filled out their first cards. Meeting adjourned and the members enjoyed a lively game of baseball. Gordon Akers, Nola Keithley and Wilbur Worden made home runs. After the game they hiked to the willow grove below the house. One of the many things of interest in the grove was a hawk's nest. Everyone enjoyed the meeting in spite of the hot weather. The next meeting will be June 1st at the home of Mrs. Floyd Worden.—Nola Keithley, club reporter.

Thrifty Stitches Meet.

The Thrifty Stitches met at the home of Mrs. George McDuffee at 2:30 Saturday, May 14. The meeting was called to order by the president, Lucille Beymer. Mary Thomson substituted for Vallis Jones as secretary. Mrs. McDuffee has kindly consented to be the leader of the Thrifty Stitches as Mrs. C. C. Patterson is unable to continue with the work. Those present at the meeting were Lucille Beymer, Mary McDuffee and Mary Thomson. The new leader discussed the club work in general and several new phases were explained to the group. Lucille Beymer worked on her renovated dress, Mary McDuffee continued to work on her print school dress and Mary Thomson did some embroidery work. The meeting was adjourned at 5:30. The next meeting will be held May 20th, it being the regular two-weeks meeting. Hereafter the meetings will be held at the home of Mrs. George McDuffee.—Vallis Jones, news reporter.

Eighth Meeting of Wee Six Cooks.

At the beginning of the meeting, held at the Alpine school near Lexington, a new song was sung called "Club Work," written to the tune of "Jingle Bells." The words are as follows, "Club work girls, club work boys, club work every day, and, oh, what fun to play. Head and heart, hand and health, this is what we say, stands for club work everywhere, in our good old U. S. A." Also copies of the "chief yell" were provided by Rhuey Ann Senter. The words are, "Hobble, gobble Razzle, dazdle! Zip, boom, bah! Wee Six Cooks club, rah! rah! rah!" The pledge was given. Of the six members, Rhuey Ann Senter and Reitha Howard have completed their groups in the cooking project and are now working on extra dishes. There are ten groups in all with Peggy Kilkenny having completed seven, Doris Klinger and Dorothy Doherty, eight, and Gene Senter nine.

The minutes were approved as read. Then the president announced for every one to go into the cooking room where a demonstration was given by Peggy Kilkenny and Dorothy Doherty. They showed how to prepare delicious sandwiches which was group eight. They served hot cocoa, sandwiches and a very good cake which was generously given by Reitha Howard, one of the club members. Dorothy Doherty made a delicious salad dressing to go on the lettuce and peanut butter combination sandwiches. The girls had not yet eaten their dinner and the cocoa with sandwiches and cake just "hit the spot." The visitors were Mrs. Clary, the high school teacher, two seniors from the high school, Margaret Howard and Alex Lindsay, and a sophomore, Camilla Kilkenny. Alex Lindsay in his talk with the class called them "Wee Six Cooks." Evidently the sample of food caused him to make this mistake. Peggy Kilkenny said, "I have finished my group one, which is French toast. The first time I made it I put something in it that I should not have. The second time I burnt it, but the third time it was all right." In the demonstration Friday Reitha brought a midget cake to school to be tested by the club leader. While the leader and the girls were sampling it, they all pronounced it very good. But Rhuey Ann said, "Don't let them fool you, Reitha."

The minutes were approved as read. Then the president announced for every one to go into the cooking room where a demonstration was given by Peggy Kilkenny and Dorothy Doherty. They showed how to prepare delicious sandwiches which was group eight. They served hot cocoa, sandwiches and a very good cake which was generously given by Reitha Howard, one of the club members. Dorothy Doherty made a delicious salad dressing to go on the lettuce and peanut butter combination sandwiches. The girls had not yet eaten their dinner and the cocoa with sandwiches and cake just "hit the spot." The visitors were Mrs. Clary, the high school teacher, two seniors from the high school, Margaret Howard and Alex Lindsay, and a sophomore, Camilla Kilkenny. Alex Lindsay in his talk with the class called them "Wee Six Cooks." Evidently the sample of food caused him to make this mistake. Peggy Kilkenny said, "I have finished my group one, which is French toast. The first time I made it I put something in it that I should not have. The second time I burnt it, but the third time it was all right." In the demonstration Friday Reitha brought a midget cake to school to be tested by the club leader. While the leader and the girls were sampling it, they all pronounced it very good. But Rhuey Ann said, "Don't let them fool you, Reitha."

The minutes were approved as read. Then the president announced for every one to go into the cooking room where a demonstration was given by Peggy Kilkenny and Dorothy Doherty. They showed how to prepare delicious sandwiches which was group eight. They served hot cocoa, sandwiches and a very good cake which was generously given by Reitha Howard, one of the club members. Dorothy Doherty made a delicious salad dressing to go on the lettuce and peanut butter combination sandwiches. The girls had not yet eaten their dinner and the cocoa with sandwiches and cake just "hit the spot." The visitors were Mrs. Clary, the high school teacher, two seniors from the high school, Margaret Howard and Alex Lindsay, and a sophomore, Camilla Kilkenny. Alex Lindsay in his talk with the class called them "Wee Six Cooks." Evidently the sample of food caused him to make this mistake. Peggy Kilkenny said, "I have finished my group one, which is French toast. The first time I made it I put something in it that I should not have. The second time I burnt it, but the third time it was all right." In the demonstration Friday Reitha brought a midget cake to school to be tested by the club leader. While the leader and the girls were sampling it, they all pronounced it very good. But Rhuey Ann said, "Don't let them fool you, Reitha."

The minutes were approved as read. Then the president announced for every one to go into the cooking room where a demonstration was given by Peggy Kilkenny and Dorothy Doherty. They showed how to prepare delicious sandwiches which was group eight. They served hot cocoa, sandwiches and a very good cake which was generously given by Reitha Howard, one of the club members. Dorothy Doherty made a delicious salad dressing to go on the lettuce and peanut butter combination sandwiches. The girls had not yet eaten their dinner and the cocoa with sandwiches and cake just "hit the spot." The visitors were Mrs. Clary, the high school teacher, two seniors from the high school, Margaret Howard and Alex Lindsay, and a sophomore, Camilla Kilkenny. Alex Lindsay in his talk with the class called them "Wee Six Cooks." Evidently the sample of food caused him to make this mistake. Peggy Kilkenny said, "I have finished my group one, which is French toast. The first time I made it I put something in it that I should not have. The second time I burnt it, but the third time it was all right." In the demonstration Friday Reitha brought a midget cake to school to be tested by the club leader. While the leader and the girls were sampling it, they all pronounced it very good. But Rhuey Ann said, "Don't let them fool you, Reitha."

The minutes were approved as read. Then the president announced for every one to go into the cooking room where a demonstration was given by Peggy Kilkenny and Dorothy Doherty. They showed how to prepare delicious sandwiches which was group eight. They served hot cocoa, sandwiches and a very good cake which was generously given by Reitha Howard, one of the club members. Dorothy Doherty made a delicious salad dressing to go on the lettuce and peanut butter combination sandwiches. The girls had not yet eaten their dinner and the cocoa with sandwiches and cake just "hit the spot." The visitors were Mrs. Clary, the high school teacher, two seniors from the high school, Margaret Howard and Alex Lindsay, and a sophomore, Camilla Kilkenny. Alex Lindsay in his talk with the class called them "Wee Six Cooks." Evidently the sample of food caused him to make this mistake. Peggy Kilkenny said, "I have finished my group one, which is French toast. The first time I made it I put something in it that I should not have. The second time I burnt it, but the third time it was all right." In the demonstration Friday Reitha brought a midget cake to school to be tested by the club leader. While the leader and the girls were sampling it, they all pronounced it very good. But Rhuey Ann said, "Don't let them fool you, Reitha."

The minutes were approved as read. Then the president announced for every one to go into the cooking room where a demonstration was given by Peggy Kilkenny and Dorothy Doherty. They showed how to prepare delicious sandwiches which was group eight. They served hot cocoa, sandwiches and a very good cake which was generously given by Reitha Howard, one of the club members. Dorothy Doherty made a delicious salad dressing to go on the lettuce and peanut butter combination sandwiches. The girls had not yet eaten their dinner and the cocoa with sandwiches and cake just "hit the spot." The visitors were Mrs. Clary, the high school teacher, two seniors from the high school, Margaret Howard and Alex Lindsay, and a sophomore, Camilla Kilkenny. Alex Lindsay in his talk with the class called them "Wee Six Cooks." Evidently the sample of food caused him to make this mistake. Peggy Kilkenny said, "I have finished my group one, which is French toast. The first time I made it I put something in it that I should not have. The second time I burnt it, but the third time it was all right." In the demonstration Friday Reitha brought a midget cake to school to be tested by the club leader. While the leader and the girls were sampling it, they all pronounced it very good. But Rhuey Ann said, "Don't let them fool you, Reitha."

Happy Hearts Hold Meeting.

The Happy Hearts 4-H club met May 18th at the home of Florence Green, those present being Betty Snider, Patsy Smith, Margaret Doolittle and Betty Marie Adkins. There were two visitors, Alberta Adkins and Elizabeth Healy. The work for the next week or two will for your needs in garden seeds, grass and flower seeds.

Don't overlook GILLIAM & BISBEE

Plow Repairs, etc.

Sherwin Williams' sheep marking paint.

Lamy Black and Oil.

Everything for "Clean Up Week" in Paints, Varinshes, etc.

Don't forget that prices have declined.

GILLIAM & BISBEE

We have it, will get it or it is not made.

be crocheting. The first lesson was taken today. The next meeting will be May 25th.—Betty Marie Adkins, reporter.

Hardman Foresters Meet.

The Hardman Foresters held their last meeting this spring Friday afternoon. Nellie Bleakman, the president, called the meeting to order. The secretary, Lois Ashbaugh, read the minutes of the last meeting. The members answered to roll call by naming a kind of tree. Two songs were sung: "The More We Get Together" and "The Trouble Chaser Song." The following games were played: "Uncle Josiah's Death," "Touch what I say and say what I touch," and "My Grandmother Doesn't Like Tea." After the games the foresters hoed around their trees and placed cans in the soil near each tree.

Three teams were chosen to look after the watering and hoing of the trees during the summer. For June Dolly Farrens is captain. Her assistants are Lois Ashbaugh, Claud Hastings, Pearl Leathers and Roland Farrens. For July Doris Stevens is captain with Nellie Bleakman, Charles Johnson, Lois Adams and Nona Inskopee for helpers. For August Charlotte Adams is captain. Her assistants are Annie Johnson, Francis Inskopee, Loye and Lily Johnson.

The forestry project has not been completed at this time. It will be necessary for the members to make an over-night trip to the woods to gather specimens of bark, cones and seeds. This can best be done in the fall so arrangements will be made for a trip in early September.

Public Invited to Attend Picnic. Last Friday, May 13, Mrs. C. Stephens, Anice Ljeuallen, Joan

A happy man is one who has no idea what his blood-pressure should be.

The fellow with financial worries is as unhappy as the man with the serious blood-pressure.

Old Doc Thrift will regulate your money pressure quickly and PAINLESSLY!

How much can you save TODAY?

Farmers and Stockgrowers National Bank

There is No Substitute for Safety

Wright, Dorris Allstott, Maxine Howard, Almon Ljeuallen and Don Allstott, taken by Mrs. Stephens, and Miss Velma Huston, Ben Howard, Clayton Wright, Howard Griffin and Richard Griffin, in Miss Huston's car, all went up to the Spray road camp. Edna, Joe and Lura Stephens were up there waiting for the rest of the children. All the children brought baskets. In the morning the children explored. Then they came back and played hide and go seek, which did not last very long. Then they all went in search of a place to play baseball. They couldn't find any good places except in a wide place in the road so they played there. When they would see a car coming they would pick up their bases and get out of the way. This game didn't last very long for it got too warm and then all the children were getting hungry. The boys moved a table out of the cabin so we all could eat under the trees. Then Miss Huston dismissed the boys and the girls set the table. Before dinner Mrs. Ray Wright and Beth came. They were late because Beth had to go to Heppner. There was a real dinner and every one of the members enjoyed it. After dinner some of the boys and girls went up and played in the sand pile and when they got tired they came back and went in wading. Howard Griffin and Don Allstott both fell in the creek. A lot of the others were awful wet. Then Dorris Allstott called them in for the regular 4-H club meeting. All the members sang the opening song. They all answered the roll call by being present. Joe Stephens, the secretary for both clubs, read the minutes of the last meetings for both the Golden West Cookery club and the Busy Bee Sewing club. There wasn't any new or old business so the children of the Busy Bee club gave their 4-H club yell which was led by Edna Stephens. After that the Golden West club gave their yell which was led by Don Allstott. After the meeting adjourned Clayton Wright and Almon Ljeuallen chose sides for run, sheep run. The children played for a long time, then they departed for home. Beth Wright took the children that Mrs. Stephens brought, back to the school house. All of the children reported having a very good time. It is planned that on May 28 there will be a 4-H club picnic at the home of R. E. Allstott on Rhea creek. All 4-H club leaders will be asked to have some number ready to give in the afternoon for the program. The Busy Bee Sewing club and the Golden West Cookery club are going to have some of their work on display; if the other clubs want to exhibit, if they bring some of their things to exhibit. All 4-H club members are cordially invited to attend. All bring well filled baskets as a dinner will be served. Posters will be sent to Ione, Hardman, Heppner and Cecil. We are hoping to have a large crowd. Games will be played in the morning. Don't forget the date, place, and everybody come.

LINDBERGH BABY'S DEAD BODY FOUND CLOSE TO PARENT'S HOME

By CALEB JOHNSON.

The baby son of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was found dead on Thursday, May 12. The child had been murdered.

The body, lying face down in a depression and partly covered with dead leaves was discovered by a Negro truck driver in a patch of woods in the Sourland Mountains less than five miles from the Lindbergh home near Hopewell, N. J.

The discovery was made by accident when the driver, walking into the woods from the road, found what he thought was a child's foot sticking out of the ground and notified the police. The identification followed quickly.

The news instantly aroused the sympathy and the indignation of the whole world. President Hoover announced that all of the forces of the United States government would be directed toward the discovery and arrest of the murderers. He said:

"I have directed the law enforcement agencies and the several secret services of the Federal Government to make the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby a live and never-to-be-forgotten case, never to be relaxed until these criminals are implacably brought to justice."

The New Jersey State police and the numerous detective agencies which had been engaged in the search for the missing baby boy had been forced to move cautiously because of the fear that the kidnapers would kill the infant if they found themselves hard pressed. But as soon as it was certain that the worst had happened, there was an instant tightening of the lines and the most determined man-hunt in American history was begun.

It was soon apparent that the child had been killed soon after he was stolen from his crib in the nursery on the night of March 1. Whether he had been killed with calculating purpose by criminals who found it advantageous to them to get rid of the child, or whether he had been thrown there by kidnapers fleeing in panic, was not determined.

The body showed the marks of two fractures of the skull, one on the left side and the other on the right. The latter was a hole a half-inch in diameter.

"Unquestionably it was a brutal murder," said Dr. Charles H. Mitchell, County Physician of Mercer County, after he had completed an autopsy.

The condition of the body indicated that the child had been dead at least two months, and there was a strong possibility that he had been killed on the very night of the kidnaping.

Positive identification of the baby's body was furnished by Betty Gow, the nursemaid, about whom so much interest in the case centered immediately after the baby's disappearance. The garments found on the body were taken to the Lindbergh home and examined by Miss Gow there. She positively identified the shirt and the waistband as those of the baby whom she had taken care of and to whom she was devoted. The sleeping suit which the baby wore when he was stolen was missing.

Dr. Van Nigen of New York, the child's physician, found the measurements of the body, the formation and size of the skull, the number and formation of the teeth and the peculiarly twisted toes identical with those of the Lindbergh child.

Though the search had extended up and down the Atlantic coast, had stretched from one border of the United States to the other, and even had included many cities in Europe, the child had been lying all those weeks near the home from which he had been stolen, and only a little more than a mile from Hopewell, N. J., the center of much of the activity surrounding the case.

The place where the body was found is on the downward slope of a hill directly across the valley from the Lindbergh home. Before Colonel Lindbergh's new home was built, he and Mrs. Lindbergh lived for a time within a mile of the place where their child was to meet his death.

Col. Lindbergh was away from home when the body of his son was found. He had been for several days on a yacht, searching for another yacht on which he had been informed, the little boy was held prisoner. Mrs. Lindbergh and her mother, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, were at home. Mrs. Lindbergh will be a mother again in August, it was stated by her family.

The kidnaping of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., 20-month-old son of Colonel Lindbergh and the former Anne Morrow, from the isolated Lindbergh home on Sourland Mountain, near Hopewell, N. J., occurred between 8:30 and 10 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, March 1. In the days and hours which elapsed before the solution of the mystery virtually the entire civilized world followed every development with unparalleled concern.

While the search was spreading throughout North America and then to Europe and South America, with ships being searched on both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, the child's body was lying within five miles of his crib.

The discovery that the baby was missing was made by Miss Betty Gow, 26-year-old Scottish nurse, who had put the child to sleep in his crib at 8 o'clock. The youngster was sleeping soundly when she looked in at 8:30 o'clock, but the crib was empty when she returned at 10. Muddy footprints were visible on the floor between the crib and a window, the shutter of which could not be fastened because it was warped.

In the nursery on a cedar chest, just beneath the window, the kidnapers left a note, the exact contents of which had been kept carefully secret. It had been reported and not denied, however, that the missive promised the child would be cared for and demanded a ransom of $50,000.

While the entire nation, from President Hoover down, was shocked by the crime and assurances of coordinated vigilance came from every branch of the Federal, State and local law-enforcing agencies, the first few days of the anguished hunt brought forth nothing but a flood of wild rumors, false leads and crank letters.

On April 2 Colonel Lindbergh paid $50,000 in small notes in a lonely spot in the Bronx to a man who had convinced him he was in touch with the kidnapers. Dr. J. F. Condon, Fordham lecturer, was the intermediary; but this series of negotiations proved fruitless.

Meanwhile, John Hughes Curtis, a Norfolk boatbuilder, convinced that he had made contact with the kidnapers, told his story to Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, and the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock of Norfolk. For weeks Mr. Curtis made mysterious trips to sea and overland by plane in a fruitless effort to complete his negotiations, and then admitted, after discovery of the body, that his story was a hoax, having no foundation.

Again... new low prices!
$167.00 as low as at the factory
plus a new 4-year service plan!

$167 AT THE FACTORY
$10 delivers a General Electric to your home and 10c a meal pays for it.
PACIFIC POWER & LIGHT COMPANY
"Always at Your Service!"

Lexington Farmers Warehouse Company
Dealers in Flour, Poultry and Dairy Feeds
Sperry's "SHURE LIVE" and Scratch Food for Baby Chix.
ALSO ALL STOCK FEEDS.
General Warehouse Storage and Custom Grinding.
LEXINGTON, OREGON

THEY MUST BE GOOD
When you consider that
MONARCH CANNED FOODS
have been favorites of the American public for more than 60 years you can come to but one conclusion—"THEY MUST BE GOOD"
QUALITY FOODS ALWAYS AT Huston's Grocery

Extra Savings!
New! Smart!
Toyo "Solar's"
Man! . . . for comfort's sake—
Wear a new, c-o-o-l SOLAR!
Yes-sir-ee! They've a fine quality appearance at this economy price! Light, airy . . . and designed and finished so smartly that they'll win complete approval instantly!
98c
J.C. PENNEY CO. INC.