

IONE

JENNIE E. MCMURRAY.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Christian church for Mrs. George Frank who died Friday, May 27, at the home of her daughter near Hermiston. Interment was in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Case Mortuary of Heppner had charge of funeral arrangements; the funeral sermon was by Elder Nearness, pastor of the Adventist church at Pendleton, and the singing was two beautiful solos, "The Jesus" and "Asleep in Jesus" by a lady from Pendleton, with Mrs. Nearness playing the accompaniment, and a duet, "Face to Face," by Mrs. Walter Roberts of Heppner, and Mrs. John Turner of Heppner, with Mrs. Earl Blake at the piano. Pall bearers were J. E. Swanson, Edison Morgan, M. E. Cotter, E. J. Bristow, John Louy and Henry Clark.

Cora May Calkins was born at Winnepeg, Minnesota, June 3, 1879. She became the wife of George Frank June 1, 1894. They made their home in Minnesota for some time following their marriage and then moved to North Dakota where they remained for a few years, coming to Oregon during the fall of 1904. Mrs. Frank had made her home in Ione for nineteen years. She was the mother of nine children, six of whom are living. A daughter, Edith, died in 1925 at the age of fourteen years; two other children died in infancy. The deceased was a devoted wife and mother, a loyal friend and neighbor, a steadfast Christian woman. Wherever there was sickness or distress Mrs. Frank was among the first to offer assistance. She had been in failing health for some time and had recently been spending part of the time with her daughter at Hermiston that she might receive medical attention. Her death was from pneumonia following an attack of influenza. The great throng that gathered at the church Sunday afternoon and the profusion of beautiful flowers bore witness to the high esteem in which she is held.

Left to mourn her passing are her husband, George Frank, a son, Homer Frank of Kennewick, Washington, five daughters, Mrs. Lloyd King and Hazel Frank of Ione, Mrs. Dewey Gibbs of Gresham, Mrs. Herbert Helms of Hermiston, Mrs. Henry Rowell of Kennewick, Mrs. Frank Engelman, and Miss Helen Folkerts of Portland were weekend guests at the home of Mr. Engelman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Engelman.

Jack Farris had the formal opening of his ice cream parlor Saturday. There was free ice cream for all the kiddies. Needless to say his place of business was well patronized. Victor Peterson, whose work with the Federal Land bank keeps him out of town the most of the time, is spending this week with his family. The Petersons contemplate moving to Heppner as that will be a more convenient location for Mr. Peterson. We regret to lose these good people.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corley and Cole Smith, who is a guest in the Corley home, were business visitors in Pendleton last Thursday. Rev. Williams of the community church, Condon, will preach in the Congregational church in Ione the second and fourth Sunday morning of each month. Everyone is welcome to these services.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Balsiger and son Alfred, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsiger spent Sunday and Monday visiting relatives in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rowell returned Tuesday to their homes at Kennewick. Mrs. Dewey Gibbs will remain for a few weeks with her father.

Mrs. Lloyd King spent the first of the week in Hermiston assisting Mrs. Helms in caring for the two members of her family who are ill. Miss Lillian Allinger, cashier of the Farmers and Stockgrowers National bank of Heppner, spent Sunday and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Allinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swensen and two children and Roland Wade, of Walla Walla, motored to Ione Sunday. Mrs. Swensen and the children remained for a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Bristow. The gentlemen returned home Monday.

Mrs. Louis Bergevin and Denward returned home Wednesday from a pleasant week's visit at the home of Mrs. Bergevin's mother, Mrs. J. C. King whose home is near Baker.

Miss Kitty Wilmot, Miss Josephine LaFollette, Misses Mabel and Helen McElligott, all of Portland, motored to Ione Saturday, returning Monday. Miss Wilmot and Miss LaFollette were guests at the Hal Ely home. The Misses McElligott visited their brother, Charley McElligott.

Legion hall was filled Monday afternoon by the people who came to listen to the interesting Memorial Day program as presented by the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary. The program follows: Call to order, Blaine Blackwell, Com.; Star Spangled Banner, Assembly; Invocation, J. R. Benton; Gettysburg Address, Vivian Haguewood; Reading, Eugene Normoyle; Song, High School Trio; Story of the Poppy, Mary Beckner; Buy Me! Wear Me!, Eileen Sperry and Earline Farris; Instrumental Solo, Charles Lundell; Memorial Address, J. R. Benton, Heppner; Vocal Solo, Joe Engelman; Reading, "My Boy," Elaine Rietmann; Vocal Solo, Ruby Roberts; Benediction, J. R. Benton; One minute silent tribute to veterans of all wars; Taps, Eugene Normoyle; Retirement to the cemetery where the Auxiliary ladies placed flowers on the graves of veterans and all undecorated graves. Call James Keller, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keller, was one of a class of one hundred and ten to graduate Friday, May 27, from Still College of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Missouri. Mr. Keller is a graduate of Lexington high school and had one year's work at O. S. C. before he began his four years' work at Still college. He completed his intern work last summer and on the afternoon of his graduation day left for Butte, Montana, where he will practice in company with an elderly doctor who is already well established at Butte.

Edward Keller, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Keller, is also a student at Still college. He will intern this summer and graduate in May, 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ries and five children motored over from Toppenish, Wash., Sunday, returning Monday. While in our city they were guests at the home of Mrs. Ries' mother, Mrs. Ella Davidson. Monday the Davidson home was the scene of a family gathering at which eighteen were present.

Gene Engelman and Miss Helen Folkerts of Portland were weekend guests at the home of Mr. Engelman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Engelman.

Jack Farris had the formal opening of his ice cream parlor Saturday. There was free ice cream for all the kiddies. Needless to say his place of business was well patronized.

Portland and White Salmon. Mrs. Sam Hatch and two children and Mrs. Hatch's mother, Mrs. Ethel Frasier, returned Sunday from Pendleton where they had been spending a few weeks.

Milton Morgan is at home again following his recent operation for appendicitis.

Elmer Griffith, A. E. Feller and Charley McElligott and two sons were Portland visitors the middle of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Nord of Portland arrived in town Sunday morning for a ten-days visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Nord is recovering nicely from the recent operation on his eyes.

Mrs. Ernest Heliker entertained the Past Noble Grand club last Friday afternoon at her pleasant home on Saddle Butte ranch. The affair was a "White Elephant" party and in the grab bag each guest deposited some unwanted article. This caused much merriment. Following this Mrs. Heliker pulled off quite a novel stunt by presenting each of her guests with a nicely wrapped gift. When they were opened it was found that each gift was the property of the person receiving it. Unbeknownst to the guests, the hostess had previously purloined the articles from their homes. Many of the ladies had been searching in vain for lost dresses, aprons, etc. Ladies present besides the hostess were Mrs. J. E. Swanson, Mrs. C. W. Swanson, Miss Norma Swanson, Mrs. Frank Lundell, Mrs. Ernest Lundell, Mrs. Alice McNabb, Mrs. Lee Howell, Mrs. Blaine Blackwell and Mrs. J. W. Howk.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Parker returned from Joseph Monday evening. Mrs. Parker had spent a couple of weeks there with her daughter, Mrs. Dorris Mitchell, Mr. Parker going after her Sunday.

Fetters of Brass. "But the Philistines took him and put out his eyes, and brought him to Gaza, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he did grind in the prison house." Judges 16-21.

Samson, the man who slew the lion with nothing but his hands. The man who slew a thousand men with the jawbone of an ass. The man who tore from his arms the strong cords with which his enemies had bound him. The man who pulled down the barred gate of Gaza, and carried it away upon his shoulders to the top of a hill. The man who for twenty years was Israel's ruler and defender, and whose mighty strength made him a terror to the Philistines.

Behold this Samson now, shorn of his strength, robbed of his sight, his hands bound with fetters of brass; grinding in the prison house of Gaza, with his enemies mocking him and making sport of him in gleeful cruelty. How had this come to pass? What had brought this giant of great strength so low and rendered him a helpless victim in the hands of his enemies? The answer is Dehlah. Those fetters that bound his arms—those arms of might once so feared—were forged in Dehlah's lap. While there he slept his giant hands were snared in sin's seductive trap. Samson had no one but himself to blame. The prison house of Gaza was but the prison of his own sins. No cords ever spun by his enemies were strong enough to bind him. The shackles by which he was finally bound were of his own forging. Those fetters of brass were but the fetters of his own evil deeds. The lesson is all too plain. Men are undone by their own sins. By their own evil doing they forge the manacles which at last fetter them as with fetters of brass. God alone, in the lives of men, will save them from this sort of imprisonment. If men are free in Jesus Christ, then are they free indeed!

Results From Sargon Almost Unbelievable

"Seems Marvelous the Way It Restored My Health"

It's almost unbelievable the feeling of new life and strength that came over me when I started taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills. I had the worst kind of stomach trouble and was terribly run-down, bilious and constipated. My whole system was poisoned and I suffered from sharp pains under my left shoulder. I became awfully nervous and could not sleep. Now I am as well and strong as I have ever been in my life. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most wonderful laxative I have ever used.
