

Local Happenings

Judge W. T. Campbell, District Attorney S. E. Notson and Vawter Crawford attended the Umatilla County Pioneers' reunion at Weston on last Friday afternoon, Mr. Notson being the speaker on the program for the first day. The little city is the scene of the yearly gathering of pioneers of the Umatilla country, and many were there for the first program on Friday, expecting, however, that Saturday would be the big day for attendance. There was an excellent program Friday afternoon, and the speaker from Heppner was well received, his address doing honor to the occasion. It was also the further pleasure of the editor of the G. T. to meet and chat with Col. Clark Wood, editor and paragrapher of Weston Leader, whose "quips" are perhaps quoted more in the press of the country than those of any other writer. His paper has gained a national reputation because of the ability of its editor, and through this medium Weston gets no small amount of prominence.

Maple Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft of this city, will picnic on Sunday at the beautiful mountain home of Harry French, 12 miles south of Hardman. A number of Heppner people enjoyed a visit to this mountain retreat last Sunday, among them being W. O. Dix and daughter Virginia and Mrs. Lena Snell Shurtle, who was a guest at the Dix home from Arlington; J. J. Nys and family, Spencer Crawford and family, the families of Bert Palmateer and Al Troedson who drove up from Morgan, and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Turner. The prairies at the French ranch are very beautiful just now, the blue blossoms of the camas being much in evidence in contrast to the rich green of the prairie grass.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Hall in this city on Sunday afternoon occurred the marriage of Miss Viola Ruby, niece of Mrs. Hall, to Mr. Philip James Pentecost of Kinzua, Oregon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Glen P. White, pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. and Mrs. John Rohrbach, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, stood up with the young couple and other witnesses of the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Hall and the Misses Mary Gemmill and Ann McNamee. Mr. and Mrs. Pentecost will make their home at Kinzua where Mr. Pentecost has employment with the lumber company.

T. J. Humphreys and daughter, Miss Evelyn Humphreys, returned home on Monday afternoon after having spent a month vacationing in the Willamette valley. They visited with relatives in Multnomah and Washington counties and also spent a few days at the coast, but there it was just a little too cold to be comfortable. Mr. Humphreys returns much improved in health.

Miss Leta Humphreys and her friend, Miss Lena Newton will leave by auto on Friday, going first to Wallowa lake and then over the Oregon Trail, John Day highway and thence to Eugene over McKenzie pass. From Eugene Miss Newton will return to her home at Los Angeles. She has been a guest of Miss Humphreys in this city for the last six weeks.

Bert Johnson and J. H. Crabtree, farmers of the Ione section, were among county people in the city Saturday. Mr. Johnson is a member of the Ione school board, and was recently elected president of Morrow county Grain Growers.

Dr. A. E. Gray is this week establishing residence in the Johnson property at the corner of Main and Baltimore streets. He is also moving his office equipment there from the Hotel Heppner building.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schwarz motored to Moro on Saturday evening where Mrs. Schwarz remained for a visit this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reavis.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson motored to Arlington on Saturday and there Mrs. Anderson took the train for Vancouver, Wash., to visit for a short time with relatives.

Miss Mary Beamer was in Heppner over the week end, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beamer. She returned to Portland Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sackett of Salem arrived the end of the week for a visit at the home of Mrs. Sackett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson.

More Lindbergh Tragedy

Violet Sharpe, maid in the Morrow home, who committed suicide when facing further questioning in Lindbergh kidnapping. Later evidence indicates her innocence and that fear drove her to take her life.

Wid Palmateer, Morgan wheat-raiser, was in town Tuesday doing business at the court house. Having recently made it known that he desired the services of a cook Mr. Palmateer said he had received a flock of cooks, but found few that were willing to milk the cow and chop wood along with preparing the chow.

Dr. Arthur Clarke, Portland optometrist and captain of the Heppner football team that in the early days was respected by such teams as Multnomah Athletic club and Whitman college, was in the city over Sunday on his regular business trip to this city. He always enjoys talking over old times with his many friends here.

Robert Turner visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Turner, over the week end, leaving for Portland Monday. Robert was a student in engineering at the University of Oregon last year and expects to complete his course next year. He was slated to play baseball next Sunday with the Brownsville team.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Sackett of Salem are guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson, parents of Mrs. Sackett. Miss Margaret Notson who has been a student the past year at Willamette university, returned home for the summer, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Sackett.

Lewis A. McArthur, general manager, and Will T. Neill, assistant general manager, Pacific Power & Light company, with offices at Portland, passed through Heppner Tuesday afternoon on their way to Pendleton and stopped for a short time at the local office of the company.

Rev. and Mrs. Glen P. White and daughter, Miss Lavelle, departed early Monday morning for Portland where Mr. and Mrs. White are attending the annual conference of the Methodist church in session there this week.

Miss Mary Patterson returned to her duties at the Farmers and Stockgrowers' National bank following a ten-day vacation, part of which time was spent at Portland and Unalaska, Wash.

Dr. J. P. Stewart, Pendleton optometrist and secretary of the Pendleton Lions club, made his regular visitation to the city yesterday accompanied by Mrs. Stewart.

Mrs. A. Z. Barnard and daughter of The Dalles were in Heppner for a short time on Monday while on their way out to Hardman for a visit with relatives and friends.

Albert Adkins and family returned on Monday evening from a short visit with relatives of Mrs. Adkins at Gresham.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ripley returned yesterday from a week's vacation spent at Pendleton and La Grande.

Mrs. Sam Cochran has been quite ill for the past two weeks at the home of her son, J. T. Cochran at Cecil.

August Johnson, farmer of the northwest corner of the county, was doing business in the city Friday.

Mrs. Ollie Neill made a business trip to Echo Tuesday.

Murray Potts who for the past two years has been staying at the Joe Foley home left Friday afternoon while Mr. and Mrs. Foley were in town. No trace has been found of him as yet.

IN OREGON HOMES

Grants Pass—A traveling cannery to aid in conserving surplus food-stuffs of the county is an original idea being promoted jointly by the Josephine county extension service and the grants. Boiler, pressure cooker, tin cans, sealer and other needed equipment are being assembled on a four wheel trailer which will shortly establish a schedule for visits to various communities.

Bend—That homemakers of Deschutes county are actively promoting the idea of "homemade living" is evidenced by the gathering of 170 women who met to obtain the latest scientific information and methods of home produced foods. The meeting was conducted by Lucy A. Cass, nutrition specialist of the state college extension service, who demonstrated the various methods of canning strawberries, peas, rhubarb, salmon, meat, vegetable soup and sieved spinach for infant food. Models of homemade dryers and smokehouses were also shown.

St. Helens—Homemakers thru-out Columbia county are building inexpensive evaporators for fruit and vegetable drying. Within the past three weeks approximately 500 mimeographed directions for constructing homemade dryers have been given out at the office of Mrs. Sarah Case, county home demonstration agent. Two of the demonstrators recommended were invented by Lucy A. Cass, extension specialist in nutrition. They may be made of fruit crates, galvanized wire, a few nails and some hay wire.

ARM BROKEN IN FALL

Little Joe Farley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Farley of this city, received a broken left arm when he fell from a horse at the farm of his uncle, Joe Kenny on Butter creek, Monday. He received the immediate attention of a local physician.

Club work has gotten results, and big ones in Arkansas. That is why the work is so popular. Boys and girls see it as one of the best ways to improve their positions, to earn some money, to see a little of the world, to be "somebody." So they have gone into club work with a will.

Note the report of the state champion local club for last year. It is the Lebanon club of White county. It numbers 43 members; 39 are boys. Ages are 10 to 19. Two local people served them as leaders. At the end of their year they were able to show an average return for their projects valued at $70.00 per member. Those boys and girls won't starve or go in rags!

Here is the detailed record of their productions:

Corn, 598 bushels	$ 263.53
Seed-Cotton, 8426 lbs.	215.87
Irish potatoes, 572 bus.	331.60
Sweet potatoes, 598 bus.	354.02
Strawberries	335.85
Pigs, three purebreds	72.00
Gardens, 4764 lbs.	540.55
Canned goods, 2318 qts.	985.75
Savings on garments	30.27
Total	$3,033.44

Every member made a complete report on their work, attended their county rally, and 18 attended the state camp at the college. The club furnished the county champion in corn, cotton, pig and sweet potatoes. The members made 66 demonstrations and had 14 meetings in the year with an average attendance of 87.4 per cent. You can't keep boys and girls like that down.

Handicrafters Meet

The fourth meeting of the Rocky Bluff Handicraft club was held at Henry Baker's. Miss Myrtle Green was a visitor, and we enjoyed having her with us. At the opening of the meeting David and Clifford sang "Moonlight on the Colorado" and Joyce played for them. All of the members are getting along nicely with their work. The next meeting will be a picnic and Clifford and Merle were chosen for the refreshment committee. At the close of the meeting Joyce played a solo, and after the meeting refreshments were served. Merle Baker, Reporter.

Burton Valley Club News

Mrs. Lucy Rodgers visited our school, District No. 51, last Wednesday, June 17. While here she helped us organize our 4-H club. The following members are enrolled for club work: Charlotte Cannon, Annie McIntyre and Vern McDaniel are enrolled in the Handicraft club; Mary McIntyre, Nona Howell and Lola Cannon in sewing No. 1. Irvin Greener has enrolled as an individual member in the bachelor sewing club. The following officers were elected: Lola Cannon, president; Nona Howell, vice-president, and Mary McIntyre, secretary. Nona Howell and Lola Cannon were appointed news reporters. Mrs. Verna Howell will act as our club leader. Our meetings are scheduled for every Friday evening from 2:45 until 4, beginning next Friday, June 24. Although we are rather late in beginning our club work we plan on having our exhibit ready for the county fair. Lola Cannon and Nona Howell, reporters.

Happy Hearts Meet

The Happy Hearts 4-H club met June 22nd at the home of Florence Green. Those present were Patsy Smith, Mary Emma Curran, Frances Egan, Margaret Doolittle and Betty Marie Adkins. Some are crocheting, some making bean bags and some making pin cushions. The next meeting will be June 29th. Betty Adkins, reporter.

Eyes of Sport Turn to West Expecting to See Old Olympics Records Shattered This Year

By JACK ADAMS

Olympic track and field records should look quite different after the Olympic Games to open July 30 in the Olympic Stadium in Los Angeles, California and the breaking of records seem naturally to go together. There are seven world's track and field records in the record books which were made in California.

During the Olympic games at Amsterdam in 1928, 15 new track and field records were made or equalled. How many of these will remain after the Los Angeles games?

Let's look at some of the records made during the Amsterdam games. In the 100 meters' run, Percy Williams of Canada; E. F. McAllister of the U. S. A. and J. E. London of Great Britain, during trial heats were clocked officially at 10.6 seconds. Here it is interesting to recall that Charles W. Paddock, running at Redlands, Cal., in 1921, did the distance in 10.4 seconds. That is a world's record and better than the Olympic record, Eddie Tolan, of the U. S. A., running in Stockholm in 1929, and again in Copenhagen the same year, equalled the 10.4 seconds time. Tolan and Paddock are joint holders of the world's record for the 100 meters' run.

With the Runners

Helmut Kornig of Germany, at Amsterdam equalled the Olympic record for the 200 meters' run with a time of 21.6 seconds. It should be remembered that an American, Roland A. Locke, holds the world's record for that distance. Running in Lincoln, Neb., in 1926, he covered the distance in 20.6 seconds.

A record for the 800 meters' run was made at Amsterdam in 1928. But it was made by an Englishman, D. G. A. Lowe, who did the distance in 1 m., 53 4-5 s.

A new record for the 1500 meters' run was also made at Amsterdam. But it was made by a Finn, H. E. Larva, who covered the distance in 3 m., 53 1-5 s.

A new time was set up also at Amsterdam in the 10,000 meters' run, but not by an American, instead by that great athlete, Paavo Nurmi, of Finland. His time was 30 m., 18 4-5 s.

It wasn't an American who established in 1928 the new record for the 110 meter hurdles. It was a South African, Weightman-Smith. His time was made during a trial heat and was 14 3-5 s.

In Field Events

The Olympic record for the running broad jump was made by an American in Amsterdam in 1928. The record holder for the event is Edward B. Hamm. He jumped 25 feet, 4 3-4 inches.

The Olympic record for the pole vault is also held by an American, Sabin W. Carr, who in Amsterdam cleared the bar at 13 feet, 9 3-8 in. Now 13 feet, 9 3-8 inches is high to be sure but in California they have been known to vault higher. The world's record for the pole vault is held by Lee Barnes, of the U. S. A., who in Fresno, Calif., in 1928, cleared the bar at 14 feet, 1 1-2 in.

Hollyhock Rust Control

Told by County Agent

What to do in the case of hollyhock rust, is a question that has been asked frequently of C. W. Smith, county agent, who has given out information as follows:

Hollyhock rust can best be prevented by starting with healthy young plants, setting them in a new location and dusting them, from time to time in the early spring and early summer with the finest grade of dusting sulphur obtainable. An application of sulphur once each week from the time the growth starts in the spring until blossoming time will prevent the hollyhocks from becoming infected. Hollyhocks planted in the open or in a sunny location are less apt to become infected than plants growing among other flowers and in shady places. Overhead sprinkling will keep the foliage damp, therefore this should not be practiced. All old stocks, leaves and trash around the plants should be cleaned up and burned each fall. Hollyhocks should be watched closely and when the first rust spots which are found on the under side of the leaves show up, the leaves should be destroyed and never left in a compost pile, as to do so would cause other plants to become infected.
