POSTAGE . . . and harmony

I remember when the letter postage rate was first reduced from three cents to two, in 1883. Twice since then it has been put back to the old figure, once during the World War and now under the new revenue law, beginning July 6,

The standard color for the ordinary letter postage stamp has been red for so long that Uncle Sam is printing thousands of millions of new three-cent stamps in red, in-stead of the purple three-cent stamps now in use. And as Washington's picture always appears on most commonly used stamp, the head of Lincoln, which now adorns the three-cent stamp be replaced by that of the Father of His Country.

I knew one old lady, now dead, who never would use a two-cent stamp on her letters. She used Monday after visiting for some "mourning" stationery with a deep time in Echo with her daughter, black border and the red color was "mourning" stationery with a deep inharmonious. "Business" vs. Health

It is sometimes interesting to just sit up and take notice. It seems that the Health Department - or something like that — has recently issued a bulletin from Washington which suggested that our people eat less meat during the heated season, since meat is a heat-producing food and is not needed in so great quantity in summer. All of which would seem to be very good advice for our normally heavy feeders. Whether the suggestion was timely or even necessary, is another question; let us pass up the enormous expense to the people, of the voluminous public documents issued, many of which are not worth their immense cost; because any man or woman with any sense knows that we do need heavy, heat-producing not food in hot weather.

But the department issuing the bulletins got results that they had not visualized; the packets and ven-dors of the succulent steak and the toothsome pork chop raised up like a nest of bumblebees! The bulletin did immense harm to the meat packing industry; the government was deliberatelly trying to smother one of its finest infants! Protests last popped up instantly.

So many tempests in tea-pots nowadays. About all the harm in such bulletins is in the big depart-mental costs for their production, that must be paid by a people al ready groaning under their tax burdens. In the meantime, the American meat eater will go on, enjoying a visit from their daugh-ter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl tieth of them read. Call of the DARKNESS FALLS . . . you are far from a town . . . is that someone moving behind those bushes . . ? shall you take a chance and stop at that lonely-looking farmhouse down the road . ? you are alone in a strange place and, if not actually afraid, then very decidedly uneasy.

What has taken the zest out of your long-anticipated motor tour? You had really hoped for adventure such as this; you did everything to insure your car against any emergency—had it overhauled, new tires and two spares. Finally you admit it to yourself. You have neglected to insure the safety of your travel funds!

You are afraid of being robbed! The cash in your pocket is spoil-ing your vacation!

But how easily you can purchase security on your tour. You need merely to step into our bank and change your money into American Express Travelers Cheques. And then, ho for the open road with a mind at ease! Bandits, hold-up men, pickpockets hold no fears for you. You have insured the safety of your money, and should your Travelers Cheques be lost or stolen without being signed a second times, their value will be refunded.

This security costs you only 75c for each $100.
