THE SPURT IN THE STOCK

WE do not know, because nobody ever knows, all of the causes for the recent noticeable rise in prices of securities on the New York stock exchange. Neither do we know how long this beginning of a bull movement is going to last. We say those things by way of warning to such of our readers as are inclined to speculate, that they have no assurance that stock exchange prices are going to continue upward. We strongly advise everybody who is not in a position to lose money not to take any chances in the effort to win money by gamb-ling in stocks. We think a great deal of the financial difficulties the nation has been going through came from the fact that millions of people who had no business to gamble were playing the stock market in hope of getting rich quick without work.

Nevertheless, this new activity in the stock market is an encouraging sign. It signifies, primarily, that capital has got over the worst of its fear of the future. Fear has been the principal deterrent influence operating against a speedy rein business and industry, There is more free capital in the United States today, the economist tells us, than there ever was before. But it is owned principally by people who have been afraid to do any-thing with it for fear that someworse was gong to happen than had already occurred. Now this money is coming out of hiding. It is one thing to express such a belief in words, but it must be taken seriously when it is expressed in money.

The Eternal Miracle

We are quite unmindful of chronology in writing this story. We are bound by the familiar outline which begins with the song of the angels at Bethlehem and ends with g of the women at the cross

We shall thread our way back and forth through the rich variety of Jesus' life, picking up this incident and that bit of conversation. this dramatic contact and that audaclous decision, and bringing them together as best to illustrate our purpse. For that purpose is not to write a biography but to paint a portrait. We pass quickly over thir ty years of Jesus' life, nothing only that somehow, somewhere there occurred in those years the eternal miracle-the awakening of the inner consciousness of power. The eternal miracle!

In New York one day a luncheon was tendered by a gathering of distinguished gentlemen to David Lloyd George. There were perhaps two hundred at the tables. The food was good and the speeches were impressive. But what stirred one's imagination was a study of the men at the speakers' table. There they were—some of the most influential IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE CIZENS of the present-day world; and who were they? ctizens of the present-day world; and who were they?

At one end of the table an inter national financier-son of a poor country parson. Beside him a great newspaper proprietor -- he came from a tiny town in Maine and landed in New York with less than a hundred dollars. A little farther along the president of a world-wide press association-a copy boy in a country newspaper office. And, in the center, the boy who grew up in the poverty of an obscure Welsh village, and became the commanding statesman of the British Empire in the greatest crisis of history.

When and how and where did the eternal miracle occur in the lives of those men? At what hour, in the morning, in the afternon, in the long quiet evenings, did the audacious thought enter the mind of each of them that he was larger than the limits of a country town, that his life might be bigger than his father's?

Likewise, when did the thought come to Jesus? Was it one morning when he stood at the carpenter's bench, the sun streaming in across the hills? Was it late in the night, after the family had retired, and he had slipped out to walk and wonder under the stars? Nobody knows. All we can be sure of is this—that the consciousness of his divinity must have come to him in a tme of solltude, of awe in the presence of Nature.

By Rev. Charles E. Dunn, D. D. THE TENT OF MEETING

son for August 21—Exodus 33:7-16. Golden Text: Exodus 33:11

The Tabernacle of the congregation, as the Authorized Version calls it, or the tent of meeting, as the Revised Version more correctly names it, was a portable sanctuary constructed by the Hebrews, in their wilderness pilgrimage, to serve as the earthly dwelling of God. Its furnishings were very costly and elaborate, directly foreshadowing the famous Temple of Solomon, its counterpart and successor.

While called a tent, the Tabernacle was in reality a house, with upright walls of thick boards on three sides, and a curtain at the fourth. There was a large, outer apartment for priests only, known as the Holy Place, containing the table of shewbread, the golden candlestick, and the altar of incense. A smaller, inner apartment, entered only once a year by the high priest, and containing the Ark of the Covenant was the Holy of Holies.

There are two fundamental truths heralded by this ancient structure. First of all, the tent of meeting teaches the holiness of God. It was ever, whether at rest or in motion, an outward and visible sign of the beauty of holiness. "The Lord our God is holy," said the Psalmist.

Now holiness signifies that God is apart from us, that we must bow in awe before Him. It further teaches that God is unlike men, with no trace of the evil that so mars human nature.

Secondly the Tabernacle pro-

Secondly the Tabernacle proclaims the necessity of the Church. It was a center of worship, a meeting place where the people could assemble for the social and sacred celebration.

Now the Church today has ceased to be a major interest of the majority. Yet few would deny that we need an organized form of religion. All right thinking persons agree that the Church as a beloved "Community of Memory and Hope," to quote Professor Royce, is indispensable to the health of society. There alone can men, cursed with triviality and secularism, catch an adequate vision of God, and speak unto Him as did Moses who, our Golden Text assures us, addressed his Maker "face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend."
