Five children were born to them, James Everett, Bert Hugh, Thomas Trent, Lena Dell and David Lydon. Mr. and Mrs. Rose made their home here in Missouri for eight years, then moving to Idaho where they lived for two years, and then moved to Pendleton where they had made their home until they moved to Boardman a few years ago. He is survived by his widow and family and two brothers and two sisters. Interment was made in the Boardman cemetery. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

"TRUTH-IN-MEATS" FEATURED AGAIN

Most Popular College Display to Appear for Eighth Time at Livestock Show.

For the eighth consecutive year a "Truth-in-Meats" display will be maintained at the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland by the Oregon State college extension service. The exposition opens October 15 and continues to the 22nd.

The truth in meats display has become one of the most popular, effective and widely copied display ideas ever undertaken by the extension service, says U. S. Burt, in charge of the visual education department of the extension service. Many persons come back year after year to study the displays, and butchers themselves testify to the much greater discrimination shown in meat buying since the plan was started.

The exhibit this year will consist of thirty feet of super-cooled refrigerated cases divided into three sections, one for beef, one for mutton and the other for pork.

In the beef section quality will be stressed, with emphasis on food values and how to select beef cuts to best advantage. The section devoted to mutton will feature the new cured type of meat showing how fat mutton, now obtainable at low prices, may be made most attractive.

Pork will be shown for the first time this year, one section being devoted to demonstrations of the new pork cuts recently developed and found to hold great attraction for the present day consumers. The new 1932 book of meat recipes will be distributed free to all visitors requesting it.

Since the college started this "truth-in-meats" campaign eight years ago the idea has spread to nearly every livestock show in the country including the big international show at Chicago.

GRANGE EVENTS PLANNED. Rhea Creek Grange will hold its social meeting next Saturday, Oct. 15. Everyone is asked to bring a wrapped package as it is to be a "Swap" party. When everyone is satisfied with their swapped packages, they are to tell what they will do with the articles contained, then open the packages and see how nearly correct they were. Pumpkin pie and coffee will be the refreshments. The lecturer of the Grange is also arranging a 10-cent social and dance in the near future, the proceeds of the evening to be used to help members' grange dues; so if you want a pleasant evening, remember to keep posted on the 10-cent social where every tenth person gets in free.—Carrie Becket.

FORMER RESIDENT WRITER. Laura Burnside Kelley, a Morrow county girl now living in Flint, Mich., who writes under the pen name of Ana Kelley, has made a wide acquaintanceship with her poems. Several of her poems have been read over radio station WFDF of Flint, and recently one composition was sent by one of Michigan's foremost artists to "Music" to be interpreted in a dance. Mrs. Kelley recently directed a play for Y. W. C. A. business girls of Flint which was well received, according to clippings taken from the Flint Journal received by this newspaper.

Mrs. Chester Saling was visiting in Heppner the first of the week from her home at Prairie City. Because of dry conditions along the south fork of the John Day and the necessity for irrigating, the gold dredger at Prairie City has been laid up from working since about the middle of August, but expects to be operating as soon as rains set in. Mr. Saling has had work with the dredger since going to Prairie.

Mrs. Alice Adkins returned home Saturday from a visit of several weeks at the home of her son, Harley Adkins and family at Yakima. While in the Yakima valley Mrs. Adkins enjoyed a visit with a brother whom she had not seen for many years.

Homemade White Soap Contains Mutton Fat

Homemade soap which utilizes mutton fat is being made extensively throughout southern Oregon. A countywide series of demonstrations on soapmaking are underway in Josephine and Jackson counties under the direction of the two home demonstration agents there. These Oregon housewives express real satisfaction over the knowledge that their homemade soap, if correctly made, is the best soap obtainable. It is pure, neutral and free from adulterants.

The favorite soap recipe in use by these women is one calling for the following ingredients:

- Homemade White Soap
1 can lye
1 quart warm water
2 tablespoons borax
1-2 cup warm water
2 quarts grease
1 cup ammonia

Dissolve the lye in the quart of warm water. Dissolve the borax in the half cup of warm water. Melt the grease, and into it slowly stir the dissolved lye. Stir the mixture until it is as thick as honey, then add the dissolved borax and the ammonia. Stir for about five minutes longer, then pour into a mold. When firm cut in cakes, using a fine wire or a piece of string. Use when about four weeks old.

This soap is very hard, is snow white and has unusual lasting qualities. It does not shrink from aging. The ammonia water makes even the old discolored grease white and tends to brighten colors. The borax softens the water a bit.

Manipulation is very important, slow, even stirring in one direction, gentle pouring and handling are essential to success. A jerky motion in beating, a flop into the box when pouring, a jar after pouring into the box may cause separation.

Molds may be wooden or pasteboard boxes lined with waxed or oiled paper or cotton cloth wrung tightly out of hot water.

EXAMINER HERE 19TH.

C. M. Bentley, examiner of operators and chauffeurs, will be in Heppner Wednesday, Oct. 19, at the courthouse, between the hours of 11 a. m. and 5 p. m., according to announcement released from the secretary of state's office. All those wishing permits or licenses to drive cars are asked to get in touch with Mr. Bentley at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Palmer were Lexington folks in the city Saturday. Regardless of the very dry conditions, farmers of the Lexington section have been getting their seeding done and are now ready for fall rains.

22nd

Pacific International October 15-22
