THERE IS NO MAGIC

IF we knew a magic formula which would change everything over night and put the people of the United States back where we were in the beginning of 1929, we are not sure that we should use it. We doubt whether it would be either wise or kind to confirm the belief, which apparently prevails among many folk who ought to know better, that politicians possess some sort of magician's wand, the waving of which would restore prosperity, put up the price of farm products, start every factory up on full production, pay off every debtor's debts and send the prices of stocks up to new heights.

Looking back, we are not at all sure that the orgy of reckless spending which came to an abrupt end three years ago was a good thing either for the nation as a whole or for the individuals who took part in it. It was, for many, too close to getting something for nothing; and those who did not get unearned returns for their contributions in labor or commodities were beginning to be infected with the idea that they, too, were entitled to more than they paid for.

We do not believe that any sound and permanent prosperity can be built on any basis but the old-fashioned recipe of hard work and thrift. We have no confidence that there is anything politicians can do, whatever their party labels, that will take the place of economy and industry, render work unnecessary or put money into one pocket without taking it out of another.

All that politics and government can do is undertake, so far as selfish and self-seeking human nature will permit, to smooth out the inequalities and cure the defects in our economic structure which have grown up out of custom and ignorance, and which tend to put too heavy a burden upon some and too light a responsibility on others.

RELICS OF PROSPERITY

One consoling reflection in these days of stress is that we did a lot of things in the days of prosperity which benefits we can still enjoy. We may not be buying as

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Charles E. Dunn, D. D.
 Problems of the Modern Home Lesson for Oct. 23, Ephesians 6: 1-9.
 Golden Text: Joshua 24: 15.

The family is always changing. It is one of the most sensitive and fluid of our institutions. Today, under the impact of formidable forces, it shows unmistakable signs of strain. Some of the functions it formerly performed have been taken from it. New patterns of thinking and action have arisen to threaten its stability.

Yet we must not be alarmed. Anything that is really human cannot be crushed. Surely the family is the most personal of all institutions, closer than any other to human nature. This means that while outside influences can loom large in the nurture of children, there are certain functions which the home, as always, will continue to fulfill.

One of these is fellowship. The child craves companionship. He thrives on affection. Here the home affords him his best opportunity. There he is thrown into constant and intimate association with parent, brother, or sister.

Another function of the home is guidance. No one needs direction more than the child. He is helpless, inexperienced, woefully ignorant. He is also excessively curious, proposing unanswerable questions. Now, no guide can possibly be more influential in the nurture of a child than a wise parent.

Then, too, a good home furnishes a child with the best possible type of stimulation. We live in a day of over-stimulation. Children are easily immersed in a bath of high-powered excitement. But the stimulus of the talking picture, the loud speaker, the speeding motor car, powerful as it is, is clearly secondary to that of the family circle, where life unconsciously molds life.

A fourth function the home promotes is interpretation. Every day the child has new experiences which he is eager to share with the other members of the family group. Who can unfold their meaning better than a discerning and sympathetic mother? Bunyan, in "Pilgrim's Progress," introduces the house of the Interpreter.

If all of these duties are reverently fulfilled, in the fear of God, and the spirit of Jesus, then the program Paul advances in our lesson of rearing children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord" will be realized.

many new radio sets as we were a few years ago, but the old ones still work, and programs are coming through. Many a man who couldn't think of buying a new car today is making good use of the automobile he bought when times were good. One of the big companies reported the other day that present sales of cars are running at the rate of 291 used cars to every 100 new cars sold.

In public works we have many enduring things which we wouldn't start out to build now, but which our children and grandchildren will continue to enjoy. Our national program of concrete highways on solid foundations would never have got a fair start if the nation had not been over-prosperous for a few years; even today it is far from being abandoned. There is nothing of more enduring value than a good road. Only a week or two ago there was uncovered a mile or so of rock highway built by the Romans in the south of England nearly two thousand years ago. Twenty-one feet wide, it led from London to the Channel, a part of the great system of roads which tied the ancient Roman empire together.

One of the reasons why our widely-separated settlements and communities have held together in a single nation has been that means of communication, first the railroads, then the great highways, have closely followed the advance of population.

THE PRESIDENT'S ANSWER.
SPEAKING AT Fort Wayne, Ind., President Hoover said: "During my public life I have believed that sportsmanship and statesmanship called for the elimination of harsh personalities between opponents. On this journey, however, I have received a multitude of reports as to the widespread personal misrepresentations which have been promulgated in the Midwest in the past few weeks. I regret that the character of these personalities necessitates a direct word from me."
 "I shall say now the only harsh word that I have uttered in public office. I hope it will be the last I shall have to say. When you are told that the President of the United States, who by the most sacred trust of our nation is President of all the people, a man of your own blood and upbringing, has sat in the White House for the last three years of your misfortune without troubling to know your burdens, without heartaches over your miseries and casualties, without summoning every avenue of skillful assistance, irrespective of party or view, without using every ounce of his strength and straining his every nerve to protect and help, without using every possible agency of democracy that would bring aid, without putting aside personal ambition and humbling his pride of opinion, if that would serve—then I say to you that such statements are deliberate, intolerable falsehoods."

SENATOR ROBINSON'S BEBUKE

SENATOR JOSEPH T. ROBINSON, Democratic leader of the Senate, made a speech in his home state the other day in the course of which he said: "I think that Democratic speakers should refrain from pledging the quick restoration of prosperity through legislative changes, for the reason that we should not make no promises that we cannot be redeemed, and the present distressing situation has been brought about over a period of years by a combination of causes which are not all political."

Perfectly candid, sane and sensible. And yet how it must have shocked the Democratic nominee for President who has been promising that President Hoover alone is responsible for the present distressing situation, and promising that "Happy days will be here again" the moment he takes charge of things.

Seed Testing Laboratory Sets New Analysis Record

Seed growers and dealers throughout Oregon and other northwestern states are keeping the cooperative seed testing laboratory at Oregon State college busy these days making germination tests of Austrian Winter field peas, alsike clover seed, red clover, rye grass and other of this country's seed crops.

Records at the laboratory, operated cooperatively by the Oregon Experiment station and the United States department of agriculture, show that 4593 samples were tested in the year ending last July. This is a record since the laboratory was established in 1909. But as 1197 samples have already been tested to date this year a new record may be in prospect, says Miss Grace Cole, federal seed analyst.

Both purity and germination tests are made for farmers and seedsmen without cost unless the quota allowed one person is exceeded. This quota is three purity and five germination tests per month. Above this quota patrons pay a small fee varying with the nature of the test required.

Seed testing is exceedingly important now in protecting both buyer and seller of seed, particularly under contract terms for certain quality or germination. The laboratory at Corvallis is the only one in the northwest and it serves the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, though most of the samples come from the first two states named.

Potato Storage Important

Hillsboro — Washington county potato growers have found out by experience that care in storage of seed potatoes pays big dividends. Trials conducted by several growers in cooperation with County Agent Cyrus showed as much as 20 to 40 per cent variation in yields the following year may occur between lots of seed that have received different storage treatment. Putting potatoes on slatted floor, or building a slatted tunnel in the cellar or pit has given good results.

He Didn't Invite the Guests to His Party

The FAMILY DOCTOR
JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.
STAYING HEALTHY

For a long time I have been thinking that there is more praise for the man or woman who prevents the invasion of disease, than for the people who claim the credit of curing diseased conditions. I believe most diseases are preventable; then, why not devote a good measure of our energy to keeping disease off, and, thereby, not becoming ill?"

Your family doctor will tell you that he would gladly seek some other means of making a living, if by so doing he could banish sickness from the land. He devotes much of his time to "preventive medicine," thus seemingly trying to work himself out of a job. No "cure" that I know of spends much of its time that way.

When I tell you that leaf-vegetables, lettuce and such like, are the best "roughage" for your digestive tract, I am trying to ward off the possible evils of commercialized products.

When I advise a soft and varied diet of good, nutritious, plain food, with temperate habit of eating, I am advising against disease. When I assure you against the awful six-o'clock dinner and the no-breakfast plan, I am giving advice that will bear fruit in length of days. I have spent many years in close observation.

When I write you that excess of certain vitamins produces a condition much like hardening of the arteries, you may as well quit trying to select vitamins that you think you need—you may be doing the seller of that particular "vitamin" a favor, but yourself much harm.

And, when I tell you that the food that you like—the sorts that "set well" on your stomach, eaten in moderate quantity, with plenty of saliva—are best for you, and will give you all the vitamins you really need—you may depend upon it without worry.

IRRIGON

MRS. W. C. ISOM.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Will Norcross and John Smith returned home this week from Granite, Ore., where they have been prospecting for gold the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Norcross are now employed by the rock crusher crew operating west of town, by Schmeier and Williams.

Mrs. Nora Wilson has purchased the Barnes place and is moving her family in town this week. The ranch owned by Mrs. Blalock of Blalock, Ore., where Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have resided the past four years, was sold recently to a young married couple of Arlington who will take possession at once.

Chas. Wilson has been suffering from infection in his hand for several days and was taken to Hermiston for medical treatment Saturday.

Mrs. Alma Grieves from Arlington spent the week end in the home of her father, Mr. Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were visiting in Stanfield Friday.

Frank Leicht and daughter Nellie motored to Walla Walla Thursday where Mr. Leicht is receiving medical treatment.

C. C. Baker and Herbert Baker of Portland are spending the week in this vicinity hunting pheasants. Herbert Baker is visiting with his brothers and sisters-in-law, the Chas. Benefiel family during his stay.

Mildred Peregrine and Katherine Olday, both Stanfield teachers, visited in the home of Mrs. Robert Smith Saturday and Sunday. Both were classmates of Mrs. Smith at Monmouth several years ago.

Bert Benefiel is busy this week superintending the building of two more rooms on the family residence west of town.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ellis, five miles west of town, was completely destroyed by fire last Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis purchased the place about a year ago and built a modern five-room residence. The loss was partly covered by insurance. They will rebuild.

Word was received here recently that Mrs. Bessie Wisdom and son Bishop who moved to Medford last spring will return soon and make

A permanent home here.

Mrs. Wisdom owns a ten-acre tract of land near town which is in alfalfa and strawberries. They will make their home with her brother, Mr. Bishop.

Miss Leola Benefiel and Mrs. Amy Collins were Hermiston visitors Saturday night.

The Boardman and Irrigon high school boys and girls gave a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Oliver Friday night, honoring their son Floyd, it being his eighteenth birthday. A splendid time was reported. Floyd is working for Mrs. Carpenter at Boardman and attending high school there.

The American Legion at Hermiston have engaged the Irrigon band to play there for Armistice Day.

Friends here were shocked to hear of Mr. Rose's death Monday at Boardman. Mr. Rose lived here the past two years, moving to Boardman this spring. Many from here attended the funeral Wednesday.

ALPINE

By GERTRUDE TICHEGOR
 Irl Clary of Stanfield was a week end guest of his wife and children who reside at the Alpine teahouse.

Glen Sherer and his boss, R. Drake, both of near Heppner, went to the mountains on a deer hunt. Both returned with a buck.

The Boylen brothers of Pendleton were business visitors at the West Camp ranch Saturday.

Ed Ditty was a guest Monday evening at the home of C. Melville.

Mrs. B. P. Doherty and daughter Rosella motored to Hermiston on Wednesday afternoon.

Jasper Meyers and Hugh Neill accompanied by the Misses Audrey and Naomi Moore motored to Pendleton Sunday. While there they called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Plourd.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jarmon received word from Hawaii that their son Robert who is in military service there, has recovered fully from his recent operation.

Monte Bundy was a business visitor in Heppner Monday.

Messrs. Neil Melville and Ed Ditty were Hermiston visitors Tuesday. While there Mr. Ditty had some dental work done.

Mrs. C. Melville and her niece, Miss Gertrude Tichegor, were business visitors in Pendleton Thursday.

On Wednesday Roy Neill and his brother, W. D. Neill, motored to Heppner on business mission.

Mrs. Anna Schmidt and son Alfred were Sunday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Melville.

Mrs. O. F. Thompson had as her guest last week Mrs. Ralph Allen who was enroute to Corvallis where her daughter, Maxine, is attending school.

J. P. Ayers was in Heppner on Thursday. Mr. Ayers has a hay ranch on Butter creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brehears had as dinner guests quite recently David Hynd and his sister, Miss Annie, also Miss Nellie Doney, all of Sand Hollow.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Bundy had as guests Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stockard and son Shirley of Hermiston. The guests called last Sunday.

C. Melville was a business visitor in Heppner Saturday.

Dan Lindsay and children Alex and Annie Ree made a business trip to Pendleton Tuesday.

Margaret McDaid of Hermiston, a former Alpine high school pupil, won first prize in the Umattila 4-H club canning contest. It will be remembered that Miss McDaid represented the Alpine sewing club last June and was a club guest at Corvallis. She was also a demonstration contestant and went to Salem with her group.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Klinger made a shopping and business trip to Pendleton Thursday.

Julian Rauch and son Irvin motored to Heppner Saturday.

Bert Mitchell made a business trip to Lexington Saturday.

E. H. Ehsen and John Kilkenny were business visitors in Echo Saturday.

Irl Clary of Stanfield was a guest at the home of Frank Kilkenny Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rauch and children of Pine City were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Rauch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lindsay and children were Sunday afternoon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Conrad of Pine City.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Klinger and children were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Klinger's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Rauch.

Mrs. Irl Clary, principal of the Alpine high school, and Rosella Doherty, the grade school teacher, attended the Rural Teachers meeting held at Cecil Saturday. Among the officers elected for the year, Miss Doherty was elected vice-president, and contrary to the usual thing in this organization the vice-president has the most responsibility, for she plans all the programs for the year, with a different committee assisting for each meeting.

Mrs. Pat Curran and daughter Kathleen were Sunday guests of Mrs. Curran's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Doherty.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ingles, accompanied by the latter's mother, Mrs. Chas. Inderbitzen, of Lexington called at the Alpine teahouse Sunday afternoon to discuss with the Alpine high school principal, Mrs. Irl Clary, the arrangements for teachers' institute which will be held on November 7th, likely.

Miss Mae Doherty of Rhea creek was a week end guest at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Doherty of Juniper canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rauch and children of Lexington were Sunday guests at the home of the former's brother, Julian Rauch.

The next meeting of the Farm Bureau will be held November 5th at which time it will be decided whether money be raised for Christmas by holding a pie social or box social at the December meeting. Everyone is invited to come and help decide. Any contributions to the program will be greatly appreciated by the program committee.

Quite a number of the folks in this community are planning to attend the Stunt Nite program at Heppner on October 26. The money is to be used by the Heppner library, and since this library is for our use also we should make every effort to help. Last year a good many attended the program and thoroughly enjoyed it.

Don't forget the carnival at the Pine City high school on Friday evening, Oct. 28. Plans are about completed and this promises to be of unusual excellence. The former carnivals held at Pine City were well attended and the various attractions offered were thoroughly enjoyed.

General election will be held at the Alpine high school Tuesday, November 8th.

HARDMAN
 Mrs. ELLA FARRENS.
 Mrs. S. Wright, an old time resident of this community now residing at Lexington, spent a few days last week visiting old time friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Samuels returned home from Albee Sunday, where they have been working since last June.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Barnard and daughter Loye, and Marvel Osborn of The Dalles were visiting over the week end with Mrs. Barnard's aged father, B. F. Devore.

Miss Elma McDaniel spent the week end visiting her aunt, Mrs. Elmer McDaniel at her mountain home.

Miss Lily Johnson spent several days last week visiting relatives in Heppner.

Mrs. Chester Saling is making an extended visit with old time friends and relatives in this vicinity from her home at Prairie City.

Dolly Farrens and Loye Johnson visited with Mrs. Dolis Chapel and Lorena Isom at their home in Hood canyon Friday evening.

Duff McKiric is visiting at the J. B. Adams home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Beard and Raymond Blahm were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Johnson and family Sunday.

Mary Saling, Roy and Lester Ashbaugh, Marvin, Jimmy and Herbert McDaniel were among those from this community who attended the Lone Rock dance last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bleakman, son Owen, Mrs. J. W. Stevens, Mrs. Lotus Robison, Mrs. C. H. McDaniel.
