MR. COOLIDGE SPEAKS.

IF INITIATING proposals and securing their adoption constitute leadership President Hoover is a leader. If saving the country from an impending disaster after another provides any basis for gratitude President Hoover is entitled to gratitude.

MR. HOOPER, THE FIGHTER.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT and his adherents may have reckoned wisely, but they did not reckon well in opening up a campaign of vilification against Mr. Hoover and the present administration.

PEOPLE PAY FOR DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN DOPE.

THOSE astute guardians of the national treasury, the democratic party, do not hesitate to use the people's money for spreading campaign literature.

cerpt from the Congressional Record, labeled "not printed at government expense" which was carried without postage in Uncle Sam's mail under the franking privilege of Marvin Jones.

To Dr. A. B. Gray the Gazette Times extends thanks for a copy of his newly-issued "Gray's Lines in Verse." The work is a commendable effort to realize the desire innate in the breast of all mankind—to put into writing his thoughts relative to life.

WHY THE PRESIDENT SHOULD BE ELECTED. THE prize of one hundred dollars, offered by Grenville Kleiser for the best essay on "Why President Hoover Should be Re-elected," has been won by Mr. A. C. Scott, 310 W. 16th Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Following is the winning essay: "If ever a President of the United States deserved re-election on his record, President Hoover deserves re-election; and if ever our country needed the continued services of a President, the United States needs continued services of President Hoover."

"Confronted with greater difficulties than any other President has had to meet in times of peace, if not indeed in times of either war or peace, he has been the outstanding leader in preventing disaster and promoting recovery.

"He closed the door to foreign immigration. He was the leading factor in maintaining wages for eighteen months, thus softening the first blow of the panic. He promoted public and private construction running into hundreds of millions of dollars and employing hundreds of thousands of men.

"Thus, one by one, he dealt with each new crisis. But the measure of his statesmanship was not yet taken. In December, 1931, he laid before the Congress a program of reconstruction and relief so complex, vast, and far-reaching, and in its implications so beneficial to all our people, that it must rank among the greatest achievements of any of our Presidents.

ed firmness and persistence, pushed through Congress, stamping out meanwhile dangerous proposals that beset the way.

"President Hoover has grown in stature with these years until, in the words of the independent Democratic New York Times, he is 'every inch a President.' He is a stronger President than ever before.

"And now, largely through the wisdom, the courage, and the statesmanship of the President, the country seems to have touched the verge of recovery.

Oregon Judging Teams Win High Dairy Honors

Agricultural students at Oregon State college apparently know their cows and their butter, as the judging teams at the Pacific International Livestock exposition in Portland "cleaned up" all competition in these divisions.

The dairy cattle judging team was composed of Harold Finnigan, Forest Grove; Kenneth Carl, Arago, and Donald Sherwood, Nyssa, and coached by Dr. I. R. Jones.

The dairy products judging team consisted of Marvin Davidson, Haynes; Bert O'Donnell, Portland, and Finnegan, who worked on both It won first in butter judging, and Davidson took second individual honors for all products.

Landplaster Applied in Fall. LaGrande—Union county farmers have purchased a carload of landplaster in the fall, says County agent in the spring.

The early Church was against war, but with the conversion of Constantine, it became war minded, later glorying in the bloody Crusades.

ABOUT ASTHMA

The fall season—ragweed—damp weather—asthmatics know and dread its meaning for them. Hence this talk.

Asthmatics can inhale; the trouble is in expelling the air from the lungs. Spasm of the small bronchioles prevents. That's your way of telling if it's real asthma.

When a confirmed asthmatic consults me, I first make sure of the diagnosis.

Then I have the patient make a list of his regular foods; then I require him to abandon every item of it, and eat something else, even if he don't like it.

It is quite possible that he has been eating something that starts the spasmodic attack. Physicians call it "allergy," that is, the reaction of the individual to certain proteins.

Some inhale "asthma powder." It may relieve, but does not cure—but relief is worth something, even by smoking the spasm away.

Antispasmodic agents—medicines—must be selected by your doctor. He no doubt, has something that has served him well, and his judgment is infinitely better than yours.

"Asthma" may come from heart, kidneys, or actual disease of the lung. That is not pure and simple asthma. Treat the cause always.

Hereford—"The ability of created wheat grass to withstand severe pasturing was demonstrated on the dry land grass plots maintained here in cooperation with County Agent Fortner.

"CIRCUIT JUDGE CALVIN L. SWEEK of the Umatilla and Morrow District will run for re-election. He was appointed by Governor Meier to the District Bench.

"His professional standing is high; for years he has been regarded as one of the leading attorneys of his part of the state."
