

Local Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Heliker passed through town Tuesday from a trip into the timber belt where they were looking after their winter's supply of wood. To beat the low price of wheat, Mr. and Mrs. Heliker have for some time been manufacturing a high grade of whole wheat flour at their home, using for this purpose Turkey red wheat. The quality of the product, together with the attractive price at which they sell the production, has created a strong demand for the cereal in their part of the country. Good rains are bringing the fall grain up nicely, Mr. Heliker reporting that he had just finished with the seeding when the heavy rain of Thursday night last came down over the lone wheat belt.

At the Church of Christ this coming Lord's Day, the minister, Joel R. Benton, will present at the morning service in "The Call to the Heights" and in the evening service in "Self Deception," two messages of particular and special interest to everyone, in view of the present stressful times. You are invited to come and hear these messages. The morning service at eleven o'clock and the evening service at seven-thirty.

D. B. Stalter came in from the Greenhorn country Friday and expects to spend the winter here and at Portland. When Mr. Stalter left the mine he traveled through a foot of new snow which had fallen in a storm covering Sunday and Monday. He arrived at Heppner just ahead of the storm of Thursday night, when there was a snow of several inches on the lower reaches of the mountains.

R. B. Rice spent a few hours in Heppner Saturday from the Artesian Well farm. Plenty of rain out that way the past week to bring up the fall sown grain, all of which had to be planted in the dust. Farmers generally believe there is sufficient moisture now to insure the proper start of the wheat before freezing weather sets in.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wilcox and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Denny, were visiting in the city Monday from their farm home southwest of Lexington. Mr. Denny was in the mountains on a hunting trip at the time. Mr. Wilcox reported heavy rains in his section last week and wheat coming along well.

Henry Peterson was in town on Tuesday morning from the Eight Mile farm home. He expressed pleasure over the recent good rains and said that if the price would jump as fast as the growing crop he would be tickled, indeed.

Geo. Ely, manager of Jordan Elevator company, and Lon McCabe, farmer of that section, were visitors in the city Monday. Good rains prevailed in the lower Rhea creek section the end of the week.

L. A. Florence reports quite a bit of moisture up Willow creek during the past week, all of which is beneficial to range conditions. He was looking after affairs in the city Tuesday.

Eddie and Carl Roth of Salem, brothers of Mrs. Russell E. Pratt, and Miss Ellen Hemmingway of Portland, visited over Sunday at the Pratt home in this city.

"Never trouble another for what you can do yourself."—Jefferson.
 To be more independent should be the aim of high school students. Some of us, seemingly, can be compared to the sponge, a parasite which depends upon the aid of other sources for its living without any exertion on its own part. Pupils should do their own work without "sponging off" others for their lessons and assignments. No one likes to be bothered doing others' work, as well as his own.
 Students should pay strict attention to the assignments given in order to avoid troubling others. The habit of attentive interest will please the teachers, and will make your work easier. Independence benefits others as well as yourself. Let us all cultivate independence.

Another Victory Scored.

Heppner, handicapped by injuries received in the Pendleton game, trampled Hermiston griders Friday afternoon on Rodeo field 6-0. The fighting Irish showed their superiority in the first few innings of play, crashing Hermiston's line for constant gains to the twenty yard line. Hermiston then received the ball on downs and punted to the center of the field where it kept changing from one team to the other until the second quarter.
 In the next quarter Hermiston started a drive which placed the ball on the one-yard line. Hermiston lost the ball on downs fifteen yards from their objective after having been thrown for several losses. Heppner took the ball to its own forty-yard line. Failing to gain further they punted to Hermiston's thirty. The opponents tried two futile line smashes and then punted; C. Thomson made a splendid catch on his own thirty-five yard line and raced untouched to the goal line. Furlong's try for point through the center of the fighting line failed.
 In the third quarter neither team was able to keep up a sustained drive for a score.
 The fourth quarter was played between the forty-yard markers. Heppner, although having possession of the ball most of the time, was unable to score.
 Jim Furlong, fullback, was a consistent ground gainer, and Lyle Cowdrey, center, stopped a good share of Hermiston's plays.

Play Cast Announced

The junior play was selected last week and the cast was chosen by Miss Straughan and Mr. Bloom. The title of the play is "Seventeen," taken from the novel written by Booth Tarkington. It is the tragedy of William Sylvania Baxter, that he has ceased to be sixteen and is not yet eighteen.
 The characters of the play are the following: Lola Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter, Billy Bill Baxter, Jane Baxter, and the colored servant, Genesis, Mr. Parsher and his daughter May; and the young people's friends, Johnnie Watson, Geo.

Cooper, Wallie Banks, Ethel Boka, Mary Brooks and Joe Bullitt.
 The people who will be in the cast are Lora Gilman, Anabel Turner, Miriam Moyer, Rachel Anglin, Florence Moyer, Marie Scrivner, Anson Rugg, Harold Ayers, Claire Phelan, Frank Anderson, Francis Nickerson, Matt Kenny, Billy Thomson and Armin Wihlon.
 The latter part of November has been chosen for the time to present the play but no definite date has been set.
 The cast will start rehearsing next week.

Home Economics Club Organized

The high school home economics girls have organized a club which will be affiliated with the national home economics organization. This national organization has been prominent for several years.
 The purpose of these home economics clubs that are scattered thru the United States is: first, personal aim, under which comes self-improvement, and making new friends through club contacts; second, service to high school and community; third, development of leadership; fourth, to develop appreciation in the field of home economics.
 The Heppner club held a meeting last Thursday and elected the following officers: president, Viola Brown; vice-president, Edna Jones; news reporter, Anabel Turner; secretary, Della Ulrich; treasurer, Beth Wright; song leader, Anabel Turner.
 A committee consisting of Lydia Ulrich, chairman, Ethel Hughes, Anabel Turner and Edna Jones was appointed to draw up a constitution. The aim of the committee will be to study other constitutions and make one that will set forth the policy of the club and contain all necessary provisions.
 The members decided to hold two meetings a month, on the first and third Tuesdays. The first, a business meeting, will be held at 3:30 o'clock in the Domestic Art room, while the social meeting on the third Tuesday will be held at different homes in the evening.
 Although the program for the year has not been decided upon, some of the activities which are under consideration are the following: assembly programs, dinners, teas, etc.
 The date of the initiation of the club is uncertain since news has not yet been received from the Pendleton organization which has been asked to initiate the Heppner club.

New Games Started

The boys' and girls' baseball tournament is finished. The boys are starting touch football and the girls basketball. A point system is used in these games and the winning team will receive a banner with an adequate inscription.
 Points earned at baseball: Trojans 32, Shamrocks 32, Yanks 14, Red Devils 14, Shooting Stars 10, Wild Cats 10, Beavers 9, Cougars 3.

Editor Selects New Staff

The staff, composed of English V students, was changed this week as it was the beginning of a new six weeks. By changing the staff at six weeks' intervals, all the students will have opportunity of becoming official news reporters.
 The staff of each period is made up of new members with the exception of the editor who was assistant editor for the past six weeks.

Committee Is Active

Plans for organizing a booster club and revising the school yells are being worked on by a committee appointed by the student body president, June Anderson. This committee consists of Hazel Beymer, Frances Rugg, Francis Nickerson, Beatrice Thomson and Margaret Nelson. Their advisor is Miss Coppock.

Pep Meeting Held

A pep meeting, led by Hazel Bey-mer and Francis Nickerson, was held in the study hall last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Bloom and Mr. Mahee each gave a short time to discuss having a street pep rally that evening. The student body voted to have a rally on the street the Thursday evening preceding the Heppner-Ione game.

Class Notes

As one of its assignments, the foods class decorated a window at Huston's grocery store last Thursday.

The home economics girls were excused from classes after two o'clock Monday to attend a cooking school held at the Star theater.

Buddy Batty, a new student who enrolled in the high school as a sophomore the first of the year, has moved to Klamath Falls where he will attend school. Buddy was sergeant-at-arms of his class.

Grade News

The Junior Red Cross has chosen every Tuesday for its meetings. The Christmas boxes which arrived recently were discussed and it was decided these should be filled and sent to either Alaska or Hawaii.

The young designers of the third grade carved several interesting objects from soap last Friday afternoon. At present these are on display in the third grade room.

The industrious third graders have been making bean bags at home. These are being brought to school this week.

This is an example of the limericks written by the sixth grade:

There was a young ghost from Ealing
 Who wanted to go out a-squealing.

He picked up his sheet
 And jumped to his feet
 And then went to sleep on the ceiling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gerard have moved into the Henry Rauch house which he purchased some time ago. In the past the young couple have been making their home with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gerard.

A number of the Alpine people are planning on attending the carnival at Pine City next Friday.

Miss Gertrude E. Tichenor motored to Echo and Hermiston on a shopping tour last Monday morning.

C. Melville has started to the mountains to bring in the winter's supply of wood. He is being assisted by his son-in-law, Glen Sherer of Heppner, and Harry Munkers of Heppner.

A number of the folks in this community are enjoying the vocal selections given by Laurel Beach over radio station KGW at Portland.

Mrs. Skjold—What on earth are you applauding that last singer for? I think she was terrible.

Mrs. Bjorn—I know, but I like the gown she is wearing and I want to get another look at it.

Theo Anderson was a visitor here Saturday from his Eight Mile farm.

HE MADE GOOD ON HIS PROMISES

Four years ago Herbert Hoover promised to work for agricultural relief and provide a farm cooperative marketing organization that would enable the farmers to market their own production.

That promise was kept and today there are thousands of farm cooperatives functioning successfully, and from which the farmer is profiting and will continue to profit much more in the future.

He promised tariff protection for farm products and kept that promise and the farmer is receiving from eight to eighteen cents a bushel more for wheat of the same grade than are the neighboring farmers across the Canadian border. That applies also to corn, to live stock and other farm products. While American prices are too low they are higher than the prices on the same products in any other exporting country.

He promised protection for American industry and American wage-earners, and he kept that promise when he secured the passage of reasonable tariff schedules that are not exorbitant but prevent the dumping of merchandise made by cheap labor in impoverished Europe.

He promised reduction in the general operating costs of government. While extraordinary conditions have called for extraordinary expenditures to meet them, the regular operating costs have been reduced by half a billion dollars a year. He did that despite the continued opposition of a Democratic House of Representatives led by Democratic Vice-Presidential Candidate Garner.

He has continuously requested the Congress for authority to work out a reorganization of governmental departments, the elimination of those not essential to the welfare of the people, or that duplicate the work of other departments. A Democratic House of Representatives, led by Democratic Vice-Presidential Candidate Garner, has persistently refused such authority.

President Hoover has kept every promise he made the American people when he received their votes four years ago, and—

In addition to keeping his promises he has supplied a superb leadership for the nation during the most serious financial and industrial depression since the close of the Civil war; has met the situation squarely; has planned boldly but wisely for national recovery, and has set us again on a safe road to better conditions.

Knowing the re-election of Herbert Hoover means better prices for farm products, more jobs for the unemployed, less cost of government, quicker financial and industrial recovery, we urge the people of this community to cast their votes for a proven leader—
