LET'S COUNT THE BLESSINGS.

THE institution of our American Thanksgiving Day dates back almost to the beginnings of the settlement of North America by newcomers from Europe.

All of the New England colonies and some of the others continued this custom of an annual day of thanksgiving, and in his first year as the first President of the United States of America George Washington himself made Thanksgiving Day a national feast by proclaiming Thursday, November 26, 1789, as the day for its celebration.

"You say he's a hold-up man and still his business is legitimate?" "Oh, sure—he's a button manufacturer."

That, it seems to us, is sufficient reason why Thanksgiving Day this year should be more than a mere holiday, why it should be a day upon which every American should actually give thanks to the God he worships for having led us safely through the sloughs of despond to the verge of the promised land again.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Charles E. Dunn, D. D. Stewardship of Life. Lesson for November 27th. Acts 26:12-19.

Golden Text: II Corinthians 8:5. The Bible is the story of men who, in response to a divine call, gave themselves to God. Abraham was called to enlarge his horizons, "and he went out, not knowing whither he went."

To that heavenly vision, as he told King Agrippa, he was not obedient, giving himself, with unwearied devotion to the gospel ministry. Though bow-legged, round-shouldered and bald, with a hook-nose, and a painful infirmity, possibly epilepsy, he accomplished, through God's grace, a prodigious work.

In our Golden Text Paul praises the Macedonian Churches because "they gave their own selves to the Lord." They donated money for the relief of the poor in Jerusalem.

CONVENTION OF CHAMPION BOYS AND GIRLS.

THE very pick of the finest specimens of the best products of farms of America are gathered in Chicago this week. We do not refer particularly to the magnificent specimens of horses, cattle, sheep and swine which are competing for blue ribbons at the International Live Stock Exposition which opens on November 28th and continues until December 3rd.

These boys and girls chosen for the annual 4-H Congress by a process of elimination are the finest specimens of American youth which their respective states have produced. They are the hope of our nation's future.

These young state champions assembled at Chicago have already learned how to get the greatest amount of happiness and satisfaction out of life on the farm.

Canyon City—Grant county farmers are so "sold" on the possibilities of crested wheat grass for producing dryland pasture, that 600 pounds of seed have been purchased through County Agent Johnson for sowing next spring.

For Sale—Bourbon Red turkey hens $3, toms $5 until Dec. 1; from blue ribbon stock. Ralph Butler, Willows, lives at Ewing. 36-37.

Bruce Barton writes of "The Master Executive"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows"

Strength, Assurance, Calm

More than once in his journeys Jesus had passed the victims of the justice of that day, writhing, tortured beings nailed to crosses, and waiting piteously for release. Sometimes they waited for days before the end. The memory of such sights must have been constantly with him; at every sunset he was conscious that he had walked just one day nearer to his own ordeal.

Yet Jesus never faltered. Calmly, cheerfully he went forward, cheering the spirits of his disciples, and striking those fiery blows against hypocrisy and oppression which were to be echoed by the hammer blows upon his cross. And when the soldiers came to arrest him, they found him ready and still calm.

His accusers were determined. They thronged the courtyard before the palace, clamoring for his blood, yet even they felt a momentary awe when he appeared before them on the balcony.

Even Pilate felt it. The two men offered a strange contrast standing there—the Roman governor whose lips were so soon to speak the sentence of death, and the silent, self-possessed ex-carpenter—accused and doomed—yet bearing himself with so much majesty, as though he were somehow beyond the reach of man-made law, and safe from the hurt of its penalties.

In the face of the Roman were deep unpleasant lines; his cheeks were fatty with self-indulgence; he had the colorless look of indoor living. The straight young man stood inches above him, bronzed and hard, and clean as the air of his loved mountain and lake.

Pilate raised his hand; the shouting and tumult died; a deathly stillness descended upon the crowd. He turned and faced the figure at his side, and from his coarse lips there burst a sentence which is a truer portrait than any painter has ever given us. The involuntary testimony of the flabby cynical Roman in the presence of perfect strength, perfect assurance, perfect calm: "Behold," he cried, "the man!"

Hermiston Cooperative Center.

Hermiston—That this community furnishes the best example in this state of cooperative enterprises for both farm and home, is the belief expressed by Paul V. Maris, director of extension at Oregon State college, who was here recently studying the various projects under way. Hermiston has a cooperative creamery organized a year ago which has since wiped out a $6000 debt and returned its members a premium of a cent per pound of butterfat over quoted prices. This community has a turkey growers cooperative, affiliated with the state and regional organization, which last year handled about 20,000 birds for 195 local growers. Purchasing cooperatives include the farm bureau organization which handles feeds for poultrymen and dairymen, and a grange cooperative which handles fuel and other bulk supplies for farmers. Even the women are working cooperatively, as a cooperative laundry is maintained where anyone may use mechanical equipment for 35c for two full hours, while next door is a cooperative home cannery where housewives take their produce, prepare them and fill the cans to have them put through cooker and sealer at a cost of 2 1/2 cents per can.
