Editorial

A great deal of consternation has been caused over the present Hoover-Roosevelt tactics. People are very pleased with the splendid cooperation Hoover and Roosevelt are displaying, and they feel that the men are commendable for the relief they are trying to bring to those who are in utter despair from the "depression."

Class Notes

The Domestic Art classes are making articles to be given away for Christmas presents. Each member is to make three presents to be given to anyone she chooses. The students are following examples given on the bulletin board in the science room.

Christmas Cantata to be Given

A Christmas cantata will be given by the grade school in the gym December 18. The cantata, "There Was One Who Gave a Lamb," by Annette Mason Ham will be directed by Miss Woods, music teacher. The play consists of a chorus of angels of thirty members. The leading characters are Alice Latourell, Dean Goodman, Scott McMurdo, Richard Ferguson, Louise Anderson and Lois Jones. The public is invited to attend.

Home Ec. Club Has Party

The high school Home Ec. club gave a Thanksgiving party last Friday at Miss Palmiter's in the home of Mrs. E. R. Huston. New and interesting games were introduced by Hazel Beymer. The prizes for these games were won by Lydia Ulrich for a turkey throw, Gladys Cason for pinning of pumpkin pie, and Anabel Turner for knowing the most advertisements. Pumpkin pasty pies and spiced hot cider were served.

Can You Blow?

Can you blow soap bubbles? Can you blow soap bubbles larger than Francis of Florence? Can you make soap bubbles remain in the air for five minutes? Ye Boosters are hereby invited to a Soap Bubble Blow Out. Saturday, December third, at 7:30 P. M., high school. Bring a straw, spool or other blower, lots of pep and a longing for food.

Grade News

Lucille Barlow has returned to school after being absent with the flu for two weeks. Mrs. Gerald Slocum is teaching the seventh grade due to the absence of Miss Leathers, who is ill in Portland. Douglas Drake, a student of the fourth grade, made a merry-go-round and six small animals. This merry-go-round is turned by a spool and string. The entire class intends to work on this project and have it completed next week.

Did You Ever—

See Miss Woods with short hair? Find Miriam Moyer on time? See Doris Allstott when she wasn't talking? See Miss Coppock swallowing uneasily? See Mr. Lumley in assembly on time? See Ruth Furlong, Curtis Thomson and Lyle Cowdrey in assembly at the same time? Let's hope you don't. See Marie Scrivner and Miss Straughan talking amiably to each other? See Francis Nickerson sit quietly during a discussion in American History? See Laura Gilman unmercifully talking Beulah Eskelson's baby talk? See Joe Green with bobby pins in his hair? See Claire Phelan laboring over English in class? See John Glavey and Anabel Turner walking down the street together?

Exemptions to be Granted

Mr. Bloom announced Wednesday morning a new plan of exemptions for semester examinations this year. Exemptions will be given to all students receiving an average grade of three or over providing his department is satisfactory. This plan has been carried out in other schools and found to be quite practical.

Debating Introduced Again

The state income tax question will be the subject of an inter-class debate to be held some time during the month of January. From the freshman class Donald Turner and Dick Benton will debate against the sophomores Joe Green and Irene Kilkenny. Juniors Bill Thomson, Francis Nickerson and Armin Whilom will meet seniors Winifred Case and Ted McMurdo.

Basketball Practice Begins

First official basketball practice was held Monday at four o'clock. In order that the players can be handled the squad has been limited to twenty this year. Returning from last year's squad are: Harold Ayers, Jimmy Furlong, Bill Beckett, Herman Green, Tom Hotman and Claire Phelan. Curtis Thomson and Roy Gentry haven't turned out yet on account of injuries but probably will be out to practice before long. Ralph Forgey is the only man lost from last year's squad. Members of the squad so far are Claire Phelan, Bill Beckett, Howard Bryant and Fred Hoskins, guards; Jim Furlong, Tom Hotman, Paul Phelan, Howard Furlong, Joe Green, William McRoberts, Jimmie Farley and Billy Thomson, forwards; Harold Ayers and Herman Green, centers.

Students Change Personalities

Can't you see Lora Gilman as the baby doll, Lola Pratt? "Well, I like Bruvva Josie-Joe muchums, and I like ickle-boy-Baxter muchums, and I'm afraid to like Johnny-Jump-Up too muchums, 'cause he love Maysie-Maysie!" says Lola. Can you imagine Marie Scrivner as the dignified mother of Jane Baxter, (Anabel Turner?) Jane, who likes bread and butter and applesauce.

Or perhaps Anson Rugg, William Sylvanus Baxter, in his first dress suit? Come and see the handsome Matt Kenny on the stage as Wallie Banks. See these characters and equally funny ones in the junior class play, "Seventeen," to be given December 15.

H Club to Put on Benefit

The H club of Heppner high is planning to put on a benefit which is to come off the sixteenth of December. Coach Mabee is working with the wrestlers showing them some very effective and spectacular holds.

Again We Have a New Staff

A new high school newspaper staff has been appointed to write the news for the coming six weeks. The new staff editor is Anabel Turner; assistant editor, Ralph Brecken. The issue for this week was written by the new staff with the help of the old one.

Personals

Miss Woods, the music teacher, had her long black hair done up in a knot on the back of her head last week. But she doesn't any more, because she has turned modernistic and had her hair bobbed. She says that it is much better this way, and is not so much work in the morning when she is in a hurry to get to school. Some pupils say, "I don't think she looks natural, do you?" and others add, "I like it." Miss Coppock was absent from school Wednesday, having her tonsils removed. She recovered nicely and was able to be back to school Monday. Introducing Miss Katharine Kelly, a new member of the frosh class who entered school Monday from Forest Grove. Her father will operate the meat market formerly owned by Mr. Schwarz. Mr. and Mrs. Bloom motored to Spokane Thanksgiving vacation where they visited his parents. Mr. Bloom reports a very enjoyable trip. Road conditions were bad because of the fog.

CARE OF THE AGED

At this writing I have eight people under my care who are over eighty years of age—six men and two women. All but two of them are on foot; one woman has had a "stroke" but can get about and help herself. She is 85. The other is just past eighty, and has a sprained hip, using crutches to go about her house. One old man, 88, is a veteran of the civil war; another will be 88 at his next birthday. It is interesting to watch these old boys and girls, who have somehow come mighty close to living the right way, else they could not have achieved all these years with such success; I meet many of half their ages who really complain more than they do. And they know just a little more about what is good for them to eat than I do. I never put them on a diet, except to ask them to eat what "agrees" with them. If I caught one old fellow eating salted peanuts and topping off with ice cream, I would not stop him. If one has diabetes, I do not by any means cut off a reasonable amount of sugar from his dietary. I have always been a stickler for letting well enough alone. One of them—just went out my door this moment—has a leg ulcer. I keep DRY dressings applied while it heals nicely. He laughs over the situation, not at all like a much younger man would do. And, my old people are so appreciative; they make one love them. They have lived all these years, I have no doubt, on that very principle. The fellow who is eternally finding fault is in a poor way to live out a long and beautiful existence, because he burns up the good within him. We younger ones may learn from this.

Turkeys End Thistle Menace

Silverton—A unique but apparently effective method of eradicating Canada thistles has been developed here by Mrs. W. L. Dunagan who first plants corn over the thistle patch and then turns turkeys in it late in the summer. The thistles are cut off twice late in the summer, then when the turkeys go in they nip off every weed shoot as it emerges from the ground. The method was reported to G. R. Hyslop, head of farm crops at Oregon State college, who says it holds interesting possibilities as a variation of the clean cultivation method of eradication.

Local Happenings

A reunion of Morrow county and outside relatives was enjoyed Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baldwin of this city, who had as their guests Mrs. Wm. Budden and daughter, Melva, of Boise, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lunsford of Kelso, Wash.; Mrs. Winola Williams of Longview, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Miller and Mrs. Andrew Reaney of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Parker and the Misses Gladys Reaney and Olivia Baldwin. The outside folks arrived in the county the first of the week for a few days visit with relatives and friends here.

Maurice Smead of Portland and Mrs. Wm. E. Piper of Marshfield enjoyed Thanksgiving turkey at the parental home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smead in this city. Mr. Smead the younger returned to Portland Saturday to resume his duties as district manager of a life insurance company, while Mrs. Piper, formerly Mrs. Chas. Curtis, remained for a longer visit. Both enjoyed greeting many old-time friends.

Miss Charlotte Woods and Miss Juanita Leathers, local teachers, spent Thanksgiving at their respective homes at Sheridan and Vancouver, Wash., going down on the stage Wednesday night. Mrs. Adelyn O'Shea, Miss Miriam McDonald and Miss Dorothy Straughan were other teachers who spent Thanksgiving at their outside homes, Elensburg, Wash., Spokane and Athena, respectively.

J. A. Troedson of Morgan says people of that vicinity enjoyed a wonderful community Thanksgiving dinner with absolutely no sign of depression as forty or more people sat down to the turkey, chicken, duck and all the fixings, ate their fill and left enough to feed as many more, at 1 o'clock Thanksgiving day. "Al" had sufficiently recovered to make a visit to the county seat the next day.

Fletcher's Round-Up orchestra of Pendleton will furnish music for a dance at Leach hall, Lexington, Saturday night, announces F. E. Barker, manager. The queen contest that has been running for several weeks still continues, he says. Howard Lane and Mrs. Goldie Leathers are reported to have won the prize waltz at the Thanksgiving ball.

News of gesse landing in the wheat fields southeast of Ione was the inspiration of a hunt for a number of local sportsmen Tuesday morning which resulted in the bagging of seven large honkers. Included in the party were D. A. Wilson, Russell Pratt, Gene Ferguson, W. E. Francis, C. J. D. Bauman and Dr. A. D. McMurdo.

Miss Dorothy Herren completed her graduate course in nursing at Los Angeles General hospital last week when graduating exercises were held, according to word received by her mother, Mrs. L. G. Herren of this city. Mrs. Herren expects her daughter will return to Heppner in a short time.

Miss Madge Coppock, commercial teacher in the local high school, underwent a tonsilectomy last week, preventing her from taking advantage of the holidays to spend Thanksgiving at home. She was sufficiently recovered to return to her local home the end of the week.
