

Local Happenings

IN THE WEEK'S NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crawford of Shedd, Oregon, were visitors here over Monday and Tuesday, being guests at the homes of Mrs. Frank S. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Vawter Crawford. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford was an event of Sunday morning at Shedd, and they are spending a week of honeymooning in eastern Oregon and Washington. They departed Wednesday for Waitsburg, where other relatives of Mr. Crawford reside. He is a cousin of Mrs. Parker and V. Crawford.

Jessie O. Turner left for Salem early Monday morning and will be a resident of the capitol city for the next six weeks or two months while serving as representative in the legislature from Morrow county—with Gilliam, Wheeler and Sherman making up his district. Jap Crawford went along with him and will gather in some experience as a reporter of proceedings at the state house while the special and regular sessions are on.

Henry Smouse reports that he has been quite busy reseeded at his farm in the Ione section. The Arco wheat seemed to be all killed, and this has been reseeded, and while the Turkey Red seems to be coming through, much of it is undoubtedly killed, and Mr. Smouse has gone over some 250 acres of his field with new grain. Conditions for seeding are ideal right now, Mr. Smouse states. He was a visitor here yesterday afternoon.

Clifford Simms of Freewater and Homer Watts, attorney of Athena, were visitors in Heppner Saturday, coming over to attend a meeting of the customers of the Heppner Farmers Elevator company, reported to have been called for the purpose of instituting proceeding in court for the recovery of missing wheat. Definite action in this regard was not taken at this meeting, so this paper has been informed.

This paper was in error last week regarding the nativity of John Skuzeski, who was made a citizen of the United States in examination before Judge Parker in circuit court. The paper had Mr. Skuzeski a native of Russia, whereas, it should have been Poland. He was born at Krakow, near the city of Warsaw in Poland, and we are glad to make this correction on behalf of Mr. Skuzeski.

John McEntire and Robert Partlow were Boardman citizens in Heppner for a few hours Saturday. They came to the city on matters of business and report that the milder weather conditions prevailing over the north end of the county are appreciated. Up to date there is a lack of moisture and a big snow would do much good.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Bloom returned Friday from Portland, having spent a few days in the city attending the State Teachers association meeting. All teachers returned from their vacations the end of the week and were ready for duty at the opening of school Tuesday morning.

Jason Eddle was looking after business affairs here Saturday from the farm on Rhea creek. But little rain out that way so far this winter, and the recent hard freeze has apparently done damage to the grain that was coming along well before the sub-zero weather hit it.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wilcox were visitors here Saturday from the farm west of Lexington. Damage was done their wheat by the recent cold snap, and the excessive winds since have not improved the situation as to the crop outlook, much moisture being blown away.

Miss Margaret Notson returned to Salem Sunday night and will resume her work as a student in Willamette university. She spent the vacation season here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Notson.

Mrs. Frank Moyer was called to Oregon City the first of the week by the very serious illness of her mother. She was taken down by J. O. Turner who was on his way to Salem.

Sheriff Bauman departed for Salem Tuesday morning, having in charge Chas. Swindig, recently sentenced to the penitentiary on his plea of guilty to the charge of forgery.

Vawter Parker, student in law at the university, departed Sunday night for Eugene after spending the vacation season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert French of Gurdane were visitors in Heppner Tuesday. It is somewhat winterish in the upper Butter creek country with some snow on the foothills.

Miss LaVelle White, daughter of Rev. Glen P. White, returned to Seattle the first of the week to resume her work in college.

For Rent—Farm on Skinner creek; 4000 a.; 300 acres plow land, 30 acres alfalfa. Mrs. Ellen Buselek Schwartz, Heppner, Ore.

Frank Turner motored to Eugene Monday, taking his daughter Jeanette to the university where she will continue her studies.

Calvin L. Sweek, accompanied by his son Jack, was a visitor in this city Saturday from his home at Pendleton.

Harlan McCurdy, sheepman of Ione, was looking after matters of business in Heppner Saturday.

See our adv. for Permanent Wave specials. Coxen & Chapin, phone 1112.

J. B. Carmichael of Lexington was a visitor in Heppner Saturday.

Returning to their school work Monday were Earl Thomson, son of Chas. Thomson, University of Oregon. Stephen Thompson and Roberta Thompson, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, the former going to Oregon State college at Corvallis and the latter to St. Mary's academy in Portland. They were passengers in the car of F. W. Turner.

Duart wave, $3.50. We were selling this for $4.50. Coxen & Chapin, phone 1112.

Rev. Robert Brymer, evangelist of the Methodist church who has been spending the past two months in this city, departed Tuesday for Portland. He was a passenger as far as his home city in the car of Sheriff Bauman. Miss La Velle White also rode that far with Mr. Bauman, being on her way to Seattle.

Raymond Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kelly, was recently honored because of his exceptional work as an extension student of World Wide Schools of Berkeley, Calif., and has had his name placed on the national honor roll of this institution.

If you want to wear the latest and smartest styles, wear a Katherine Harford frock. Low in price, high in quality. See Mrs. A. R. Reid, representative for Harford Frocks, Inc., of New York.

Miss Theresa Breslin returned to Eugene the first of the week to take up her studies at the University of Oregon. She spent the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Breslin, in this city.

Gay Anderson, Jr., who is attending Oregon Institute of Technology in Portland, returned to the city Monday. He spent the holiday season with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson.

Theodore Thomson and Gordon Bucknum, two young men of this city, returned the first of the week to resume their studies at Eastern Normal school, La Grande.

Ambrose Chapin and family returned Monday from Portland. They spent Christmas holiday week visiting with relatives in the city, enjoying a fine vacation.

E. D. Piercey and family of The Dalles visited with friends in this city over the week end, being guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gilliam.

Bob Dilley, representing Snyder-Creelius Paper company of Walla Walla, was calling on the trade here Tuesday.

Miss Phyllis Pollock, daughter of Mrs. Glenn Jones, returned to Portland Monday to resume her work as a student in Reed college.

You will be satisfied with our Oil of Orchidene wave, $4.95. Soft and natural. Coxen & Chapin, phone 1112.

HARDMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson were recently married at the home of the bride in Portland arrived here Monday from their honeymoon. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Miss Marjorie Montgomery and is the primary teacher here. Bill is a home town boy and a graduate of the Hardman high school with the class of 1930. Congratulations are extended to the happy couple.

Ed Moreland and daughter Jessie who have been residing here the last year returned to their former home at Everett, Wash., accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bleakman who spent their Christmas vacation here.

Misses Edith and Alta Stevens entertained a number of friends at a party last Sunday evening. Present were Muri Farrens, Mrs. Ethel McDaniel and children and Mrs. Kinnard McDaniel and children. Everyone reports a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. Lotus Robison and son Richard spent the holidays at their mountain ranch in the Burton Valley district.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Farrens were attending to matters of business here one day last week.

The pageant and services held at the church last Sunday evening were well attended and very much appreciated by townspeople. Santa Claus was present and treated everyone to candy. Miss Peterson made several awards for perfect attendance in the church school, and presented honorable mention to many. The recipients were Jean Leathers, Annie Johnson, Nona and Francis Inskip, Dolly and Lucille Farrens and Lois Stevens.

LaVerne and Vester Hams spent a few days of the Christmas vacation at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk. The dance given by the Rebekahs of the local lodge was attended by most of the home folks and a general good time is reported.

Mrs. George Samuels has been ill at her home the last week but is much improved now.

Francis Rugg visited friends here during the holidays.

Connie Mack at 70

Cornelius McGillicuddy . . . better known as the beloved Connie Mack, boss baseball man of the Philadelphia Athletics and dean of the great American game, looks hopefully toward winning his 10th pennant in 1933, as he turned the 70 mark in birthdays on December 23.

Frances Hooked 'Em

Eighteen fish in thirty minutes was the record of Miss Frances Hauser at Harnosa Beach, Calif., to win the annual municipal award, a contest staged yearly at the famous fishing resort.

A Roosevelt Aide

Stephen T. Early, former Washington newspaper correspondent, has been named as White House secretary to President-elect Roosevelt. He will be associated with Louis Howe and Marvin H. McIntyre on the "inner circle" of the Roosevelt staff.

Famed Spy Quits

Narrowly avoiding death in many close calls in her work as international spy on the staff of the British, Carla Jensen retires after 12 years, her identity becoming known, and now turns to the American movies.

Daddy of Beer Bill

Congressman James W. Collier, D. of Mississippi, who as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, is daddy of the beer bill over which Congress is now battling.

Reported Bride

Miss Winifred Beatrice Mann former London shop girl, is reported wed to the son of Bernard M. Baruch well known American banker, the ceremony taking place at Geneva.

Weather . . . just the same

One of the commonest remarks when we have had two or three mild winters in succession is that "We don't have the old-fashioned winters with lots of snow and the pond frozen for skating from Thanksgiving to Easter, like we used to."

Then along comes a "real old-fashioned winter" such as the present one promises to be, to confute the grumblers.

The fault is with human memory. Weather Bureau records prove that there has been no perceptible change in the average annual temperature or snow fall in the United States in the 52 years since records began to be kept. There have been as many "hard" winters as mild ones. But as human beings get older they remember vividly the unusual happenings of their childhood and think of them as the regular occurrences.

I have forgotten all about the heavy snowfall in New England on Thanksgiving Day, 1876, but I vividly remember that on New Year's Day, 1877, a few weeks later, the snow had melted and the road had thawed and it took our old mare "Jessie" all day to draw a side-bar buggy ten miles to town, through hub-deep mud, under a sweltering sun.

Fifty years from now the children of today will be complaining that the winters aren't what they used to be; but it will be their memories, not the weather, that has changed.

Relief . . . from cares

I had a half-hour alone with President Hoover in the White House the other day. It is against the rules to quote what the President says in such conversations, but I violate no confidence in reporting that he looks, acts and talks like a boy approaching his school vacation. He is looking forward with eagerness to being relieved from the most onerous job in the world. In this respect he is much like other men who have been President. Some may not have been so frank about it, but no man ever laid down the reins of that office without being glad he was well rid of the job, and wondering why he ever thought he wanted it, in the first place.

Mr. Hoover, I am privileged to report, will not do any of the things which his friends have suggested for him to do when he leaves the White House. To use his own word, he proposes to "hibernate" for a year, where nobody whom he does not want to see can find him, and where he can do exactly what he pleases. After that, nobody knows, least of all Herbert Hoover. I venture the guess that a book will come out of that "hibernation," since French Strother, the President's literary secretary, expects to accompany his chief into the solitudes.

Singers . . . we have them

It is still the fashion in "cultured" circles to sneer at American musicians and to prefer the imported article. That is nonsense in the country that produced Lillian Nordica, Lawrence Tibbets, Madam Albani and so many other great singers.

In Italy they do not scoff at native music, but applaud and take pride in their singers, composers and performers. Maybe that is why they develop so many first-raters for export to America. On my recent visit to Italy the home of Toscanini, the great conductor of the Metropolitan Opera, was pointed out to me in Milan. When he is at home he practices on the piano from five to ten every morning, my guide told me, and crowds stand in the street to listen!

Wandering around Florence alone one night I stumbled upon a theater, named for Italy's great composer, Verdi, whose music will be played as long as humans have ears. On the ship returning I had for a traveling companion Scotti, the famous baritone, travelling eight thousand miles to sing just one night in New York before he retires. Even a singer must quit at sixty-seven. But in his native Naples they were already preparing for a great civic fete to honor the singer on his return from America.

I want to see some city in America do something like that for some great American singer.

Contentment . . . in a taxi

Not everybody is dissatisfied. The most contented man I have encountered recently is a Washington taxi-cab driver. Washington has a fixed rate of twenty cents for all taxi rides within the city limits, whatever the distance. The result is that everybody uses taxis. This young man owned a small sedan when he lost his job, and took out a taxi license.

"I wouldn't go back to working for a boss for anything," he told me, as we drove down Pennsylvania Avenue. "I make forty to forty-five dollars a week clear above the cost of gas, oil and tires, and don't work Saturdays. The poorest day I've had in weeks I made five dollars, and when we had three days of snow I averaged fifteen dollars net a day.

If there are enough young men with that spirit left there isn't anything to worry about so far as the future of the country is concerned.

The Woman's Study club will meet next Monday evening, Jan. 9, at the home of Mrs. Frank Turner. The program will be devoted to a study of Australia and New Zealand, with roll call topics based on these countries.
