Howell's family from Ione, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Phelps and daughter Juanita, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Blakely and two children, Puddy and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. George McDuffee, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Ayers and son Harold and Mrs. Sadie Sigbee, all from Heppner. The time was spent in dancing and playing cards. In 500 Mrs. Ayers won high honors at Harold Ayers consolation. Refreshments were served and at the stroke of twelve, the party, with much din and merriment bid good-by to the old year and welcomed the new.

Miss Margaret Ely entertained on Wednesday evening of last week honoring her house guest, Miss Barbara Powers of Monmouth. Besides the honor's grandmother, Mrs. present were Miss Eva Swanson, Miss Maxine McCurdy, Miss Miriam Hale, Miss Helen Grabill, Miss Margaret Crawford, Miss Mildred Lundell and Miss Harriet Heliker. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served. Miss Powers departed Saturday for her home in Monmouth.

Twenty-three neighbors and friends began the new year in a friendly way by eating dinner together Monday at the Morgan Odd Fellows hall. Those present say it was indeed a feast, with no sign of the depression so much talked about.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baldwin and Donald at New Year's dinner with Mr. Baldwin's mother, Mrs. Margaret Reaney, at her Lexington home. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Art Parker of Heppner.

The members of the graduating class of 1931 of Ione high held their annual class reunion at the Alfred Nelson country home Thursday evening, December 29. The nine members of the class present were Gladys Brashers, Helen Smouse, Veda Eubanks, Margaret Crawford, Norman Nelson, Norman Swanson, Dorr Mason, Irvin Ritchie and Milton Morgan. Invited guests included Ramoka Kamkoff, Ellen and Clara Nelson, Claud Brashers, Paul Smouse and Freddie Nelson. Games, cards and dancing were enjoyed. The newly elected officers are: Helen Smouse, president; Gladys Brashers, vice-president; Margaret Crawford, secretary-treasurer. The committee to arrange for the 1933 reunion is Gladys Brashers, Norman Swanson and Dorr Mason. The graduating class of 1931 was the largest in the history of the school. Only one-half the members were able to be present at the reunion held last week.

Miss Gladys Brashers, her brother, Claud Brashers, and her friend, Miss Ramoka Kamkoff, spent the holiday vacation with Miss Brashers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ray, at the road camp near Hardman. The two young ladies are students at the normal school at La Grande, while Mr. Brashers is attending high school in that city. Bertha and Berl Akers entertained a party of young friends Saturday night at their father's home on First street. The frolic began in 1932 and ended in 1933. The time of watching the old year go and the new year come passed all too quickly while the guests were busy at pulling taffy, playing games and dancing. The refreshments served were home-made candy, cake, and cocoa, topped off with marshmallows. Those present were Maxine McCurdy, Margaret Ely, Barbara Powers, Charlotte and Annabelle McCabe, Mildred Lundell, Harriet Heliker, Eva Swanson, Winona Ritchie, Francis Ely, Raymond Lundell, Johnny Farris, Francis Bryson, Donald Heliker, Elwayne Lienallen, Harlan McCurdy, Clifford McCabe and Wilbur Akers.

At the business meeting held Sunday following the study hour the Union Sunday school officers were elected for 1933. They are Paul Balsiger, superintendent; Mrs. Frank Engelman, assistant superintendent; Miss Margaret Ely, secretary; Mrs. Minnie Forbes, treasurer; Mrs. Louis Balsiger, organist; Mrs. Louis Balsiger, superintendent of home department, and Louie Balsiger, chairman of the program committee. It was decided to hold a meeting on Wednesday evening of each week to which all teachers, pupils and all those interested in the Sunday school work are invited. These meetings will be held each month in the same church having the Sunday school meetings. At present they are meeting in the Congregational church.

Sunday morning a prize was presented to the pupil in each class who had been most faithful in attendance, in study of the lesson, and in the gaining of new members. Awards were made as follows: In Mrs. Frank Engelman's class, the prize went to Miss Margaret Ely; in Mrs. I. R. Robison's class, to Katherine Griffith; in Mrs. Lee Howell's class, to Bernice Ring; in Miss Veda Eubanks' class, to Billy Eubanks; in Mrs. Elmer Baldwin's class, to Ernest McCabe, and in Mrs. Walter Roberts' class, to Dorothy Farrens. Many other pupils deserve honorable mention for faithfulness and excellency of work.

Mrs. Fred Buchanan has been enjoying a visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ahalt, in Kelso. Mrs. J. W. Howk and little daughter, Lois May, returned Sunday from Portland. They were met in Arlington by Mr. Howk and Master Allan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Balsiger of Moro spent the double holiday with Mr. Balsiger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsiger, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Balsiger, Alfred Balsiger and Mrs. Allan Learned joined them for the New Year's dinner. Mrs. Allan Learned and Mrs. Wrex Hicock took train at Arlington Tuesday enroute to their respective homes at Hadlock, Wash., and Portland.

Some of the farmers in this part of the county are already reseeded their wheat, and most of the others have made arrangements to reseed a little later. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Barlow and son Jackie returned the first of the week from Portland where they had been spending the holidays with relatives. After a short stay in Ione they will return to their mountain home.

Francis Ely and Norman Swanson returned Monday to their school work at Willamette university. They took train at Arlington, being taken that far by Emil Swanson.

Mrs. Earl Wright and four sons departed Saturday night for their home in Baker after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Grabill.

Those from here who attended the Rebekah get-together meeting at Heppner Wednesday evening of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Hal O. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Howell and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lundell and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heliker and Donald.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Palmateer returned Monday from a pleasant holiday visit at Estacada, the home of Mrs. Palmateer's people. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Matthews were looking after the ranch.

W. E. Ahalt is receiving the congratulations of his friends upon the arrival of a new granddaughter. The child was born December 26 to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ahalt of Kelso. This is the second child born to Mr. and Mrs. Ahalt, the older one being a son.

Following the town team's basketball game at Lexington last week, Mr. and Mrs. John Eubanks very pleasantly entertained a party of friends with a turkey dinner at their apartment in the Harris building. The guests enjoying their hospitality were Miss Muriel Patterson, Miss Margaret Crawford, Norton Lundell, Milton Morgan, Albert Massie, Lewis Halvorsen, Lloyd Morgan and Howard Eubanks.

The flu epidemic which struck Lexington and vicinity some two weeks ago, resulting in the early closing of school and cancellation of public Christmas programs, has somewhat subsided. Only a very few students were absent at the opening of school Tuesday morning and it is hoped that these will soon be able to attend school again.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duvall and Erna and Winford were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Norton and family of Hermiston. In the afternoon they drove on up to Stanfield where they visited with Mrs. Duvall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Waid. Erna remained in Stanfield until Monday when she left by stage for Rufus where she holds a teaching position.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gentry on New Year's day were Mr. and Mrs. Neil White and son Vivian, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald White, Bill Grogan and Mrs. Sarah White. Lawrence Beach drove to Arlington Sunday, taking with him his brother Laurel who returned to his school work at the University of Oregon. They were accompanied by Miss Mae Gentry and Miss Helen Valentine who were also returning to their schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Waid of Ukiah spent Christmas week with Mr. and Mrs. Neil White. On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Waid and Mr. and Mrs. White and son Vivian motored to Stanfield where they dined with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Waid. In the evening the Whites returned to Lexington and Mr. and Mrs. Waid went on to their home at Ukiah.

4-H CLUB NEWS

Heppner Handicrafters Meet.

The 4-H Handicraft club met at the office of Chas. W. Smith on Saturday, Dec. 31. This was their first meeting, and the following officers were elected: John Crawford, president; Dick O'Shea, vice-president; Jimmie Johnston, secretary; Hugh Crawford, news reporter. Other members are Jimmy Gemmell, Bobby Smith and Billy Barratt; Paul Gemmell, club leader. Their first project is to square a board. The club meets every two weeks.—Hugh Crawford, reporter.

Hardman 4-H Club News.

A special meeting of the Kitchen Queens was held at the schoolhouse the afternoon of Dec. 23, by request of the leader, Mrs. O. C. Stephens. Assignments to be completed during the holidays were making two kinds of vegetable salads, each one twice, a sponge cake, and a portion of the "extra" which club girls are to complete during the year. Mrs. Stephens also suggested that the club present a short play at the tea to be given for our mothers next spring, which is a part of our course.

Miss Cowgill, assistant state club leader, sent a pamphlet of candy recipes to be distributed to the club members for the Christmas holidays. No definite date for next meeting of the club was set.—Lucile Farrens, club reporter.

IN OREGON HOMES

Corvallis—Homemakers of Oregon will be greeted by five new radio voices when they tune in for the Homemakers' Hour on KOAC this year. They will find, also, that each lecturer has adapted her subject matter to present day needs of homemakers.

Mrs. Vera H. Brandon, instructor in household administration, will lead out on Tuesday, January 3, with a lecture which fits into the radio club programs. Enrollments are still coming in for these clubs. During the three-month period just ended 26 clubs with more than 225 members were registered. The theme of this new series by Mrs. Brandon is "Your home and your child."

Miss Ava B. Milan, dean of the school of home economics, and members of the Cosmopolitan club of the state college contribute the Wednesday afternoon series on "Home life in foreign lands." Dean Milan's first travel talk is scheduled for Wednesday, January 4.

"The cheered-up house" is the theme of the house furnishings series to be conducted by Miss Mildred Chamberlain, acting head of clothing, textiles and related arts. She will greet the radio audience on Thursday, January 5, when she discusses the topic, "Out of a can of paint."

Mrs. Lillian Jeffreys Petri, professor of piano and music theory, will make a unique contribution to the enjoyment of KOAC homemakers in her series of 12 demonstrated lectures on "Enjoying music at home." Her first presentation is arranged for Friday, January 6.

Mrs. Azalea Sager, extension specialist in clothing, textiles and related arts, has divided her clothing clinic into two parts. One deals with economy clothing and the other with economy buying.

"Making a 1929 garment into a 1933 model" is the title of her first talk to be given Monday, January 9.

Phoenix — A 20-minute skit, "ABC's of Homey Living Room Arrangement," presented recently by two women of the Phoenix Grange proved highly entertaining as well as educational, according to the grange members who saw it.

This dramatization of "accessibility," "balance" and "convenience" was written by Mrs. Zelma Rodenwald, director of the home economics programs at KOAC, Corvallis, and may be obtained from her.

The Land God Cares For.

"The land whither ye go to possess it is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven; a land which the Lord thy God careth for; the eyes of the Lord are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year." Deut. 11:11-12. In her book, "Streams in the Desert," Lettie B. Cowman quotes the above noted Scripture and sets it at the beginning of her daily readings for the year.

Today we stand in the very threshold of a New Year; facing truly the unknown; as a land to be explored and possessed, the New Year lies before us and we are going into this new land to possess it.

What new experiences are to be ours? What new problems shall we face? What new needs shall arise? What, indeed, shall we find in this new land? We do not know; we cannot know; but here is one assuring, comforting thing: This land is a land that God careth for; "His eyes are upon it always, to the end of the year."

The land of the New Year is a land that has springs that shall never dry; here we shall find fountains and streams that shall never be cut off; if God be the source of our mercies then they will never fail us. But this must be so if we are to find any peace or joy or happiness in this land of the New Year. It must be so that God is the source of our faith and hope and trust, if these things are to be ours.

The land of the New Year is a land of hills and valleys. It is not all smooth, nor all down hill. What a monotonous thing of dead-level sameness would it be if it were all flat in every direction as far as the eye could see. But the hills collect the rains for a hundred fruitful valleys. Then there are some who can live in the hill country rather than in the valleys, while on the other hand many are better off in the valleys than they would ever be in the hill country. So, God has planned and prepared everything for the best. And we MUST trust Him.

And if we will walk thru all the ways of this land of the New Year with God, we shall find that indeed it is a land that God careth for. That His eyes are always upon it, and upon us. We cannot tell what of loss or sorrow may come to us in the tomorrows; but we can TRUST GOD and allow HIM to lead us in all His ways, assured that he doeth all things well.

If you have not a Church home, we invite you to come and worship with us. Come for the Bible School, promptly at 9:45 a. m. Then remain for the morning worship at eleven o'clock. During the winter months the evening service and the midweek service on Thursday evening are held at 7:30 o'clock. Come to all these services and test the welcome of this warm friendly Church. For the coming Lord's Day the sermon subjects are: For the morning service, "The Secret of a Good Hope." For the evening service, "Self Discovery." Come, you are invited.
