

Local Happenings

Jas. T. Morgan, who runs a band of some 200 head of ewes at his place on Hinton creek, is having to do some night work with the sheep right now as lambing is on. The cold spell of weather keeps him busy both day and night with the new arrivals, and so far he has been successful in saving them from freezing. John Hanna and Uzz French are also in the midst of lambing with their bands. Weather conditions are not so good, but the prospects are for warmer days as the season of lambing progresses.

C. N. Fridley came over from his home at Wasco Tuesday, having some business affairs to look after in Heppner. Sherman county, according to Mr. Fridley, suffered about a fifty per cent loss by the December freeze, and also met with some loss later on what reseeded had been done prior to the late January cold spell. He reports about the same snow fall as we have, the result of Sunday's storm.

Mrs. B. F. Swaggart was taken suddenly quite ill at the ranch home Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday she was brought to the General hospital in Heppner where she is under the care of a doctor. The ambulance went out from town to bring Mrs. Swaggart in and a lot of difficulty was had in getting through the snow, as the roads after leaving the highway were not open following the late storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Barratt, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ferguson, Mrs. Harold Cohn and Mrs. R. T. Robinson departed Wednesday noon for Portland, expecting to spend several days in the metropolis. Mr. Barratt will go on to Salem to attend the legislative session for a day, being interested in some matters coming up for consideration before that body.

Different reports were handed in Monday as to the low temperature of Sunday night, the sub-zero marks on the thermometers recording anywhere from 8 to 12 degrees below. The government record, kept by Frank Gilliam, was 9 below. Weather conditions have modified greatly since.

H. H. Hall, receiver of Redmond, Prineville and Burns banks, with headquarters at Prineville, was in Heppner for a couple of days over the week end, assisting J. L. Gault, receiver of the Heppner banks, in getting the preliminary work of liquidation under way. He returned to Prineville Tuesday.

W. C. Bush, examiner of operators and chauffeurs, is to be in Heppner Wednesday, March 8, at the court house, during the hours of 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. All those wishing permits or licenses to drive cars are asked to get in touch with Mr. Bush during these hours.

Ralph Jackson, warehouseman of Lexington, was looking after business in this city Saturday and again on Monday. Mr. Jackson will from now on be in charge of the warehouse of Heppner Farmers Elevator company, which property he has leased.

Orville Cutsforth was looking after business here Wednesday afternoon. He states that the snow drifted badly out his way from the blow Monday, but that a good fall came Tuesday night and the gradual melting is going down into the ground.

O. F. Bartholomew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bartholomew of Pine City and a student in flying, has taken his departure for the government flying field at San Antonio, Texas, where he will enter the army school for flying.

The Methodist Missionary society will meet next Tuesday, Feb. 21, at the home of Mrs. William Campbell on North Court street. Mrs. Ed Hunt and Miss Lulu Hager will be assisting hostesses. The meeting will open at 2:30.

Ernest Heliker was in the city a short time Tuesday from his farm west of Ione, where there is considerable evidence of winter. Some eight inches of snow fell Saturday night and Sunday, is the report Mr. Heliker gave us.

If you want to wear the latest and smartest styles, wear a Katherine Harford frock. Low in price, high in quality. See Mrs. A. R. Reid, representative for Harford Frocks, Inc., of New York. 43 ft.

Walter Farrens was in the city from his home out Hardman way Tuesday. There is snow to the depth of about two and a half feet in the foothill country and reaching into the timber belt.

Frank Wilkinson is beginning his lambing season at the Willow creek ranch near town this week. He expects to be very busy by the coming week, and hopes for a moderation in weather conditions.

Pat Doherty of Vinson, and Phil and Dan Doherty of near that place were in Heppner Monday to attend the funeral of the late James G. Doherty, their relative.

Bert Peck was in the city from the farm near Lexington Tuesday. The six or eight inches of snow out his way will do much good if it melts into the ground.

Leon W. Briggs, county treasurer, has been confined at home this week with a severe cold and not able to attend to his official duties.

W. E. Moore returned home Sunday morning from Portland where he spent the week end on business matters.

Mrs. N. S. Whetstone is quite seriously ill at her home in North Heppner.

See Zazu Pitts and Slim Summerville at the Star Sunday-Monday.

BOARDMAN

RACHEL JOHNSON
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barlow entertained at dinner in their home Thursday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gorham and Ray Barlow.

Mrs. Claud Myers returned home Tuesday from Portland where she has been for the past two months for medical attention.
Mr. and Mrs. Lou Blayden of Vale and Mr. and Mrs. Cornelison of Payette, Ida., were guests last week at the Geo. Blayden home. They have just returned from a two-months motor trip to California.

Morrow County Pomona Grange council met at Irrigon last Saturday afternoon and remained there for the evening meeting of Irrigon Grange. Those from Boardman attending the meetings were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier, Mrs. Howard Channing, Mrs. Claud Coats, Mrs. Nick Falter, Paul Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Dillabough and Mrs. Tyler.

Mrs. S. C. Russell's brother, D. H. Beers, and his wife of Hood River, visited several days this week at the Russell home.
The Ladies Aid society will give a play in the school auditorium Friday evening, March 3. The name of the play is "The Man With the Green Shirt," and it is a three act comedy. Miss Miriam Campbell is the director.

Elder and Mrs. John Nearness returned to their home in Pendleton Monday. Elder Nearness has been holding meetings here at the Seventh Day Adventist church since before Christmas. They have been staying at the Vas Atteberry home while in Boardman. Sabbath school will be held at 10 a. m. and preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Saturday and at 7:45 p. m. Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend.

The high school basketball team was defeated when they played the Hermiston team last Wednesday evening. The same evening the Boardman Athletic club won from the Hermiston town team by a score of 21-17. The score was 17-17 at the end of the game but the five minutes more of playing put the Boardman boys ahead. This was the best game they have played this year. The players were Eldon Wilson, John Steinhilber, Ray Barlow, Bill King and Dallas Wilson.

Only a few members were present at the Home Economics club meeting at Tylers' last Wednesday, due to the cold weather. The next meeting will be held at the Shannon home on the east end of the project Wednesday, Feb. 22.
I. Skoubo was a visitor in Arlington last Tuesday.

The school operetta given Friday evening in the auditorium was greatly enjoyed by the large audience, and was thought to be the best which has been given here for many years. The first, second, third and fourth grades gave the operetta, "The Princess Has a Birthday," and the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades presented "The Magic Beanstalk." Miss Shellenberger and Mrs. Cramer were in charge of the operetta and Miss Brown was in charge of the beautiful costumes.

Extremely cold weather has been prevailing here for the past week with about five inches of snow falling Saturday night and Sunday. At five o'clock Monday morning at the Porter ranch it was 14 degrees below zero.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Surface has been seriously ill this week. A doctor was called to the home Monday and said the baby was on the verge of pneumonia but it is getting along nicely now.

The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blayden is ill in the Hermiston hospital. Mrs. Blayden is there with her.

HARDMAN

MRS. ELLA FARRENS.
Mrs. Lew Knighten was consulting a physician in Heppner the first of the week.

Gus Steers has gone to work for Orrin Wright during lambing. Annie Johnson spent the week end visiting Edna Stephens on McKinney creek.

Harold Stevens left for work during the lambing season at the Archie Ball place, the first of the week.

Herbert McDaniel was a caller in town Sunday.
Mrs. Charite McDaniel is making an indefinite visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bud Fisk, in Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Veri Farrens were visiting at the home of Veri's mother, Mrs. Walter Farrens and family Sunday and Monday, riding up horseback from their ranch near Rhea creek.

Hiram Johnson is working for Lotus Robison during lambing at the mountain ranch in the Burton valley district.

Everett Harsiman was attending to matters of business here for several days the first of last week.

Mrs. George Samuels returned to her home here Monday from the hospital in Heppner where she has been receiving medical attention for a serious case of pneumonia. She returned with O. E. Johnson and her son, Raymond Howell.

L. J. Burnside and John Allen were attending to matters of business here Sunday from the former's ranch near Rood canyon.

The latter part of last week there was a marked decrease in temperature, it being the coldest weather we have had this winter. The lowest point the mercury reached was 34 degrees below and at the Harry French ranch in the mountains it was 44 degrees below one night.

ME AND MY GAL, with Spencer Tracy and Joan Bennett, will give you a big laugh—at the Star Theater, Tues. Wed., Thurs.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

MARY A. NOTSON, Reporter.
Discussing the question of state control of liquor in the event that the 18th amendment should be repealed or modified, E. H. Cherrington quotes from Lincoln's debate with Douglas in which Lincoln said that "a house divided against itself cannot stand." Also, he calls attention to the fact that the situation as to intoxicating liquor is different from that of slavery in that slavery was confined to a certain section of the country forming a solid block, while state control of liquor will likely result in a checker-board arrangement of wet and dry states. This would make it very difficult to protect the dry states, as was well known before the national prohibition came in.

Another difference between slavery and liquor is pointed out. It is this: Slavery was recognized in the constitution itself, while liquor has never been recognized as having any constitutional rights.
The wets have consistently asserted all along that they were opposed to the return of the saloon. An editorial in the Baltimore Evening Sun, under the heading, "Wisdom From a Dry," says: "The Reverend the Honorable F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, introduces a truly practical question when he expresses a polite doubt that, without the saloon, a beer tax will produce all that is expected of it."

"We share his doubt, and we further doubt that most Americans will consider that beer has come back unless and until they are permitted to prove it to themselves by going into a properly appointed emporium and asking a white-coated gentleman with a smooth coiffure and a certain embonpoint to draw one without too high a collar."

"The truth is that beer, above all other beverages, is a social drink. Moreover, it is peculiarly a man's drink. The women who actually like it are numerous, but they are nothing compared to the men. Beer is the drink with which thoughtful, munificent men accompany their discussion of major matters. It is the drink which implies, moreover, a temporary cessation of the sex obsession. It implies a momentary relief from domestic concerns. It requires, therefore, that it shall be mainly drunk away from home, in quiet and salubrious surroundings, with no women present and only those men in the vicinity who appreciate good conversation."

This editorial appeared in the Sun only a few short months after the paper had ridiculed the idea that anybody wanted the saloon. It proves just what the dregs have contended, that the wets have had in mind all the time the return of the saloon. It is the old saloon and brewery crowd which have furnished a large part of the funds with which to fight prohibition.

Announcements and cards for graduation were chosen by the senior class at their meeting Tuesday morning. Inexpensive announcements were decided upon. The order is to be sent away this week. A meeting had been called for Friday afternoon but as no boys attended, it turned into a discussion of graduation dresses, strictly feminine.

Sophomores to Put on Play
Tryouts for a one-act comedy, "Not Quite Such a Goose," to be given by the sophomores on their program April 14 were held last Thursday. Margaret Lieuallen, Ene Kilkenny, Lorena Wilson, Howard Furlong and Billy Cochell were chosen for the parts. This play is expected to help prepare the students for parts in the junior

4H CLUB NEWS

Busy Bee Cookery Club
The Busy Bee Cookery club held its regular meeting February 11 and in answer to the roll call each member present told how she prepared her cereal. Two were absent, Valjean Clark, excused because of illness, and Joyce Biddle, who had home work to do. Last week the club met on Friday instead of the regular time of Wednesday, and a little party was enjoyed with pop corn balls being served at its close.

A substitute's job is a thankless one. It is just as necessary for him to be punctual at every night's practice as it is for the first team player, and just as essential that he be present at every game and that he observe the same strict rules of training.

The cheers, however, are given the regular while the substitute sits unnoticed on the bench. Oftentimes he goes through a whole season without a minute's game participation. Yet the difference between him and the first team player may be almost nil. Some coaches say that it takes just as much of courage and of the stuff great men are made of to sit through a season thus, without recognition, as it does to take the knocks that come with game play.

It is necessary for a winning team to have the confidence that comes with a good reserve strength to have a successful first string.

Let us give more notice to our substitutes.

Booster Club Program
Sh! Ye Townie Crier comes down the hall. He has great news. There is proclaimed an entertainment by the royal bloods. But who ever heard of such a thing in Piff Piff Land! Yet it must be true. Let us listen!

Ye Townie Crier is reading the best cast of the skit: "The Princess Liz" (Delia Ulrich), the Prince Charming (Claire Phelan), and the King of Piff Piff Land (Dick Benton).

But who ever thought of Claire Phelan as a "Prince Charming," or Dick Benton as "the King of Piff Piff Land?" Well, all this is to be found in a skit presented by the Booster club this Friday at 3 o'clock.

Another part of the program which is certain to be entertaining is a skit, "Shine." In it are featured Anabel Turner, Hazel Beymer and Jessie French as songsters, and Anabel as a tap dancer also.

This program will be very worth while because the members have put in many hours of diligent practice.

ary 8, at Heppner by a score of 15-12. Neither team played up to usual form, making it a slow game, although both teams missed many shots. The Heppner line-up: Center, H. Green and Thomson; forwards, J. Green, Gentry and Hottel; guards, Furlong, Beckett, Hillatt, Jones and Ayers.

Girls Give Luncheons
The domestic science class served Valentine luncheons both Monday and Tuesday. The dining room table was decorated with a color scheme of red and white candles and streamers. The table center was covered by a big red heart. Red and white place cards made by one of the pupils were used. Monday, Edna Jones acted as hostess and Margaret Lieuallen as host. Tuesday they reversed places. Meals were served as in a family; therefore each member of the class represented one of the family as father, mother, or child.

Grade News
A Valentine's party was given the fourth grade by the Red Cross of the third grade last Tuesday. About fifty-four pupils were present. The children lined up outside the Domestic Science laboratory and then filed in to be given pink frosted Valentine shaped cookies and strawberry ice cream. Miss Boymer and Mrs. O'Shea served the refreshments. Valentine puzzles were sent to children's home and sixty valentine dillies were sent to the Veterans' hospital. Louis Anderson and Johnny Hanna of the 8th grade were absent Monday.

The junior band will play at the band concert in March. Eighth graders enjoyed a Valentine box Tuesday.

Sub-Tournament in Heppner
The sub-tournament in basketball will be held at Heppner March 3 and 4. The three highest teams will play in the main tournament at Pendleton March 10 and 11. Jim Hill of Pendleton will referee the games.

New Student Registers
Edwin Dick, a sophomore, registered in high school recently. He attended Pomeroy high school at Pomeroy, Wash., before coming here.

LIVING costs stayed UP

ELECTRIC costs came DOWN

Living costs in 1932 were 22% below 1923, when prices began to stabilize following the World war. It was not until 1930 that these costs began to decline from those of 1923. During this 10-year period the average cost of electricity to the homes and farms served by your Company constantly and sharply declined. In 1923 the average cost of a kilowatt hour was almost 8 cents. Today it is less than 3 cents.

While the Cost of Living in 1932 was 22% less than it was in 1923, the average Cost of Electricity was 63.5% less.
