Legislature Acts on Many Important Measures This Week.

SALARY BILLS PASS

Income Tax Bill Passes House and Sales Tax Reported out of Com- mittee; Revenue Big Issue.

By JAP CRAWFORD.

Salem, Feb. 28.—Results are now beginning to show from the weeks of labor of several of the principal committees of the 37th legislative assembly, with the house this week concurring in all the ways and means bills, representing the larger proportion of the work of that body, which came to a vote. And this afternoon the first major revenue producing bill was given the sanction of the house without a dissenting vote. It is a revision of the present income tax law, expected to raise between $600,000 and $750,000 additional revenue. This afternoon also the taxation and revenue committee reported out favorably the revamped special session sales tax bill, estimated, if passed, to raise $3,000,000 in 1933 and $6,000,000 in 1934.

It is expected that the sales tax bill will not meet as easy a fate in the house as did the income tax measure, but in lieu of any other definite program of relief from the property tax burden its passage is practically assured. This prevention may be made in view of the fact that one objection prevailing in the special session, that of not knowing how much revenue would be needed, is removed. There are still those who object to the principle of the tax, and will let it be known while casting an aye vote in order to maintain the credit of the state.

This new sales tax bill is different from that of the special session mainly in that it provides a one-half of one percent tax on gross sales of manufacturers. It leaves the tax on gross sales of tangible personal property and personal services to consumer at 2 percent. With its provisions of property-tax offset and distribution of 50 percent of the net proceeds to the counties, it has overcome objections to the former bill on the grounds of discrimination against the counties in the distribution of the revenue. The bill was worked out of committee in its present form by close cooperation of the governor, state tax commission and the taxation and revenue committee.

The revenue program, as worked out by the committee is expected to give the state a nearly-balanced budget, should the estimates of the committee prove correct. The highways and highway revenue committees also came out with its program this week which it claims will meet the needs of the highway department for the ensuing biennium. Two of its major bills were presented to the house this afternoon as a special order of business. One of these bills sets a flat $5 license fee on automobiles and adds another cent on the gasoline tax, while the other is the truck and bus regulatory measure.

This committee's program was developed by numerous public hearings and heated contentions of the different factions affected, and the two bills were finally made a special order of business after much jockeying around and an averted attempt to send them back to committee for more rehashing. The program of the committee contains the so-called Dunne plan of taxation, which was adopted over the Allen plan to insert an ad valorem property tax on each automobile instead of an added gasoline tax. A strong demand still existed in the house for a property tax, even though a gasoline tax were needed to raise sufficient revenue, as the bills came up for final passage this afternoon. The Allen plan came out of committee with a minority report favoring its passage ahead of the Dunne plan bill, but was laid on the table awaiting the arrival of the latter bill.

Representative Gouley's bill calling for the holding of a state constitutional convention for the purpose of voting on repeal of the 18th amendment, slid through the house easily this week, and was on the senate calendar for today. Some house drys laid aside personal prejudices on the prohibition question to give the people a chance to express themselves on the matter.

Each ensuing day finds string legislators less prone to dissect every bill into minute particles, and with freer use of the gag rule and a ban on explanation of votes, they are attempting to rid the hopper of its still large residue of measures and get back to their homes. But while taking more or less snap judgment, the attitude largely prevails of passing nothing unless it appears to be good, and necessary.

It is expected there will be many night sessions this week to hurry along the remaining business in an attempt to adjourn Saturday, but tonight will be a relaxation period as the facilities of the lawmakers are turned over to the "third house"

Since the organization of the grange at Cecil, Mr. Lundell has been Master, until he refused the office at last election. During all of that time Mrs. Lundell has been lecturer. HEPPNER SHEEPSKIN SCRIP

No. D 0695

Issued by the Business Men of Heppner, Oregon

ONE DOLLAR

Heppner's Sheepskin Scrip, issued this week under the auspices of the business men of the city, is creating a mild sensation, not only in Heppner but wherever it has been displayed. Wednesday's Oregonian carried a picture of the scrip, the above cut having been borrowed from them, and orders arrived today from Portland for several pieces of the new medium of exchange. Due to the shortage in Portland of the leather required for the scrip only a small quantity was released the first of the week, and almost all of this has disappeared already, going into the hands of souvenir collectors. Warrants are already being taken in exchange for the scrip and it is circulating freely as a medium of exchange. More leather was received yesterday and it is expected the balance of the sheepskin scrip will be ready for issue by Monday of next week.

Dean T. Goodman, chairman of the board of trustees handling the issue, has expressed pleasure at the manner in which the scrip has gone into circulation, and believed that in a short time it will be accepted in Heppner universally. L. L. Gilham has been employed as cashier for the committee, and other members are D. A. Wilson, L. E. Bisbee, Spencer Crawford, Charles Thomson and J. J. Nys.

MORTGAGE GROUP READY FOR WORK

Adjustment Committee Establishes Offices With County Agent; Arlington Meet Attended.

"The Morrow county voluntary farm mortgage adjustment committee is now ready to offer its services in any case on which it is requested to act," is the statement of Bert Johnson, chairman of the local group, who with other members from this county attended a regional meeting at Arlington last Thursday, where details of procedure were worked out. In order that the services of the committee may be made convenient to everyone in need of them, the committee has arranged for the office of County Agent Chas. W. Smith, to be headquarters for committee activity. Information on procedure of obtaining the committee's services may be obtained at the county agent's office or from any member of the committee.

Mr. Johnson reports that at the regional meeting it was emphasized by State Chairman O. M. Plummer and members of the state committee that the county groups have no legal status but are prepared to lend every aid on a voluntary basis toward bringing a satisfactory adjustment between farmers and mortgage holders in order that unnecessary loss or hardship may be avoided for both in cases where the parties are unable to make satisfactory arrangements independently.

Members of the state committee at the regional conference reported that they had word that similar credit councils or committees in other states have already proved highly beneficial even where comparatively few cases are actually handled. Most creditors and debtors are ready to do the fair thing by each other, if information is available on which to base such a settlement, it was said. In addition to Chairman Bert Johnson and Secretary Chas. W. Smith, the Morrow county committee consists of Joe Devine and Geo. Peck of Lexington and P. W. Mahoney of Heppner. These county committees were selected from a group of names sent in from each county to the state committee which consists of representatives of all the leading farm organizations and bankers' organizations of Oregon.

Mrs. E. F. Campbell Is Called by Death

Mrs. Eugene F. Campbell passed away at her home in this city on Saturday, February 25th, following a lingering illness, from which she had been bed-ridden for the past month. Gathered about her were all of the members of her family, and the final summons was answered in peace.

Simple but impressive funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Case Mortuary, and burial was in the family plot at Masonic cemetery. Pall bearers were S. E. Notson, J. G. Thomson, E. G. Noble, R. I. Thompson, L. E. Bisbee and J. O. Hager. The chapel and committal services were conducted by Rev. Glen P. White, Mrs. Campbell's pastor, and these services were largely attended by the friends and neighbors of the deceased, who gave expression to their esteem of Mrs. Campbell in many beautiful floral offerings.

Had Mrs. Campbell lived just one more day, she would have reached the age of 79 years. For the past 54 years she had been a resident of this community, having migrated here with her husband, Eugene F. Campbell and members of the family in the year 1879, and settled on a farm on Balm Fork some seven or eight miles southeast of Heppner. After many years of residence there, the family moved to Heppner in 1894 and this city has been their place of abode since.

Olive Jane Williamson was born February 26, 1854, at Greenwood, New York, and was married to Francis Eugene Campbell of Andover, New York, March 27, 1876. To this union four children were born: Louis C. Campbell of Pendleton, Leala Anderson of Portland, Lulu McCarty of Heppner, and Fred, deceased. Also surviving Mrs. Campbell is her husband, Eugene F. Campbell, two grandchildren, Paul and Frances McCarty, and one brother, Otis Williamson of Lewis, Kansas.

Mrs. Campbell had been a faithful and devoted member of the Methodist church of this city since 1890, and was ever active in its welfare, being greatly loved because of her many good works. She was also a charter member of Maple Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft of Heppner, and the first guardian neighbor of the lodge. In the community Mrs. Campbell will always be remembered as a kindly, considerate and dependable neighbor, though quiet and unassuming. Through more than two years of almost unbearable physical suffering, she was always patient. For months she had to bear up under the excruciating pain of arthritis, and when this had been somewhat lightened, it developed that she was the victim of internal cancer; yet there was never an expression of discontent on her part and she was able to bear it all with the fortitude of a Christian, and the end to all mortal pain and suffering came in peace.

Mrs. J. O. Turner departed on Tuesday afternoon for Salem to be with her husband during the closing days of the session of the legislature, which it is fully expected to be the end of this week. Mrs. Turner was accompanied to Arlington by Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ferguson and Mrs. V. Crawford, and took the train from there into Portland.

RELIEF BENEFIT BRINGS IN CASH

Report Given Lions Monday; Bees Discussed by Cox; Sage of Ione Talks Checkers.

The benefit show for the unemployment relief committee, sponsored by the Heppner Lions club and held at the Star theater last Friday and Saturday evenings, was reported to the club Monday as having been a success, although the net proceeds were not as large as it was hoped they would be. In addition to the feature picture, "Private Jones," musical numbers each evening included selections by the Missidine trio, banjo numbers by Harold Becket, and songs by the Lions quartet. John Anglin, chairman of the committee having the show in charge, made the report and thanked those helping in the venture.

The feature of Monday's program was a discussion of bees by Elbert Cox, Morrow county deputy sheriff who has a small farm just south of town. He believed it was possible for a small but profitable industry to be built up in this part of the county through bee culture. Exposure of the inner secrets of bee life was made by Mr. Cox, and he gave an interesting discussion of the habits of bees, methods of handling and uses for honey, as well as answering many questions. Claiming to be a checker expert, Dwight Misner, sage of Ione and witty speaker par excellence, gave club members an entertaining talk, making several members the butt of his jokes. Mr. Misner was the guest of C. J. D. Bauman, and took particular pleasure in ragging the Morrow county sheriff. The Monday meeting was dedicated to District Governor Shea, and S. E. Notson gave a short biographical sketch of Mr. Shea. Entertainment features included two duet numbers by Mrs. Crockett Sprouts and Miss Doris Hiatt, with Mrs. J. O. Turner at the piano.

SENATOR WALSH DIES TODAY

Over the radio the news was received that Senator Walsh of Montana, who was returning to Washington, D. C., from a short sojourn in Cuba, where he and Mrs. Walsh had been on their honeymoon trip, had died of a heart attack on the train coming through the Carolinas. Senator Walsh had been chosen by President Roosevelt to be attorney general in the new cabinet, and he was returning to the capitol for the inaugural ceremonies on Saturday. Senator Walsh was 73 years of age and was just recently married.

County court met in regular session Wednesday, and had a pretty heavy list of business to dispose of. They decided as the county was having to pay the rent, the office of the district attorney would be moved back to the court house from the I. O. O. F. building. Max Crandall of Hillsboro was hired to audit the books of county officials for the coming year. There were several other bids in on this job.

Homer I. Watts and E. C. Prestbey, attorneys from Athena, are in town today on legal business.

LEXINGTON

By BEULAH B. NICHOLS.

Miss Lorraine Thompson, youngest daughter of Mrs. Minnie Thompson of College Place, Wash., and Mr. Lawrence Beach, eldest son of Mrs. Elsie M. Beach of Lexington, were married at Gladstone, Ore., on Saturday, February 25. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. L. Jones who also officiated at the wedding of Lawrence's father and mother. The bride is well known here and is a teacher in the schools at Morgan. Mr. Beach is a prominent young business man of Lexington and their many friends wish them happiness. They will make their home in Lexington.

The main feature of the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday evening was a talk by R. E. Wilcox who gave a report on the school finances and discussed House Bill No. 253 which favors the county unit system. This system has proved successful in Klamath, Crook and Lincoln counties. The taxpayers' league is sponsoring the bill and they believe it to be the cheapest and best system in existence.

In making the financial report Mr. Wilcox advanced two plans of meeting the difficulties. Under the first plan the taxpayers, if unable to pay their complete taxes, would pay only the school tax, thus enabling the schools to keep going. His second plan was to make use of warrants to pay the school tax. There was some discussion as to the advisability of sending our high school to Heppner next year. Transportation to Heppner would cost approximately forty dollars per student.

At the beginning of the meeting a pleasing vocal selection was given by a quartet composed of Mrs. Eva Lane, Ruth Dinges, Mrs. Claud White and La Verne White. Mrs. George Allyn, chairman of the hot lunch committee, reported that since the committee began serving hot lunches a total of 1048 lunches have been served. Edwin Ingles gave a report on the 4-H club survey which has been under way since the last meeting. Of the sixty questionnaires sent out, thirty-six have been returned. A large majority of the parents are in favor of the club work and several have signified their willingness to act as club leaders. Nineteen children have expressed a desire to take up the work.

Louise Hunt and Marcella Jackson each played a piano solo. This meeting was in commemoration of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and a birthday cake had been prepared for the occasion. Short talks were given by Ethel Wilcox, Ruth McMillan, Edna Hunt, Caroline Kuns and Mary Hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Luttrell were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when a number of their friends dropped in to spend the evening with them. The guests enjoyed playing 500 and refreshments were served late in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cutsforth were business visitors in Hermiston Saturday.

Elmer Hunt, Lonnie Henderson and Millard Nolan motored to Portland over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson recently moved from the Stradman house into the Tom Barnett house.

In the Church of Christ next Sunday Mr. Sias will, at the desire of the Loyal Berean class, give a sermon on the class text, The Berean Nobles. This is promised as a very special sermon, and worthy of your hearing; you are urged to attend on this occasion. The unified morning service opens at ten o'clock. Following the class period and in the assembly service the sermon will come at ten-fifty; communion at eleven-twenty; and dismissal at eleven-thirty.

Say, folks, don't forget the vaudeville and dance on Friday evening, March 3, given by Lexington high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keene, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Brown, Bill Gowl and George Gillis spent Sunday at the George Peck home. Mrs. Ed Burchell and Mrs. Galey Johnson were hostesses for a delightful surprise party at the Johnson home Saturday evening, honoring Mrs. Burchell's daughter, Grace, whose birthday occurred during the week. Those present were Grace Burchell, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ingles, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ingles, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burchell, Mr. and Mrs. Galey Johnson, Doris Burchell, Edith Tucker, Tillie Nelson, Rose Thornburg, Faye Luttrell, Naomi McMillan, Gladys Reaney, Edith Broadley, Sam McMillan, Merritt Gray, Winford Duvall, Vester Thornburg, Vernon Munkers, Paul Nichols, Veri Ingles and Billy Burchell. After a pleasant evening of games the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Lexington H. E. club will meet on Thursday, March 9, at the home of Mrs. George Peck. Lexington Grange will give a free dance at Leach hall Saturday night, March 4. A small charge will be made for the supper tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan of Cherryville have been visiting at the home of Mr. McMillan's mother, Mrs. Margaret McMillan.

Lawrence Reaney motored over from his home at Vancouver, Wn., last week and spent several days visiting relatives and calling on old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hill of Rufus were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Luttrell last week. Mrs. Hill is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luttrell.

Miss Lucille Beyer spent a part of last week with her parents, Mr.

BANK DEPOSITORS ELECT COMMITTEE

Meeting Held at Court House Saturday Draws Large Attendance.

BAYLESS MADE HEAD

Purpose of Group is to Assist in Liquidation of First National; All Sections Represented.

Between 60 and 70 people, depositors of the First National Bank of Heppner, gathered at the court house Saturday afternoon in answer to the call that had been issued by a temporary committee, appointed at a meeting of those interested, the week before. The object of the meeting was primarily for the purpose of electing a permanent committee representing the depositors as the work of liquidation of the bank proceeds.

Hanson Hughes called the meeting to order and acted as chairman. Frank Gilliam was called on, and stated the object of the meeting and urged the election of a depositors' committee as there would doubtless be much to come up in the course of the closing up of the bank's affairs in which the depositors would be keenly and vitally interested; that a committee would be in position to keep in touch with the progress of liquidation, and that it could act on behalf of the whole body of depositors, doing whatever it could legitimately to help both depositors and liquidating officials, the object being to obtain as nearly as possible a 100 percent return to the depositors.

Several others spoke along this line, when, upon motion of Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, the chair appointed two nominating committees, each to prepare a list of five names to be presented, out of which a permanent committee of five would be chosen by ballot. The nominating committees were W. O. Bayless, Mrs. Rodgers and John Wightman; R. B. Rice, Mrs. Ellen Schwarz and Vawter Crawford. They presented the names of Hanson Hughes, W. O. Bayless, Lucy Rodgers, Erik Bergstrom, Josephine Mahoney, Elsie Beach, Emil Carlson and Paul Balsiger. Upon ballot Hughes, Bayless, Rodgers and Bergstrom received clear majorities, while Carlson and Balsiger tied. Motion was then made and carried that the committee be enlarged to six, and that Messrs. Balsiger and Carlson be declared as members thereof.

The general meeting then adjourned and the committee met, choosing W. O. Bayless as chairman and Mrs. Rodgers as secretary. We are informed that it will be the aim of the committee to act only in such a manner as to be of help in the closing up of the affairs of the bank, and this was apparently the expressed desire of the gathering at the court house Saturday.

Odd Fellows Will Get Together Next Week

There are six I. O. O. F. lodges in Morrow county and it is planned to bring the membership together at Heppner on Wednesday evening, March 8, for fraternal greetings and to discuss matters of interest to the order. This will be the occasion of an official visit from the grand master of the order, R. H. Jonas of Prineville. E. E. Sharon, grand secretary, will also be in attendance, and O. F. Steele, district deputy, and S. F. Bowman, past grand master, both of Pendleton, are planning to attend. This is an open meeting for Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and friends. The several lodges of the county will participate in the program, and not a small feature of the evenings' entertainment will be presented in the dining room in the nature of suitable refreshments, the hour for this part of the evening's ceremonies being set at 6:30.

FLYING EAGLES HIKE

The Flying Eagle patrol (American Legion) of the local Boy Scout troop, went on a patrol hike last Saturday up Willow creek to their camp.
