

RESULTS APPEARING AFTER LONG GRIND

for the annual fun night. The third house is the lobby, members of which tonight will fill the seats of legislators in the house and have a free hand in the business of law-making pro-tem.

Fathered in the house by Representative Turner of Morrow county the revised warehouse code and farm storage bill turned out by the committee on agriculture, both passed the house Friday without a dissenting vote. The committee's warehouse bill contains practically all the new provisions of the Gehlar bill for which it was substituted, the committee desiring, however, to strengthen the law by amending the present code rather than by entirely rewriting it.

Outstanding amendments in the law are the providing for state-issued receipts, enlarged inspection privileges of owners of grain and the department of agriculture, making reports to the department, compelling the posting of signs indicating whether or not a warehouse is bonded, and provision for action by the district attorney in case of violation of the provisions of the act. It is believed by the sponsors of the bill that the new law will obviate such mismanagement as has been evidenced in the failure of many warehouses.

The farm storage bill provides for the sealing of grain on farms, and the issuance therefor of negotiable certificates by the department of agriculture under safeguards, for the purpose of extending the credit privilege of farmers. Fifteen farmers of a district must make application before a certification will be made by the department.

Salary bills for Morrow, Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties, introduced by Representatives Snell and Turner went through the house this week. In company with Senator Yates, the representatives of the Morrow county district have written a senate joint memorial which appeared today, to promote the building of a bridge across the Columbia river at The Dalles.

One Way of Preventing Crime "Through idleness of the hands, the house droppeth through." Ecc. 10-18.

Idleness, especially of the wrong sort, is the curse of such times as these, as well as in normal times. "Eighty per cent of the offenses against society are committed in the free hours between six and twelve o'clock P. M.; and over forty-five per cent of juvenile delinquency occurs on Saturday and Sunday."

This is a report of the secretary of an organization organized for crime prevention. And this, it should be, an awakening fact, not only to the parents of juveniles, but also to those who have the welfare of the coming men and women of the world at heart, whether their boys and girls are still juveniles, or whether their boys and girls have grown to adult years, or even whether they have any children of their own; it should be an awakening fact to every decent man and woman in the land—whether boys and girls and young men and young women are going to spend their free hours in the right sort of places and recreations and pleasures, or whether their free hours shall be spent in pursuit of activities that pull and drag down.

Much interest is manifested by certain organizations in the "underprivileged boy." That interest is but a mere gesture till it takes the form and shape in practically supplying the boy and the girl with opportunities for right and proper recreations and pleasures. And a proper use of the Lord's Day is one of these right and proper opportunities.

A certain large employer of men said this: "It has been my practice for a number of years to call my young men together every day for a short conference, and in that conference I have invariably advised and cautioned them concerning the use of their free hours." What a tremendous opportunity is here for every employer to influence the future of the nation; above all, what a magnificent opportunity, in such a day as this, when thousands of young college and high school and other young men are walking the highways of the nation, for the forces of righteousness to arouse and arise and begin to plan and provide ways for conserving of such a potential force for the future of this nation. These young men and boys can become a great good to the land of their birth, or they can become a great evil. The forces of evil are always at work. It is high time that the forces of righteousness should be at work and save the young life of this nation from the perils of their free hours.

Do you have a Church home? If not, come and worship with us. We invite you to come and test the welcome of this warm, friendly Church. For the coming Lord's Day the sermon topics are: "The Morning Service," "Thy Kingdom Come." And for the evening service, "Sinning Against Self."

EPISCOPAL CHURCH. Communion at 11:00 o'clock, followed by sermon on the subject, "Lenten Meditation." Services will be held at Hardman in the evening. M. G. Tennyson, Missionary in Charge.

HARDMAN MRS. ELLA FARENS.

One of the most enjoyable card parties of the year was the one given as a surprise on Estin Stevens at his bachelor home near here. The affair was arranged by his sister, Mrs. Frank McDaniel and those attending went over in a sleigh with Forrest Adams as driver.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams was the scene of a pleasant time last Friday evening when a number of friends and neighbors joined in giving them a surprise party. The time was spent in dancing.

Mrs. James Frank Howell, George Samuels, Dick Steers and Sam McDaniel, Sr., recently made and sent to Mrs. Morgan, a nurse who is ill at the Heppner hospital, a quilt, the design being the sunbonnet baby.

The act was one of appreciation of Mrs. Morgan's services at the time of the death of the late Rho Howell, eldest son of Mrs. Frank Howell. The other ladies are aunts of Rho, besides Mrs. Sam McDaniel, who is his grandmother.

Ad Inskip recently returned from a business trip in the Dry Fork vicinity.

Mrs. O. C. Stephens came up for a 4-H club meeting Monday last from her McKinney creek ranch and was a dinner guest of Mrs. Buck Adams.

Mrs. Elmer Musgrave spent several days of last week visiting her mother, Mrs. Wes Stevens.

Many of the young people from this community attended the dances at Ithea creek Saturday night, among them being Elmer McDaniel, Muri Farness, Everett Harshman, the Johnson girls and Billy Leathers.

Mrs. Kinnaard McDaniel recently made a trip to Lone Rock where her husband is working.

Les Robinson and son Delbert were visitors here a few days last week.

Dick Steers and son Gus are working during lambing for Wright Brothers.

Raymond Howell, who spent the winter with his mother, Mrs. Geo. Samuels, has gone to work for Ralph Corrigan on Butter creek.

Glen Farness was a business visitor here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Burnside spent a few days visiting relatives here.

IONE

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snodderly of Heppner were calling on friends in Ione one day last week. Mr. Snodderly preaches regularly in Pentecostal Mission on Wednesday evenings. At present evangelistic meetings are being held in the Mission under the leadership of Evangelist Pauline Taylor and her father, Gus Taylor (colored), who come from Stanfield. There will be special music at each service. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.

Miss Loraine Thompson, teacher in the Morgan school, and Lawrence Beach of Lexington spent the week end at the home of Miss Thompson's parents in College Place, Wash.

Miss Elmer Baldwin was taken sudden ill Friday night and was moved to Mrs. Herren's hospital, Heppner, for treatment. She was suffering from ptomaine poisoning. She was able to return to her home Tuesday. Mrs. Elmer Sperry is teaching the third and fourth grades while Mrs. Baldwin is unable to be in her class room.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Balsiger of Moro were over-Sunday guests of Mr. Balsiger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Balsiger.

Mrs. Alice McNabb, Wesley McNabb, James Warfield and son, Glen, departed Monday by auto for Waldport where they will visit for two weeks or more at the home of Mrs. McNabb's daughter, Mrs. Gus Reed.

Mrs. J. M. Pfeiffer and son, Gilbert Petteys of Pendleton were guests Saturday at the Ray Barnett home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Bristow and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright and baby motored over from Baker, arriving in Ione early Sunday morning. Mrs. Bristow and children remained for an extended visit at the E. J. Bristow and T. E. Grubel homes. The others in the party returned to Baker Monday.

Guests at the Bert Mason home Friday were Mrs. C. W. McNamer and Mrs. Arthur McAtee of Heppner.

Transacting business in Pendleton Saturday were Mrs. Bert Mason, Dorr and Junior Mason, Mrs. D. M. Ward and Mrs. C. W. McNamer.

It is reported that thirty are absent from school this week, measles being the principal cause.

All meetings of the Union Sunday school will be held in the Baptist church during the month of March. The mid-week meeting will also be held in the same church.

NEWS OF WILLOWS GRANGE. The business session was held in the hall at Ceel Saturday night. It being the 7th birthday of the Willows Grange, the event was remembered by a large birthday cake, brought by the H. E. committee, who made it an occasion of money raising. Each one buying a number received a piece of cake. A drawing was made and the winner received a glass orange or lemon squeezer. The proceeds were used as a contribution to the children's home at Portland.

For the agricultural committee O. L. Lundell gave a talk on the making and uses of cold frames and hotbeds. The talk was timely and interesting.

The legislative committee reported on the meeting of the executive and legislative committees in preparing resolutions and recommendations sent to the state legislature during the present session. Mr. Kincaid also gave a short and pointed talk on the foreign legislation affecting wheat.

Several visitors were welcomed at this meeting; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Devine and Mrs. Devine's mother, Mrs. Wright of Lexington, and Clarence Bauman and County Agent Smith of Heppner. Mr. Devine talked on Pomona work, and Mr. Bauman gave a short talk.

The attendance at this meeting was good and a very enjoyable program was put on by the lecturer, Edna Lindstrom. The first number was presented jewels to the past master and the past lecturer, O. L. Lundell as a complete surprise to the recipients, who are very proud of the tokens. C. W. Smith made the presentation speech and Donald Helker sang appropriate songs in their honor. Dot Crabtree, a reading, "Being a True American," several program numbers during the evening were in honor of Washington's birthday. Roland Bubeck gave a reading descriptive of the "Farmer's Life." Mr. Smith spoke on different phases of agricultural work, and the talk was much appreciated by the patrons of the Grange. The concluding number was a pie baking contest put on by Sisters Hattie Crabtree and Bertha Cool. The equipment needed was arranged on a table in view of the assembly, and the contest was very creditable to the performers. Judging the contest, the executive committee was glad to divide the honors on an even basis; Mrs. Cool taking first on speed and 2nd on quality, and Mrs. Crabtree second on speed and first on quality. This contest gave a lively finish to the evening's program.

Willows Grange will sponsor a hard times dance in their hall at Ceel on the night of March 11. Supper tickets will be sold and the public is invited. —Reporter.

EXAMINER TO BE HERE. W. C. Bush, examiner of operators and chauffeurs, will be in Heppner Wednesday, March 8th, 1933, at the court house, between the hours of 1:00 and 5:00 p. m., according to a recent announcement released from the office of the secretary of state. All those wishing permits or licenses to drive cars are asked to get in touch with Mr. Bush during these hours.

Bert Peck, in from the Social Ridge farm Wednesday, thinks spring has arrived. He is preparing to start plowing with the tractor.

Flag Questionnaire

Have you ever thought why it is our Flag has seven red stripes and six white stripes, and why not seven white and six red? The reason is this: If there were seven white stripes, then the outside stripes would be white, which at a distance would not be very visible—so, in order to inclose, to encompass the Flag, thereby better defining it, especially at a distance, the outside stripes are red, which necessitates having seven red stripes.

11. Relate the story of how the Flag came to be named "Old Glory."

12. According to Presidential Executive Orders, how does the length of the Flag compare with its width?

13. Name the occasions on which the Flag should be displayed everywhere.

14. Name the occasions on which the Flag should be displayed in the different states.

15. What kind of patriotism is the patriotism of the Flag of the United States, and where is the spirit of this patriotism found?

16. Of what is this patriotism born?

17. What can you say about the American who introduces into patriotism the spirit of intolerance, egotism or chauvinism?

18. What kind of patriotism will the American who really loves his country practice?

19. May the Flag be used on stationery, in books, or other printed matter, and if so, under what conditions?

20. In a number of states to what do the Flag laws apply besides the Flag of the United States?

"There are no days when you should be more patriotic than on other days, and I ask you to wear every day in your heart our Flag of the Union."—Woodrow Wilson.

CARD OF THANKS. We wish to thank our many friends who gave their kindness and sympathy and beautiful flowers during the illness and the hour of our great loss of beloved wife and mother.
