

BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK OBSERVED

Business and Professional Women's Club, Sponsoring Observance, Largest in the World.

The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, which is sponsoring the sixth annual observance of National Business Women's week, March 5-11, is the largest national organization of business women in the world.

According to Mrs. Lucy Rodgers it has 1,325 local clubs in the United States, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, and a membership of approximately 60,000. It was the first organization of business and professional women to reach national proportions and its leaders were responsible for the founding of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, which has branches in 18 countries in North and South America and Europe.

As befits a business and women's organization it is non-partisan and non-sectarian. Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman of Richmond, Virginia, an expert in the mail advertising field and proprietor of one of the largest mail advertising houses in the South, is its president. The roster of outstanding members includes Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Nellie Tayloe Ross, who was the first woman governor in the United States, and many more equally well known women.

The Federation was a pioneer in raising educational standards for prospective business women. The organization has sponsored two surveys into the problems of business women which have resulted in the publication of some of the most illuminating literature yet produced with relation to the subject. A survey of vocational guidance facilities was under way when the depression started and was temporarily discontinued.

Activities in recent years have been increasingly centered about developing cooperation between men and women in the furtherance of civic reconstruction. A Ten-Year Objective, adopted by the organization in 1931, pledges the members "to an intensive study of economic problems and their social implications with a view towards establishing through scientific methods conditions which assure to women and to men, as well, the fullest possible opportunity and reward for the development of whatever capacities they may possess."

was discovered that he had set fire to the building and when Mr. Frank opened the door to extinguish the blaze, Bell attacked him, using a knife as a weapon. Before the knife was taken from Bell Mr. Frank received several wounds, one of them a deep cut in the upper part of his right arm. Frank went to Heppner to have his wounds dressed Sunday morning and on Monday Sheriff Bauman came to Ione and arrested Bell. He was tried before Judge Robison and bound over to the circuit court.

Mrs. Margaret Low died at 11:45 p. m. Tuesday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Laxton McMurray, in Ione, at the age of 84 years, 3 months and 4 days. Funeral services will be Friday afternoon from the Congregational church in Ione and interment will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery beside her husband who died two years ago last month.

The international day of prayer was observed in the Congregational church Friday. A part of the time was given over to the study of missionary work among the Pima Indians in Arizona and stressing the work done by Dirk Lay, Presbyterian missionary, who was instrumental in getting the great Coolidge dam built across the Gila river, thus making it possible for the Indians to have water for irrigation.

The special meetings continue in Pentecostal Mission under the leadership of Evangelist Gus Taylor and his daughter, Pauline Taylor, with Bible study held each afternoon in the homes. Miss Hazel Frank who is in school at Hermiston was home for the week end. She came over with Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Helms who visited at the Jim Helms home near Lexington.

Henry Rowell made a trip to Hermiston and Stanfield Monday. He reports his mother, Mrs. Mike Rowell, in poor health.

The appearance of the O'Meara blacksmith shop and the Owl garage have been greatly improved by a coat of paint. The work was done by Bert Thornburg of Lexington and Peter Dufault of Heppner, using a spray brush.

A. E. Stefani has erected a platform near the Owl garage for the purpose of handling gasoline-filled barrels. Mr. Stefani is selling two grades of gas and seems to be doing a good business.

W. E. Ahalt has received word that his grandson, Arland, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ahalt of Kelso, is very ill and has been taken to a specialist at Bellingham for treatment.

Mrs. Frank Engelman is still very ill. She has been confined to her bed for a month.

Mrs. Ida Peterson, who over a month ago suffered a paralytic stroke, is now showing marked improvement in her condition.

Dwight Misner went to Portland on Thursday of last week, making the trip with his son-in-law, Holmes Gabbert, who was returning to the city from a trip into Idaho and Wyoming. Mrs. Inez V. Glaisyer of Coquille, associate grand conclave, O. E. S., was a week-end guest of Mrs. Bert Mason. Mrs. Glaisyer was also a guest a few days this week at the Dwight Misner home. Mrs. Mason accompanied Mrs. Glaisyer on her visits to the Eastern Star chapters at Hermiston and Umatilla. The grand officer will pay her official visit to Locust chapter on Thursday evening.

About twenty-five Odd Fellows were present at the regular meeting of the order Saturday night at their hall on Main street. Eight brothers were here from Heppner and one from Lexington. Refreshments were served following the lodge work.

Mrs. Frank Young enjoyed a week-end visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Meyers of Condon. The Meyers also visited with Mrs. Willard Farrens. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Meyers was a barber in Ione.

Matt Halvorsen has so far recovered from the injuries received when he was hit by an automobile as to be able to return to his ranch home. Johnny Eubanks is assisting him at present with the ranch work.

Mrs. Mildred Hynd of Hood River was doing permanent waving at the Farris Beauty parlor Wednesday. While here she was a guest of Mrs. Franklin Ely.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey McMullan of The Dalles were visiting in Ione the first of the week at the home of Mr. McMullan's mother, Mrs. Roy Brown.

Lovely and appetizing refreshments were served by the hostesses and each group reports an enjoyable time.

Mrs. Hilma Anderson was hostess to a group of her Heppner friends on Saturday for luncheon. The afternoon was spent playing bridge.

A "smelt feed" was the order of the day last Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Robison, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mr. Robison. The guests spent the evening playing pinocle.

The regular meeting of Rhea Creek Grange was held last Sunday. The meeting was small but lively. The agricultural committee gave an interesting but instructive talk on "Rodent Control." A knowledge of this subject will prove helpful especially at this time of the year. Mr. Smith told the Grange about the Cecil Co-operative store to be run by Willows Grange. Also he enumerated some of the benefits to be derived from being a Grange member. Some arrangements were made for the Pomona Grange which we are to entertain at Rhea creek April 1. Guests Sunday were Pomona Master Joe Devine and wife.

There will be a dance at Rhea Creek Grange hall next Saturday night, March 11. Good music will be furnished by the Gorger Brothers.

Tobacco Found Source Of Bad Tomato Disease

Score one for the anti-tobacco leagues. Though the "weed" in some forms of sprays is a boon to orchardists in controlling pests, science now says that tobacco is the most common source of ordinary tomato mosaic, an incurable, infectious disease common to Oregon plantings.

The Oregon State college experiment station, as well as several other stations throughout the country, has demonstrated conclusively in recent years that tobacco in any form, including chewing, or smoking, and mild toasted or raw, is a menace to tomato plants. Tomato and tobacco mosaic are, in fact, one and the same thing, and the virus will live in dried tobacco leaves for years. The user gets the virus on his fingers—an invisible trace is enough—and thence to a plant. Naturally, spitting is also a hazard—in a tomato patch.

Here is how infectious it is: If one pint of mosaic-diseased tomato plant juice were poured into a bucket mixed with 125,000 gallons of clean water, and a small flat glass rod were dipped into this mixture and gently rubbed on one leaf each of 100 young tomato plants, 80 out of the hundred would likely develop mosaic. Page Mr. Ripley!

These and other facts about tomato mosaic and streak—the latter a disease resulting from a combination of tomato and potato mosaic—are found in a new circular in formation by Dr. F. P. McWhorter, federal pathologist, and A. G. B. Bouquet, professor of vegetable crops, at the Oregon station.

One might conclude that control of such infectious diseases would be impossible, but such is not the case. The basis of control measures given in the circular is ex-

At Heppner CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST. JOEL R. BENTON, Minister. Mrs. J. O. Turner, Director of Music. Bible School 9:45 A. M. Morning Worship 11 o'clock Senior and Junior C. E. 6:20 o'clock Evening Worship 7:30 o'clock Choir rehearsal, Wed. at 7:30 P. M. Church Night, Thurs. at 7:30 P. M. Get That Lion!

"There is a lion in the way; a lion in the streets." Prov. 26-13. "A lion in the way." But do not run from him. Lion hunters say that one must never let the lion see that one is afraid of him; that one must never run from a lion. One must stand one's ground. One must indeed take the offensive.

There is a lion in the streets of the world this hour. The lion of "Everything is over." The lion of "It can't be done." The lion of "The whole world is going to the dogs." The lion of "fear." And this hour, no matter what streets we may take, we shall meet in some form, a raging, roaring lion!

"A lion in the streets." But never mind the lion. A man who was a rank failure for many years because he allowed his fears to dominate his life, because he had simply run out of self-confidence; finally managed to overcome his fears long enough to make a real start and won. And this man said: "Bank on your courage, not on your fears." Stonewall Jackson said, "Never take counsel of your fears."

And the reason for a world wide debacle just now is that the peoples of earth have taken counsel of their fears; they have lost faith and courage. Faith in God, and the courage that comes from that faith is what is needed in the world this hour!

God's Word to His people has always been, "Go Forward!" You whose names are on the rolls of Churches, take these few words to heart. Do not confine your activities these days to material things alone. If you can get to town on Monday or other week days, get to Church on the Lord's Day! When you meet the lion in the way, remember that Jesus told his followers to "have faith in God." Not the cowardice that sends us away to hide in a cave, but the real, Christian courage that will keep us on the job for Jesus as long as we are able to put one foot in front of the other! So, have faith in God; keep the altar fires of real Christianity burning in your hearts. Go to Church twice every Sunday. Participate in all the activities of your Church and "Get that lion!"

"I have no money to put in the plate," whines some one. Has anyone asked for money? No! The pity is that many times we do find money for other things, when we simply cannot find it for the support of the Gospel! And then we wonder why we meet the lion in the street! Get that lion out of the way and go forward!

Do you have a Church home? If not, we invite you to come and worship with us. Come and attend all the services of this warm, friendly Church. For the coming Lord's Day, the sermon topics are: For the morning service, "Measuring the Church." And for the evening service, "Hearing and Heeding God's Voice." The evening sermon is a proper sequel to the morning sermon. Attend both services and get the best out of them.

The other utilities bill of outstanding importance containing the Grange Power bill enabling act, passed both houses easily after it had been amended to make impossible the issuance of bonds until after the people had been given the right to vote upon them. It makes provision for setting up the necessary administrative machinery for carrying out the provisions of the bill voted by the people last November, but the legislature balked at taking the privilege of issuing the bonds which the people gave them the right to do at the same time. Under this act no bonds may even be submitted to the people for approval until after the project for which they are intended has been mapped out and its feasibility determined.

In line with the general retraining program in governmental expenditures, the house today passed House Bill 584, substitute for House Bill 3, known as the Gordon bill, which would compel all local taxing bodies to reduce their proposed expenditures for 1933 under the 1931 base. Those bodies which have already done this will not be affected by the measure if it is made law.

Further provisions for putting the unemployment relief program into effect were made this week by the passage of bills which will permit the unemployment relief commission and the governor to borrow such monies from the Reconstruction Finance corporation as are available to them, or so much thereof as may be needed.

The amended warehouse code and "Farm Storage" bill, both of which were successfully steered through the house by Representative Turner of Heppner, passed the senate today in slightly amended form and are ready for the governor's signature to become law.

The Morrow county salary bill, readjusting the salaries of county officers was signed by the governor Friday and under the emergency clause is now operative.

Gardening Becomes Popular. Canyon City—Grant county farmers will turn more attention to vegetable gardening than ever before this season, reports County Agent R. G. Johnson. A number of ranchers have already made arrangements to prepare and fertilize special new garden plots. Bliss Tripp's early potatoes are in demand here last season. The severe February weather was hard on live stock, but it brought enough snow to insure plenty of water for summer irrigation.

Hardman Cookery Club. The Kitchen Queens Cookery club held their regular meeting on Saturday morning, March 4. Last minute preparations and practice of the program for the mothers' tea held in the afternoon were completed. Cards and final reports were filed out.

Twenty-one guests were entertained by the club, including Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, county school superintendent, whose coming was a pleasant surprise. The program consisted of club songs, club yells, the club motto, the club pledge, a demonstration on how to make a vegetable salad by Deslie Bleakman and Muri Farrens. Presentation of the club charter and a certificate of award to last year's cooking club for being 100 per cent, was by Mrs. Rodgers. Each guest was presented with a flower in remembrance of the occasion. Pictures were taken of the group, also of the cookery club with their leader and Mrs. Rodgers. No definite date was set for our next meeting.—Lucille Farrens, reporter.

Bachelor Five Meet. The fifth meeting of the Bachelor's sewing club was held at the Rocky Bluff school house March 3. After a short business session, we enjoyed a social hour. All members and two visitors were present.—David Baker, reporter.

Jolly Sewing Girls. The Eight Jolly Sewing Girls gathered at their regular meeting Monday, but due to measles, several were absent, including the president, Ruth Crawford, yell leader, Maxine McCurdy, news reporter, Dorothy Howell and Dorothy Brady. It was decided to have a weinle roast for the social this month. The girls are progressing nicely with their work.—Eleanor Eubanks, sub-reporter.

LEGION POST OUT AFTER MEMBERS

Flag of Veteran Organization for Disabled Men Successful in Past Congress Session.

The American Legion's fight against drastic changes in veterans' legislation without first giving it careful study seems to be won at the past session of congress. Determined efforts to continue the drive against the disabled in the next session seem just as certain, and it is the consensus of opinion of Legion officials that all veterans should immediately come to the support of the Legion through their membership and present a solid front to maintain justice for the disabled.

The hearings of the Joint Committee on veterans legislation ended with spokesmen for the National Economy League back on the stand in a futile effort to answer the American Legion's strong case against unjust reduction in veterans' benefits. Stung by the Legion's charge that the Economy League had used statisticians to attack the present veterans' legislative structure without a single word of medical authority to support their claims, League officials promised to bring prominent doctors to Washington to testify for them. They produced no doctors, merely submitting a brief in rebuttal of the Legion's case.

Heppner post 87 of the American Legion is now actively campaigning to enroll every local world war veteran in the ranks of the Legion. State Commander "Jack" Eakin, in a letter to Loyal Parker, commander of the local post, urges that every effort be put forth to make the department of Oregon one of the first state departments to attain its 1933 quota of Legionnaires, and to assist the national organization in securing one million members by the middle of March.

With more than one-third of the total number of veterans who were enlisted in the military forces of the country during the war in the ranks of the Legion, this organization will have one of the most powerful influences in Washington during the coming sessions of the new congress which will convene shortly after the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt.

LEGISLATURE PASSES SALES TAX MEASURE

cut which contemplates a 20 per cent salary reduction. Of the many regulatory measures that have been proposed, the one meeting the hottest opposition was that of Judge Thomas, public utilities commissioner, that this week finally got by the house after passing the senate, in much amended form. In fact, those that supported the contentions of the commissioner asserted that "all the teeth had been taken from the bill." It does, however, give the commissioner partial budgetary control over the utilities and allows him other rights and privileges, which, in a "watered stock" and other alleged malpractices of utilities. Thomas made the contention that as amended the bill still leaves the burden of proof with the commissioner, whereas he most desired that this be placed on the utilities.
