SCHOOL CHILDREN ENJOY MAY EVENTS

Heppner Takes All Cups In Spelling and Field Contests Held Here.

MAYPOLE IS WOUND

County Unit O. S. T. A. Sponsors Events; Mitchells Honored For Spelling Feats.

Morrow county school children had their day in Heppner Monday when they competed in spelling contests, in track and field events, and enjoyed the winding of the Maypole under the auspices of the county unit Oregon State Teachers association. Though the weather was not the most favorable, causing arrival of the May to be celebrated within the gym-auditorium, the auditorium was packed for this part of the program, and a large assemblage of children and adults were present to participate in or to witness the other events.

It was an enjoyable day for all, but especially so for Heppner who took the lion's share of honors by gaining permanent possession of the Ione Old Fellows loving cup for winning the lower division spelling contest the third consecutive time; by winning the Lions club cup offered in the upper division spelling, and by taking the O. S. T. A. cup for the largest number of points scored in the track and field events—all the cups that were offered.

The cups, and ribbons to the individual winners in the spelling contests, were awarded by Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, county school superintendent, at the May exercises in the gym at the conclusion of the day's activities.

Signal recognition was given by Mrs. Rodgers to members of the Pat Mitchell family, one of whom won each year in the lower division spelling contest to give Heppner permanent possession of the cup. This year little Miss Kathleen Mitchell won in this division, while her brother, William Mitchell, who had won before in the lower division, this time placed first in the upper division; and in doing so, spelled every one of the 500 words correctly.

Ruth Crawford and Charlotte McCabe, both of Ione, placed second and third respectively in the upper division spelling, while Dorothy Howell, Ione, placed second, and Josephine Arbogast, Heppner, placed third in the lower division. Through error the lower division third place award was mistakenly announced Monday afternoon.

Judges in the spelling were Mrs. Ruth Mason, Mrs. Ruth Rietmann, Mrs. Edith Mathews, Ione; Mrs. Lena Kelly, Miss Ruth Dinges, Lexington; Mrs. Blanch Slocum, Lexington; Mrs. Harriet Gensler, Tualatin; Mrs. Velma Hutton, Mrs. Sara McNamee, Heppner. The committee in charge was Miss Juanita Leathers, Miss Gwendolyn Evans, Heppner; George Gillis, Lexington; and Mrs. Harriet Brown, Ione.

Track and field events beginning at 1 o'clock consisted of 100, and 75-yard dashes, running and standing broad jump, baseball throw, high jump and shot put, with the boys grouped according to age, grade and weight into groups ranging from A to F, with each group competing in a stated number of events on a point basis. Three classes of girls competed. By points the individual winners were:

Boys—Group A: Hugh Crawford, Heppner, 269; Fred Ritchie, Ione, 207; Clyde Pettyjohn, Ione, 197. Group B: Paul McCarty, Heppner, 224; Jack Healy, Pine City, 223; Lester Shaw, Lexington, 220. Group C: Keith Gentry, Lexington, 207; Richard Hayes, Heppner, 185; Milton Morgan, Heppner, 177. Group D: Hubert Albee, Heppner, 223; Alton Pettyjohn, Heppner, 221; Alvin Pettyjohn, Heppner, 207. Group E: Leonard Gilman, Heppner, 392; Riley Munkers, Heppner, 273; Kenneth Peck, Lexington, 198. Group F: Laurence Wright, Lexington, 347; Johnnie Hanna, Heppner, 304; Charles Cox, Heppner, 238.

Girls—Group A: Frances McCarty, Heppner, 142; Frances McRoberts, Heppner, 131; Mable Rauch, Pine City, 124. Group B: Florence Becket, Liberty, 162; Juanita Odum, Morgan, 150; Betty Bergevin, Ione, 126. Group C: Dorothy Brookhouser, Heppner, 175; Genevieve Hanna, Heppner, 170; Helen Cunningham, Heppner, 151.

Blue, red and white ribbons were awarded first, second and third place winners respectively in each group.

The Maypole exercises, with the dance in charge of Miss Juanita Leathers, began at 4 o'clock, with numbers by the Heppner school band and accompaniment to the dancing. Sixteen gaily dressed girls staged the dance and wound the Maypole in a charming manner. They were Kathryn Parker, Dora Bailey, Patty Cason, Alice Latourel, Genevieve Hanna, Dorothy Brookhouser, Betty Jean Robinson, Edna Faye Dulan, Juanita Phelps, Helen Cunningham, Georgia Martin, Marjorie McFerrin, Carol Coblant, Lois Coken, Beth Vance and Marjorie Coxen.

GOOD SAVING MADE IN CITY'S LIGHTING

Council Votes $10 to Earthquake Relief Fund; Annual Clean-up Day Coming Soon.

The city's light bill will be 26 percent less, and a sizeable refund that will take care of its payment for several months to come was obtained, as the result of a subsidiary agreement Monday evening between the city council and Pacific Power and Light company. The saving was made through installation of the new lighting system on Main street recently.

Councilmen, all of whom with the mayor were present, smilingly took the action, feeling that the street lighting arrangement had been bettered at a worthwhile saving.

All the councilmen were in a humor to make the vote unanimous for a contribution of $10 to the county's $40 Los Angeles earthquake relief quota asked by the Red Cross. The belief was expressed that Heppner had been delinquent in reciprocating the good response from Los Angeles at the time of the Heppner flood.

Arrangements were talked for staging the city's annual clean-up day, and were left in the hands of the mayor. While this event has usually been held in April, it was thought not out of line to hold it later this year due to the lateness of the season. The city will cooperate as in the past by hauling away free of charge rubbish in containers placed at street curbs, Mayor Anderson said he would make proclamation of the event in the near future.

A discussion was had of the meat peddler situation, and further business consisted of payment of current expense bills.

BUSINESS CHANGES TAKE LOCAL MEN

John W. Hiatt and Cole Madsen to La Grande on Stage Deal; Dix Assumes Store Ownership.

John W. Hiatt recently disposed of his interests in the Hiatt & Dix grocery to his partner, W. O. Dix, Cole Madsen, proprietor of the Heppner-Pendleton-Arlington stage line, took over the operation of the Wallowa Valley stages between La Grande and Joseph, Madsen retains the ownership of the local stage run, now being operated by Clair Cox.

Hiatt and Madsen recently negotiated the purchase of the Wallowa run from Carl Curteman, who also has stages running between Pendleton and Baker. Both the Heppner men are engaged on the new run, with Hiatt maintaining headquarters at La Grande and Madsen at Joseph.

They employ three buses on the new run, having transferred the one used locally and replaced it with one acquired on the new deal.

Mrs. Hiatt and Doris will remain at Heppner for a time, expecting to move to La Grande later. Mr. Hiatt bade adieu Monday to his friends in the Lions club, in which he has been an active worker, expressing regret that he was leaving Heppner, but hoping to be back often.

Mr. Dix did not expect there would be any change in the policy of his store as a result of the ownership change.

STUDENT OFFICERS ELECTED

Student affairs at Oregon State college passed into the hands of a new group of leaders with the installation of the officers who came out on top at the annual spring election. Those now holding the reins of student body government are: Fred Saling, Corvallis, president; Dorothy Ann Slinger, Portland, secretary; Kermit Linstedt, McKenzie Bridge, first vice-president; Virginia Cooper, Portland, second vice-president; Robert Rushing, Oakland, Cal., third vice-president.

The principal editorial positions, which are appointive, are now filled by Warren Reid, Corvallis, editor; Daily Barometer; Ralph Coleman, Eugene, editor of the Beaver; and Phil Brainerd, Grants Pass, editor of the Student Directory.

Newly elected class presidents are Albert Head, Portland, sophomores; Milton Campbell, Portland, juniors, and Everett Davis, Corvallis, seniors.

Mrs. W. J. Beamer, who attended the state convention of the Degree of Honor in Portland the past week, was made president of the order for the coming year. Mrs. Beamer has been the state secretary for the past two years and is now honored by being advanced to the head office. Mrs. Beamer was accompanied on her trip by her daughter, Irene, who attended the Christian Endeavor convention at Eugene as a delegate from the Endeavor society here. They returned home Tuesday morning.

For a good time be sure to attend the ANNUAL DANCE given by the Business and Professional Women's Club, ELKS TEMPLE, SATURDAY, MAY 6.

PIERCE AFTER HELP FOR INTERIOR ROAD

Lions Committee at Work To Obtain Money From National Relief Fund.

FAVOR 6-YEAR TERM

Discussion of Socratic League Proposal Honoring President's Day Brings Favorable Response.

Heppner Lions interested themselves Monday in obtaining further help in completing the Heppner-Spray road. J. O. Turner, district state representative, read a communication from Walter M. Pierce, U. S. representative in congress, in which Mr. Pierce said he was following a new lead that he hoped would be fruitful of results in getting additional government money for the road.

Appointed was a committee to meet with the county court yesterday and to write Governor Meyer concerning the chances of getting part of the county's share of the $50,000,000 unemployment relief fund expended on this road. Named on the committee were G. A. Bleakman, W. W. Smead, Al Rankin, S. E. Notson and J. O. Turner.

S. E. Notson made a further plea to hurry funds along to meet the county's $40 Red Cross earthquake relief quota. Strengthening the plea was an assertion from Charles Thomson that Los Angeles was the first to send relief to Heppner at the time of the Heppner flood, and that poor reciprocity had so far been shown.

Well received in the singing of cowboy songs were Robert Bots and Donald Heliker, the Ione Wranglers, who obliged with several numbers, Bots playing banjo accompaniment.

Earl W. Gordon led the main program discussion of the day, an anti-six-year presidential term, using material disseminated by the Socratic League of America for use in the celebration of President's Day, honored in conjunction with May Day and Child Health Day.

Majority sentiment of the club was shown to be in sympathy with the league's proposal that the presidential term be lengthened to six years with the restriction that the office could be held by one person for a single term only.

It was brought out that the present system puts a president under too great obligation to his party, the demands of which claim a large proportion of the time spent in office, and that he is busier serving the interests of his party than serving the interests of the nation.

Restriction to the serving of a single term and lengthening of the term, it was believed, would tend to put party interests into the background and give the president sufficient time to put into practice such policies as he might have for the welfare of the nation. It was pointed out that any man to reach the presidency must necessarily be the highest type of citizen, and that the present plan of tenure does not give him a fair opportunity to do the things which he might be able to do for the best interests of all.

5 Morrow County Boys Accepted for C. M. T. C.

Notice is hereby given that on the first day of May, 1933, John W. Hiatt and W. O. Dix, dissolved the partnership heretofore existing between them under the firm name of Hiatt and Dix, and that said W. O. Dix is the sole owner of the grocery store conducted by said partnership at Heppner, Oregon, and that said John W. Hiatt has severed all his connection with said partnership.

JOHN W. HIATT.
W. O. DIX.

AUXILIARY MEETS.

Mrs. Walter Moore and Mrs. E. F. Bloom were hostesses for the American Legion auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Moore Tuesday evening. Besides caring for the regular routine of business the members assisted Mrs. Chas. Smith, poppy chairman, in putting the name stickers on the poppies in readiness for the Poppy Day sale May 27. The next meeting of the unit will be at the home of Mrs. Hugh Snider.

PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with an established custom of the City of Heppner, Oregon, I, Gay M. Anderson, Mayor, do hereby proclaim Monday, May 15th, 1933, CLEAN-UP DAY IN HEPPNER, and urge all residents to cooperate with the said City so that we will be rid of all unsightly rubbish and the hazard and thereby add to the beauty of the City and the peace and happiness of the citizens. All trash, garbage and rubbish must be in sacks, boxes, barrels, or other substantial containers and placed at the street curb on or before that day and will be taken care of and hauled away by and at the expense of the City.

GAY M. ANDERSON, Mayor.
By order of the Common Council of Heppner, Oregon, and dated this 4th day of May, 1933.

TWO MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Harold Buhman and Andrew Baldwin Victims of Crash When Car Skids Into Pole.

Harold W. Buhman and Andrew Baldwin received painful, though not serious injuries, when the Buhman coupe crashed into a telephone pole on Elder street near the schoolhouse about midnight Monday night. George Mabey, in the seat with them, escaped with a slight cut on his lip while the car was badly damaged and the pole was severed from its base. Faulty car lights and the slippery street, due to the heavy rain of that day, were believed to have been the cause.

The three men walked from the wreck to the doctor's office where their injuries were treated. Buhman received a bad laceration of the scalp and bled profusely, besides body bruises. Baldwin, whose head was thrown through the windshield by the impact, was cut deeply in his lower lip, and lost his two upper front teeth when his mouth was thrown against a jagged piece of glass which remained in the lower part of the windshield after his head struck it. There is a chance that he may lose some of his other teeth, also, as a result.

Buhman, grade school principal, remained in the hospital Tuesday and returned to his room at Mrs. Mattie Huston's on Tuesday evening. Baldwin was relieved of driving his delivery wagon for a day by Frank Egan, and Mabey assumed his teaching duties at the school Tuesday as usual.

The men had been at the Baldwin home on K street playing ping pong, and had got into the car to drive down town. They were not sure whether it was their car lights or street lights which went out just as they reached the intersection turning on to Elder street toward the schoolhouse, but the whole town was in darkness shortly after. The poor visibility confused Buhman who was driving, and at the same time matters were complicated by the slippery condition of the street which caused the car to skid into the pole just in front of the residence occupied by the Wm. McRoberts family.

While painful, the injuries received will not prove serious, the doctor believes, and the young men are making good recovery. They are congratulating themselves that it wasn't more serious, while receiving the sympathies of their many friends.

Manuals Now Available To License Applicants

An indication of the great interest Oregon motorists are showing in the renewal of their drivers' licenses and in the savings accomplished by registration prior to June 9th, is the increasing demand for free copies of the Oregon Motorist's manual. Hundreds of requests are being received weekly by Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state, from renewal applicants who wish to study the questions and approved answers before taking the required examination.

Every possible effort is being made to simplify the procedure necessary under the existing law to obtain a renewal license. "After a study of the motorist's manual, the applicant should be able to complete the written quiz and the visual quiz tests in approximately 20 minutes. Driving tests are not required on renewals unless the applicant is 70 years of age, or older, or is physically impaired," Mr. Hoss points out.

Only five more weeks remain before the new motor vehicle laws become effective, at which time the drivers' license will sell for twice the present price. The fee under the new enactment will be $1, as against 50 cents now being charged. Motorists must have their licenses renewed, if issued to them prior to July 1, 1931, or forfeit their driving privileges. September 1st has been set as the deadline for the existence of these old-type licenses, according to the new law.

Those drivers wishing to study the questions and answers in the motorist's manual before taking the exams can obtain free copies of the booklet by writing directly to Secretary Hoss, calling at the county sheriff's office, the city hall, or at newspaper offices. Examiners' schedules, which show when and where the tests are given in the 60 individual cities and towns covered by traveling examiners, should be obtained when asking for a manual.

GRIST

From Happenings Here and Yon Concerning—

Rain Brings Hope A Patriotic Service Presidential Powers

and other things of more or less moment as seen by

The G. T. REPORTER

The long-hoped for rains have arrived in Morrow county, and a new lease on life has been taken, not only by the large amount of spring-sown grain necessitated by the general freeze-out last winter, but by the people as well.

Rain is not the only cause of a better feeling generally. Reports that eastern Oregon wool is being bought at as high as 17 cents a pound—in some instances double the amount received a year ago—has a heartening effect, with shearing just getting under way in this county. Accompanied by a strengthening of the lamb market, there is more reason for hopefulness.

Grain prices, too, remain firm at the highest level in two years. Contracting has been reported in neighborhood counties at 50 cents a bushel. With rains sufficient to boost the good start of spring grain, the heart of wheat farmers has started to throb once more.

It started to rain last week. In Heppner the rain descended for 24 hours last Friday and Saturday—a steady, soaking shower. It was not general over the north end. But there have been intermittent showers since, covering the county quite well; and no matter how bright and sunny the morning in Heppner, the common remark now is, "We're going to get some more today."

It's too bad that "what is one person's gain is another person's loss" must hold true in this instance. Some sheepsman of the Butte creek country lost freshly shorn sheep because of the rain. Their loss is regretted by friends and neighbors of this vicinity.

We are privileged to live in a great age. Who does not believe that, when by a mere twist of a knob or two he can have his president and other high officials of the nation sit down with him and tell him their ideas of government.

Whether or not one agrees with their ideas anyone who was privileged to hear Henry W. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, and Cordell Hull, secretary of state, in radio addresses this week, could not help but be impressed by the broad view they have of their tasks, and their depth of understanding of the problems confronting the nation.

They are not supermen. And, mayhap, neither are they more capable than their predecessors. But the fact that radio is bringing the men in high office ever closer to the people, so that the people may better know them and the things they hope to accomplish, surely marks a new era in national understanding and enlightenment.

The Washington Star, the broadcasting companies, and others responsible for such programs, are giving true patriotic service.

Not equaled in our national history, are the powers which have been delegated to President Roosevelt. This morning comes the news that the "inflation" bill which would give the president power to inflate currency by $6,000,000,000 if he deems it necessary; to decrease the value of the gold dollar as much as 50 percent, and to take unparalleled steps for farm relief; had passed the house of representatives.

Unless the president has had a complete change of heart in the last few weeks, he will use sparingly such powers as are given him for inflation. At no time has he favored reckless inflation. That assures larger confidence of the people.

CUT-OFF MEETING SET.

A business meeting of the Wallula-Umatilla Cut-off association has been set at the state line between Umatilla and Wallula next Sunday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock, according to notice received this week by H. B. Nolan, president, and R. R. Thrasher, secretary. The meeting is for the purpose of fixing a time and place, and to consider finances, appropriate ceremonies, and a far-flung publicity campaign for a grand opening of this new Oregon-Washington federal highway. The officers extend an invitation to Heppner to come with a delegation of live wires.

CLUB TO STUDY JAPAN.

The Heppner Womens club will have Japan as its topic of discussion next Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. O. Turner, beginning at 7:45. Papers scheduled include "Japan's Case," Mrs. F. W. Turner; "Romantic Japan," Mrs. A. Q. Thomson; "Japan and Korea," Mrs. Estey Asher; "Diaries of Court Ladies of Old Japan," Mrs. E. F. Bloom; "Japan in the World of Today," Mrs. Jeff Beamer. Japanese songs, poems and music will round out the program.

ANNUAL OPERETTA PLEASURES AUDIENCE

"Oh Doctor!" Draws Capacity Crowd Thursday Night; Music and Dancing Featured.

A capacity audience filled the auditorium at the school gym building Thursday evening to witness the presentation of "Oh Doctor!," the two act operetta presented by pupils of Heppner high school under direction of Miss Charlotte Woods, teacher of music. Assisting in the program were Miss Virginia Dix, piano, Miss Margaret Missildine, violin, and Miss Ruth Missildine, cello, and the instrumental work of the presentation was well sustained, the instrumentation adding greatly to the support of the vocal work of both soloists and choruses, and when summed up, the operetta can be said to be one of the best presentations the school has put before the Heppner public in many seasons.

Mrs. Harold Cohn had charge of the preparation of the ballet features, and these were especially striking. She was assisted in the direction of these dances by her sister, Mrs. Adelyn O'Shea. Each number called forth appreciative applause from the audience.

The cast was a large one and necessarily called for a lot of work on the part of those participating. The preparation had been a matter of serious attention in the music department for several weeks, and the performance was a fitting sequel to the time and labor of both director and actors. Leading parts were well sustained by Billie Cochell, Winifred Case, Matt Kenny and Anabel Turner, each of whom had much solo work; while Marvin Morgan, as the colored servant, Rainbow, and Francis Nickerson, the Mexican cowboy, Pancho, added to the comedy by well sustained effort. Frances Rugg and Rachel Anglin were "ideal" patients of the Doctors Slaughter and Coffin, represented by Anson Rugg and Gerald Cason. The costuming was good all around, adding to the force of the parts taken. The full cast is here presented:

Cast—Dr. Drinkwater, proprietor of Drinkwater sanatorium, Bill Cochell; Glory Drinkwater, Dr. Drinkwater's granddaughter, Winifred Case; Philip, young ranch owner, Matt Kenny; Honor, pretending to be Glory Drinkwater, Anabel Turner; Rainbow, colored servant at sanatorium, Marvin Morgan; Pancho, Mexican cowboy, Francis Nickerson; Mrs. Weakley and Mrs. Crossley, patients, Frances Rugg and Rachel Anglin; Dr. Slaughter and Dr. Coffin, doctors, Anson Rugg and Gerald Cason; Bob, Glory's fiancé, Bill Schwarz; Cynthia, his cousin, Jessiie French; Irene Kilkeny; Bessie, maid, Juanita Morgan; Old Finer and Jim, from Phillip's ranch, Raymond Drake and Reese Burkenbin; Manuel, Mexican rustler, Richard Benton.

Chorus of cowboys—Ernest Clark, Ray Coblant, Ronald Coblant, Marshall Fell and Donald Turner. Chorus of nurses and patients—Dorris Allstott, Margaret Farley, Myrtle Green, Margaret Nelson, Lydia Ulrich, Marie Barlow, Rosanna Farley, Katherine Healey, Kathryn Kelly, Esther Adams, Hazel Beymer, Jessie French, Ethyl Hughes, Della Ulrich, Margaret Sprinkel.

"Birth of Spring" ballet—Kathryn Parker, goddess; Dean Goodman, pilgrim; Dora Bailey, solo dancer. Nymphs: Louise Anderson, Juanita Phelps, Harriet Hager, June Anderson, Alice Latourel, Patty Cason, Marie Barlow, Della Ulrich, Hazel Beymer, Karla Cunningham, Elsie Crump, Rose Cunningham, Jessie French, Betty Hapgood.

"Morning Glory" chorus—Beth Vance, Virginia Swendig, Jeannette Blakey, Betty Hapgood, Rose Cunningham, Maud Bailey, Nina Cox, Frances McCarty. Spanish dancer, Adele Nickerson. Stage managers are Beatrice Thomson and Frank Anderson.

Butter Creek Sheepsman Suffer Heavy Losses

Cold rains the first of the week cost Butter Creek sheepsman an estimated 10,000 head of newly shorn sheep, according to reports reaching Heppner. Heaviest losses were sustained by Tom Boylen, Jr., and brother, Eugene Boylen, with latter reports placing the estimate of their losses upwards of 4000 head. Among other losers were Antone Vey, Mrs. Mary Pedro and Joseph Cunha.

The upper Butter creek section was the first to start shearing operations, and the cold rains coming after many sheep had just been shorn, caught them unprotected, causing them to pile up and smother to death. The experience is not a new one, according to J. G. Baratt, who recalled Monday that his father at one time lost $7,500 worth of sheep when the animals were caught in a storm in the mountains.

Charles H. Latourel drove to Bend yesterday by way of the Heppner-Spray road, expecting on the trip to catch a few big trout from the rivers of central Oregon.

Wanted—To hire, man and 12-up team; inquire at this office.

Nervousness of Egg City Lads Results in Costly Errors.

THOMSON HITS HARD

Two Three-Baggers Drive in Four Tallies; Massey and Teammates Play Air-Tight After 4th.

Condon	0	2	.000

LAST SUNDAY'S RESULTS:
Heppner 10 at Ione 5, Fossil 8 at Arlington 7, Blalock 9 at Condon 5.

Where the Teams Play Next Sunday: Condon at Heppner, Ione at Fossil, Arlington at Blalock. Heppner stepped into the half-way mark in percentage of Wheatland league team standings by defeating the Egg City lads at Ione Sunday, 10-5. Overanxiety on the part of some of Ione's hustling youngsters, who show plenty of promise, helped boost the Heppner score. On earned runs Heppner took the edge 6-3.

It looked like Ray Massey, Heppner chucker, was in for plenty of trouble as Ione touched him up for seven hits in the first four innings, which with loose support let in five Ione tallies, two in the second and three in the fourth, but from there on out he was found for only two scattered bingles and his teammates played errorless ball to shut out the Ionians.

"Gar" Swanson, who did the pitching for Ione up to the eighth, when he was relieved by Bill Whitson, did not get into much trouble of his own making. Some of the youngsters behind him just didn't have the confidence on easy chances and several times threw the ball away. When they get over their nervousness, Ione will make it tough on any of the other teams in the league. Whitson proved a little wild and three batsmen whom he walked crossed home plate.

Rod Thomson, batting clean-up for the locals, took good care of the place by lining out two three-baggers over the left field fence and driving in four runs. Heppner runs were scored one in the second, two in the third, one in the fourth, three in the seventh and three in the ninth.

Next Sunday Condon comes to Rodeo field to engage the locals, when another good game is anticipated.

FOREST WORKERS SELECTED

The ten Morrow county men to be used in the emergency forest work in this district were selected by the county court from the list of applicants yesterday. They are George L. Scarlet, Irrigon; Raymond L. Fletcher and Marquis S. Fenwick, Ione; and Basil Brookhouser, John McNamee, Joe Swendiger, Ralph Brendon, William Cunningham, Jr., Ray Massey and Ralph Forgy, all of Heppner. These men are expected to report to the
