COUNTRY'S HEROES CITED BY SEXTON

Memorial Day Speaker Greeted by Good Crowd At Morning Services.

GRAVES DECORATED

Legion Ceremonies Performed at Cemetery; Musical Numbers Feature Program.

That Heppner is appreciating from year to year the proper significance of Memorial Day, was manifested by the large gathering of the citizens of the community at Star theater Tuesday morning to hear the program sponsored by the members of Heppner Post No. 87, American Legion, and the Heppner unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. It was the largest gathering of the kind in this city for the memorial services to the war dead witnessed in many years, and the program presented was of high order.

Harold Sexton, sheriff of Wasco county and a past commander of the American Legion post at The Dalles, who was also district commander in 1925, was the speaker. He brought greetings from the Legionnaires and residents of Wasco county to the ex-service men and residents of Morrow county as introductory to his memorial address. Confining himself to manuscript, Mr. Sexton presented in a very able manner the significance of Memorial Day, setting forth the fact that it grew out of the services established in the South shortly after the Civil war, when women met to honor their soldier dead with proper ceremonies and decoration of graves; later becoming a national observance, the 30th day of May is now very generally observed the country over, though some states hold similar services on other days in the year. The custom has properly expanded until now the day is made to include the departed generally and not confined alone to the soldier dead. The speaker reviewed American history to considerable extent and paid deserved tribute to the heroes of all wars who had sacrificed blood and treasure that the ideals of this country might be established and perpetuated. To the American Legion, the largest ex-service organization in the history of the republic, he gave praise for their high ideals of patriotism and their service to their country in time of peace. The legion advocates peace, but not at any price, and they believe in the principle of preparedness and would apply the universal draft in any future wars the country might engage in, yet being ready at all times to accept such proposals and policies as would lead to the settlement of disputes between nations in an amicable and peaceful manner. The address of Mr. Sexton was well received and very attentively listened to.

The program opened with the singing of "America," led by the school band under direction of Harold Buhman. The band also furnished a number as the audience gathered. Invocation was by Joel R. Benton, pastor of the Christian church, and Francis Nickerson recited "In Flanders Fields" in an impressive manner. "Our Colors" was the presentation of the auxiliary sextet, composed of Coramae Ferguson, Mildred Snider, Georgia Moore, Hannah Jones, Barbara Benton and Faye Ferguson, with Virginia Turner at the piano. Mr. Sexton was then presented by Harry Tamblin, master of ceremonies, and following his address "Ave Maria" was played by Billy Wells as a violin solo. Mrs. Turner accompanying. The band leading, "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the audience and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Benton, closing the program at the theater. The concluding ceremonies of the day were at the cemetery, where appropriate rites were performed in honor of the departed soldiers and the graves of those buried in the Heppner city of the dead were decorated by the placing of flags and garlands of flowers.

Wins "League" Trip

Sidney H. Levy, 17, Buffalo, N. Y. high school student, is the winner of the 7th annual national contest on "The League of Nations". 8,000 students from 1,366 schools in 48 states competed. His reward is a trip to Geneva, Switzerland this summer.

SCHEDULE CHANGE REMOVES PAYROLL

Loss of $1500 a Month Anticipated By Switch from Night to Day Train: Slower Mail Result.

Effective tomorrow, June 2, the branch line train of the O.-W. R. & N. company will no longer tie up at Heppner, but arriving at 6:40 o'clock in the morning it will stay here an hour and twenty minutes until 8 o'clock when it will depart for Arlington.

The new schedule makes of Heppner Junction a whistling post, shifts the place of tie-up to Arlington, where train crews now residing here may be expected to move their homes, causing a removal of an approximate $1500 a month payroll from Heppner, according to information given out yesterday by C. Darbee, local agent.

Mr. Darbee did not know whether the change was contemplated as being temporary or permanent, but gave the schedule as follows: Leave Arlington 4:00 a. m., arrive Heppner 6:40 a. m.; leave Heppner 8:00 a. m., arrive Arlington 11:30 a. m. The service will be daily except Monday, when mail service only will be had by means of truck as has been the case on Sundays for some time past.

The change in schedule gives Heppner daylight train connection with the main line instead of night connection as in the past.

Mr. Darbee was not in a position to say why the change was made. From reactions heard locally, there appears to have been no demand for the new schedule from local shippers or business interests, and considerable agitation has been heard to petition the company to reinstate the old schedule.

The principal objection voiced locally is that service on mail orders out of Portland will be lengthened from 24 to 48 hours by the change.

IONE

By MARGARET BLAKE

Memorial Day was fittingly observed by the American Legion Post No. 95 and its Auxiliary with a program given at the Legion hall. Members of both organizations marched in behind the flag. After the flag salute, Lee Beckner, commander of Ione post, spoke a few words regarding the organization of Memorial Day and its observance, followed by union singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and invocation by Rev. Benton. Mrs. Cleo Drake and Mrs. Earl Blake played a piano duet. Mrs. O. G. Hagwood gave a musical reading, "War Rosary," and Eugene Normoye sang "In Flanders Fields." Rev. Joel Benton gave a forceful address in keeping with the occasion. A song, "Poppies Carry On," sung by Eugene Normoye and Mildred Lundell, was followed by a "minute of silence" in memory of those who have made the supreme sacrifice in past wars and all others who have served their country and have since received their last call. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Benton.

The pot luck supper, program and business meeting of Willows Grange last Saturday evening was well attended by members, visitors, Grangers and other folks from nearby communities. If "old man" Depression got even one peek at the supper table we are sure his nose was out of joint at what he saw. It was a disappointment to all that Prof. Hyslop and a group of "Ag" students were unable to meet with Willows Grange on that evening as had been planned. Other speakers were secured, however, and a very interesting program given. Several musical numbers and readings were given. Henry Ott, president, and Sidney Barnard, manager, of the Farm Bureau Co-op at Hermiston gave interesting and instructive talks regarding the cooperative work and plans and suggestions for helping farmers to help themselves. There were also good talks by Bert Johnson of the Lexington and C. W. Smith of the Rhea Creek Grange. Miss Edna Lindstrom was chosen as alternate delegate to the meeting of the State Grange at Pendleton June 13 to 16. It is hoped that many members will take advantage of this opportunity which will be conferred at this time on those eligible and desiring to receive the degree. Both it and the Fifth degree (for those who have not taken it at Pomona Grange) will be given at Happy Canyon.

The Lexington Grange degree team attended and exemplified the first and second degrees very effectively, to a class of five candidates.

Henry Rowell motored to Hermiston Sunday to bring home his wife who has been visiting there and his sister-in-law, Miss Hazel Frank, who has completed her year's work at the Adventist school in that city. Going over with him were Mrs. Harvey Ring and children who will visit with Mrs. Ring's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rowell, at Stanfield for two weeks.

Mrs. Willard Blake, Mrs. Peter Timm and Ted Blake were business visitors to Pendleton last Wednesday.

Mrs. Elmer Griffith was a Portland-bound passenger Tuesday evening.

Miss Bethal Blake and Ted Blake motored to Grand Valley on Friday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W.

ALDRICH FORSEES SPRAY ROAD HELP

Commissioner's Visit Told Lions; New Relief Money Expected.

DO MEMORIAL WORK

Plaques Replaced at Wells Springs Cemetery; District Officers Compliment Club's Work.

A new avenue of hope for completion of the Heppner-Spray road was reported to the Lions club Monday by S. E. Notson, as the result of a visit to the road last Thursday by E. B. Aldrich, eastern Oregon's state highway commissioner.

Mr. Notson gave it as the word of Mr. Aldrich that the state highway commission has the Heppner-Spray road on its list of proposed projects to be aided from Oregon's more than $6,000,000 part of additional relief money now being considered by congress, which there appears good evidence that it will be sanctioned.

The highway commissioner and Judge G. L. Sweek came over from Pendleton and were accompanied on an inspection trip of the road by members of the Morrow county court and other interested persons from here.

The uncompleted gap of six miles between Hardman and the mouth of Chapin creek on this road will require the expenditure of some $60,000, according to engineers' estimates cited by Mr. Notson. Completing the Cold Springs-Hermiston highway in Umatilla county and linking up with the Lexington-Jarmon road, which in turn connects with the Oregon-Washington highway and the Heppner-Spray road on an almost direct route is expected also as a part of the new emergency work. Mr. Notson said Mr. Aldrich believed.

Spencer Crawford, president, reported a special meeting of the club Saturday for the purpose of entertaining Ed Shea, district governor, and O. F. Tate, district secretary of the Lions International. District officers complimented the local club on its good progress in the face of discouraging times.

Reporting for a work crew that visited the Wells Springs cemetery last Friday, George Bleakman told of getting the memorial plaques in place on the monument erected by Sarah Childress chapter, D. A. R., of Dallas, and the Wasco County Pioneers association in honor of Col. Cornelius Gilliam, marking the spot of his accidental death while engaged in the Indian wars of 1848, and dedicated to Old Oregon Trail emigrants, a few of whom lie in unmarked graves in the cemetery.

Earl Gilliam had charge of putting the plaques in place on the stone monument, setting the screws in lead, thus fastening them in a substantial manner.

Under election of officers, the club named the following leaders for the ensuing year: President, A. D. McMurdo; first vice-president, Chas. Thomson; second vice-president, W. W. Smead; secretary, M. L. Case; lion tamer, Earl Eskelson; tail twister; C. J. D. Bauman; directors, Spencer Crawford, John Anglin.

Mountain Camp Started For Local Boy Scouts

A mountain encampment for the Boy Scouts of Heppner was established this week at the "sawtooth" up Willow creek by ten members of the Rover patrol in charge of Frank Nickerson, sponsored by the Lions club. The camp will be available for use of any Scouts of Heppner during the summer, it being the intention of some of the boys to spend most of the summer there.

Merchants of the city and sheepmen, who donated food supplies sufficient to last the boys at least ten days, and Frank Wilkinson, upon whose land the camp is situated, have the hearty thanks of the ten boys who went up to establish the camp. Their daily camp program follows: First call, everybody up police call; breakfast; Scout work and camp improvement; dinner; merit badge work; hikes, etc.; recreation; supper. The camp is organized along semi-military lines, with one of the older boys in charge each day of the discipline and camp routine. It is expected dedication ceremonies for the camp will be held in the near future.

PALMER AWARDS RECEIVED.

Palmer awards in penmanship for pupils qualifying in the third grade, received after the close of school Friday, were given out the first of the week by Miss Audrey Beymer, teacher. The buttons were earned by the following: Jackson Cantwell, Patricia Cantwell, John Skuzeski, Elizabeth Healy, Donald Wehmer, Frances Egan, Richard Cash, Claude Drake, Oia Hiatt, Birdie Vance, Calvin Crawford.

Mrs. Harold Sexton and Mrs. Will Doud of The Dalles accompanied Mr. Sexton to Heppner Tuesday for the Memorial exercises at which Mr. Sexton was speaker. During their stay in Heppner they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Smith.

GRIST

The New Schedule Road May Help A Revelation

FOSSIL KEEPS LEAD BY BEATING LOCALS

That, in effect, has been the attitude of the railroads for years. The railroad system, cumbersome and unwieldy, has not lent itself to advancement in demands for more rapid communication and transportation. Hence the advent of truck and bus facilities as a thorn to dig deeply into the side of railroads.

Now comes announcement of a schedule change for Heppner. In place of giving better service; helping in the upbuilding of the community, the new schedule makes the local branch line less serviceable; withdraws it further from the picture of community advancement.

Heppner people are alarmed at the removal of a $1500 a month payroll which will go to Arlington as a result of the schedule change. There was a time, when the railroads were the only means of transporting the products of the country, that such a loss would have been actual. Such is not now the case.

The new schedule is an effect, not a cause. Oregon is supporting two expensive transportation systems, the services of both of which are not needed. The one which serves best at least cost is the one that will get the business.

There will be no less transportation business from and to Heppner because of the less serviceable schedule. Present growing prospects and price indications mean that the transportation business will be better.

By working for higher taxes on trucks, the railroads have helped to fatten purses of favorably situated motor carriers who will further benefit by such schedules as that announced for Heppner.

District Rebekah Meet Holds Sessions Here

The thirteenth annual convention of the Rebekah lodges of district No. 25 was held in the I. O. O. F. hall at Heppner Saturday, May 27, at 1:30. The meeting was called to order by San Souci lodge No. 33, following which the meeting was turned over to the convention officers, with Sadie Sigbee as presiding officer.

After the regular business routine, Hattie Wightman, grand chaplain, Charlotte Gordon and Edith Matthews, district deputy presidents, were introduced and welcomed. Owing to illness, our President, Esther Bond, was unable to attend.

The address of welcome was given by Lillian Turner of San Souci lodge, and the response by Oia Ward of Holy. Reports of the various lodges were read and a standing count showed the following members present: San Souci 32, Holy 11, Bunchgrass 24, Mistletoe 2. Invitations were extended and accepted to meet at Lexington next year and at Ione in 1935.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Chairman, Oia Ward; vice chairman, Etta Howell; secretary, Emma Peck.

A very interesting paper, "Value of Fraternal Visits," was given by Edith Matthews of Bunchgrass.

A few moments of silent prayer were held in memory of our departed sister, Lucy Harbison of Sapphire 153.

During the intermission following the members were entertained with a vocal solo by Ellis Thomson and a piano solo by Miss Virginia Dix.

A bounteous banquet, enjoyed by all, was served at 8:30, with Lucy Rodgers acting as toastmistress and Lillian Turner as song leader.

The evening session was opened by a humorous playlet, "Courtin'," given by Vida Eubanks and Rose Fletcher of Bunchgrass, and a vocal solo by Trina Parker.

The degree work was then exemplified by Bunchgrass lodge in a very beautiful manner.

Hattie Wightman, grand chaplain, was presented with an appropriate gift, and Mabel Chaffee of San Souci, who labored so faithfully in planning and decorating the Morrow county float for the Assembly parade at Pendleton on May 17, was remembered by the convention with a gift. The Morrow county float won the first prize, which was a beautiful loving cup given by Eureka lodge No. 32. This cup is to be shared by the various lodges in the county.

The new officers were seated, after which a quartet, composed of Lillian Turner, Lucy Rodgers, Tracy Parker and Trina Parker, gave two pleasing numbers. The convention was then closed in due form.

Bad Fifth Inning Helps Increase Margin in 11-7 Score.

IONE UPSETS DOPE

Arlington Defeated 4-3 by Cellar Gang; Condon Also Breaks Into Winning Column First Time.

Heppner failed in its attempt to unseat the Wheatland league leaders of Fossil town Sunday, and as a result there appears no change in the order of team standings. Fossil's 11-7 win was largely the result of a bad fifth inning for Heppner, when five hits and a bunch of errors led in six of the paleozoic plantations.

Ione and Condon broke into the winning column for the first time this season, Ione especially upsetting the dope bucket by taking its game from Arlington, 4-3. Condon dropped Blalock, 13-9.

It looked at the start like it was going to be a big day for Heppner, when Kelsey was touched up for a flock of hits and a couple of runs in the first inning. But before things had gone too far for Mr. Kelsey, he was removed and Littleton succeeded to the mound for the remainder of the game. Another run in the fourth, two in the eighth and two in the ninth completes the record of Heppner tallies.

Fossil evened up the score in its half of the first, came through with another in the third, which with the six in the fifth and two in the sixth gave them their total of eleven.

Roy Gentry replaced Massey on the mound for Heppner in the seventh inning and allowed but one hit. Harold Gentry and Rod Thomson had a large day with the stick, each connecting for three safe singles, Gentry in five and Thomson in four trips at bat.

It is understood the game was the first to be witnessed by the Fossil umpire since the last one in which he played with the Neanderthals against the Pliokdowners in 550,000 B. C. It will be remembered that the Neanderthals won that memorable game as all the Pliokdowners' backs were broken getting out of the way of balls which the Neanderthal umpire called strikes.

Heppner plays at Arlington next Sunday.

We have only the batting record of Sunday's game, as follows:

TOO MUCH EAGLES HEPPNER UNDOING

Blue Mountain Bucks' Pitching Ace Lets Locals Down 9-7; Bad Third Inning Hurts.

PLEA FOR LOYALTY GIVEN GRADUATES

Heppner's Wheatland leaguers invaded the camp of the Pendleton Bucks, Blue Mountain league leaders, on Memorial Day to be repulsed 9-7. The story is mainly told by "too much Eagles."

In this game as in the Fossil game Sunday, Heppner stepped out with a two run lead in the first inning and made things so hot for Pitcher Troyer that he was removed and Eagles, ace of the Bucks, put in his place. Eagles kept well out of trouble with the exception of a scratch run in the 3rd, another in the ninth, and three in the seventh when his teammates pulled the sky-rocket act, permitting the Heppnerians to run wild on the bases.

Heppner had a bad third inning when two hits, a walk, and three errors permitted four Bucks to cross the platter. They worked in two more each in the fourth and fifth, and one in the sixth inning. Roy Gentry relieved Massey on the mound in the seventh and was found for one lone hit.

Box score and summary:

HEPPNER	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Akers, m-2	6	0	0	1	0	0
H. Gentry, s	5	1	3	1	3	1
Robertson, c	4	1	4	1	1	1

Hayes, r-m	3	2	2	1	0	0
Massey, p-r	5	0	1	5	0	0
Totals	39	7	11	24	12	6

Earned runs, Heppner 4, Pendleton 4; first base on balls off Massey 1, off Eagles 5; left on bases, Heppner 13, Pendleton 5; wild pitch Eagles; first base on errors, Heppner 4, Pendleton 4; two base hit Thomson; struck out by Massey 4, by Eagles 12. Umpires, Worthington and Bill Massey; scorer, A. Kelly.

LEXINGTON

By EULAH B. NICHOLS

The degree team of Lexington Grange went to Cecil Saturday night and exemplified the first and second degrees to a class of five at the meeting of Willows Grange. Those going down were Clarence Bauman, master; John Miller, overseer; Bernice Bauman, lecturer; Mrs. E. A. Kelly, chaplain; Lawrence Beach, steward; Clara Nelson, Flora; Ellen Nelson, Pomona; Helen Smouse, Ceres; Kenneth Smouse, assistant steward; Eulah Nichols, lady assistant steward; Alta Cutsforth, Mrs. Elsie Beach; Mrs. Lawrence Beach, E. A. Kelly, Harvey Miller and Norma Nelson.

Little June Van Winkle who has been very ill with pneumonia at the home of Earl Eskelson in Heppner was sufficiently recovered as to be able to return home with her mother the first of the week.

A large delegation of Lexington Rebekahs attended the county Rebekah convention at Heppner Saturday afternoon and evening.

Miss Gwen Evans, accompanied by Miss Ruth Dinges, motored to Portland Tuesday. They will remain until Sunday when they will go on to Corvallis where they will attend the commencement exercises at Oregon State college.

Miss Emma Duvall who has been teaching at Rufus during the past school year came in on the train Sunday morning. She will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duvall, at their ranch on Blackhorse.

Marion Palmer is ill at his home in Sand Hollow.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Helms of Pendleton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hunt.

Following the morning service at the Church of Christ next Sunday, the school and audience will repair with their baskets to the grove at the Reaney ranch, where a basket dinner and picnic will be enjoyed. This picnic is given in special honor of the young people's class who won all honors in the recent contest. An invitation is extended to all friends of the church and school to bring your baskets and join in this pleasant occasion.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lexington Home Economics club will be held Thursday afternoon, June 8, at the home of Mrs. Frank Saling. All members are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. George Broadley motored to Farmington, Wash., Friday, taking Mrs. Broadley's sister, Mrs. Roy Leonard and her daughter Carol to their home there. The Broadleys returned home Saturday evening.

In attendance at the Eastern Oregon Missionary convention last Friday at Hermiston were Mrs. J. E. Gentry, Mrs. Sara White, Mr. and Mrs. Sias and Miss Glea Sias.

Mrs. Claude Sigbee and children who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burchell for several weeks left Monday with Mr. Sigbee for indictment.

GIRL AWARDED CUP

June Anderson Picked as Outstanding in Scholarship, Leadership and Character.

A plea for loyalty to oneself and to society marked the address of Rev. M. G. Tennyson to the graduating class of 1933, Heppner high school, before a capacity audience in the school gym-auditorium last Thursday evening.

A few minutes before members of the class passed down the aisle under a canopy of flowers, the arched passageway being formed by arches of flowers in the hands of undergraduate girls, to take their places upon the platform to the strains of Williams' processional march from the piano played by Miss Marjorie Parker.

Rev. Glen P. White delivered the invocation, and the girls' chorus, led by Miss Charlotte Woods, sang "Edin Dance" by Grieg. Then came Rev. Tennyson's inspiring address, followed by the singing of "In Luxembourg's Gardens," Manning, by Miss Winifred Case.

An air of expectancy grasped the audience as Garnet Barratt, member of the class of '18, arose to present the Norton Winnard memorial cup. Recipient of the award, given in recognition of the high scholastic and leadership attainments, as well as high moral character of the honored member of the class of '18, is not made known till the time of presentation to some member of the class who a specially qualified committee selects each year from the graduating class as reflecting in a large degree like attainments and characteristics.

This year the award went to Miss June Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gay M. Anderson, whom Mr. Barratt complimented in well chosen words after explaining the significance of the award and paying tribute to his former classmate, commemorated in the award.

The class was next presented and recommended for graduation by Edward F. Bloom, superintendent, with the presentation of diplomas by Chas. Thomson, chairman of the board of education, following. Diplomas were presented to the following:

Esher Agnes Adams, Jessie June Anderson, John William Beckett, Hazel Irene Beymer, Viola May Brown, Winifred H. Case, Gladys H. Cason, Lyle Cowdrey, Doris Margherita Cox, Annie E. Crump, Eulah Alma Eskelson, Jimmie Furlong, Edmond E. Gonty, Herman J. Green, Tom Holtman, Edna Jones, Marcel Jones, Wrex E. Langdon, Kathryn McLaughlin, Charles E. McMurdo, Caroline H. Moyer, Beatrice B. Mottson.

Rev. Mr. White delivered the benediction.

Man's course through civilization has determined certain factors of behaviorism, the adherence to which leads to progress, and the disregard of which leads to disintegration and decay. These factors make up the moral fabric of our present society, and are recognized by the individual. They point to the line of duty, and loyalty to oneself and to society is the fulfillment of the individual duty and a guarantee of the future stability of civilization. This reasoned the Rev. Mr. Tennyson in his plea for loyalty.

Commencement implies the beginning of life for the graduate in the business world, said the speaker. In reality there is no commencement. Each day in the life of an individual is like every other day, each offering opportunity for new conquests, new discoveries and new accomplishments. Some there will be, who will map out their life's course, taking advantage of every new day to strive further toward their ideals; others, like the butterfly, will sip a little nectar here and a little there, flitting through life without a serious concept of its meaning.

The speaker pointed to the church as the bulwark of society, asking that it be not condemned because of the hypocrites within its gates. There are hypocrites within and without the church. They may be found everywhere in human society. Truth and honesty are needed on every hand, but the speaker asked the class not to look to this course to lead them to monetary reward.

DEER SEEN NEAR LEX.

It's not unusual to see deer in Morrow county, but when they get as far out of the beaten track as to be seen in the dry hills as far north as lower Blackhorse, that's news. Clark Davis brings the news to town today that he saw two doe deer within 50 feet of his barn, on the home place in lower Blackhorse Tuesday evening. On jumping them they ran back up the flat. No reason could be given for their being there, for as a usual thing they do not get far out of the timber and it is some 20 miles from the Davis place to the timber. George Broadley was in town with Mr. Davis.
