

Local Happenings

Calling on Heppner friends for a short time on the fourth were Mrs. D. V. S. Reid, daughters Miss Ethel Reid and Mrs. Lenna Brock, and granddaughter Eloise Brock, who were on their way home to Portland from a visit at Milton. Former Heppner residents when Mr. Reid was principal and the Misses Reid were teachers in the Heppner school for a number of years, the visitors have many warm friends here whom they had not seen for many years and the visit was greatly enjoyed. Both Miss Reid and Mrs. Brock now hold positions in the Portland city schools.

D. B. Stalter, president of Heppner Mining company, is leaving today for the Mayflower diggings of the company in the Greenhorn mountains near Austin. High up in the mountains where the mine is located, the season is short, and deep snows the last winter delayed the starting of operations longer than usual. Dan is optimistic over prospects of a successful season, however.

A group of Heppnerites who enjoyed an over-the-fourth outing at Blue Mountain Springs included Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cash and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bartlett and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ferguson and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Gemmill and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cohn and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Crawford and children and Jap Crawford enjoyed an over the Fourth motor trip to Government Camp on the Mt. Hood loop, and to Portland. At the camp they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holcomb, Mr. Holcomb being superintendent of road construction on the loop and Wapinitia cut-off highways.

Miss Lillie Allinger of Ione was in the city yesterday on business connected with the liquidation of the Farmers & Stockgrowers National bank of which she was cashier.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore and children and Harry Duncan joined the family of Judge C. L. Sweek of Pendleton for a picnic at Lehman Springs on the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gault motored to Portland the end of the week, returning Tuesday by way of central Oregon and the Heppner-Spray road. They report an enjoyable trip, and Mr. Gault, receiver for the local banks, was favorably impressed with the country through which the Spray road passes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anglin and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark enjoyed a vacation trip over the Fourth which took them to the water regatta at Vancouver, Wash. On the way home they picked up Miss Rachel Anglin who had been visiting for a time at the home of a friend near Hood River.

Besides pitching ball with the Eagles team in the Portland city league, Bob Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Turner of this city, recently opened a brokerage business in the city. He is also agent for the States Steamship company. In a recent ball game he pitched a shut-out.

Miss Esther Adams, graduate of Heppner high school with the class of '33 who has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kinne, has gone to Billings, Mont., where she expects to enter normal school in the fall.

Kate J. Young lodge, Degree of Honor Protective association, meets Tuesday, July 11, at 8 o'clock in Odd Fellows hall. The Sunshine group of juveniles meets at 3:30 in the afternoon. Clara Beamer, sec.

Dr. A. B. McMurdo is attending a medical association meeting at Vancouver, B. C. this week, and Dr. J. P. Russell of Portland is attending to his practice during his absence.

J. W. Beymer, former president of Farmers & Stockgrowers National bank of this city, was over from his home near Monument yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barlow and family motored to Portland Saturday for a visit at the home of Mrs. Barlow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Akers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor and son were in Portland on the 4th and enjoyed a visit to the U. S. cruiser Augusta in the docks there.

Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, county school superintendent, returned on Wednesday after a visit of several days in Spokane.

J. W. Crenth, formerly associated with the Bank of Kenton, Portland, was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Buy from your Watkins dealer. His is a home-owned business which gives you splendid values. See last page. It.

Lotus Robison was a business visitor in the city yesterday from the farm home in the Hardman vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skuzeski and children enjoyed a trip to Portland during the Fourth vacation period.

Miss Lucille McDuffee, deputy in the office of Sheriff Bauman, is now taking her summer vacation.

Fred Mankin, extensive wheat raiser of Ione, was transacting business in the city yesterday.

Dr. J. H. McCrady motored to the home of his folks in Cle Elum, Wash., for the Fourth.

M. L. Morgan and E. R. Lundell were Ione business men in the city yesterday on business.

Over the Fourth visitors in Portland were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ferguson and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kinne and son Dicky motored to Goldendale, Wn., for the Fourth.

BOARDMAN

By RACHEL J. BARLOW

Interesting meetings were held at the Pomona grange meeting at Boardman last Saturday. The ladies of the grange served a lovely dinner to 150 people at noon and lunch to a smaller crowd in the evening. In the afternoon the following program was given: The Little Patriot March by Greenfield grange, drilled by Mrs. M. L. Morgan; talk on cooperation by Mr. Penny of Hermiston; talk on automobile tax by J. O. Turner of Heppner; solo by Harvey Miller of Lexington grange; and talk by Prof. Chambers of Oregon State college.

Mrs. H. E. Waite spent the week end in Portland.

Edward Compton is in Los Angeles where he is working in a parking station.

Mike Gorham and two children from Council Bluffs, Iowa, are here visiting with the former's brother, J. F. Gorham. Mike Gorham is an engine dispatcher on the Union Pacific.

The Lee Mead family of Arlington spent the Fourth with friends in Boardman.

Miss Janet Gorham returned home Sunday after a pleasant visit in Kennewick and Pasco.

Glen Hadley returned home Friday from shearing sheep in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Graves and family spent Sunday in Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Nate Macomber and daughter spent the week end Monday and Tuesday at Pilot Rock and Lehman Springs.

Bill LaLonde returned to Boardman Wednesday evening and took his wife and baby back to The Dalles with him, where he is working.

Glen Mackan has purchased a Chevrolet truck.

Miss Viola Lind and Ben Wole of Portland were guests at the I. Skoubo home Sunday when on their way to Spokane. Miss Lind is a niece of Mr. Skoubo.

Mr. and Mrs. John Graves and family spent Thursday and Friday in Boardman at the Ward Graves home.

Cooperatives Make Gains During Four-Year Period

Oregon now has 178 cooperative marketing or purchasing organizations operating within the state, according to a new directory of such organizations compiled by George O. Gatlin, extension marketing specialist at Oregon State college. This is a gain of 52 since the previous directory was issued four years ago.

All but 12 of the organizations are strictly Oregon associations, the remainder being out-of-state associations doing business in this state. Gatlin reports that Oregon ranks high in the percentage of associations that are incorporated and in the uniformity and soundness of the organization setups. This is made possible, in part, he says, because of the exceptionally favorable cooperative laws that have been built up here through some 23 years and which are unexcelled in the entire United States.

Although there are 175 separate organizations, 65 or more of these are associated together in federations or central sales groups which tend to promote greater strength and unity. Fruit and vegetable marketing associations lead all others in total numbers, according to the new directory which classifies the cooperatives in 18 groups. There are 11 general purchasing organizations and six dealing exclusively in oil and gasoline.

A new setup for federal financing of cooperatives is now in force under the new federal farm credit administration which decentralizes this type of financial service, Gatlin reports. Loans to cooperatives will now be made through 12 regional cooperative credit banks, the one for this region being in Spokane.

Oregon cooperatives have been largely self-financing and now owe only about $285,000 to the credit administration, a policy that might well be continued even under the new and more favorable loan arrangements, Gatlin believes. Outside entangling financial alliances frequently lead to outside control, he says, while Oregon cooperatives are stronger for their position of home ownership and control.

New Mid-Western Trade Route to the Sea

A new trade route has been opened to 22 mid-western states. It is the Great Lakes-Gulf of Mexico waterway now open to barge commerce, — the fulfillment of an inland dream of many years. Above is pictured the first barge shipments crossing the official ship, USS Wilmette (background) at Michigan-Link Bridge, Chicago, and inaugurating the first ocean to Lake Michigan shipments. It is said that twenty-two states in the Mississippi valley are to enjoy a revision of shipping rates from this new trade route.

land Tuesday, accompanied by Miss Lila Bartholomew who will remain for a few days.

Miss Margaret Howard who has been visiting relatives in Portland the past month has returned home.

A great many people on Butter creek have their first crop of hay already cut and stacked, others are now cutting. There will undoubtedly be a shortage of hay on Butter creek this year as so much of the alfalfa was killed, only a small percentage of which was reseeded. Those who seeded alfalfa will be about the only ones to have any second crop.

Guy Moore is visiting his sister, Mrs. Ralph Scott, near Heppner. Mrs. Neil Knighton, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Nora Moore, is also at Mr. and Mrs. Scott's.

Nothing does so much for so little as your telephone

A telephone serves every member of the family

Mother, with her household errands and messages. The young people, with their school activities. Father, keeping in touch with work and business opportunity. A single emergency of fire, illness, accident, may make it worth more than it costs in a lifetime. At any time the ring of its bell may be all-important. A telephone costs but a few cents a day.

A TONSORIAL TALK

I have been a patron of the barber shop for over fifty years. I am one of the best friends the barber has. That's why I am so much interested in the very best for both operator and customer, in this important field.

I may have mentioned in this column before—that I knew a clergyman with the finest "suit" of hair I ever saw; he would not permit a barber's brush or comb to touch his scalp—for fear of some sort of carried infection. The more I think of it, the more I feel that the preacher was right.

Now I am uncomfortably bald. My more than three-score and ten years may account for it—but I wish I could have kept that hair! Many a barber's brush has showered down on my scalp whatever was in the instrument. Let me repeat: the barber's hair brush should be kept immersed in a good bowl of antiseptic solution.

Not only that; but barbers should be zealously guarded in their own personal health and condition of blood. In these days of rapid transit and mixed customers, too much care cannot be exercised by men who have such varied contacts as barbers have. I don't like to have a workman shave me who has a crop of ugly lesions on his face—and certainly not on his hands!

It would make me leap for joy to see a sign hanging in my barber shop, "ALL OPERATIVES HERE HAVE NEGATIVE BLOOD TESTS." It ought to be the finest of drawing-cards for a public bar-

Garden Peas Rich Source Of Food Elements, Said

Green peas, now abundant in many parts of Oregon, are rich in all of the vitamins known to be needed in the adult diet, according to Miss Lucy A. Case, extension specialist in nutrition at Oregon State college. In addition, they contain more of the body building substance called protein than most vegetables, particularly when dried, and are moderately good sources of minerals and roughage, also important to good health.

Peas are sweetest and most delicious when cooked immediately after picking. Miss Case believes. The green, plump pods, well filled with young, tender peas, are best. Those that are too mature have lost their sweet flavor because the sugar in them has turned to starch.

While peas are simple to cook, care is necessary if their green color and delicate flavor are to be preserved, says Miss Case. She recommends cooking them in a small quantity of boiling water—being careful, of course, that they do not burn. Add one-fourth teaspoon of salt for each cup of water used, and if the peas are not fresh from the garden, or are rather mature, add also one teaspoon of sugar for each cup of water. Then cook them rapidly until tender—about 15 minutes. When done the amount of water left in the pan will be just about enough to serve with the peas, without draining. Leaving the cover off the kettle while boiling helps preserve the green color.

Some people like green peas served with butter, and others prefer them with cream, milk or a thin white sauce. Buttered or creamed peas may be served plain, or in a great variety of combinations. Miss Case suggests, for instance, that they may be combined with scrambled eggs, or placed on an omelet before turning one half over the other. They also add attractiveness and flavor to soups, stews, meat loaves and salmon loaves, and are delicious in many salad combinations.

Information on canning and drying peas for winter use is contained in Extension Bulletin 450, "Home Food Preservation," which may be obtained free of charge from county extension agents, or direct from the college at Corvallis.
