C. C. C. Cruisers Making New Survey of Forest

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles dealing with the work accomplishments of the various crews at Camp Bull Prairie, written by Bull Prairie correspondent.)

If anyone should happen to be strolling through the Umatilla forest, he would probably be startled to hear an occasional cry of "Yo! Yo!" That, my readers, is the call that the cruiser crew has tentatively adopted.

Their work is considered to be rather hazardous. Therefore, the crew, which consists of Jimmy Di Gregario, Dick Cardwell, Al "Tamarack" Shastik, Izzy Golden, Izzy Klopot, Maurice Shostack, Sam Wilson, Eugene Kosciuk, Joe Busceni and Jacob Witlin, were especially picked for the work.

Up to the present time, the survey crew has completed about 10,000 acres. All this work has been carried on in the Umatilla National forest which was last completely surveyed in 1878. The boys have discovered and corrected many errors that were made previously.

They have finished all of the territory surrounding Camp Bull Prairie and the Notch. From there they expect to go to establish a camp at Long Prairie, where work of a similar nature will be done.

Under the supervision of H. C. Heine, Jr., the crew has made rapid progress. Right now they are considered one of the most outstanding crews at the camp. The transportation is ably handled by Boyd Huston of Monument.

Disticts Not Liable For Bus Accidents

"A school district in operating a bus for the transportation of pupils is acting as an agency of the state in affording children an opportunity to secure an education. The district is acting for the common good and without purpose of obtaining pecuniary profit. In other words the district is acting in a governmental capacity and is therefore not liable for damages in case of accident."

This recent supreme court decision is cited by Mrs. Lucy E. Rodgers, county school superintendent, who says further:

"However, action for damages may be brought against the driver of the bus in case of accident and he can be held liable. The driver should be protected by liability insurance, and the district should take this into consideration in fixing the salaries of bus drivers, and should require such insurance even though there is no law specifying the requirement of liability insurance."

The superintendent points out that school busses are required by law to display in a prominent position on the front and rear of the bus the words "School Bus" in letters not less than six inches high and of proportionate width. Busses must come to a full stop before crossing railroads. All motor vehicles in passing a bus which is loading or discharging pupils must slow down to a rate of speed not exceeding 15 miles an hour.

EDITORIAL

It is hoped that the parents and the public will do all in their power to help that very worthwhile institution, the school. Let's everyone boost our school.

Because of the increase in enrollment in the high school this year, some rearrangement had to be made in the assembly hall to accommodate the new students.

If the assembly hall were used as a home room for all the students it would be necessary to install an extra row of seats. This would be quite impossible because it would obstruct passage to and from assembly.

The newly instituted system provides for about sixty students to have their home room in the sociology and english rooms and the other sixty students to have theirs in the assembly hall.

When all the students pass in and out of the assembly hall, it necessitates some confusion. With this new system, however, we believe that most of the confusion will be done away with.

This year will be "an Era of Better Feeling" for the chorus class because of the change in the chemistry period. Last year chorus was held in the chemistry room immediately after chemistry, and our crooners found the odors of gasses and other chemicals rather disagreeable. This year chemistry is the first hour in the morning and chorus the last period in the afternoon.

Heppner high school student body census of 1933 shows an increase of 9% over last year's enrollment.

Vocational Class. Mr. Bloom is conducting a class in vocation this year for the lower classes. This is a new subject and is intended to give lower classmen some idea of what they would like and are suited for in the way of a life work. The course of study takes up the different principal types of occupations and tells the opportunities for advancement, material gain, and profit offered in each. So far 22 students have been enrolled in the class.

The Big Sister Movement. For the purpose of assisting the freshmen and other new girl students this year in getting settled and instructed in the ways, functions, and activities of the school the "big sister" movement has been organized. The idea of the movement is not original since it is used in most large schools and universities, but it is the first time it has been adopted here. Eight senior girls are acting as the official "big sisters." They can be easily identified by the small triangular badge in school colors which they wear during school hours, and they may be called on for advice at any time.

Physical Education. To have their names printed on the banner that was won by the Shamrocks last year is the object of the four clubs of the girls gym classes. The Shamrocks, Shooting Stars, Red Devils and Wild Cats have already started competition in baseball. Much interest has been shown so far. The clubs use a point system as a means of choosing the winning team. The points are given as follows: winner three points, teams coming in even, two points, and losers none.

High School Gym for Boys

Heppner high school gym, for boys, has a new program this year, completely changing from last year's club plan. Baseball, horse-shoes, and basketball will be the diversions of most interest. Roy Gentry will manage an elimination tournament in basketball, preparing some of the best players for a better chance at the varsity competition.

Grade School Sport News

The clubs composed of seventh and eighth grade boys have been organized into teams for playground baseball play under the direction of the physical education instructor, Mr. Mabee. The teams are Trojans, Bronks, Cougars, and Lions. Play will be held during the boys' gym periods which are between 11 and 11:50 o'clock every Tuesday and Thursday.

Grade News

Mr. Foord, high school english teacher, is taking charge of the seventh grade spelling class while Miss Leathers, seventh grade teacher, coaches the high school glee clubs.

The Payne and Garrison spelling books published by Rand & McNally, are being used in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. These books comply with the state lists.

The fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades are having extended review in arithmetic.

The music classes of the grade school are being coached by Miss Leathers, seventh grade teacher.

Mr. Buhman has reported that he expects enrollment of new band students.

The sixth grade leads in enrollment. So far forty students have enrolled, 26 of whom are boys.

The New Day arithmetic books, published by Durell & Gillet, are being put into use by the fifth and seventh grades. These books are state adoptions.

The second and third grades are enjoying the new library books which they received from the state library.

The lower grades will start work on projects this week.
