How many of us know why October 12 is a red letter date on the calendar? How many of us think of Columbus with more than the date, 1492, in mind?

October 12 is set aside for the observance of one of the most daring of exploits—the discovery of America. When Columbus left Spain he was leaving the world behind and going out into a mysterious ocean farther than anyone had ever gone.

Today it is difficult to consider the crossing of the Atlantic as an unusual feat—we cross it by airplane in about forty hours. It took Columbus six months to reach the West Indies. Today it is difficult to think of luxurious Bermuda or pictures of agriculture and it has beautiful Havana as a home of savages and wild animals.

Columbus' discovery in 1492 had to do with making the West Indies brought us to the point of civilization where we look at fifteenth century history only as a possible fact-fiction.

On October 12 we should compare and contrast the two civilizations and at the same time bear in mind our debt to Columbus as the initiator of the present regime.

Heppner high school sophomores administered the annual initiation to the "greenies" last Friday night at the gymnasium. The sophomores were quite successful in their united efforts to humiliate the underclassmen. Certain members of the first year class were compelled to amuse the large audience of parents and upperclassmen. Freshman embarrassment was the main cause of laughter.

Heppner's first and second teams of the "Fighting Irish" football squad defeated both Echo and Lexington in the doubleheader practice games played on the home field last Friday. The scores were: Heppner 13, Echo 0; Heppner 16, Lexington 0.

The games revealed some good material which until Friday had escaped the notice of the coach. Leonard Gilman got away several good punts, one of which netted 75 yards; other outstanding features were Billy Coehell's line bucking at fullback, and Howard Furlong's and Owen Bleakman's good work in the line.

Curtis Thomson and Johnny Hanna set some good examples for the other players in their excellent blocking and interference.

The game with Condon, which was to have been played at Condon Saturday, has been cancelled because of the epidemic of infantile paralysis which caused the closing of the Condon schools.

The second team is to play a return game with Lexington at Lexington this afternoon. Attempts are being made to schedule a game for Heppner's first team with either the Moro or Pasco high school team to be played tomorrow.

Pep Rally Thursday

In order to arouse enthusiasm for the doubleheader football game played between the Heppner squad and the teams from Echo and Lexington Friday afternoon, the high school student body accompanied by the pep band held a rally that paraded the main streets for some thirty minutes last Thursday night.

It was one of the most orderly and effective rallies held in some years. Selected members of the student body formed a huge H. This H, led by the school band and followed by the rest of the students, who were arranged in squads, paraded from the postoffice to the First National bank intersection. At each intersection enroute songs were sung, yells were given, and pep pieces were played by the band.

Grade School News

Seventh and eighth grade boys' baseball league standings: Cougars 17; Trojans 15, Lions 11, Broncs 10. Fifth and sixth grade boys' baseball standings: Lions 21, Bulldogs 18, Elks 15, Beavers 16.

The first grade completed its first sand table project, the Three Bears this week. The project is being used in a study of cleanliness. They also have many attractive posters on hand.

In connection with a study of transportation, the second grade is collecting pictures of ancient and modern ships. These will be used for their Columbus Day work.

In order to be able to name and recognize some of the most common flowers, the third grade is making a collection of all varieties of flowers. Each variety is to be studied carefully.

Halloween spirit is descending upon the school. Veda Gammell has brought a yellow jack-o'-lantern to the second grade room where it will reign until after October 31.

In geography the fourth grade is doing some special work on the arctic regions. Claudine Drake has carved and colored several wooden polar bears and Eskimaux to aid this study.

Six weeks exams are being given throughout the grade school.

Columbus Day Program

To commemorate the day of the discovery of America, there will be a program given by the grade school this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the gymnasium. The program is as follows: "America," assembly;

"Song of Columbus," fourth grade; "October Song," fifth and sixth grade girls; Map Study, fifth grade; "Sailing Song," seventh and eighth grade boys; Play, seventh grade literature class; "Columbus Song," seventh and eighth grade girls; "Oregon, My Oregon," assembly. The public is cordially invited.

Girls playing in five games out of six in the interclub baseball series will receive ten points toward the one hundred and thirty necessary to earn a Heppner high school letter. This series started last Monday and will continue for three weeks. In order to earn points toward securing school letters, several of the girls of the high school gym class went hiking last Saturday.

The Morrow county Pomona was held at Irrigon Saturday. Heppner, Rhea Creek, Lexington, Ione, Willows and Boardman granges were all represented at the meeting. A splendid program was given in the afternoon. The band played several numbers under the direction of Supt. Atkin. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce of La Grande were present, adding special interest to the program. Mrs. Pierce gave a very interesting talk on their trip to Washington, D. C., which was followed by an address by Mr. Pierce, touching many vital subjects up-to-date. Chief among them was the NRA program as it appears to Congressman Pierce, and the improvement of the Columbia river. Mr. Pierce expressed himself as strongly in favor of the Umatilla Rapids dam. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce left for Moro early in the evening.

Forest Service Notes.
By F. F. WEHMEYER.
Our local E. C. W. terminates this week. The personnel is splitting up and being sent in small groups here and there but none of them to the Virgin Islands for the winter as so many had fondly dreamed. Camp 1245, Bull Prairie, has broken up and disbanded. Captain Hugh C. Parker has commanded this unit throughout and by personal fair dealing coupled with the excellent cooperation of his assistants, brought the camp from a disorderly rabble to a state of discipline. Capt. Parker and his aides bent every effort toward cooperation with the Forest Service in an endeavor to get the maximum efficiency from the men and the members of the Forest Service have sincerely appreciated working with these representatives of the U. S. army and the U. S. navy.

It is expected that the loose ends and partly finished jobs dropped by the breaking up of the E. C. W. in this locality will be undertaken under the N. I. R. A. program now being outlined for the Umatilla forest.

The new road down Wall creek is well worth the trip from a scenic standpoint alone. It should prove very popular for recreation purposes, especially during fishing and hunting seasons. It may be reached three ways, the John Howell ranch, by Bull Prairie and Grassy Butte and from Tamarack ridge.

A sixty-foot tower on the breaks of Potamus creek was completed this week by Harold Cox and his crew, who are now moving to Ellis ranger station to build a modern barn and also a three-room house for the use of the forest guard during the summer months. This work is being carried on as part of the N. I. R. A. program.

Bert Bleakman and crew have been remodeling all the telephone lines on the western half of the Heppner district. They have completed the line from Long prairie to the Monument road and are now rebuilding the lines to Tamarack mountain and Indian creek.

Max Buschke is now building a modern ten by ten lookout cabin on a thirty-foot tower out on what we call Ant hill. This is located on the divide between Bologna creeks and the main Wall creek. From there he will move to Red hill and build a duplicate tower at that point.

Nels Bailey is building a modern seven-room house at Opal ranger station. This is for summer headquarters for the ranger during the active fire season.

Charles McDaniel is building a drift fence down Wall creek to divide the range between the Tamarack mountain and Hardman C. & H. allotments.

Charles Davis, former camp superintendent for the Bull Prairie camp, will probably continue in charge of the many projects to be pushed to completion under the N. I. R. A. program.

Mrs. K. P. Bleakman, telephone operator at Tupper ranger station, showed her skill with a rifle by bagging a nice big buck on Skookum creek. The buck weighed 235 pounds dressed.

On Madison butte, about one-fourth mile from the summit, a fault has developed within the past few years and a place about fifty feet long and twenty wide has settled down several feet. At one corner there is a small opening. By rolling in rocks and timing the resultant rumble, it is evident that there is a cavern several hundred feet deep underlying the peak of Madison. When riding over the country tributary to Madison butte the thud of the horse's steps give off drum-like reverberations. Some day a lot of caves and caverns will be opened up in this part of the country, which incidentally is of limestone formation instead of the usual basalt encountered throughout most of this country.

Deer are comparatively scarce in comparison with two years ago. Probably there are less than half the numbers of that time. Hundreds have starved or been pulled down by predatory animals the past two winters of deep snow in the mountains.
