and described some of the interesting things one sees when visiting this park. Another interesting feature of the afternoon's entertainment was a seed judging contest. The guests included Mesdames Bertha Nelson, Laura Rice, Emma Peck, Natalie Rauch, Anne Miller, Margaret Williams, Laura Scott, Lorena Miller, C. Williams, Myrtle Schriever, Edith Miller, Clara Gillis, Emma White, C. Sias, Lorraine Beach, Sarah White, Trina Parker, Lulu White, Bertha Dinges and Beulah Nichols.

George Painter of Salem is visiting at the home of his uncle, Orville Cutforth.

Mr. and Mrs. George McMillan of Cherryville are spending a few days with Lexington relatives.

The Lexington Home Economics club will meet on Thursday afternoon, October 26, at the home of Mrs. J. G. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Matlock and family have moved to The Dalles where Mr. Matlock has employment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Copenhaver have gone to California to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Copenhaver.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pointer of Oakland, Cal., are guests of Mrs. Pointer's mother, Mrs. Nettie M. Davis.

Mr. Ashbaugh and Mr. Boyd of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company of The Dalles were business visitors in Lexington Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McMillan and family have moved from their ranch into their house in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs and family have moved into the Mulligan house below Lexington.

Miss Erma Duvall who teaches in the school at Rufus spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Duvall. Ralph Wickersham of Portland was also a week end guest at the Duvall home.

Lexington School Notes. The glee club has been very fortunate in securing Miss Esther Fredrickson, violinist, for the Musical Melange which they are presenting on Friday night, Oct. 27. Tickets will be on sale by the end of this week and will be 35 cents for reserved seats, 25 cents for general admission, and 15 cents for those below the high school. The club is working hard to make this the most enjoyable musical program ever put on in the Lexington high school, and will appreciate your cooperation.

On Tuesday, October 10, the high school had its first pep rally assembly. Doris Burchell led the yell, Wednesday the biology class started its first dissections. The work was on the grasshopper.

On Thursday Bernice Martin, yell leader, led the girls' yelling in a pep rally assembly before the Heppner game.

The work in preparation for the second assembly program is progressing nicely under the management of Doris Burchell and Alfred Van Winkle with Miss Hammel as sponsor. Several entertaining numbers are being worked out for next Thursday's program.

Senior play tryouts were held Monday and books were given out. Miss Hammel will direct the play, a comedy in three acts, entitled "The Man from Nowhere." The following is the cast of characters: Professor Holmes, Vester Thornburg; Miss Frim, Doris Burchell; Dora Fry, Tillie Nelson; Mr. Graydon, Garland Thompson; Henry Holt, Claud Wilcox; Mr. Cox, Jack McMillan; Hilda, Rose Thornburg; Mrs. Craddock, Faye Luttrell; Anne Royce, Erma Lane, and Rodney Baxter, Alfred Van Winkle. The play is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 10.

Tuesday the first of the six weeks exams were given. These will occupy the rest of the week.

Last Thursday Heppner again won from Lexington 12-0, but the Lexington team showed a great improvement over their first game. This Friday the team will play Echo at Echo. With last week's experience and the smoothing out of spots this week, they will give Echo plenty of competition.

Lexington School News. (Crowded out last week) At a meeting of the executive board of Lexington school Wednesday morning, Doris Burchell and Alfred Van Winkle were appointed to take charge of the next assembly program which will be given Thursday, Oct. 19.

The assembly program Thursday under the direction of Erma Lane and Bernice Martin was a big success. The scene presented was that of a broadcasting room in which the announcer, Claud Wilcox, introduced the various acts. Alberta Fulgham took the part of Miss Irma Keys, pianist of sour notes; Rose Thornburg as Sarah Sackem, gave a funny version of the modern kitchen and household expert, as well as a clever monologue entitled "Alice, Where Art Thou?" Jack McMillan sang a humorous ditty and Vivian White as Uncle Henry, the Kiddies' Friend, both brought forth thunderous applause from the audience. Edna Rauch as Ella Cushion was the playful poetess, and Alfred Van Winkle as Reginald Fegal, the garden expert, gave some humorous and original ideas on planting a garden. Erma Lane and Doris Burchell gave their interesting interpretation of the dances from the screen play, "Forty-Second Street."

Last Friday the Lexington football team played its first game in three years at Heppner with the Heppner second team. Although the boys were beaten they were not discouraged and are working hard this week to strengthen their weak points. A little more experience coupled with the fight and pep that they showed last week will put a real team on the field. A return game will be played with Heppner Thursday (today) on the Lexington field at 3 o'clock. Admission for adults will be fifteen cents and for children ten cents.

The high school library was the scene of much activity all day Saturday when Miss Hammel, assisted by several students, gave the books a thorough going over, renumbering many volumes and rearranging the shelves so that this department is in efficient working order. English classes are receiving library practice this week.

Everyone termed the freshman return party an unusual success. Bernice Martin, the class president, with the aid of several good committees and the entire class, worked for several days in advance on the preparations. The idea worked out was quite unique. The guests found themselves in a cabaret with tables scattered here and there about the gym. After securing partners the "customers" were seated and served by the boys of the freshman class, who were dressed as waiters. The refreshments consisted of fruit jellies, sandwiches, wafers and punch. Entertainment, dancing and games rounded out the evening.

Tuesday morning an unusual bustle and hurry might have been noticed about the school. Children poured forth from the class rooms in every direction in response to the first fire bell of the year. Supt. Williams reports that the building was vacated in just 45 seconds.

The first big event of the school year will take place Friday night, Oct. 27, when the Lexington high school glee club sponsors "A Musical Melange," featuring Mrs. Jas. H. Williams, soprano; Miss Lucy Spittle, alto; Miss Eula McMillan, pianist, and Laurel Beach, tenor. The proceeds from the program will be used to purchase music for the boys' and girls' glee clubs.

OPINIONS

An editor whose very integrity appeals strongly to me, wrote a short time ago: "Temperance had had a terrific jolt—a body blow."

About twenty states had just voted for a repeal of a constitutional amendment, the notable eighteenth. Now, if anybody should preach "temperance," I think the family doctor should; he believes in it, knowing well the penalties paid by the intemperate. Bear in mind, I do not use alcoholics at all except for medicine. As a beverage I have no use for whiskey or beer; and I do not believe beer is a very useful medicine, if a medicine at all.

But the point I wish to emphasize is, "temperance" has had no body blow! I don't care if all the states go for repeal of this amendment, temperance will not receive a body blow.

Temperate people are not harmed by such blows, nor were they shocked at the passage of the eighteenth amendment. Temperate people have a way of "staying put." They feel that the action of this prohibition movement did not help temperance any. That's the reason so many states are going against the tried—and failed—experiment.

When people tell an editor they want him to print the truth they want the truth about the other fellow. The principal drawback to printing the truth is invariably when it is done somebody's toes get stepped on.

N. R. A.—We Do Our Part. In these days of financial and political and general economic stress, as well as in the days when the tide of prosperity is high, the affairs of humanity as related to religion, (Christianity), are by the great majority of the peoples of earth relegated to a comparative background.

In too many instances the place of the Church in the community is of comparatively small moment except in cases of bereavement or like catastrophe.

But this is tremendously the wrong view to take. The Church, representing Christianity, has her place, without any apology whatever, in the life of the community; for the preaching of the Gospel is not only the power of God unto salvation to all that believe, but it is a leavening, a governing factor in community life.

So, let the N. R. A. program seep thru to your relations to and with the religious life of the community. Are you doing your part in supporting the preaching of the Gospel? Are you doing your part to keep the general community life what it ought to be, whether you are affiliated with any particular religious organization or not? We are called a "Christian Nation." Are you doing your part, as a citizen of this so-called Christian Nation, to make it really a Christian Nation, and to give the boys and girls of the nation their rightful and proper chance to grow clean lives? Are you DOING YOUR PART?

If you have not a Church home, we invite you to worship with us. For the next Lord's Day the sermon topics will be: For the morning service, "The Whole Armour." For the evening service, "Highways to God."

The Womens Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church held its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the church parlors. The afternoon was taken up with echoes of the convention at Yakima presented by those of their number who attended. Delightfully interesting were the different and varied accounts given and all stressed the fact that the missionaries require more assistance than ever. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Ray Taylor and Miss Opal Briggs. It has been decided to change the date of the meetings hereafter to the second Tuesday in each month. 23rd Annual PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL LIVESTOCK EXPOSITION with HORSE SHOW and RODEO. PORTLAND, OREGON. October 21 to 28. 19 Shows in One—11 acres under one roof. Exhibits of pure-bred livestock, Dogs, Poultry, Pel Stock, Wild Life, Land Products, Manufactured Products, 4-H Club and Smith-Hughes Vocational Education Works, Combination Horse Show and Indoor Rodeo. LARGE PREMIUM LISTS. REDUCED FARES—ALL LINES.

Portland to Get Rodeo's Top Hands. Stars of the rodeo world, ace riders of the famous McCarty-Elliott outfit and a string of the world's wildest bucking horses have been signed for the combined Horse Show and Rodeo of Pacific International Livestock Exposition.

High stepping, galloped horses of the show ring will vie for popular interest with the plunging, twisting outlaws of the range in the combined Horse Show and Rodeo featuring the entertainment program of the 23rd Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland October 21-28.

Never in the long history of the Pacific Northwest's greatest annual fair have prospects been so bright for a record smashing show, according to O. M. Plummer, general manager of the exposition, who has received assurances from scores of famous breeders that their prize animals will be entered.

With classifications increased and large premium lists, no less than 19 complete shows will be staged under the mammoth 11-acre exposition building roof. These will include the dairy cattle show, beef, swine, draft horses, sheep, goats, dogs, poultry and pet stock, dairy products and products, 4-H Boys and Girls club work, Smith-Hughes vocational training exhibits, wild life, fish and game, wool and mohair, fat stock show and flower show.

Emphasis will be given to the exhibits and work of the boys and girls clubs, as in years past, since this department has been proved to have particular interest and value for parents, as well as a strong educational appeal to children of all ages.

For the Horse Show and Rodeo a varied program of spectacular and thrilling events has been scheduled, with liberal cash prizes hung up for the winners. Rodeo events will be open to the world and will include bronc riding, bull dogging, calf roping, and steer riding.

The arena will be in charge of veteran arena directors and last year's policy of running off events in record time will be followed at both matinee and night performances. One fast moving-action picture with thrills and spills galore is promised.

All railroads have announced special low fares to the exposition.

Boys and girls of the 4-H clubs and Smith-Hughes vocational training groups will have a big part in the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland, October 21-28. Hundreds of ambitious young exhibitors will be there with their pure bred sheep, calves, pigs and crop exhibits.

With 19 complete shows under one big 11-acre roof, the 23rd Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland, October 21-28 promises to set a new high record for both exhibits and attendance, according to T. B. Wilcox, Jr., president of the Pacific Northwest's greatest fair and entertainment event. Livestock breeders throughout the West have given assurance they will enter their prize flocks and herds and are showing much enthusiasm over the enlarged program, Mr. Wilcox and O. M. Plummer, general manager, report.

On the entertainment side, arrangements are complete for a colorful, thrilling Horse Show and Rodeo combined. Top riders of the rodeo world and open range country have been signed, including the entire McCarty-Elliott outfit with its famous string of outlaw broncs, Brahma steers and tough necked long horns. The rodeo events, for all of which liberal cash prizes have been hung up, include bronc riding, bull dogging, steer riding, and calf roping.

Always a strong feature of the Pacific International, the 4-H Boys and Girls Clubs department will have special prominence this year, with a particularly strong appeal to parents and boys and girls of all ages.

Situation Review Explains Delay in Land Bank Loans. An explanation of why farmers who have applied for loans from Federal Land banks have had to wait is given in the mid-September review of the agricultural situation just released by the Oregon State College Extension service. More than 184,000 such applications were pending on August 31, which is enough to keep even the present expanded force of appraisers busy for three months.

Furthermore, says the report, new applications are coming in faster than appraisals are being made, although the number of appraisers has been increased from 210 on April 1 to 1,734 on September 1.

The circular also contains much statistical and marketing information, including farm price trends, horticultural commodity outlooks, and notes on farm commodity production for 1933.

"The purchasing power of farm products has lost about one-half of the grand 20 point advance made from March to July," says the circular. "The drop in the exchange value of farm products in general was attributed partly to the decline in prices for farm products since July, and partly to the upward trend in prices for things farmers buy. Farm purchasing power is now around 60 per cent of pre-war parity."

In reviewing the nut outlook, it is shown that domestic consumption of choice nuts apparently averaged about 150,000 tons a year, unshelled basis, during the past four years. Imports averaged about 69,000 tons, chiefly almonds, Brazil and cream nuts, and cashew, pistachio and pignolia nuts, although several thousand tons of shelled walnuts and filberts were imported. Domestic production of pecans is adequate for the demand and there is no need for importing unshelled walnuts any longer. Even filbert production shows signs of equaling present consumption when the trees already planted are in full production.

Extremely short crops of grain, flaxseed and potatoes are indicated, with most fruits, hay and pastures short in the country as a whole. Conditions in Oregon and other Pacific Northwest states indicate relatively good crops compared with the average, says the circular.
