son, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mason, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McCurdy, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Corley, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lundell and Mrs. Earl Blake. Prizes for high score were won by Mrs. Earl Blake, Mrs. W. R. Corley, H. D. McCurdy and J. E. Swanson, and Mrs. E. R. Lundell, W. R. Corley and Bert Mason. Sandwiches and salad were served. Mr. and Mrs. Cotter started in their car and will make the trip in it unless weather conditions become too unfavorable when they will store it and go on by rail.

Eight and one half tons of turkeys were received by Swift & Co. here last week.

Willows grange held their regular meeting at the hall in Cecil Saturday evening, Nov. 25. In addition to a large number of members there were present the following visitors from Lexington: A. E. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Devine. Eight applicants were balloted on to become members of Willows grange by initiation. Election of officers resulted in the following persons being elected to serve the grange during the coming year: Master, Vida Heliker; overseer, George Krebs; lecturer, Mary Lundell; steward, Vernice Crawford; assistant steward, Donald Heliker; chaplain, Ida Copp; secretary, Roxy Krebs; treasurer, O. L. Lundell; Ceres, Dot Crabtree; Pomona, Dimpling Crabtree; Flora, Harriet Heliker; gatekeeper, W. G. Palmater; lady assistant steward, Hattie Van Scholack; new member on executive committee, J. O. Kincaid. Mrs. Rose Bubeck was elected to fill a vacancy on executive committee, also. These officers will be installed jointly with those of Lexington at a public installation at Lexington on Dec. 9. Chas. Wicklander, state deputy, will be installing officer.

Interesting talks were given by the visitors from Lexington. Later travel talks were given by several members who have recently returned home from visits in various places. Mrs. O. Spaulding of Arlington has just returned from a trip through the east and south. She visited the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago and in a number of other cities among them Joliet, Ill., New York City, Washington and Philadelphia, then returning to her home by the southern route visiting several California cities on the way.

Mrs. Peter Timm told of the trip taken by her family to southern California recently. They particularly enjoyed the coast highway through the redwoods and they made stopovers in all the principal cities. They also had the thrill of a few small earthquake tremors. Among souvenirs brought home by Mrs. Timm were avocado pears, redwood burl, a bit of cotton which she picked herself and numerous other interesting articles, as well as pictures taken on the trip.

J. O. Kincaid and Mrs. Ernest Heliker each gave short talks on their trip to Boise, Idaho, to the National Grange convention and the happenings there.

The community welfare committee announced a program and dance to be given on the night of Saturday, Dec. 2, at the hall, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the hot lunch program of the Cecil and Ione schools. A small charge will be made at the door for the program and a supper will be sold later in the evening. It is hoped that this project will be given excellent support by everyone.

Week-end visitors at the Heliker ranch were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van Orsdal and daughters, Janice and Thelma, also Miss Loyal Ingram and William Rhodes. On Sunday Mrs. Minnette Senter and Mrs. Beckwith of La Grande and Mrs. Harriet Ingram of Pendleton spent the day at the Heliker ranch. All of the guests returned to Pendleton on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Vida Heliker, J. O. Kincaid and A. M. Zink have returned from Boise, Idaho, where Mr. Kincaid and Mrs. Heliker were in attendance at the National Grange convention. Mr. Zink journeyed on to King Hill, Idaho, for a visit with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson and their family. Mrs. Heliker also visited there for a short time before her return home.

H. W. Filkins has returned from a three weeks visit at Albany with a brother.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore drove to Portland with Irvin Padberg the last of the week for a short visit with their daughter, Mrs. Wrex Hoock. They returned home Sunday evening.

Rev. W. S. Wiley of Condon supplied the pulpit at the Congregational church Sunday evening. He preached a sermon on the topic of Thanksgiving to an interested audience.

Fred McMurray of Hermiston brought over a load of potatoes to sell here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Haguewood will spend Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Haguewood's sister, Mrs. Calandra, at Hood River.

A large number of people, both local and from more distant points, attended the turkey shoot at the Russell Miller farm Sunday.

"Strolling by the River," played by Mr. Sampietro's ensemble and sung by Gail Young on the "Book of Life" hour over KOIN, the Journal, yesterday, Wednesday. Lyric written by Grace (Mrs. R. H.) Turner of Ione, music by Sylvester L. Cross.

CALL FOR WARRANTS. All General Fund Warrants of Morrow County, Oregon, registered prior to this date, will be paid on presentation at the office of the county treasurer on or after December 15th, 1933, on which date interest on said warrants will cease.

Dated Heppner, Oregon, November 29, 1933. LEON W. BRIGGS, County Treasurer.

THANKSGIVING. On this day of nationally proclaimed Thanksgiving, the Heppner Church of Christ most earnestly prays and hopes and wishes for this city and county, as well as for the world wide, a full and overflowing measure of everything in this life which shall most surely and truly bring a proper spirit of THANKFULNESS.

May the finest and best and most gracious experiences of life be yours today and in all the tomorrows that shall come to you.

May the greatest possible peace and prosperity (which is spiritual peace and spiritual prosperity), be yours through all the remaining years of life, with a beautiful, golden sunset at the close of the day.

If you have not a church home, we invite you to come and worship with us. Come and test the welcome of this friendly church. Come at 9:45 for the Bible school every Lord's Day morning. For the coming Lord's Day the sermon topic for the morning worship will be, "Exalting a Nation." At the evening hour, 7:30, the Women's Missionary society will have charge of the services. They will present a most interesting program, with special music. Be sure and hear this.

Students of the grades and high school were dismissed on Tuesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving holidays which will last during the remainder of the week.

LONEROCK

By MRS. RUTH MORGAN

A large crowd attended the community club card party Friday evening. Eleven tables of 500 were in play. Bob Rogers won the prize for high score. After a supper of "hot dog" sandwiches, dancing was enjoyed for a few hours. The club's parties are increasing in popularity and will be held throughout the winter. The parties are held in Alcy Madden's hall.

Among the Lonerock people who delivered turkeys in Condon the past week for the Thanksgiving market were Emmet Davis, Mrs. Dora Ranous, David Grieves and Mrs. George McLaughlin.

Emmet Davis was a Condon visitor Thursday.

Herbert Adams, who has been trapping near Monument during the fall, visited Lonerock friends this week. Mr. Adams plans on spending the winter on the Madden range trapping coyotes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fichter and Miss Carrie Pullen were Condon visitors Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. King will spend Thanksgiving with relatives at Hamilton.

Elmer Booher of Condon was in Lonerock Friday. He came down to purchase a mule from Mahlon Stoneman which was hauled back in Lloyd Rhinehart's truck Saturday.

Mrs. Bud Perry is ill with influenza at her home.

The Knights of Pythias met in their hall Saturday evening with nine members present.

Joe Hayes was a business visitor in Heppner last week. He also visited relatives on Rhea creek.

Ira McConkie and Mrs. Rosa Kirk were here from Rock creek Saturday visiting relatives and friends.

Harold Dobyns has been in Lonerock for the past week working with Mr. King, the local trapper.

Among Lonerock people attending the dance at Hardman Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis LeTrace, Miss Roxie Wick, Al Lovgren, Lester Wick, Paul Huddleston, Norman Reynolds, Marie Mikkelo and Cleo Robinson.

Mrs. Dora Ranous and Mrs. Guy Huddleston were business visitors in Condon Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robinson passed through town the latter part of the week with part of their cattle which they were taking to the Geo. Webb place in the Mayville district to be wintered.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis LeTrace Wednesday evening included Mr. and Mrs. King, Harold Dobyns, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hayes and Roxie Wick.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Orwick and sons visited relatives in Trail Fork Saturday.

At a meeting of the Mutual Telephone line Saturday afternoon arrangements were made for a long distance telephone connection for the local line. Guy Huddleston's lease was also renewed for another year. Mr. Huddleston is soon to begin construction of his own line between Lonerock and Condon, a distance of twenty miles.

Elwood Hastings of Hardman is visiting in Lonerock. He was accompanied over by Kinnard McDaniel and son Dallas. Mr. McDaniel returned home from his work in the mountains with the forest service.

Mrs. Elmer Booher and Mrs. Ben Tweed of Condon visited in Lonerock Sunday.

Little Lowden and Art Seale of Condon passed through Lonerock Thursday with a bunch of horses which they were taking to Condon from the Bend country.

Art Andrews has purchased a lot from Ollie Andrews and is building himself a house. He also purchased part of the house belonging to the late Geo. Lee and is using the lumber in the construction of his home. J. B. Huddleston and Miss Bess Huddleston have been visiting in Portland the past week.

Mr. Mayhew, who herded sheep for George Fichter during the summer has gone to Canada to visit his brother.

The weather has been mild here the past week with a warm rain falling Monday.

HARDMAN

By LUCILLE FARRENS

The third successive wedding occurring within the last few weeks to interest Hardman folks was that of Miss Mary Saling, daughter of Mrs. Corda Saling, and Walter Scott of Heppner which took place last Wednesday afternoon in Heppner. The bride was born and grew to young womanhood here and also received her education here. Mr. and Mrs. Scott will spend the winter months at Long Creek where Mr. Scott has employment for the winter. The Scotts have the well wishes of their many friends here.

The program, consisting of five one-act plays and a few musical numbers which was given by the grade school under the supervision of H. DeMoss and Marjorie Johnson, last Saturday evening at the high school auditorium was a success both financially as well as in manner of presentation. The dances also sponsored by the grade school were well received.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Hastings and Mr. and Mrs. Peri Howell have opened a restaurant in the Kistler building. It is reported that Buster Blekman is going to operate a pastime in a part of the same building which is soon to be open to the public.

The Christian Endeavor society from Heppner sent a number of delegates, their advisor, Miss Crawford and Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Benton out here last Sunday afternoon for a meeting with the Hardman society which is just organizing in response to an invitation from this group. The Heppner society has extended an invitation to our society to visit their meeting Sunday, December 9, and Mr. Benton has requested that we remain for the church services later in the evening.

H. Blekman, local postmaster and merchant, was attending to matters of business in Heppner one day last week.

Elwood Hastings took Kinnard McDaniel and son Dallas to his Lonerock home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lotus Robinson of Heppner spent the week end at their ranch home here, coming out for the play and dance. Maxine McDaniel returned home with them Sunday to stay until after Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Blekman and daughter, Neva, were also out from Heppner for the play and dance.

Arlton Stevens came up from the Musgrave place near Ione the last of the week for a few days' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Burnside were marketing their turkeys in Heppner last Friday.

Joe Howell spent Sunday visiting at the home of his aged mother, Mrs. Adaline Howell.

Clifford Howell who has been working near Lonerock for the past several months is visiting indefinitely at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howell.

Sam McDaniel, Jr., is visiting indefinitely at his home here from the City of Wright ranch.

Les Robinson and son Delbert were visiting here during the week.

The road work which was progressing nicely was stopped by the heavy rainfall which terminated in a snow storm, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Chapel and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hams were visiting friends and relatives here on Sunday from Rood canyon.

Broad Education Gained

By Students at U. of O.

Eugene.—Students at the University of Oregon receive a broad and general education while training for their chosen fields, according to Dr. H. R. Taylor, director of the personnel research bureau, who has just announced the results of vocabulary tests given to a number of students both at the beginning of their first year and near the end of their fourth.

While the test measures the general vocabulary, it is generally assumed that to add one of the carefully chosen words, a student would have to do from 50,000 to 100,000 words of general reading, and a noticeable gain in the four years would definitely indicate pursuit of general knowledge outside of the student's major field.

The increase in word vocabulary at the University of Oregon averaged nearly 20 words per student, or a net gain of 20 per cent, Dr. Taylor said.

Rodent Control Program Starts. Ontario.—Following a series of meetings held in each district where rodents constitute a menace to crops, the Malheur county rodent control program directed by County Agent R. G. Larson is under way again for this year, covering some 90,000 acres. A preliminary survey showed that where poisoning had been done for more than one year there was practically no infestation, but a considerable number of gophers are still present on land where only one season's control work has been done.

CARD OF THANKS. We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the help and sympathy extended during the recent illness and death of our wife and mother. Especial thanks are extended to our friends and neighbors in and about Lexington who were so kind in our time of need.

The Book

the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures.

By BRUCE BARTON

THE DIVISION

The first line reads, "The Holy Bible." Since the word bible in Latin is plural and means library, we know at once that we have here not a single book but a collection of several books.

The second line, "Containing the Old and New Testaments," means obviously that there are two main divisions and that the distinguishing feature is a difference in age, one group of books being more recent than the other.

The third line says, "Translated out of the original tongues," indicating that the Bible was originally published not in English but in more than one other language.

"And with the former translations diligently compared and revised," shows that this translation, which was made under the authority of King James I in 1611, is the successor to several earlier translations.

Turning over the pages we discover that the text is divided into numbered chapters and verses, which seems rather an unusual way to present a book until we learn that these divisions were not made by the original authors but were inserted in 1551 by Mr. Robert Stephens, a pious printer, who believed that more people would read the Bible if he made it easier to read. Several earlier attempts had been made to divide the book into chapters and verses, all of them unsatisfactory.

A single glance is enough to indicate that the Old Testament is much larger than the New—and here is an easy way to remember how many books are in each. The Old Testament has thirty-nine books. Again multiply three by nine and you have twenty-seven, the number of books in the New Testament.

Cassir, you remember, divided Gaul into three parts. Similarly, scholars divide the Old Testament into three divisions—the historic books, beginning with Genesis and ending with Esther; the poetic books, beginning with Job and ending with the Song of Songs; and the remainder, which consists of sermons, or, as they are more commonly called, books of prophecy.

Of the historic books the first five have a certain unity which has long caused them to be regarded as one. They are called the Pentateuch, meaning the five-in-one book, and were written them all. Whether he did or not we can leave to the scholars to dispute. These are the five:

Genesis—the book of beginnings. Exodus—the book of going out. Leviticus—the book for the priests.

Numbers—a sort of amplified census report.

Deuteronomy—a Greek name meaning "second law," or review and digest of the laws.

Next Week—A Great Declaration.

Many Facts Noted in Franchise Survey

Eugene.—New franchises or renewals of franchise for public utilities granted by cities should provide for extension of service, greater efficiency, lower rates and similar considerations, rather than financial compensation to the city, it is declared by Guy S. Claire, former professor of law at the University of Oregon in an article published in the current number of the Commonwealth Review, a journal issued by the school of social science of the University of Oregon.

An extensive survey of franchises granted by cities of Oregon has just been completed by Mr. Claire, and a wealth of data was gleaned. Franchises studied included bus lines, telephone, telegraph, electricity, gas, water and any others that cities grant. Date of franchise, length, remuneration to the city and special concessions were included in the data.

Franchise should be granted for long enough periods to encourage public utilities to provide adequate equipment, but should not be so long that a change in economic conditions, size of municipality or change in industry would bind the municipality to disadvantageous conditions. The Oregon legislature has indicated that 20 years shall be the limit of a franchise grant, he points out.

In case of utilities where the initial cost is very great and removal of facilities for use elsewhere almost impossible, Mr. Claire suggests an intermediate franchise or permit, with a main feature that would permit the continuance of the franchise as long as the utility will furnish adequate service at reasonable rates, or until the municipality purchases the property of the utility.

Franchises should be drawn in general rather than in detailed terms, the survey states. Instead of attempting to settle details as to rates and services this should be left to the determination of the public service commissioner from time to time. The commissioner is in a position to know the facts and by reason of a staff of trained experts is in a position to give expert assistance.
