

LEXINGTON

By BEULAH B. NICHOLS.

The regular monthly meeting of the Home Economics club will be held at the hall on Thursday afternoon, January 4. At this time the ladies will make preparations for the Pomona grange meeting to be held here on Saturday, January 6. Miss Harriet Pointer of Salem is spending the holidays at the Orville Cutsforth ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Hara of Kinzua, Ore., drove over on Friday night to visit with Mrs. O'Hara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith. Mrs. Esper Hansen came up from her home in Portland on Sunday. She was met at Arlington by her brother, Joe Engelmann.

Miss Margaret McDevitt who is a teacher in Bend is the holiday guest at the Fitzgerald ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Earle B. M. Wright and sons of Baker were incoming passengers on Sunday's train. Mr. Wright returned home on Monday night but Mrs. Wright and boys will remain at the home of her mother, Mrs. Tom Grabill, for a longer visit.

Francis Troedson, a student at O. S. C., is spending the holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Troedson. Tom Grabill departed on Friday evening's train for Nampa, Idaho, to spend Christmas with his daughter, Mrs. Edmund Bristow, and her family.

Francis Ely, a student at Willamette university at Salem, is home for his vacation. Edna Lindstrom, Alice Bleakman and Harry Peterson were outgoing passengers on Thursday night's train. Leonard Whitlow who has made his home at the M. R. Morgan farm the past few weeks departed Thursday to spend Christmas in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo McMillan and daughter Beverly of Salem came up on Thursday to spend Christmas at the J. E. Swanson home. With them were Miss Miller, also of Salem, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Garland Swanson, and Miss Harriet Pointer, who will visit her uncle, Orville Cutsforth, of Lexington.

W. Guy Cason and children of Arlington are spending several days with Mrs. Lana Padberg. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moore were passengers on Saturday night's train, Portland bound to spend the holidays with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wrex Hickok.

At Heppner CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST. JOEL R. BENTON, Minister. Bible School 9-45 a. m. Morning services 11 a. m. C. E. Society 6:30 p. m. Evening services 7:30 p. m. Choir rehearsal, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Midweek service, Thursday, 7:30 p. m.

A Happy New Year! This coming Sunday, December 31, will be the last Lord's Day in 1933; and the Heppner Church of Christ desires herewith to wish to you all a Most Happy and Prosperous New Year.

It is our earnest wish that to each one there may come in the New Year just ahead, the very best and finest of life's blessings; and may we come to realize that we have a great deal to do with that. If we walk in the ways of blessings, we shall receive them; if we walk in the ways of untoward living, we shall have to pay for that.

For the coming Lord's Day the sermon topic of the morning worship hour will have to do with the New Year, "Progress and Christianity." And for the evening hour, the sermon topic will be "Leaving God Out." We invite you to come and text the welcome of this friendly Church if you have not a Church home.

HARDMAN

The Christmas program, consisting of plays, musical numbers and recitations presented by the grade and high schools last Thursday evening, was well received. Santa Claus made his appearance later in the evening with treats for everyone. A free dance in the I. O. O. F. hall followed the entertainment.

Rev. M. G. Tennyson conducted Christmas church services here last Sunday evening, Dec. 17. Mr. Tennyson brought Christmas gifts for all the members of the Sunday school. Christmas day and Sunday were celebrated in the various homes here with beautiful family reunion dinners.

Christmas day and Sunday were celebrated in the various homes here with beautiful family reunion dinners. The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens was the scene of a family dinner on Sunday. Present were the immediate relatives of the family and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mahrt and Leah of Heppner, Mrs. Ethel McDonald and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Harshman, Misses Alta and Edith Stevens, Jim Stevens joined in a family reunion dinner at the McDonald home.

U. of O. Scientists to Make Valuable "Heavy Water"

Eugene.—A complete plant for the manufacture of "heavy water," the largest in operation upon a single original batch of ordinary water in the world, is located at the University of Oregon, it was announced here recently by O. F. Stafford, head of the chemistry department. The apparatus for making this most precious of all chemical fluids includes a huge 10,000 gallon capacity tank and a 50 kilowatt direct current generator with an effective amperage of 25,000.

The electrolysis method, perfected two years ago by E. W. Washburn, chief chemist of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, and since used on a small scale at Columbia, Princeton and one or two other laboratories, is employed for the large-scale operation under way here. Since but one part of pure "heavy water" exists in 5,000 parts of ordinary water, the 10,000 gallons under treatment at Eugene would yield two gallons if it were possible to carry out the project with great exactness.

"Heavy water" is exactly what its name implies. Discovery of the "water" followed the discovery that there are two kinds of hydrogen atom, instead of one as had long been believed, and that one type of atom was twice as heavy as the other. It is where these heavy hydrogen atoms are in the water structure that the "heavy water" results. Every one knows that water is composed of one atom of oxygen and two of hydrogen. The weight of the oxygen, however, is rated at 16 units or 2 for hydrogen. In "heavy water" with the weight of the hydrogen atoms doubled, the ratio becomes 16 to 4, or a total of 20 weight units instead of the usual 18.

From intimate observation of many hundreds of cases, I have learned, first, no two women pass through this change in exactly the same manner, or with the same symptoms. Second, the management must fit the individual case; no remedy is used as a routine. That should kill the patent nostrum for "female trouble."

The menopause, I mean. Since this comes to all females who pass the median in life, I am talking to at least half the adult population in our homes. Some Farmers Reported Bilked by Hog Buyers

"Don't let a hog buyer subtract the processing tax from the market price." This is the warning being given by those in touch with provisions of the agricultural adjustment act at Oregon State college. Word has been received that some buyers, perhaps, through misunderstanding of the facts, are quoting the regular price to the producer less the amount of the processing tax.

"Prices quoted on hogs at the Portland stockyards or at any other public market in the United States are the prices which are actually paid to the shippers, and the tax is not deducted from these prices," explains E. L. Potter, head of the agricultural economics division. "Farmers who sell hogs to buyers at the market price and then permit the buyer to deduct the tax are simply allowing themselves to be cheated that much."

The processing tax on hogs is laid here and a number of the children are absent from school on account of it. Mr. and Mrs. Pirl Howell motored to Pendleton shortly before Christmas to visit Mrs. Howell's mother, Mrs. Alvin McCarty. Forest McCarty accompanied them home and remained a few days of the Christmas vacation.

A number of people from this community attended the dance at Rhea creek Monday evening. Foster Collins represented the Burton valley district in town last Thursday. The road workers were given a several-days vacation for Christmas, beginning Thursday and lasting until Tuesday.

(Too late for last week.) Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk have returned home from Portland where they spent two months. Mr. Kirk received violet ray treatment for spinal trouble in the city. Their daughter, Mrs. Clair Ashbaugh, met them at the depot and brought them home.

Mrs. Floyd Adams and small daughters, Clara Bell and Betty Jane, spent several days of last week visiting relatives in Portland. The dance given by the I. O. O. F. lodge was well attended by home folks last Saturday night. The newly established restaurant is now operated solely by Mr. and Mrs. Carey Hastings with Miss Zetta Blockman as their assistant. Mr. and Mrs. Pirl Howell have sold their interests in the business to their former partners.

Model Liquor Ordinance Sent Cities by League

Eugene.—A recommendation that all cities in the state adopt a uniform city ordinance for the distribution and sale of liquor has been made by the executive committee of the League of Oregon Cities, and a model ordinance, prepared by Frank S. Grant, city attorney for Portland, has been sent out to all cities. It was announced here today by Herman Kehrl, executive secretary of the league and director of the University of Oregon bureau of municipal research.

"It is now apparent that the Oregon Liquor control act (Knox law) cannot be placed in full operation for another four to eight weeks," Mr. Kehrl says in a letter accompanying the model resolution. "This means that if there is to be an orderly procedure for the distribution and sale of liquor during the interim that procedure must be set up by the cities."

"The purpose of the recommended ordinance is to place the regulations of the Knox law into effect immediately under a city ordinance. Rules and regulations proposed are identical with those of the Knox law except for the sale of liquor of over 14 percent alcoholic content. It is proposed that the city council shall act as agent for the commission during the interim."

"If this ordinance is adopted, dealers and merchants may immediately begin operating under regulations identical with those of the Knox law and would thus be spared the necessity of qualifying under some temporary city ordinance at variance with the Knox law." Mr. Kehrl also points out that should the Knox law be held invalid in any way, cities with the proposed ordinance would continue to operate under the law's provisions, and thus would not be plunged into confusion.

Blaire Shippey of Lyle, Wn., and Tommy Eloye of White Salmon, Wn., spent a few days with Mr. Shippey's mother and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Etta Shippey and Mrs. Della Corson. They returned to their homes Tuesday.

Many Courses Open to New Students at U. of O.

Eugene.—Young people of Oregon who desire to enter the University of Oregon for the first time at the beginning of the second or winter term, January 2, will find a wide variety of courses open to them in practically all major fields at this institution, it was announced today by Earl M. Pallett, registrar and executive secretary. It is not at all essential that any student wait until the beginning of the school year to enter, it is pointed out.

An informal survey made this week shows more than 40 courses open to students who wish to enter in January for the first time. Fields in which courses are open include fine arts, social science, history, journalism, political science, German languages, geography, Romance languages, military science, economics, business administration, English, Greek, physical education, education, religion, and sociology. It is also possible for specially qualified students to enter classes already under way or for advanced students, it is pointed out.

Students interested in any of the fields of social science may enter courses in background of social science, English history, World history or modern governments. A course in freshman accounting is open to students who wish to enter school of business administration. Three courses, in methods of study, mental hygiene and introduction to education, may be taken by those who are interested in education. The course in elementary journalism may be entered, and the school of fine arts has 12 courses which first year students may enroll in at this time. Introductory courses in French and German are also open to newcomers. New classes will be started for entering students in military training and physical education.

U. O. DEVICES IN DEMAND.

Eugene.—A complete set of apparatus for the measuring of muscular control as now used at the University of Oregon department of psychology has been ordered by the psychology department of the University of California. The highly technical instrument was designed by Dr. Robert H. Seashore and others in the department here. The apparatus will be used by California psychologists to conduct an experiment which will last over a period of five years. Professor Seashore has also perfected a portable apparatus for measuring muscular coordination, which combines several different devices. To date a total of 14 of these have been constructed here for other psychological laboratories.
