

IONE

By MARGARET BLAKE

The entire community was saddened the past week by the death on last Friday evening in a Heppner hospital of Eleanor Eubanks, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eubanks. Eleanor was stricken on Monday of last week with a malady which is usually fatal to its victims. Everything possible was done to combat the disease but to no avail and death came at seven o'clock on Friday evening, January 19. Eleanor was born at Heppner, Oregon, on October 20, 1920, and spent her entire life near or in Ione. She was loved by all who came in contact with her as was fully shown by the large gathering at the Christian church on Tuesday afternoon for her funeral services, and the beautiful flowers sent in her memory. Joel R. Benton of Heppner conducted the services, paying due tribute to the life and character of the young girl. "Abide With Me" and "The City Four-Square" were sung by Miriam Hale, Doris Allstott, Eugene Nor-moyle and Ellis Williams and "Meet Me There" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" were sung by Mrs. Walter Roberts and Miss Lucy Spittle. Mrs. Earl Blake was at the piano. Following the service at the church interment ceremony was spoken at the I. O. O. F. cemetery. Beside her grief-stricken playmates and a host of other friends both old and young Eleanor leaves to mourn her passing her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eubanks, a sister, Mrs. Veda Brenner, three brothers, John, Howard and Billy, and a large group of relatives.

Out of town relatives attending the funeral services of Eleanor Eubanks on Tuesday were Mrs. Letha Buschke and daughters Veda, Anna and Henry Halverson of Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Padberg, Mr. and Mrs. John Padberg, Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Padberg and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Padberg and sons, all of Lexington, and Mr. and Mrs. Wrex Hickok of Portland. Mrs. Mary Weddie of Pendleton, mother of Mrs. Eubanks, came over on Monday but was compelled by serious illness to return to her home before the services.

Word has been received by relatives of the illness of Louis Halverson who is confined to his bed in La Grande by an infected foot caused from an injury which he received in a basketball game he played with the town team here during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shipley and sons of Lostine spent a few hours in town last Friday calling on old friends. They had been called to Stanfield to attend the funeral of Laddie Shipley who had been killed in an accident in Alaska. Mr. and Mrs. Shipley have been on a small farm near Lostine since leaving Ione a year or more ago and are well pleased with their location.

Paul Pettyjohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Pettyjohn of near Morgan and a student in the Ione high school, is reported to be recovering slowly from an operation for appendicitis which was performed by a Heppner doctor last week. At the time of the operation his condition was so serious that his recovery seemed doubtful but his friends and schoolmates are glad to know of his continued improvement.

Newly elected officers of the Rebekah lodge for the first six months of 1934 were installed at a regular meeting of the order last Thursday evening. Mrs. Edith Mathews, district deputy, acted as installing officer. The following were installed: Margaret Crawford, N. G.; Rosa Fletcher, V. G.; Lena Lundell, sec. Etta Howell, treas. Amy Sperry, warden, Arvilla Swanson, conductor, Minnie Forbes, inside guardian, Ruth Lundell, outside guardian, Lucille Bristow, L. S. N. G., Edith Mathews, R. S. N. G., Ida Fletcher, L. S. V. G., and Mary Swanson, R. S. V. G. Following the installation and the regular business meeting a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed.

The next regular business meeting of Willows grange will be held at the hall in Cecil on Saturday evening, Jan. 27, at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend the lecture hour at 8 p. m. when Representative Earl Snell of Arlington will speak. After the lecture hour the grange will again be called to order. Refreshments will be served immediately after the close of the meeting. Grange ladies are asked to bring raised daughtnuts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mankin and son drove to Portland to spend the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Gabbert. They found Mrs. Gabbert (the sister of Mrs. Mankin) well on the road to complete recovery from a major operation which she had undergone last November.

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion met at their room in the Legion hall on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Kenneth Blake and Mrs. Omar Rietmann acted as hostesses for the afternoon. Ladies outside of the organization who helped with the sewing for the Christmas sale were guests of honor. Bridge was played during the afternoon and delicious refreshments of chicken salad supreme, wafers and coffee served at the end of the play. Guests invited were Mrs. George Tucker, Mrs. Paul O'Meara, Mrs. Ida Fletcher, Mrs. Ernest Lundell, Mrs. Wallace Mathews, Mrs. Carl Allen and Miss Rosa Fletcher.

Eight tables of bridge were at play at the January social meeting of the Women's Topic club on Saturday evening for which Mrs. Clyde Denny and Mrs. Roy Feeley were hostesses at the home of the latter. High scores were won by Mrs. Bert Mason and Kenneth Blake and low by Mrs. Louis Bergevin and Ted Smith. Delicious refreshments were served at the end of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy and Mrs. Ella Davidson returned on Monday evening from Los Angeles where they had spent the last two weeks visiting the mother and brother of Mr. McCurdy and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davidson and daughter. They report a delightful time and thorough enjoyment of California's famed winter sunshine.

J. H. Blake of Philomath arrived on Friday for a visit with relatives. Charles Allinger has moved to Milwaukie, Oregon, where he has bought a small acreage and will make his future home with his daughter, Miss Lillie Allinger who is employed in Portland.

CWA work approved and completed in connection with the local school is the grading and graveling of the playgrounds. This is a long needed and decided improvement in the appearance of the school. Application has been made to receive funds to aid in building a concrete walk in front of the building and calceining the interior. So far no answer has been received relative to this other work.

I. R. Robison and wife drove to Walla Walla the first of the week to secure medical advice for Mrs. Robison who has not been well for several weeks.

On Monday evening Mrs. Fred Ritchie arranged a surprise for her husband in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Guests were invited to a supper prepared by the hostess and after supper Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie were remarried by Mrs. Esther Barnett with Doris Allstott, Valjean Clark, Annabelle McCabe and Winona Ritchie acting as flower girls. The bride brought out the original bridal bouquet which she carried twenty-five years ago. Much merriment was made after the ceremony by a charivari and later games were played. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark and daughter Valjean, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allstott and sons, Mrs. Bob Allstott, Sr., Miss Doris Allstott, Mrs. Harold Ahalt, Mrs. Buchanan and sons Harold and Orval, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnett and family, Mrs. Ida Fletcher and daughter Rosa, Miss Annabelle McCabe and the family of the "bride and groom." All departed for their homes at a late hour wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie many more wedding anniversaries.

A carload of Masons from Arlington were guests of the local A. F. & A. M. lodge at their regular meeting on last Wednesday evening. After the closing of the lodge cards were played for an hour or more after which refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served.

and Kenneth Jackson. Mrs. Jackson was assisted by Mrs. Laura Scott, Mrs. Harry Schriever and Miss Rose Thornburg.

Mr. Ashbaugh and Mr. Boyd of The Dalles and Mr. Hoffer of Arlington were visitors at the local telephone office Tuesday morning.

Roy O. Stotts, insurance adjuster from Portland, was in town Tuesday, looking over the recent fire losses. Satisfactory adjustments were made.

Mrs. Elmer Hunt entertained with a pleasant surprise party on Thursday evening, honoring her brother, Garland Thompson, who is leaving soon for California. The guests were high school friends and associates of Garland. Games were played during the evening and delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

Nat Kimball of the Federal Land Bank, with headquarters at Heppner, was a business visitor Tuesday. Wilbur Steagall is confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. W. T. McRoberts of Heppner was a Lexington visitor Tuesday.

Miss Helen Breshears is still indisposed at her home here, having had a siege of measles last week.

School Notes
The county standard tests for the grades were completed last Friday and results are now being compiled for these.

The first meeting of the Science club was held on Wednesday, January 24. Officers and program to be announced later.

The high school basketball team came through last week end with two victories, the first from Fossil, 21-20, and the second from Boardman, 23-20. Friday night's game was the fastest and cleanest game played this season and wasn't decided till the very last minute.

This week Lexington will play Condon here Friday night and will go to Stanfield on Saturday night.

A strange new malady has affected the high school student body. Excited groups of students can be seen gathering in the upper hallway discussing it. As one climbs the stairway one hears exultant shouts and cries of excitement mingled with the rhythmic pin-ping of a little white ball as it booms across the table out in the hallway. Yes, table tennis is here and the two tables are busy until six every night. A tournament will be held later.

The honor roll for the grades for the last period is as follows: First grade, Colleen Miller, Jack Miller, Dean Hunt; second grade, Louise Hunt, Marcella Jackson, Ivah Kuns; Colleen McMillan; third grade, Bunny Breshears; fourth grade, Duane Johnson, Lavelle Pieper; fifth grade, Jerrine Edwards, Kenneth Jackson; seventh grade, Robert Campbell, Danny Dinges, Keith Gentry, Kenneth Klingner, Wilma Tucker.

Orville Cutsforth made a business trip to Spokane the first of the week.

U. of O. Students Print Fine Book as Project

Eugene.—The typography class of the school of Journalism of the University of Oregon will print "Book of Ecclesiastes, or the Preacher," as its project in fine printing this year. It was announced recently by Robert C. Hall, associate professor in charge of the class. The volume was selected by Dr. John Henry Nash, internationally famous printer of San Francisco, who is a member of the faculty of the school of Journalism.

"Modern Jehus"
"The driving is like the driving of Jehu, the son of Nimshi, for he driveth furiously." 2 Kings, 9-20.
A modernization of this text would read: "For he driveth carelessly, recklessly."

Traffic experts of this nation are practically agreed that by far the greater percentage of accidents is due from what has come to be officially designated as "reckless driving."

And the world is crammed this hour with many, many varieties of "Modern Jehus," driving recklessly. The man, or woman, who burns the candle at both ends physically, is driving recklessly.

The boy, or girl, who will waste the precious days of youth in aping and acquiring the filthy habits of their elders, is driving recklessly. That person who will forget the laws of property and take what is not theirs by stealth or force, is driving recklessly.

And every last human being who has forgotten or who will forget, the laws of God, is Driving Recklessly!

Whenever we attempt to negotiate the highways of life without God, we are in the same case as if we were driving the material highways without safe steering gear or adequate brakes, we are Driving Recklessly!

If you have not a Church home, we invite you very cordially to come and worship with us. Here you will find a live, growing Bible school and interesting and helpful services of worship. Come and test the welcome of this friendly Church.

For the coming Lord's Day the sermon topics are: "For the morning service, 'Privilege and Responsibility.'" And for the evening service, "Modern Jehus."

WORLD SMALL, AFTER ALL.

The E. L. Morton family came to Heppner, when Mr. Morton was made manager of the local branch of the First National Bank of Portland, to all intents and purposes "strangers in a strange country."

But Mr. Morton and W. C. Cox got to talking. Mr. Morton had heard that Mr. Cox came from Virginia. He said Mrs. Morton's home town was Galax in that state. Coincidentally, that was Mr. Cox's old stamping grounds, also. Mr. Cox inquired as to the family name, and found that he had formerly known the family well, in fact had once kept company with an older sister of Mrs. Morton's.

Mrs. Morton's family had moved out to Idaho, where she met Mr. Morton and they were married. Yearly since, they have attended a reunion of Virginians in the Idaho town, also attended by cousins of Mr. Cox who reside in the same vicinity in Idaho.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to take this opportunity to express the heartfelt thanks of the citizens of Lexington to the fire department and citizens of Heppner for the assistance given in combating the fire of Monday morning.

Mayor of Lexington.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is the best laxative for everybody. Senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It has the average person's bowels as regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drugstore, ready for use. Member N. R. A.

Local I. O. O. F. Orders Install New Officers

Installation of new officers for the local Odd Fellows lodges was held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 5, featured by a turkey dinner for members of the orders and their families. Royal Phelps, district deputy grand master, and Charlotte Gordon, district deputy president, of the respective orders were installing officers. Officers installed were:

Rebekahs: Verna Hayes, N. G.; Anna Wightman, V. G.; Lillian Turner, sec.; Sadie Sigbee, treas.; Opal Ayers, warden; Charlotte Gordon, conductor; Rose Howell, I. G.; Margaret Phelps, O. G.; Ella Bengel, R. S. N. G.; Mabel Chaffee, L. S. N. G.; Millie Doolittle, chaplain; Kate Swendig, musician; Reita Neel, R. S. V. G.; Beth Bleakman, L. S. V. G.

Odd Fellows: Ralph Beamer, N. G.; Oral Scott, V. G.; Emmett Ayers, sec.; J. L. Yeager, treas.; Albert Adkins, I. G.; Frank E. Parker, O. G.; Jeff Jones, R. S. N. G.; Al Florence, L. S. N. G.; John Wightman, chaplain.

Local Events Now Hold Center of Stage in AAA

Local events within the counties and even within the communities hold the center of the stage just at present in the Oregon AAA program, according to leaders in the various educational and organization movements at Oregon State college.

By the end of January practically all county educational meetings in the corn-hog adjustment campaign will have been held and many counties will have completed their local meetings and be in the midst of the third series when actual signing of contracts will be carried out.

Interest in the county meetings has been keen and every indication is now for a larger sign-up of hog contracts than appeared possible at first, says H. A. Lindgren, extension livestock field man and chairman of the campaign committee for Oregon. Growers appear to be satisfied with the terms of the control plan offered by the government and those eligible will in most cases sign up, he believes.

Only scattering farmers throughout the state are eligible under the corn reduction plan, but some corn contracts are expected to be signed, particularly in Malheur county, southern Oregon and a few western Oregon counties.

Clarification of a recent announcement that milk marketing agreements hereafter would be directed toward maintaining producers' prices has been given by direct statements from Washington, D. C.

Both Secretary Wallace and his administrator of the AAA, Chester C. Davis, have stated definitely that the only price agreements that will be included in future milk codes or that will be enforced under existing codes, will be the schedule of prices paid producers.

In some instances minimum or maximum resale prices will be established to prevent utter demoralization of a market area, but within such limits free play of competition will be depended upon to regulate prices.

Indication is also given that the AAA will not attempt to maintain producers' prices much above the legitimate competitive level pending the adoption of a national production control plan. Every effort is now directed toward launching such a production control plan in the near future.
