

Local Happenings

Mrs. Melvira Sturm died at her home in Gresham, Oregon, Feb. 17, 1934, aged 69 years, one month and five days. Funeral services were held in the nondenominational church at Gresham on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 21, and interment followed in Lincoln Memorial cemetery at Portland. She is survived by eleven children, all of whom were present at the funeral services with the exception of one son living at Bliss, Idaho, who was too ill to attend. Mrs. Sturm formerly resided in this county and was known as Mrs. Elijah Adams. One daughter, Mrs. Antone Cunha, resides on Butter creek, near Lena.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Amort of Portland were visitors here on Friday, bringing Mrs. Rebecca Patterson, aunt of Mrs. Amort, home. Mr. and Mrs. Amort then went to La Grande and returning remained over Saturday night here and then departed for Klamath Falls where Mr. Amort, who works for Shell Oil company, had matters of business to attend to. Mrs. Patterson had been spending the winter months at Los Angeles, where she enjoyed visiting many former Heppnerites with whom she came into contact. Aside from the short rainy season, the weather was delightful at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Antone Cunha of Lena returned home the past week from Portland where she was called on account of the death of her mother, Mrs. Melvira Sturm. She was accompanied home by her brother, John Adams and family of Hazelton, Idaho, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rolice and son Chester, Eden, Idaho, who were also in Portland for the funeral of Mrs. Sturm. While in the city, Mrs. Cunha visited with her father, Elijah Adams, who formerly resided in this county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Adams arrived from Portland on Saturday. They have been spending the winter in the city where they have a home, but expect to be at Hardman during the spring and summer months. Mr. Adams says there was but little frosty weather at Portland during the winter, with plenty of rain and vegetation growing all the while.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wells and son Woodrow were week-end visitors here from their home at Pendleton, being guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Parker on Heppner flat. At the Christian church Sunday morning, Woodrow delighted the audience with one of his beautiful violin solos, being accompanied at the piano by Miss Marjorie Parker.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Bloom had as their guests over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Bloom and son Bart, and Miss Betty Carlin, all of Umatilla. The visitors were taking in the basketball tournament, also. Mr. Bloom is at the head of the schools in Umatilla and his team of ball tossers were contestants for honors at the tournament.

Creston Maddock, who spent his youthful days in Heppner and graduated from Heppner high school before entering upon his college career at the University of Oregon, was looking in on old-time friends yesterday, accompanied by his family. Mr. Maddock is now agency organizer for a leading insurance group in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Parker were called to Joseph on Friday by the illness of their daughter, Mrs. Dorris Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell has entered the hospital at Enterprise and will undergo a major operation there today. Mrs. Parker remained with her daughter and Mr. Parker returned home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bowker were visitors in the city on Saturday from the ranch down Alpine way. Wheat is beginning to come along fine now, though its growth during the winter was somewhat slower than in the wheat sections of the south end.

Lester Doolittle is able to be at work again after months of ill health. He is this week engaged in putting in some plumbing for Jeff Jones in the Gordon house, soon to be occupied by Mrs. Ada Cason and family.

Durward Tash, eldest son of Fred Tash, formerly of Heppner, has returned to this city and now has a place with Claude Cox in the creamery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner departed on Wednesday morning for Spokane where Mr. Turner was called on business before the Federal Land bank. They will return home from the Washington city this evening.

Mrs. Frank Engelman of Ione was a visitor several days this week at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Turner, and with other relatives and friends in Heppner.

F. F. Wehmeyer returned home the end of the week after a month's time in which he made the rounds of CCC camps of the state assisting in holding schools in forestry.

Paul Aiken, who spent the winter at Camp Reaton near Coquille, returned home the end of the week and is enjoying some good old eastern Oregon sunshine.

B. F. Swaggart got to town Saturday from the Eastern Oregon Stock farm, and reports vegetation coming along well in the vicinity of Swaggart buttes.

Editorial
Although Heppner was defeated in the finals of the basketball tournament last Saturday night, she succeeded in placing one player, Roy Gentry, on the tourney's all-star team. This team was made up of the following players: forwards: Teats, Condon, and Ervin, Umatilla; center, Ransier, Boardman; guards, Allen, Condon, and Gentry, Heppner.

The members of the student body are proud of Roy and we all congratulate him.

For five years he has done his best to bring glory and fame to Heppner high school in sports and sportsmanship. Four years, starting in the eighth grade, he played quarterback on our football team. During his four years of high school he has been an outstanding player on our basketball team.

His speed, endurance, and fight have never failed us; while his quick understanding and knowledge of the game, together with his undaunted leadership, were constantly an inspiration to his team mates. He was an outstanding player in the recent basketball tournament and was duly honored by being given a position on the all-star team.

We hope that Roy will face life with the same undaunted courage and fight with which he has faced his opponents on the gridiron and basketball court, and we all wish the best of success to our friend, schoolmate, and fellow athlete, Roy Gentry.

It is regretted that in our high school we have a few samples of a particularly bad type of cut-up. Naturally, anybody of this type is detrimental to the school, but there is one type that is worse than any other. This is the fellow who persistently pulls sneaky, small offenses with which he believes he is getting away. This gradually arouses the teacher's ire and finally the student is dismissed from class. Then comes the disgraceful part. Instead of taking his just punishment, the student tells everyone in earshot how he has been mistreated and what he intends to do to the teacher if he ever gets a chance. In other words he isn't man enough to pay the price of his foolishness. He is the type that tries to enjoy himself at the expense of others without paying for his fun. The boy who does this sort of thing is a sneak of the worst kind. He knows he has punishment coming, but he isn't courageous enough to take it. A boy of this type is usually little liked, either by the teachers or by his own schoolmates. All the world hates a sneak and this is one of the most cowardly things a person can do.

Tournament Queen
Petite Jessie French, junior nominee in the tournament queen contest, was introduced at "leading lady" of the tourney in time to toss the ball for the championship game played between Boardman and Condon Saturday night.

Jessie was chosen by the vote of ticket buyers, each ticket for a single performance allowing one vote; a season ticket permitting five votes. Marjorie Parker represented the freshmen, Katherine Healy the sophomores, and Alice Bleakman the seniors, in the contest.

Heppner Loses to Stanfield
Heppner's basketball team lost the tournament consolation title to Stanfield at the gymnasium last Saturday night by a score of 17-16. Heppner couldn't hit the basket though they were able to bring the ball down into shooting territory with amazing regularity. The score at half-time stood 11-10 in Stanfield's favor. During the second period the score was tied 14 to 14 and 16 to 16. Stanfield made a free throw during the last few seconds of the game, winning 17-16.

Class News
Betty Doherty has been chosen by the Benzine Ring as the candidate to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Phyllis Pollock.

The seniors ordered their announcements this week.

Tuesday was senior dress-up day and most of the seniors came dressed in odd costumes. Boys were dressed as girls and girls as boys. There were old women, men, cowboys, sailors, and soldiers represented. The seniors who neglected to dress up must present a skit of some sort before the next assembly.

Well Worn Advice
Well, well, and well, here I am, ladies and gentlemen and others. Now to resume my unsurpassed quantity of knowledge that may help some friend or foe in the past. Speaking of help, it is a good idea to help yourself rather than some one else, as the other person may die and then he would be unable to help you. Such things have happened and therefore it is readily agreed that the amount of time involved had been wasted. Since the topic of waste has been brought up, don't you think that the wasteline of today (or is it streamline) is stunning? I know a person who was so stunned once that he died. But he probably would have lived if the brick that hit him had been delayed a few seconds. You know, folks, seconds are funny people. They acclaim the knowledge of musicians, but in reality they just play chords. The other day I purchased

A very enjoyable and successful school dance, sponsored by the seniors, was given at the Elks hall last Friday evening. Students from Condon, Hermiston, Ione, Lexington, Boardman, Umatilla, Heppner attended. Music was furnished by Bud's Jazz Gang.

Pep Band at Tournament
Heppner high school's pep band played during the basketball tournament held in the gymnasium last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This band is composed of twenty members chosen from the main school band. It takes a prominent part in all student body, as well as some town, activities. It lends color to our football games, basketball games, rallies, and other social functions. The following instruments are played in the band: six clarinets, six trumpets, three trombones, a sousaphone, an alto, a saxophone, a base drum and a snare drum.

seven cords of wood, and the man delivered a carload. Imagine that! There's other things that people imagine too. Sometimes a person in passing a graveyard in the dark of night sees a white cow and immediately takes it for a ghost. The person hurriedly thinks of an appointment that he has forgotten, and disappears down the road.

Oh, say, I almost forgot, but I have an appointment with my little baby. Don't forget to tune in next week. I'll be stringing for you. Adios.

SCIENTISTS AT U.O. AID Students in Learning
Eugene—That simple little trick in reading, such as turning the page slightly to the left, or moving the page a few inches to the right, may mean the difference for backward students between gaining an education or remaining "dumb" has been discovered at the University of Oregon by L. K. Shumaker, supervisor of the English bureau, and Dr. H. R. Crossland, professor of psychology.

The two educators found that in a group of 24 students segregated because of study difficulties 13 of them were "left-eyed," yet were right-handed, rather than the normal right-handed, right-eyed or left-handed, left-eyed. In practically every case tests disclosed presence of a cerebral interference which made reading and perception of the printed page difficult, due to the fact that the left eye dominated in vision.

By having the student turn his head slightly, or if he preferred, moving the book a few inches to the right, the right eye was forced to take over its share of the work. This resulted in an almost instant improvement in learning.
