Official Paper for Morrow County

A COMRADE PASSES.

Ward 15, Main Hospital, National Military Home, Calif., March 15, '34.

Editors' Note: Encl. pl. dl. my thank for your kindness in sending me your last issue, contents of which were very readable and reliable, but one of those items gave me a severe shock. That was the announcement of the passing away of my old friend Milt. Morgan.

We had not met since the battle of the Clearwater, in Idaho, in 1877, and suddenly found ourselves in adjoining beds in this hospital, and of course were reminded of many old-time pioneer incidents to talk about. We very much enjoyed each other's company, but about two months ago he concluded that the treatment was bringing no improvement in his swollen knee, so he took a transfer back to the barracks, about a mile away. He used to come down here to see me every few days, and his words of cheer spread sunshine over the surrounding scenery.

I shall always remember Milt as a dashing young frontiersman in the Washington Territory Volunteers during the Nez Perce Indian War of 1877, when he was doing his part in the Winning of the West, and can assure his old friends and relatives that he has a pleasant and restful resting-place, amid sunshine, flowers and foliage, with immense masses of pink geraniums spreading all over the graves, and the inscription over the gate reading: "In fame's eternal camping grounds, their silent tents are spread. And glory guards with solemn round the bivouac of the dead!"

Very T. Y., J. W. REDINGTON.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.

Anywhere Out West, Some "in March, '34. Mrs. L. G. Herren Rumble, Heppner, Uncle Jack Morrow County, Oregon.

Dear Mrs. Rumble: Having given your ad in the Heppner Gazette careful consideration, and had it taken under advisement by our Committee on Elections and Electric Lights, whose decision was rendered inside its speed limit of sixty days, I think that we can do some business, after having been brought together by the magic wand of advertising.

You have a couple of Red Roosters to swap, and I need them to serve as alarm clock to wake up the neighbors. They ought to be, and no doubt are, worth $100. If there is any? about that, we can shake dice to decide the value.

My proposition is to swap you two $50 cats for your roosters. Given proper training in voice culture at the Heppner Academy of Music, these cats would ably supplement your radio when it lets up after midnight, following which time much more music is needed, and ought to be supplied as follow-up stuff.

As your roosters are males, of course they would be proper mail matter for the parcel post. My cats are running loose on the range around here, and of course you would be glad to send some expert cowboys to make the last round-up on them.

Hope that you have a Merry Christmas coming, and that you will give this matter your speed-up attention, and deliver your decision f. o. b. Heppner.

Very T. Y., J. W. REDINGTON. Hilarity Dept.

BOARDMAN

By RACHEL J. BARLOW

The Ladies Aid society assisted by Miss Marshall and Mr. Adams will give their largest entertainment of the year, a concert in the community church Wednesday evening, March 28. The concert will be composed of both instrumental and vocal music. Admission is 25c for adults and 10c for school children.

Mrs. Johnson and grandson Billy Burchell of Lexington were guests during the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ingles. Bill LaLonde, Chat Atteberry and Mr. McFarren were business visitors in Vale this week.

A very large audience enjoyed the high school vodvil in the auditorium last Friday evening. Numbers on the program were: Selections by the orchestra; one-act play, "Tommy Says Hello;" selections by the glee club; skit, "Curses, Filled Again;" Harmonica Hoochums; Tap dancing, Wilma Myers, Ada May Harford; Sybil Macomber and Margaret Harford; minstrel show by high school boys; Mountain Memories, by the orchestra; and the country store. The Columbians furnished the music for the dances in the gymnasium after the vodvil.

Rev. and Mrs. Harris and Rev. and Mrs. Miller were guests at a lovely dinner Sunday at the W. A. Baker home.

Rev. Harris of Rogue River preached a trial sermon at the community church last Sunday. Rev.

W. O. Miller, who has been the regular pastor here for a number of years, is retiring from the ministry.

Mrs. Royal Rands returned home last week from visiting with her sister in Milton-Freewater after having her tonsils removed in Walla Walla several weeks ago. Her sister accompanied her home.

The school faculty attended the teachers' institute at Hardman last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Messenger entertained at a sumptuous dinner at their home Tuesday evening. Guests were Misses Lucia Jenkins, Margaret Galey, Mardina Medler, Thelma Brown, Elizabeth Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ingles and Harvey Adams.

The Home Economics club was entertained last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson. The next meeting will be March 28 at the Tyler home with Mrs. Tyler and Mrs. Coats hostesses.

A large crowd attended the grange meeting Saturday evening and an interesting program was given by the H. E. club.

The directors of the school board have reelected the following teachers for the coming year: Edwin T. Ingles, superintendent; Miss Mardina Medler, high school; Miss Elizabeth Marshall, 3rd and 4th; Lucia Jenkins, 5th and 6th; Harvey Adams, 7th and 8th. The same salaries will be paid this year as last year. Harvey Adams has accepted a position at the Harmony School in Portland.

Rev. and Mrs. Payne of Hermiston and Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Flickinger were dinner guests Sunday at the Messenger home.

Vawter and Jasper Crawford motored to The Dalles Tuesday to attend an NRA code meeting for the graphic arts industry, attended by printers and newspapermen of the section. The meeting was conducted by Arne G. Rae, secretary of the state editorial association and regional administrative head of the code. A phenomenon of the season in the vicinity of Hood River was reported by H. G. Ball, editor of the Hood River News, who said that pear trees this year are blooming ahead of cherry trees. The usual order is vice versa. The day in The Dalles was more like summer than spring.

It has been splendid weather for spring plowing, reports J. O. Kincaid of lower Gooseberry, who was transacting business in this city on Wednesday, and he has just about finished with the work for this season. Volunteer grain out his way is fine and he has been turning under a mighty good prospect.

Claude Cox, manager of Morrow County Creamery, left for Salem today to be in attendance on the code meeting for butter makers which is called there tomorrow. He was accompanied by his son, Billy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Turner are enjoying a little vacation in Portland this week, visiting with the parents of Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Reid.
