FINANCIERS ALL.

MAYBE you are one of those per sons who have always believed the bond market to be set aside for the special benefit of the starch fronted gentry of Wall street. If so you are bound for disillusionment. It may be interesting to you to know that shortly you will very probably be as greatly concerned with what the morning paper has to say about the bond market as is any crimson-faced financier in the country.

The reason? Well, the chances are good that you will either be the family before the shearing season holder or prospective holdre of some opens. sonds-gilt-edged Farm Mortgage Corporation bonds, to be more spe-That is, gilt-edged in that Uncle Samuel promises to pay the interest and principal.

But why such a good chance for The answer is that from here on out, all Federal Land Bank and all Commissions of the Commission of th Commissioners loans are to be made with Farm Mortgage Corporation bonds in lieu of cash as heretofore made. If this is not sufficiently enlightening, it may interest you to know that applications for these loans totaling upwards of $400,000 have been made from Morrow county. This leaves a balance of from $200.00 to $300.000 to be seters from her home at Portland, tled in the form of bonds which Morrow county must in some way handle.

True, many of the loans are being made to refinance operations, and in many cases private loaning companies will no doubt take the bonds without question. It is also possible that there will be a ready market for any bonds to be otherwise disposed of. Being tax-free and drawing 34% interest, with the prin-cipal and interest both guaranteed by Uncle Sam should make them an attractive investment; at least so long as business generally is at a low ebb. But with business on the pick-up, doubtless more attractive rates of interest will be offered by industrialists. Then what of the Back in wartime every patriotic citizen was appealed to to become a bond salesman, as well as a bond buyer. Lots of folks got acquainted with their first bond then. Now there is no patriotic appeal. But a lot more people are going to get acquainted with their first bond.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children ge from unwise dosing with harsh cathartics may cause bowel strain and even set-up irritation in the and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be safely relieved in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative, 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.
