BETTER FARMING PAYS.

IN HIS communication in these columns this week, R. E. Harbison of Cottage Grove and former Morgan resident, takes what may be a justified "fling" at Wallace's Farmer from which the Gazette Times reprinted an editorial last week, but he does not refute the point which this newspaper meant to convey in reprinting the editorial, which is, "better farming pays."

We did not take Wallace's editorial to be a defense of the government program of control of agriculture, but rather a defense of the government-assisted agricultural college extension work which aims to put agriculture on a higher plane.

A NEW NOTE IN FOREST FIRE PREVENTION.

FOREST fire prevention never has been of such serious importance as it is in this present season, according to a statement just issued by Regional Forester C. J. Buck.

IS WALLACE RIGHT?

To the Editor: The editorial from "Wallace's Farmer" printed in the Heppner Gazette Times of June 28, condoning the keeping up of production to former levels through better seed and better farming methods brings up a subject that not only merits but is getting attention.

to get as big outturns as usual and still keep their hands in the U. S. treasury until complete national bankruptcy and dishonor takes place.
