Miss Lucille Hall, so seriously injured in an automobile accident near Arlington early last week, is reported to be making good progress toward recovery. Miss Hall was riding with Ed Leonard of Walls Walls when the car went over the embankment at a point about a mile and a half east of Arlington, turning over five or six times and landing about 1500 feet below along side the railroad track. As reported in last issue, Miss Hall was seriously cut about the head and body while the young man received a deep cut on the arm at the elbow. Neither was completely put out, and they were able to get back to the highway where they were picked up by a passing car and rushed to Arlington. How they escaped instant death is one of those unexplainable mysteries that happen in the course of human events.

Miss Annie Hynd of Rose Lawn ranch of Hynd brothers, is compelled to get about on crutches because of an injured ankle. She suffered a fall while about her work at the ranch home Saturday and this resulted in tearing the ligaments loose from the left ankle. Miss Hynd came to town Monday and had the injury attended by a physician and she will have to be on crutches for a few weeks while the healing process takes place. David and William Hynd and their sister, Mrs. Doney, were also in town Monday, the gentlemen coming to town for the funeral of the late Jas. M. Hart.

Recently there appeared in these columns an item concerning a meeting of truckmen at Ione when prices for hauling were adopted. This report stated that a charge of 70 cents per ton mile would be made the farmers for hauling their wheat to the railroad, and in addition 50 cents per ton handling charge. The right figures were 7 cents per ton mile, and 50 cents for the handling charge. We understand that these charges have been adopted generally by the truckmen of the county, and are in accordance with the code requirements.

A card received early this week by the editor from Dr. A. D. McMurdo was mailed from the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago, where the doctor and his son Scott were "seeing things," and the boy was having the time of his life. They were to go on to Rochester, Minn., the next day after the card was written, making the journey by airplane. Dr. McMurdo expected to spend a short time at the Mayo clinic in Rochester before continuing the trip home.
