

IONE

By MARGARET BLAKE

The regular monthly gathering of the Ione Missionary society, meeting August 2 in the parlors of the Congregational church, had for its topic "The Orientals in America." Mrs. Emu Swanson presented an article discussing the American side of the problem, "Is America Anti-Christian?" On his return home Monday morning he was accompanied by his wife who has been visiting with relatives and friends in Salem for two weeks.

The Women's Topic club held their August study meeting at the home of Mrs. M. E. Corder. The hostesses, Mrs. Corder, Mrs. Clyde Denny and Mrs. Roy Feeley, were dressed in gypsy costumes. Eleven members answered roll call. "In what State were you born?" "The Story of the Gypsies" by Conrad Bercovici was reviewed by Mrs. Corder and Mrs. Denny told of the book, "Raggletaggie," by Walter Starkie. Both were very much enjoyed. The program was closed by a skit, "Cat Pie," which was very cleverly played by Mrs. Feeley, Mrs. Denny and Mrs. Agnes Wilcox. During the business meeting which followed the resignation of Mrs. Freeland as secretary of the club was accepted and Mrs. Jonnie McMurray was elected to take her place. CHARLES THOMSON (Continued from First Page) of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, and David Thomson of St. Louis. He was age 59 years, 9 months and 27 days. In the passing of Charles Thomson a vacancy is left in the life of Heppner which may not soon be filled, but his memory will long be dear in the hearts of his friends.

WAR ON HAWKS (Continued from First Page.) dence, until finally they espied one sitting high up on a cliff, Charlie said. It was too far for the shot-guns, and he took his 22, winging it. Immediately it set up a hub-bub, and in less than no time hawks were appearing from every place, it seemed.

Friday evening, Mrs. Latourell accompanied Charlie on the hunt, and rooted for him strong as one hawk after another bit the dust. Twenty-seven of the hawks slain were brought to town, and photographs taken. Another exhibit of the grim work of the hawks was a decapitated little Chink, from which the hawks had eaten all the meat away from the side of one leg. A MODERN BANK IN 1865 IN 1934

In 1865, The First National Bank of Portland brought to the Oregon country its first national banking facilities. To obtain the security and services of The First National Bank of Portland, Heppner pioneers had to travel days by horseback or river boat to do business at Portland.

The First National Bank of Portland has grown with Oregon, and today brings complete modern banking facilities right to your own community. We invite you to become better acquainted with the bank that has served four generations of Oregonians.

view of the President as he was standing on deck. With Mr. Turner and daughters, Jeanette and Anabel, Mr. Gordon left for Bonneville before the official reception at Portland.

They arrived at the damsite in good time and were again fortunate in obtaining positions directly in front of and close to the speakers' stand. They saw Mr. Roosevelt as he went onto the platform, and Mr. Gordon was impressed particularly by the difficulty with which the president walked, due to the infirm condition in which infantile paralysis had left his legs.

This physical handicap seemed to make all the more forceful and sincere the president's words as he talked of the great development taking place on the Columbia. Mr. Gordon said the president's apparent thorough understanding of the geography of the country and details of the big Bonneville dam construction was nothing less than amazing, indicating to him that the
