Cutting the Automobile Toll.

ARE you one of those who believe themselves infallible when they crawl under the wheel of an automobile? If so, will you recall the number of narrow escapes you may have had while driving which made you thank your lucky star that you escaped unscathed.

Or maybe you are one of those who haven't escaped the tragedy of a gruesome accident. Surely there are few persons with experience of traveling on the highways who haven't seen some evidence of the toll of automobile accidents, and unless something is done toward educating the public mind, the ever-increasing number of accidents will continue to increase.

That something is being done in Oregon to so educate the public mind is comforting. The Automobile Accident Prevention Association of Oregon, with Governor Meier as president, contemplates a far-flung board of governors and membership comprising every interested driver without attendant fee.

Through the newspapers, through the schools and other media for disseminating information the association will conduct an intensive campaign of education, soliciting the cooperation of all drivers to observe rules of safety on the highways; seeking reformation of drivers who refuse through ignorance, inability or indifference to observe such rules, and cooperating with law enforcement officers to the end that the great toll of accidents will be reduced to a minimum.

It is a sad condemnation of this advanced civilization that one takes his life in his hands when he traverses the highways. It is time for an awakening, and all sane thinking citizens will welcome the new association with its high purposes. It should have the support of everyone in carrying out these purposes.

It is time to drive the demons of death and disaster from Oregon highways.

African Veterinarian

Lauds Work of Science

Veterinary science has made leucost production possible in the Union of South Africa, and the research carried on there in animal diseases has benefited the entire world, according to Sir Arthur Theiler, veterinary director general for that British dominion who recently visited men in his field at Oregon State college.

Dr. Theiler stopped at the college enroute home by way of New Zealand from the international veterinary congress in New York this summer. There he was awarded the Budapest trophy for the most outstanding work in veterinary science in the past 10 years. His greatest contribution was the discovery of phosphorus deficiency in cattle feed in South Africa and some other parts of the world.

Dr. Theiler praised the work that has been done in the veterinary department at O. S. C., showing particular interest in the research in salmon poisoning of dogs. He also praised the work of Dr. W. T. Johnson in developing chicken pox control. Dr. Johnson described this research at the New York meeting before scientists from more than 25 countries.

Many folks from over the county were in the city the first of the week, some called on jury duty, others as witnesses, and others as interested spectators in the trial before circuit court. Reports are brought of seeding in some sections, with general complaint on the dry conditions prevailing and desire for rain.

Assembly

An assembly was held Monday afternoon at two-thirty in the study hall. The meeting started with the singing of the school song, led by Jessie French. After the singing, Mr. Bloom explained the demerit system for the benefit of the new students and new teachers. Ervin Periberg, student body president, was presented by Mr. Bloom to the student body. Ervin then took charge of the meeting. Dick Benton, yell leader, gave an interesting talk on the Booster club, and Bill Schwarz explained the purposes of the "H" club. The new teachers, Miss Brownson, Mr. Evans and Mr. Winter, principal, were presented to the assembly. Each gave an interesting talk. The purpose of the Bendine Ring was explained by Louis Gilliam, and the meaning of the Home Economics club by Kathryn Healy. As part of the program Marjorie Parker played a charming piano solo. Ed Dick talked on the Norton Winnard cup as the last, but certainly not least, part of the assembly program.

Editorial

We are again starting out on a new school year. This year, let us make a brand new set of resolutions and stick to them throughout the year. In our resolutions it would be well to include the maintenance of good scholarship and good sportsmanship. Often times we neglect these through our own carelessness. Another resolution we should certainly have on our list is to back our president, Ervin Periberg. Being president is not an easy task and if by the rest of us to play fair with him or ourselves. Activities in the high school have been well organized and now that we have started them going, let's keep them going and add more new ones to them. The future is bright with the hope and promise of what can be accomplished by us. We can make this year a better one than ever before, and just now let's all resolve to do right that.

Club News

At the first meeting of the Home Economics club for this semester the following officers were elected: Kathryn Healy, president; Beth Vance, vice-president; Harriet Hager, secretary-treasurer.

At the "H" club meeting the following officers were elected: Edwin Dick; secretary-treasurer, Louis Gilliam. Mr. Winter is advisor for the "H" club.

The Girls' Glee club has been organized again this year with the following students elected as officers: President, Frances Rugg; secretary, Betty Doherty, and assistant secretary, Louise Anderson.

Change in Assembly

There are several changes in the high school rooms this year. The typing room has been moved to the former reference room. Several new typewriters have been installed. The reference shelves and books have been moved into the assembly. An Art and Design class is being conducted by Miss Staley this year for the first time. She also has two new Home Economics classes in which cooking, sewing and home management are taught.

Class News

The senior class election was held last Thursday. The officers are as follows: President, Joe Green; vice-president, Lorena Wilson; secretary, Juanita Morgan; treasurer, Louis Gilliam; sergeant-at-arms, Paul Phelan. The senior class advisor is Miss Brownson.

Have You Ever Seen?—

Ed Dick try to be gallant while escorting a young lady across the creek?

Floyd Jones looking for Higher Arithmetic in the English V room?

"Snooty" Phelan managing the football team?

The coach showing the team how to block and tackle?

Protect his eyes from unnecessary strain!

Don't make him read in fog light

This is the Sight Meter—the clever new instrument which measures light and tells how much light is needed for any particular task. Make an appointment at our local office for our lighting expert to check the lights in your home.

ance can be given the child through CORRECT LIGHTING. Try improved light or better placement of light if your child does not see easily and comfortably while studying or reading. Better still, let our home lighting expert "measure" the light and assure you of its adequacy and correct placement. Usually, a check-up with the Sight Meter is all that is needed to change into easy seeing what was formerly uncomfortable straining of the eyes.

See this scientifically perfect Study and Reading Lamp...

Every home which contains school children should have this remarkable study and reading lamp. It is the result of extensive experiments by the Illuminating Engineering Society of America to obtain a perfect lamp for student and general home use. Its light is always of the proper quantity and quality for full vision without eyestrain. Placed on a table, it gives the required seeing light to all seated about it.
