Farm Debt Adjustment

Probably three-fourths to fourfifths of Oregon's farm-debt adjustment cases are already settled. according to information given out deal more difficult than average, reported L. R. Breithaupt, college extension economist and secretary of the council

E. M. Ehrhardt, president of the Federal Land bank of Spokane, told the members that that institution has closed approximately 5300 farm loans in Oregon since May, 1933, for nearly 15 million dollars. About one-fourth as many additional loans are approved and pending, of which from 500 to 600 involve debt adjustment before they can be closed, he said.

This record of loans made and pending, together with a large vol-ume of farm-debt adjustment and refinancing done in connection with other farm mortgage credit agencies, has greatly relieved the farm debt situation as compared with the extremely critical condition which prevailed two years ago. Officials of the Land Bank present at the extremely critical condition which prevailed two years ago. Officials of the Land Bank present at the meeting gave hearty credit to Oregon's 250 state and county farmdebt adjustment committeemen for having rendered unusually outstanding service in the farm refinancing program.

In addition to state council members, the meeting was attended by several county farm-debt adjustment committeemen, a number of county agricultural agents who are serving as county concillation commissioners, rural rehabilitation of ficials, and others interested in the financial rehabilitation of farmers who are over-burdened with debt. O. M. Plummer, chairman of the council, presided, and E. A. Mc-Cornack, vice-chairman, reported on the status of the work.

After a thorough discussion of the provisions of the Frazier-Lemke farm bankruptcy plan, it was the general conclusion that the bank-ruptcy plan is not likely to apply except in cases which cannot be set-tled satisfactorily by conciliation.

Plans for continuing the farmdebt adjustment work were considered by the council, with particular reference to slow and tough cases. The meeting adjourned after voting to meet again at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition
