

IONE

By MARGARET BLAKE

Carl F. Troedson who has been employed at King City, Calif., the past year is visiting friends and relatives in Ione.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Kathan (Elva Balsiger) of Port Orford announce the birth of a seven and a half pound son on October 16. The young man has been named Earl Edwin.

Twelve members of the Past Noble Grand club of the Rebekah lodge met for their regular October meeting at the home of Mrs. Ella Davidson on last Friday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in sewing. Fruit salad and cake, hot rolls, jelly and coffee were served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Allen and daughter of Redmond were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith. On Sunday both families drove to Jordan Valley for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Conway of that place. Mr. Conway is a brother of Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Smith and is a teacher in the school at Jordan Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Feldman and daughter Kathryn were Saturday business visitors in the Heppner area. Mrs. Harriet Brown spent the week end at her home in Hermiston. Harold, the younger son of her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Guiland, had the misfortune to have the fingers of his left hand badly mashed when a door slammed shut on them about two weeks ago, but Mrs. Brown reports that they are healing nicely with just the end of the little finger having to be removed.

Frank Martin of Portland was an overnight guest at the Laxton McMurray farm one day last week while attending to some business in Ione. He is owner of a tract of land near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rietmann drove to Pullman, Wash., last Saturday where they were spectators at the W. S. C.-O. S. C. game.

More than fifty members and visitors attended the lecture hour program at Willows grange hall in Cecil last Saturday evening. The "Travel Program," as it was called, consisted of songs, poetry, reading all pertaining to travel or trips. Miss Lucy Spittle gave a splendid talk on her trip to Europe last summer and Carl Troedson gave a very vivid description of his trip to the world's fair at Chicago. He also told of his return trip home which was made in a Ford V8 which he had purchased in the factory at Chicago after watching it being assembled there.

A. E. Johnson and his mother, Mrs. M. Johnson, and Miss Neida Feely were visitors at the program.

During the business meeting the grange decided to sponsor at least one scholarship to the 4-H summer school at Corvallis next summer. It was announced that several new names had been added to the list of 4-H club members recently.

J. O. Kincaid, chairman of the agricultural committee, reported that nearly every project started by that committee last spring had been carried out except the procuring of shade trees to set out and announced that if anyone who is interested in securing some will speak to him about it he will be glad to assist them in getting the trees.

A complete report of the carnival, bazaar and dance given at Ione was given by Mrs. Harriet Deos, chairman of the Home Economics committee. Announcement of the meeting of the Home Economics club at the home of Mrs. E. C. Heilker on Nov. 10th was made.

The grange master, Mrs. Vida Helker, gave an annual report which covered quite a list of worth while things accomplished by Willows grange during the past year.

The lecturer reported that thirty-four members of Willows grange attended the district council held by the state grange officers at Lexington last week.

After the business was concluded everyone present at the meeting was treated to a fresh oyster feed by the Home Economics committee, then dancing was enjoyed for an hour or so. The dance committee announced a dance for Nov. 10 at Willows hall with music by the Barbarians.

Mrs. Lee Beckner was winner of the Dutch Doll quilt which was raffled off by the Home Economics committee.

Mrs. Aaron Agee of Boardman was in Ione Tuesday in the interests of the missionary work of her church.

Mrs. Victor Peterson of Heppner has been visiting relatives here during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roberts made a short trip to Portland, going down last Friday and returning Monday.

A. M. Zink who has been at Pendleton for several months is spending a few weeks at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Heliker.

George Ely and Lee Howell attended the football game at Pullman, Wash., between W. S. C. and O. S. C. last Saturday. They report the game as did the papers as extremely one-sided but enjoyed the trip, it being Mr. Howell's first time through the wheat country of eastern Washington and Mr. Ely enjoyed meeting his friends in Pullman where he made his home for several years.

Mrs. H. D. McCurdy, Mrs. Kenneth Blake and Mrs. E. J. Blake spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George Tucker in Echo.

Mrs. Dixon Smith and children returned Friday from a week's visit in Portland.

Mrs. Etta Shippey has returned from Hood River, where she has been at the home of her brother, Chas. Reed, who has been seriously ill. Mr. Reed has improved in health so that he is now able to be about.

Frank Petimo, Paul Long and Jack Smith, all of Portland, were registered at the Park hotel over the week end, making it their headquarters while enjoying pheasant hunting near here.

ELK SEASON WILL OPEN MONDAY; RULES GIVEN

ation of the state agencies and the forest service can prevent it. Rangers and other employees of the forest service will work with the state game officials. The forest service is turning over its local equipment, ranger stations, radio and telephone system for the use of the state police and game commission in enforcing the law.

Arrangements are being made by the state game commission for checking stations at certain towns, including Weston, Pendleton, Pilot Rock, Ukiah, La Grande, North Powder, Enterprise, Baker, Blue Mountain, ranger station, Unity and John Day. It will be necessary for every hunter to "check in" and "check out" of the hunting area, but not necessarily at the same station each time. Upon "checking in" each hunter must produce his hunting license and elk tag (which costs $2.50 in addition to license) and must be equipped with a rifle whose flat trajectory and shocking power is at least equivalent to that of a ".30-.30" Winchester. Each party must be equipped with adequate clothing, knife, hatchet or axe, shovel, flashlight, and sufficient rope including preferably block and tackle, properly to care for and hang the elk before leaving the woods. No hunter will be allowed to enter the open territory before noon of November 3.

Upon "checking out" the hunter must show that his kill has been properly cared for, which means that entrails have been removed and the quarry has been bled, skinned and hung up to cool. Trailer, or other sufficient carrying capacity, must be provided for transporting the game, which weighs up to 1,000 pounds, dressed. Hunters guilty of any wanton waste of meat will be subject to arrest and prosecution.

THE TRUCK AND BUS LAW.

The truck and bus law should be amended. Better still, it should be repealed and a new one enacted in its stead. The regulatory parts of the law should be repealed in toto. There is no sense in making the trucking rates of the Willamette valley applicable to the rates on the dirt roads of Eastern Oregon. Nor is there any good sense in making a poor man, trying to live by the earnings of a small trucking business, go to Salem and stand an examination, to ascertain if any other trucker objects to his being licensed, before he is given a permit to operate.

The purpose of these regulatory features is obviously not for the production of revenue for the use of the State Highways, but to stifle competition and protect existing common carriers. Under the guise of protection of our highways, we are subsidizing and protecting old line carriers and the people are paying the bill in a higher truck freight rate.

All are agreed that the trucking industry should pay a reasonable revenue for the use of the highways, but that can be arranged on a graduated low rate of gross income instead of checking out on the per ton mile which requires a flock of accountants, besides causing untold agony to the truck driver. If I am elected to the State Legislature again, I shall be in a position by reason of committee appointments and experience, to assist in giving Eastern Oregon a truck law that will be enduring.

Heavy Movement of Seed Crowds OSC Testing Lab

A record-breaking rush of business for the government cooperative seed testing laboratory at Oregon State college has occurred this fall, reflecting the revived market for Oregon grown seed throughout the country. In the period from July 1 to October 26 the laboratory made 1296 purity tests, 981 germination tests and 122 identification tests.

This service is accorded both growers and buyers and has been an important factor in protecting both the producers and consumers of Oregon seed, says G. R. Hyslop, chief of the division of plant industry, who is in charge, with Grace Cole Fleischman serving as federal analyst.

Rapid movement of rye grass, peas, vetch and bent grass seed this fall brought the greatest rush of requests. Mixtures of different kinds of grass seed and different vetches present difficult problems to the analyst. No information regarding samples submitted is given others without the consent of the owner.

E. J. Merrill reports conditions of both range and grange in the Hardman section as excellent this fall, the grass on the hills is growing rapidly under the favorable conditions of weather and moisture. Mr. Merrill was looking after business here on Wednesday.

Gus Williamson, who has a hobby of keeping up on the world's literature in his spare moments while working with the R. A. Thompson sheep, came to town the first of the week on his annual fall vacation and has been enjoying a visit with friends in town.

Johan Troedson and son Carl were in the city from Ione Wednesday. They report a little rain during the past few days, and this is a help—encourages them to believe that some real showers may yet come.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neill and Mrs. Neill's son, Guy Moore, were visitors in this city on Sunday, driving up from their home near Pine City in time for Sunday school and church services.

The annual convention of the Columbia Christian Endeavor union will be held in the Heppner Church of Christ on Nov. 2, 3, 4, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The first meeting will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock when a speaker of prominence will bring the keynote message of the convention.

Saturday will be a full day of meetings and conferences for the delegates; and at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon a most interesting session will be held. Hugh McCallum, minister of the Milton Church of Christ, and a returned missionary, will bring in this missionary meeting an inspiring message based on his own experiences in the foreign field. Then those in attendance will also be privileged to hear "Jimmy" Cornelison, long-time missionary to the Umatilla and Warm Springs Indians. Do not miss this Saturday afternoon meeting.

On Sunday morning, at the eleven o'clock hour, Huida Anderson and Dr. McPherson, of La Grande, will both bring fine and inspiring messages. And at seven-thirty on Sunday evening we shall have the privilege of hearing Dr. Walter Myers, former chancellor of the Eugene Bible college, and at present state field worker for the Christian Endeavor. Mark these dates and meetings on your immediate calendar and by all means miss none of them. You are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Young people and their leaders will be here from all of Eastern Oregon, and speakers from the state at large.

Why Liquid Laxatives are Back in Favor

The public is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that the right dose of a properly prepared liquid laxative will bring a more natural movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. A child is easily given the right dose. And mild liquid laxatives do not irritate the kidneys.

Doctors are generally agreed that senna is a natural laxative. It does not drain the system like the cathartics that leave you so thirsty. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a liquid laxative which relies on senna for its laxative action. It gently helps the average person's constipated bowels until nature restores their regularity.

You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store, ready for use.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN.

By SPENCER AKERS.

The Townsend old age pension plan conceived for woman and for man. Will foster peace in place of fears. In the hearts of those of sixty years. No other humane law of late has offered to emancipate the older folk from want and toil. And free them from this great turmoil.

This plan if acted into law will let the older people draw Two hundred dollars so I hear. Each thirty days throughout the year. The money which the old are paid, Must all be used at once in trade. This great demand for goods they say Will usher in a better day.

To gain this pension you must be A citizen with a record free From everything denoting crime Or else you'll not receive a dime.

Our Uncle Sam is oh, so sick. And less some aid is given quick, He'll soon, I'm sure, turn up his toes, And where we'll be God only knows.

His pulse is slow, his heart is weak; He's skin and bones, with sunken cheek. His eyes are glassy all the while. And no one ever sees him smile.

With N. R. A. and other drugs, We hope to kill the inner bugs. No matter how the doctors strive, On all the drugs they seem to thrive.

A diagnosis now reveals. That all these nostrums, or "New Deals," Can't quite restore in full to him His once world-envied health and vim.

A research shows that Uncle's ills, Composed of apathy, fevers, chills. Are lack of blood within his veins And causing all his grief and pains.

So Dr. Townsend brings a plan And hopes to save this sickly man. A blood transfusion, so they claim, Will thus fulfill the Doctor's aim.

Transfusion with two hundred per. Will cause his sluggish veins to stir, And circulation will be free. Just like we know it ought to be.

To bring him bounding to his feet 'Twill be a miracle complete. Perhaps 'twill make his noodle swim. With such a change brought over him.

When red blood flows from cell to cell, Our Uncle Sam will soon be well. For nothing in God's whole creation Can long endure poor circulation.

Let's Quit Killing

In addition to fines and jail sentences assessed upon flagrant violators, driver's licenses of 34 Oregon motorists were revoked during September for violations of traffic laws, mostly for driving while intoxicated, according to the Oregon State Motor association, one of the sponsors of the "Let's Quit Killing" street and highway safety program.

In Morrow county there were no revocations of operator's licenses with no convictions reported. In some cases convictions for September had not yet been reported to the secretary of state, where these figures were compiled. Traffic authorities have declared revocation of the driver's license of a flagrant traffic law violator to be one of the most effective means of increasing the safety of streets and highways, particularly when used in conjunction with heavy fines and jail sentences.

"Let's Quit Killing" drive pointed out this week, pedestrians wearing dark clothes face added dangers because of motorists' inability to see them. All persons walking on streets or highways at night should wear or carry something of light color, easily visible, it was urged.

Another menace which those sponsoring the drive hope to eliminate is the bicycle without lights at night, and the children who ride bicycles recklessly in heavy traffic.
