The commisthree of these liberals would enable the Democrats to elect one of their own number to the presidency.

The Senate presidency, always a $100,000 a month. much coveted honor, is especially important at this time in the light of the New Deal sentiment of the voters of the state and the relation voters of the state and the relation which this office holds to the gubernatorial succession. In view of the possibility that they may be able to dictate the senate organization the Democrats, therefore, are already discussing possible candidates for the gavel-wielding job. Of the 13 Democrats in the next senate only six are veterans, and therefore, eligible to the job. These are W. H. Strayer of Baker county, Ashby C. Dickson of Multnomah; John Goss of Coos; Walter S. Fisher of Douglas; James H. Hazlett of Hood River, and Henry L. Hess of Union, Of these Strayer, with 20 years of continuous service to his credit is by far the most experi-enced and the logical choice for the Democratic leadership but is said to be not overly eager for the responsibility. Dickson, on the other hand, is understood to be ambitious for the honor and the other four are in

In the House the Democrats seem to have played a rather scurvy trick on George Winslow of Tillamook, Lowell Paget of Multnomah and Earl Hill of Lane. Each of these Republican veterans had the speakership "in the bag" and all sewed up ready for delivery to themselves in person on January 14, next. And then along came the Democratic horde to steal the bag, speakership and all. In fact Winslow and Paget were among the casualties in the recent battle of the ballots and will not even be in the legislature, much less serve as presiding officer, and the hopes of Hill, who was reelect-ed, were rudely shattered by the

Now that they have the Speakership in their possession what will the Democrats do with it? Already speculation is rife as to who will win the honor. While there are 39 Democrats who would no doubt be willing to sit on the rostrum and run the show custom decrees that the job shall go to a veteran of at least one previous session which narrows the choice down to seven on the Democratic side of the House. Of these seven two may be mentioned as actually in the running for the Speakership. These are William L. Graham of Multnomah and John E. Cooter of Lincoln county. Both of these men are well qualified for the post by training and temperament. If either enjoys an advantage in the race that distinction probably belongs to Gra-ham because of the fact that he will have a nucleus of 12 votes from his own county on which to build whereas Cooter, as the lone representative from his district, must start from scratch. On the other hand, in the event that Corbett wins the senate presidency Graham's location may prove a serious handicap in his race since tradition deto Multnomah county at the same ty records for Oregon for October, it became apparent that the state will this year set a new all-time high in deaths resulting from traffic accidents, according to the Oreron State Motor association, one of the sponsors of the statewide "Let's Quit Killing" safety campaign. Already, with two more months o go before the year is ended, there have been more deaths in 1934 than there were in the whole of 1933. Thirty-one persons were killed in Oregon auto accidents during October, bringing the total for the first ten months of the year to 249, while only 246 fatalities were registered in the state during the twelve months of 1933.

Should November and December of this year be only average months, it is estimated that 47 more persons will be killed in traffic accidents be fore this year is over, bringing the total for the year to the unprecedented level of 296.

If deaths continue during the last two months of this year at the same rate as during the first ten months, 52 will be killed, making the total for the year 301.

Sponsors of the "Let's Quit Kill-ing" drive pointed out that turning from wrong traffic lanes, the specific violation under study during the current period of the campaign, accounted for 17 per cent of all ac-cidents recorded in Oregon last Elimination of accidents from this cause alone would have prevented approximately 2500 accients recorded so far this year, they believe.

Procedure outlined by law for making right and left turns provides that left turns be made from the lane of traffic nearest the center line of the street or highway, and right turns from the lane near-est the right side of the street or

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless use of strong laxatives may do more harm than good.

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gently while nature is restoring their regu larity. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenin any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. At all druggists, ready for use, in big bottles.

Red Cross Serves Humanity

THE spirit of the nation-wide humanitarian work of the American Red Cross is typified in the 1934 poster drawn by the well-known artist, Lawrence Wilbur. The Red Cross nurse, shown protecting a small boy who is in distress, is illustrative of the role of the organization in rushing relief to victims of disasterwhether storm, epidemic, earthquake, fire, flood or other type of catastrophe. During the past year the Red Cross sent material aid to victims in 103 disasters, giving assistance to 119,000 persons.

This is but one example of service given by the Red Cross, It also serves in health conservation, member.

Services employing more than 750 nurses; in safety and accident prevention, through its Life Saving and First Aid instruction; in aid to veterans and service men through its Home Service work; and in cement ing the youth of the nation, through Junior Red Cross, into a national society devoted to preparing them in fitness for service, good citizenship and world friendship. The 1934 Poster invites all men negie Corporation, it was announc ed here by Dr. L. S. Cressman, pro fessor of anthropology at the University of Oregon.

Early in September workmen digging test pits for a proposed irrigation dam found three objects, believed to be tools, buried in hard gravel stratum several feet below the volcanic topsoil which has covered the region for centuries. Dr. Cressman and other scientists from the university made a trip to the region. Upon investigating the artifacts and the place in which they were found, they were lead to believe that possibly a race of men, who may have been the earliest settlers in North America, might have lived there.
