

OREGON WOOLGROWERS PROGRAM

(CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE)

- Announcements.
Committee meetings.
7:30 p. m. Special evening session for wool growers. This feature included to provide growers an opportunity to freely discuss problems of the industry.
9:00 p. m. Dance, Elks hall.

Tuesday, January 15

- 8:30 a. m. Committee meetings.
9:30 a. m. Music—High school band.
Range sheep investigations—D. E. Richards, Supt., Livestock Experiment Station, Union, Ore.
Selling Oregon's lambs—R. L. Clark, Bodine & Clark, Portland Union Stock Yards, North Portland, Ore.
Some aspects of the future of grazing as applied to the sheep industry—Prof. P. M. Brandt, Head of Division of Animal Industry, O. S. A. C., Corvallis.

Noon

- 1:30 p. m. Music.
The Auxiliary and its program—Mrs. Herman Oliver, Pres., The Women's Auxiliary to the Oregon Wool Growers Association, John Day, Oregon.
Shed lambing experiences—Virgil O. McWhorter, Manager Triangle Sheep Co. Yakima, Wash.
The National Wool Growers Association—Fred A. Ellenwood, Pres., National Wool Growers Association, Red Bluff, Cal.
Presentation of resolutions.
Election of officers.
Adjournment.

- 6:30 p. m. Banquet and special entertainment features, Elks hall.

All subjects introduced will be open to discussion, and participation is invited by everyone.

WOOL GROWERS AUXILIARY PROGRAM

(CONTINUED FROM FIRST PAGE)

Monday Afternoon

- 1:30 Music.
1:35 Work of Women's Auxiliary in Washington—Mrs. W. A. Roberts, President, Women's Auxiliary to Wash. Woolgrowers Assn., Yakima, Wash.
1:55 Wool—From the Sheep to the Skein—Mrs. Everett Puett, Prairie City, Ore.
2:15 Address—Mrs. Grace Stewart, President, Women's Auxiliary to National Wool Growers Association, Yakima, Wash.

Tuesday Evening

- 2:45 Questions and General Discussion conducted by Officers of the National Auxiliary.
2:55 Music.
3:00 Announcements, and Adjournment to visit Wool Growers Convention.
Tea.

Monday Evening

Dance.

Tuesday Morning

- 10:15 Invocation.
10:20 Music.
10:25 Reports from County Chapters Women's Auxiliary to Oregon Wool Growers.
10:45 Origin of Different Breeds of Sheep—Mrs. Alec Gay, Mt. Vernon, Ore.
11:00 Sheep Industry in Oregon—Miss Bess Huddleston, President Gilliam County Chapt., Women's Auxiliary to Oregon Wool Growers, Condon, Ore.
11:15 American Rugs—Mrs. Fred Falconer, President, Umatilla County Chapter, Women's Auxiliary to Oregon Wool Growers, Pendleton, Ore.
11:30 Wool and Some of its Uses—Mrs. Ira Staggs, President Baker County Chapter, Women's Auxiliary to Oregon Wool Growers Assn., Keating, Ore.
11:45 Adjournment for Lunch. Hotel Heppner.

Tuesday Afternoon

- 1:30 Music.
1:35 Announcements.
1:40 Address—Mac Hoke, Pendleton, Oregon.
2:00 Address—Mrs. George Fell, Courtrock Oregon.
2:20 Reports of Committees.
2:30 Presentation of Wool Exhibit Reward.
Presentation of Largest Membership Reward.
2:40 Suggestions for Program of Work for 1935.
3:00 Adjournment.
6:30 Banquet. Elks Hall.

All Men Visitors
Lions' Guests Today

All visiting woolmen are expected to invade the Lions' den today noon at a special luncheon to be served in the Elks hall. Heppner's service club is all set to make this a jolly housewarming affair, with special musical numbers by Laurel Beach of Lexington, tenor soloist, and Mrs. Ted McDavid, violin soloist. Mr. Beach was recently guest artist of the Portland Symphony orchestra.

C. J. D. Bauman, two-gun sheriff and the club's president, will be master of ceremonies. Unshorn lambs need have no fear of Heppner Lions for their bite is not anything like as bad as their bark, promises the committee in charge, composed of Joe Belanger, Jim Cash, Dick Lawrence, Frank and Jesse Turner and Jap Crawford. The luncheon starts at 12:10, and all visiting men are expected. Registration tickets will be used for this event.

The Way Wool Came in in the Good Old Days

Large freighting teams like those shown in the picture were a usual sight in Heppner before the day of trucks, automobiles and good roads. This early-day picture was taken at the corner of the old Fair Store, one of the firms serving interior Morrow, Grant and Wheeler counties whose wool was delivered here in the manner shown, being baled for shipment at local warehouses.

Heppner Entertains
Woolmen Second Time

This is the second time Heppner has been privileged to entertain the convention of Oregon Wool Growers association.

The first time was in 1917 when W. B. Barratt, father of the association's vice-president, J. G. Barratt, was president. J. O. Hager of this city was secretary at the time. Mr. Barratt served as president for the years 1917-18-19.

Mrs. W. P. Mahoney of Heppner was first president of the auxiliary to Oregon Wool Growers association, serving in that capacity at the same time her husband was president of the association five years ago. She assisted in organizing many of the county auxiliary chapters, and helped inaugurate the "Eat More Lamb" campaign in this state.

"Leading the lamb to slaughter" can now be changed to "leading the old ewes to slaughter," since inception of the drouth relief program. It would be interesting to know just who holds the pelting record. We heard that Carl Ulrich, local expert, attained a speed of a pelt every five minutes.

Henry Weiller, of the firm of Weiller and Weiller, South St. Paul commission agents, accompanied by Frank Bair, are coming from the Canadian offices to visit the Oregon and Washington state conventions.

A second sleeping car out of Portland will arrive on tomorrow morning's train, run especially by Union Pacific to accommodate convention visitors. Sleepers from Portland and Boise arrived this morning.

Jerked mutton made from broken-mouthed ewes is a delicacy served in the homes of some local sheepmen. Harold Cohn was among those putting up a goodly supply of this toothsome delicacy.

E. L. Hopple St. Paul, livestock agent of Northern Pacific, has made reservations at the hotel. He is accompanied by Sam Miller of Walla Walla, district general agent.

Local branch First National Bank of Portland has arranged a display of old-time and modern pictures in the bank lobby. Visitors will find this display of interest.

Arthur M. Geary, attorney for Northwest Livestock Shippers league, is attending the convention.

The average yearly wheat production in the county is a million and a half bushels.

Heppner's population 1930 census, is 1188.

Some of the fellows are said to remember the good old days when wool sold around 60 cents a pound and at the convention that year, no problems arose, so the convention was turned into a patriotic meeting with woolmen buying many thousands of dollars worth of liberty bonds.

Has anyone seen Elmer?

WELCOME

TO THE
MEN AND LADIES OF OREGON'S SHEEP INDUSTRY

Phelps Funeral Home

WOOLMEN!

A Modern Bank Ever Since 1865 Greet's You

In 1865 The First National Bank of Portland brought to Oregon its first national banking facilities. To obtain the security and service of The First National Heppner pioneers had to travel days on horseback or river boat to do business at Portland.

The First National Bank of Portland has grown with Oregon, and today brings complete modern banking facilities right to your own community. We invite you to become better acquainted with the bank that has served four generations of Oregonians.

★ HEPPNER BRANCH ★
THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND

"OLDEST NATIONAL BANK
WEST OF THE ROCKIES"