TRUCK CAUSES SHUT-OFF.

Interruption to power and light service yesterday morning was caused by a truck running into a pole near the warehouse on north Main street, tangling the wires together and causing the fuses to blow out at the Main street sub station and the automatic oil switch to open at Ione, reports the local office. A patrol of all lines in Heppner was made before the trouble was located, after which it was necessary to make a trip to Ione to close the switch that had opened automatically.

Jimmy Barratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Barratt, received a painful injury yesterday when he fell going down the steps from the schoolhouse, breaking an arm at the elbow. The fracture was set immediately by a doctor, but the injury will necessitate carrying the arm in a sling for some time.

Operetta

Guns, dusters, black hats, Spanish girls, night riders, and wooden soldiers. What does this mean?

Anyone visiting the Heppner high school would get the impression that the once Irish and English students were adopting the Spanish, Chinese and renewing their Irish language.

As a warning to those who may think so. These are just a few of the surprises to be revealed in the operetta, "An Old Spanish Custom," which is to be presented by Heppner high school May 10.

Everyone is urged to attend for they will receive a real treat they will long remember.

Class News

The junior class lacked enough money for the junior-senior banquet. The deficit amounted to $20. The class decided on a food sale, which was given May 4 at Dix's store. Each student who donated pastry gave two of each article. The class cleared $24, thus making the junior-senior banquet possible.

The sophomore class held their picnic at the sawdust pile in the mountains last Wednesday. They played baseball and all concerned had an enjoyable time.

Last Friday the freshman class went to the sawdust pile in the mountains for their picnic. They toasted marshmallows and weiners.

The sociology class has decided to form a party platform for the election of the student body president for next year. The platform includes the following things: school dances, better school clubs, student body plays, better recreational facilities, more frequent and diversified student body programs, better athletic equipment, improved school annual, high school frolic, and a special study room. The qualities by which the candidates are judged are: character, business ability, popularity, leadership, speaking ability, personality, capability, responsibility, and scholarship.

Boys' Sports
The boys' gym teams have been playing baseball for the past few weeks. There are four teams, juniors, seniors, sophomores and freshmen. The games are closely contested and some good playing is shown. So far the sophs are ahead, but the other teams are determined that they shall be dumped from the throne; therefore, some good games ought to be played in the last round of play to be started this week.

Baseball
Tomorrow afternoon the local high school baseball team will journey to make the initial test of their strength against a very good Ione high school team. Heppner narrowly escaped defeat at the first meeting of the two teams. However, that was the first game of the year for each team. Both teams have been steadily improving ever since, both in talent and in experience, so tomorrow's game promises to be a good contest.

Girls' Sports
The girls gym class are busy playing baseball for the championship. The seniors are the winners so far, with the juniors next. They are putting up a real battle as the juniors have most of the championships.
