PROF. KNOLL SPEAKS

Oregon State College Mentor Brings
Inspiring Message; Barratt, Gemmill Make Presentations.

Twenty-three members of the class of '35, Heppner high school, received diplomas at commencement exercises in the gymnasium last Thursday evening. J. G. Barratt, chairman of the board, presented the diplomas at the close of the exercises accompanied by a fitting address. The auditorium was well filled for the occasion.

Honored member of the class was Miss Lorena Isabel Wilson, daughter of Alex Wilson, who was presented the Norton Winnard Memorial cup by Paul M. Gemmill, mate of Norton Winnard in the class of '18. In making the presentation Mr. Gemmill told of the high character, ideals of sportsmanship and patriotism necessary to be exemplified to attain the recognition. A coincidence in the award is that Miss Wilson is a niece and namesake of Isabel Wilson of the class of '18, now Mrs. W. V. Crawford of Sausalito, Cal.

An inspiring and meaty address was made to the class by Paul X. Knoll, professor of speech at Oregon State college, whose time was "An Ace in the Battles of Peace." Alvin Kleinfield offered invocation and benediction, and musical numbers included processional march, "Thanks be to God," Stanley Dickson, by girls' chorus, and "Service," Charles Wakefield Cadman, by Jessie French.

Does Quick Work on Fish

Hardly had the wires got cold from delivering a telegram which Chas. B. Cox, secretary Morrow County Hunters and Anglers club, sent the state game commission asking for 150,000 baby trout for Morrow county streams, when four truck loads were delivered here last week end. Two truckloads arrived Friday and two more Saturday, bringing 80,000 planting fish all told. The first consignment were all placed in upper Willow creek, while the later consignment was split between Butter and Rhea creeks. Mr. Cox announces on behalf of the club that it would be well for anglers to stay away from the planting beds for a time to give the new fish a chance to scatter out and become acclimated.

The Tread of Marching Feet...

"These honored dead... that they shall not have died in vain."

Lincoln at Gettysburg sounded the principle of Memorial Day, being observed throughout the length and breadth of the land today. It is for the living to hold high the cherished ideals of gallantry, bravery, self-sacrifice and patriotism of those heroes who gave their lives in service to their country, many of whom lie in unmarked graves on foreign soil.

They died to preserve the democracy we now enjoy. Their torch was thrown. It is ours to hold high... "while poppies grow in Flanders field."

Revered is the memory of the boys in Blue, in Gray, and in Khaki. They did not die in vain. Today their torch is being held high in the hearts of all loyal Americans. Their challenge is accepted.

Today in reverie and in retrospect Morrow county joins the nation in loyal tribute to the departed. Heroes of military and civil service alike... loved ones from all walks of life... their spirits are awake today.

Public recognition of the day in Heppner is being marked this morning by firing of salute and decoration of graves of the soldier dead by the American Legion post. The community generally is joining in floral adornment of the city of the dead.

NEW U. P. TRAIN SLATED JUNE 6

"Streamliner City of Portland" is
First of Kind in Transcontinental Service.

Portland, May 20.—The "Streamliner City of Portland," first streamlined train to go into transcontinental service, will leave Portland on its inaugural trip to Chicago at 3:45 p. m., June 6, it is announced by Union Pacific officials.

The train's regular schedule of 39½ hours, Portland to Chicago, is the fastest ever established for transcontinental service in the history of American railroading.

The "Streamliner City of Portland" will be on public exhibition in Portland June 4 and 5. Civic clubs and the officialdom of Portland and Oregon are planning to give the train a send off that will assure Portland of national publicity as the country's first city in respect to transportation.

The train will not be an extra fare train. Its sailing dates will be the first, sixth, eleventh, sixteenth, twenty-first, and twenty-sixth of each month.

The "Streamliner City of Portland" is a seven car train consisting of a power car, three Pullmans, a mail-baggage-express car, a diner-lounge, and a coach-buffet car. It is completely air conditioned, the temperature being kept at the most desirable point and the air from which all dust is strained, being changed completely every four minutes.

The train accommodates 118 passengers—64 Pullman fares and 54 coach fares. In addition to individual collapsible wash bowls and cabinet with lighted mirror in each lower berth, each Pullman has two women's and three men's wash rooms.

Meals are served to coach passengers on individual removable trays at their seats. Coach passengers are privileged to use the diner, as do Pullman passengers, although the lounge room is restricted to the latter.

The unique lounge-diner has a kitchen in the front end. The dining room is arranged with tables for four and two each, seating thirty guests. Two of the tables are in the lounge section which is separated from the dining room by etched glass partitions and portieres. After meal periods the tables are used for cards, writing, or serving refreshments. In the lounge section are artistic easy chairs, and tables, newspapers and magazines, a writing desk and a radio, built into the car.

June 9: Heppner at Lexington, Rhea Creek at Morgan.

June 16: Rhea Creek at Heppner, Morgan at Lexington.

The games so far have uncovered considerable latent baseball talent. John Anglin, who umpired the game here Sunday, reports laughing so hard that he was unable to see all that took place. One casualty was reported in Sam Turner who received a sprained ankle.

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Fossil	7	0	1.000
Arlington	6	1	.857
Condon	2	3	.400
Heppner	2	3	.400

Blacklock	1	6	.143

Last Sunday's Results: Heppner 1 at Condon 22, Fossil 5 at Ione 2, Blacklock 5 at Arlington 12.

Where the Teams Play Next Sunday: Condon at Heppner, Ione at Blacklock, Arlington at Fossil.

One of those times arrived last Sunday when ball players were scarce in Heppner and it was possible to get but nine men in uniform for the game at Condon, several of whom were not team regulars. They made easy pickings for the Condon gang who romped off with the game 22-1.

Ione gave the league-leading Fossils a royal battle, but were unable to break the latter's string of victories as the game ended 5-2. Arlington now has the only opportunity of displacing the leaders, trailing by one game. Whether they can do it will be decided next Sunday when the teams meet at Fossil. Condon comes here for a return game Sunday, and it is hoped to have the regulars intact to give them some real competition.

City to Install Pump

In First Artesian Well

Installation of a pump in the first artesian well drilled at the forks of Willow creek was decided upon by the city council Friday evening to determine the amount of water available there. If sufficient water is found to justify it the pump will be purchased and installed permanently.

So far water from the county well has proved sufficient to augment the supply from the city wells, making use of creek water unnecessary. It is hoped to get the pump installed in time to provide sufficient water when the county water is turned off to fill the county reservoir now nearing completion.

Good progress is reported in the work of making the channel to divert Ditch creek into Willow creek. It is hoped that both the county and city are interested. Mack Smith is in charge of the work.
