Official Paper for Morrow County

A Good Job.

THE Enterprise Record-Chieftain I issued a commendable supple-ment to their last regular edition. honoring the Oregon State Cattle and Horseraisers' association convention held in their little city last week end. The supplement, tabloid size, carried some views of Wallowa county scenery in colors on the cover, front and back, and much interesting information on the cattle industry. From a production standpoint the supplement reflects credit upon the typographical ability of its producers.

Farrell Promises Second Wheat Contract by July

Wheatgrowers of the nation voted 85 per cent or approximately 6 to 1 in favor of continuance of the AAA wheat control program, according to official tabulations released from Washington. This is almost exactly the majority by which the plan carried in Oregon in the recent referendum.

With this overwhelming mandate from the growers the administration will offer new contracts in the near future, probably by July 1, George E. Farrell, chief of the wheat section has announced. These con-tracts are understood to run for four years with provisions for withdrawal earlier if desired.

The official tabulation of Oregon's vote made by the state college ex-tension service shows that 5271 contract signers voted to continue the plan while $40 voted against it. Among wheat growers not now holding contracts 76 voted yes and 14 no.

Overwhelming approval of the wheat plan was voted in the nine Columbia basin wheat counties. There the count stood 3395 yes to only 210 no, making a 94 per cent favorable vote. Wheeler county had unanimously favorable vote, and Gilliam and Morrow had only six and eight regative ballots compared with 287 and 385 favorable respectively. The Umatilla vote was 956 to 39

Any general stimulation of cattle production will bring disastrous price reaction by 1937 predicted Harry Petrie, chief of the AAA cattle and sheep section in an address to the annual Oregon Cattle and Horse Raisers association in Enter-prise. The cattle business is in a healthy condition now and can continue so if growers will avoid over expansion, he said. Meat prices are not high compared with the 1929 level, but the industrty must take cognizance of consumer reactions to price advances, he added.

OSC Campus Ready for Large Summer Influx

An active summer of work on the Oregon State college campus is scheduled with the opening of the annual 4-H club summer session or June 10, to be followed two weeks later by the regular adult summer session June 24. Approximately 1000 Oregon boys and girls are expected for the club session, while early indications are that the regular session will have a larger registration than for the past several years.

"Summer study in a vacation set ting," long the slogan of the Oregon State summer session, expresses a situation that always brings students from many distant states to do summer work at Oregon's institutions. The addition of many summer courses in the school of science at O. S. C. has greatly broadened the available offerings. Major interest also is centered around courses in the school of home economics, emphasizing child development, parent education and family relationships, under the leadership of Dr. William E. Blatz, director of St. George's School for Child Study at the University of Toronto, Canada, well-known auth-or and educator in this field. One of the first 24-hour nursery schools to be held in the United States will be a part of the summer program.

EXAMINER COMING 15TH.

Bentley, examiner of operators and chauffeurs from the office of Earl Snell, secretary of state, or Earl Sheil, secretary of state, will be in Heppner at the courthouse Saturday, June 15, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p. m. All those desiring permits or licenses to drive cars should get in touch with Mr. Bentley at that time.
